MAKING RECORD WALK

FROM QUEBEC AWAY WEST TO VANCOUVER.

This Feet Being Essayed By Two South African Journalists—Reached Kingston Last Evening—Must Finish By Christmas Day.

The two South African journalists, Edward N. Clark and Leo Marchand, who are attempting a feat never yet essayed, i.e., putting up a record walk from coast to coast during fall and winter, reached Kingston from Smith's Falls, Perth and Elgin, on Tuesday evening, staying for the night at the guests of the Randolph Hotel, and proceeding to-day as far as Napanee.

The two enterprising pedestrians left Quebec on August 8th, and on arrival in Montreal, after a tough journey embracing camping out, a "hold-up," and other exciting incidents, they were accorded a great reception.

The journey of 136 miles between Montreal and Ottawa was accomplished in three and one-half days, an average of slightly over thirty-five miles a day, which on Canadian roads may be considered excellent.

The two journalists, who are at the same time writing a series of articles on Canada for an English magazine, and compiling a tourists' guide right across the continent, anticipate reaching Vancouver around Christmas Day.

Messrs. Clark and Marchand say that although the conditions of their contract with the English syndicate stipulate they should walk the entire distance from coast to coast without carrying a dollar, they have so far met with little else but generous hospitality from Canadians at every point visited, and they reckon the toughest part of the expedition is now behind them.

Mr. Clark is late editor of the Non-mouthshire Advertiser, and a graduate of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Mr. Marchand is late of the staff of the Cape Town Argus, and a graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge. Both gentlemen were in excellent physical condition, and their feet troubled them very little.

ADDITIONAL CAMP NOTES.

Great Indignation Over the Liquor Cases.

There is great indignation in some quarters at the camp, over the liquor cases, and the affair has caused a great deal of discussion.

Yesterday afternoon the artillery officers were invited to the Royal Military College, to examine the point seven siege gun, and to receive instructions with the same.

The rifle corps have a fine lot of increase players.

The trouble over the liquor cases may, so it is said, result in the removal of the camp from Barrfield.

A board was appointed by Major Morgan, P.V.O., for the horses of the artillery lines. Capt. Cartwright is the president.

Ex-Lieut. Moore, of the 5th Field Battery, who served thirty-eight years in the Kingston battery, visited the 9th Brigade, and was made an honorary member of the mess.

A rumor is afloat to the effect that "B" Battery would come here from Etawawa, and not proceed to Toronto.

Lieut-Col. English, Quebec, inspector of artillery, went over the camp to-day.

Col. Gordon has extended a general invitation to the general public to attend the tattoo to-night. Everyone is welcome.

Trooper Johnston, of the 3rd Dragoons, who had his leg broken, was removed to the station hospital on Queen street. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Ignorant Of Real Football.

A. T. McLeod, secretary of the Wanderers' Association Football Club, writes as follows:

"The Wanderers" visited Battersea, last Saturday afternoon, to play a friendly game against players drawn from Battersea and Sunbury clubs.

The game was played on ground unfit for football, and was of the rough and tumble order, which resulted in a draw, no goals being scored.

The players argued that country-side, with few exceptions, have a very remote idea of how to play football, Sunbury being the greatest sinners.

Take the man, no matter how, and leave the ball alone, is the policy. Yet they call that sport. It is not, for the sake of the game, and the limbs of players that these ideas will soon disperse and the game be played as it ought to, in a clean and manly way, which would encourage the game and show the true sportsman.

Tag Day Arranged.

A special meeting of the Woman's Aid Society of the General Hospital was held on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended and much business was transacted by the energetic society. The members decided to put a new roof on the main building of the hospital. It is badly needed, and will be a great improvement. They also decided to build a root house. The members chose Saturday, October 3rd, as tag day for the hospital. On that day the city will be divided into sections and the women will go carefully over each part. To every one who gives any amount from one-cent up, will be given a handsome tag with the red cross and K. G. H. on it. Every one wearing this cross will not be again asked for a contribution. In other cities this has proved a great success and will undoubtedly do so here.

Going To New York.

Samuel Mendels, who has been singing at Lake Ontario Park all summer, will in company with his mother, leave for New York on Sunday, where he will join a theatrical company. "Sam," as he is known by his host of friends, has "made good," while here, and his many admirers will be glad to welcome him back again next summer. "Sam" says Kingston is the best city he ever struck on this side of the line, and has enjoyed very much his stay here.

CUT BOARD DOWN

A PETITION TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Grounds on Which the Request is Made—Asking the Citizens to Attach Signatures.

The following petition is in circulation for signature: To the Mayor (and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Kingston:—

Gentlemen,—Whereas in the light of recent events, notably the press discussions and the results of the recent examinations, it has been shown that the administration of the city schools is inefficient, notwithstanding too, the fact that the rate of taxation for school purposes has just been increased, for all of which the present board of education is largely responsible, and whereas, a lack of harmony seems to exist among the members of the said board, injurious to the best interests of the schools;

Whereas, the present board of education is unnecessarily large, and is in part elected by the people for two years, and in part appointed by the council for three years, and,

Whereas, it is, therefore, desirable to secure a more workable and efficient board, entirely responsible to and elected by the people as a whole, and not by wards, and whereas, the school act confers the power on the city council to transform by resolutions, the present board of education into a board of education consisting of ten members, nine to be elected by the public school supporters, and one appointed by the separate school board for the same term of two years.

Your petitioners therefore pray your honorable body, by virtue of the power thus vested in you, to pass a resolution to the effect that the present board of education cease to exist at the end of the current year, and be replaced by a board of ten members, according to the provisions of the said act.

HEARD ON STREET CAR.

A Girl Receives a Proposal and Rejects It.

A rather unusual conversation was overheard on a street car, this morning, by one or two passengers sitting in the rear of the car. A young man and a girl, from their looks they came from the country, were taking a ride around the city to see the sights. Their conversation all along the line was in low tones, and nothing was said or done to attract any attention, until finally, on the way in from Portsmouth, the girl was heard to say, "No, I ain't particular about getting married just yet, and, anyway, I don't think I would marry you." The young gallant looked quite heart-broken as he heard his lady love use the above expression, and for some moments sat with bowed head, likely contemplating the easiest way to end his life. After a short time he again resumed his pleadings, but the heroine was quite firm and would not yield one particle, his passionate words of love not having the desired effect. The interesting theme was brought to a rather abrupt close, at the corner of Princess and Barrie streets, when the young lady left the car, followed by the one willing to be her slave for life.

"On Monday morning" four large cases of McConkey's choice of royalty sweets arrived at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Phone 230.

At 11:20 o'clock, this morning, the firemen received a call to the residence of William Driver, corner of Queen and Barrie streets. The brigade responded to the call in quick order, only to find that the blaze had been put out before they arrived.

"Pure pickling spices" and bottling wax, sold at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Phone 230.

The road paving scheme will not be ready for the board of works meeting this afternoon, as the contractor has not completed his work. The proposed changes in the public buildings' exit by-law will be endorsed, and several other lesser matters considered.

"McConkey's bittersweats," fresh on Monday, at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Phone 230.
