RATES WILL HAVE TO BE CUT SAYS AGENT.

First-Class Much Too High—Partly Responsible For Falling Off in Travel Across the Atlantic This Summer.

New York, Sept. 12.—It was said by one of the oldest steamship agents in the city that the cabin traffic across the Atlantic this summer was 30 per cent. below the average of former years.

ELECTRIC LIGHT OF WAY.

Why Farmers Have Grievance—Exercise Economy.

The farmers of Lincoln county are stirred up over the methods adopted by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission toward securing a right of way for the Provincial line for Niagara power.

The figures offered by the commission's agents seem to range from $10 to $25 per tower for the thirty-year period, with compensation for any trees injured or destroyed by the location of the towers.

Samuel Kennedy, of Gainsborough, condemned the easement principle because of the trouble that is bound to follow when the towers and wires need repairing and men are sent into the orchards in the fruit season to do the work and to cut down the trees.

"I am informed," he said, "that the lines bearing these high-voltage wires extend out as much as seventeen or eighteen feet into the highways. The wires will be right over the paths at the side of the road, where people on foot travel most. I consider them death-traps of the worst sort, and believe the government should buy and fence off a right of way of land over to forty feet wide at the side of the highways.

PROF. ERNI CROCKETT TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

Lost a Leg in Railway Accident, and Then Took Up Gymnastic Work and Roller Skating—How He Came to Learn.

Prof. Erni T. Crockett, who is this week fulfilling an engagement at Lake Ontario Park, giving an exhibition of roller skating and gymnastic work, has hobbled around on one leg since he was four years of age, and in view of this fact his feats are truly marvellous.

A representative of the Whig, last night, had a chat with Prof. Crockett, and learned something of his experience. The professor lost his left leg when he was just four years of age, in a railway accident.

Placed on a glass-legged stool, anyone touching him received a distinct shock. An ordinary flat iron held in his hands for five minutes and then passed over tenpenny nails driven into hardwood will pull them with ease.

The Man On Watch.

Fewer taverns and a higher license in Kingston is what the Lampan advocates. He recalls that in 1897, three taverns were removed from the list of places in which liquor was being sold.

In speaking further on the liquor question the Lampan thought the cold water advocates of this town might not be better, he says, for the soldiers to get their liquor in the municipality than to get it in the town all the time. He is coming into the town all the time, he says, and he is not allowed open only a few hours a day to sell their various commodities, so the busybodies who made a raid on the keepers had little to do. They should look at results, rather than at the mere letter of the law, the Lampan says.

The Lampan noticed that the Board of Education on Thursday last discussed the question of frosted window panes in the schools, in place of window blinds. He is death on frosted windows in schools. They are so dismal, he says. When he was a boy, some of the windows in a Sunday school he attended were frosted, and he felt as if he were shut in a prison and he has never forgotten that place. The windows looked like a factory school, there's no necessity for it. The Lampan feels sure that the property committee of the board will agree with him when it looks into the matter from the pupils' and teachers' point of view.—THE TOWN WATCHMAN.

STREET CAR STEPS.

Brooklyn Rapid T. Co. Toronto, Sept. 12.—That the steps of the cars, on only the Toronto Street Railway company, but of other street and electric railways in the province, are too high is the opinion of Dr. Helen McMurich, Toronto, and in order to have their height reduced, she has filed an application with the Ontario Railway Board, which has been set down for a hearing on September 24th. She asks the board to fix the height of the first step at from nine to twelve inches from the ground, and that of the other steps from seven to nine inches, one above the other. The board have attached to the application a notice to every street and electric railway company in the province, that unless they attend the hearing on September 24th the board will dispose of the application as may seem just and reasonable upon the applicants' showing.

Only On A Pleasure Trip.

London, Sept. 12.—Lord Milner, who sailed on the Virginian, stated before leaving: "My object in visiting Canada, is to go over as much as possible of a country whereof I have heard so much, but have never yet seen. I have friends there whom I have not seen in years." Lord Milner said his tour had no propagandist object.

YOUTHFUL MURDERER.

Crime Studied By Physicians, Who Issue Report.

Rome, Sept. 12.—After three years' preliminary imprisonment, Guido Casale, the youth who murdered the celebrated Italian lawyer, Alessandro Bianchi, at Perugia, on August 30th, 1905, has been finally tried at Aquila assizes and condemned to thirty years' strict confinement.

The story was full of dramatic interest. Signor Bianchi dismissed his mistress, Guglielmina Bandaldi, because of the discovery of her intrigue with Casale. Both knew that Bianchi had made a will bequeathing the larger part of his wealth to his mistress, and after their separation they were exceedingly anxious to prevent Bianchi from changing his mind. The murderer-lawyer, had, in fact, made a fresh testament disinheriting his faithless mistress.

Wives and mothers, of drunkards.

It is your solemn duty to try to save the wayward ones. If they are weak, it is all the more reason why you should be strong. You have used love and pleading in vain. Now try "Samaria." Give it secretly in the food. It is both tasteless and odorless, and no one will ever suspect its presence even in tea or coffee. Try it at our expense. "Samaria" will quickly make him loathe liquor—lose all craving for drink—and make a man of him.

LEOPOLD QUILTS DRINK. Aged Sovereign Also Gives Up Smoking.

Brussels, Sept. 12.—There is not the slightest ground for the report sent from here to certain London newspapers that King Leopold's health is causing grave anxiety. He is in perfect health. He has even resumed his long walks in the neighborhood of Giergnon, and has also taken again his riding, going out every morning on horseback. This at least is a sign of good health in a man of seventy-four.
