OLIVE CHRISTIAN MALVERRY.

A young woman who has already earned a unique reputation in England by her clever writings and who lately raised a furore by publishing a book dealing largely with what she calls "The Jungle of London."

DOINGS IN STAGELAND

ROSELLE KNOTT MAY NEVER ACT AGAIN.

Her Heart Has Become Too Weak For Excitement—"Mine Out of Judea," the title of a play written by Joseph B. Grissmer in collaboration with Miss Phoebe Davies. The play is based upon the off-recurring struggle in the soul of the orthodox Jew who is come hither to make his reading of the Mosais law square with his new social and political obligations.

Much sympathy is being expressed for Roselle Knott, wife of Ernest Shipman, the well-known Hamilton actress, who is so seriously ill with neuralgia of the heart that she may never be able to act again. The excitement of appearing on the stage might prove fatal, and it is feared that Mrs. Shipman has made her last appearance before the footlights.

Frank Worthing, who is to be a William A. Brady star in an English comedy called "Our Pleasant Sins," resumes his role of Des Prunelle in "Divorcement" for Miss Grace George's preliminary tour, and will remain with her until after her production of "Give and Take," in which a role has been specially provided for him by Madame Fred de Gresac.

The Canadian drama, made to order in the moulds of New York play-factories, continues to flourish. The critics have but much admiration for Mrs. Broadhurst's play, "The Call of the North," produced in New York on Monday, but it seems likely to please the melodrama-loving people. Its scene is laid in the northerly part of the Hudson Bay company's territory, at a trading post, 600 miles from civilization.

"The Right of Way," the dramatization of Sir Gilbert Parker's great novel, which is being produced under the management of Klaw and Erlanger, opened successfully in Brooklyn last week. Guy Standing and Theodore Roberts are both in the cast. The keynote of the play is the two words, "I wonder." The production is splendidly staged. The cast is an excellent one. "The Right of Way" makes its auditor think.

"Ben Hur," the great Biblical drama, which Klaw and Erlanger made a landmark of the American stage, is in rehearsal for its tenth season. The first performance by the present company will be given in Elmira, September 28th. The present production is entirely new. "Ben Hur's" great success is due to the fact that it is a play of deep heart interest; a story of a mother's love for her children and a son's devotion to his mother.

Everybody in New York is going to "The Devil" as fast as they can, the number of Garden Theatre "Devil" admirers being nightly limited only by the capacity of the house. Seats are on sale two months in advance to accommodate the unprecedented demand. Not in years have anything like the present crowds been seen at this playhouse. Edwin Stevens' portrayal of the devil is of pleasing lines, with full accent in on the great humorous possibilities of the role, this being in accordance with the instructions laid down by the clever Hungarian actor who calls his play a comedy in three acts.

QUEER FLYING FISH.

Shoot Out of Water and Sail on Wind.

From "Nature and Science," in St. Nicholas. Interesting are the habits of the flying fish, that queer denizen of the sea found principally in the region of the trade winds. Does it rise from the sea like a bird? you ask. No; it shoots out of the waves like an arrow, and with outspreading wings sails on the wind in graceful curves, rising sometimes one might say, to the height of fifteen feet, but not often so high, and then lowering it again touches the crest of a wave and renews its flight. This operation may be repeated till it covers a distance of five hundred yards, in the case of the stoutest on the wing, though very often not half that distance is covered.

A ship sailing through the trade winds will often be visited, on dark nights, by flying fish, which hit the sails or rigging and fall on deck, where, of course, they soon give up life.

TURNED THE TRICK.

The Wright Aeroplane Making Progress in France.

The promise which the Wright aeroplane showed in the trials at Kitty Hawk, Beach, North Carolina, last spring has been realized in recent exhibitions at the Le Mans race-track near Paris. The Frenchmen spoke of Wilbur Wright as "Le Bluffeur" at first, and seemed to doubt his achievements. His calm and laconic manner, not unlike that of the lanky Indian man in "The Man from Home," also gave rise to rumors that he was a bear-like and unapproachable hermit. Both notions seem to have been corrected by the success and quiet good humor of the young Dayton inventor. While the machine during its first flights broke no records, nor even equalled its performances on this side of the water, it did quite enough to convince French observers that the Wright Brothers had advanced further than any one else in solving the problem of flying with a machine heavier than air. The "Figaro," the "Petit

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia Sta., Seattle, Wash., formerly vice president of Skoogay Country Club, writes: "Nine bottles of Peruna cured me of a protracted case of bronchitis. There is no superior remedy that I know of, as the action of Peruna on the vasa motor system of nerves is very beneficial. It increases the tone of the system and aids nature to perform her functions."

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends, who speak in the same high terms of it. I have certainly found it a most efficacious medicine."

Nervous, Tired and Weak.

Mrs. Christina Smukalla, 490 Winslow Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I trust every one suffering from systemic catarrh will read this and profit by it. I was in a very bad condition indeed, when I began to take Peruna, and my friends as well as myself were very much alarmed over my condition. I was always nervous, could not sleep at night, my food did me no good, and I was always tired and weak. I tried several doctors, but found no relief."

"Finally I took two bottles of Peruna and felt like a different woman. However, I did not stop there, but kept on with it until I had taken several bottles, when I felt completely cured, and have remained so ever since. I can eat and sleep now."

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes: "Having used Peruna myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peruna."

Keeps Pe-ru-na in the House.

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140."

Dr. Hartman's Remedies Have Proven to be Reliable and Wonderful.

Their effect upon the system is remarkable. Peruna quiets the nerves, and is a great specific for all forms of chronic catarrh. "I am very glad to say that I can write you that I am cured in every way of catarrh, with which I had suffered terribly for ten years. I cannot thank you enough for your advice."

Constipation, Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Mahala Reid, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes: "Your celebrated remedies have been a wonderful boon to me in my old age. I have not been in so good health for several years as now."

"I was troubled with constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble. A little over two years ago I completely lost my health, becoming almost helpless, when a dear friend sent me your remedies, Peruna and Manalin."

"I began to take them, following the directions on the bottles. I very soon began to feel benefited by their use, and continued to take them."

"I am now completely recovered from the above ailments, in fact, better than I have been for years past."

"I cannot praise the remedies too highly and will always recommend them to others."

A Well-Known Remedy.

Peruna is a catarrh remedy that has been in the field for many years. Other catarrh remedies have come and gone, but the reputation of Peruna has outlived them all.

Peruna is a combination of efficient herbal remedies that wield a powerful influence on all the mucous membranes of the body, and hence reaches catarrh wherever it is located.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. CLARA L. MILLER. MRS. S. L. JEWELL. MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experiences of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna.

It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peruna. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peruna is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous.

Camphor Exports.

The British consul at Tamsui reports that the total exports of camphor from Formosa, in 1907, amounted to 4,121,566 pounds, of which 2,452,933 pounds was sent to Havre, London, and Hamburg; 1,635,300 pounds to America, and 33,333 pounds to Madras.

LEADS LYNCHERS.

Not Only That, But He Boasts of Having Done It.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11.—A despatch from Oxford, Miss., quotes former United States Senator W. V. Sullivan as follows with reference to the lynching: "I led the mob which lynched Nelsa Patton, and I'm proud of it. I directed every movement of the mob and I did everything I could to see that he was lynched."

FORTUNE FOR ACTRESS.

Gertrude Coghlan Falls Heiress to Platinum Deposits.

Halifax, N.B., Sept. 12.—A considerable deposit of platinum has been discovered at Fortune Bay, Prince Edward Island, on the summer home owned by Gertrude Coghlan, leading woman in "The Travelling Salesman" at New York Gaiety theatre. She has disposed of the eighty-five acres to a Montreal firm for $125,000. Miss Coghlan inherited property from her father, Charles Coghlan, and a year ago, was offered about one-tenth of the amount for the property.

HARMONY REIGNS ONCE MORE IN TURKEY.

Turkish soldiers at Salonica, celebrating the Dawn of Freedom.

A Popular Ovation to the Sultan after the Granting of the Constitutional Law.

Pasha and Kiamil Pasha, and naming the former grand vizier, commanded him instantly to have the troops from Anatolia sent to Salonica to crush the rebellion.

Said Pasha remarked that it was not possible to employ Moslems against Moslems without a fetva, whereupon his majesty sent for the Fetva Amiri to make out the necessary document. This old man, however, on the brink of the grave, already affirmed that such a fetva was not possible, that the action of the Macedonian army was not contrary to the precepts of the Koran nor blameworthy in any degree.

Then, pointing his skinny finger at his majesty, he went on to say that he was only caliph, as long as he carried out the law, and if he tried to transgress it he would cease to be considered as the defender of the faith.

With ominous calm Abdul Hamid demanded of Said and Kiamil what was to be done. Both of them replied that the constitution must be granted. On hearing this the sultan fainted, and was carried from the room.

The new grand vizier then hastily convoked all the ministers, and in an hour they were all assembled. Said Pasha briefly related what had happened, and asked them to give a mazbata, recommending the re-establishment of the constitution. Not one of them made answer. Said Pasha then observed that silence in such a case would be taken for consent, and the sultan acquiesced with bowed heads.

In five minutes the mazbata was made out and handed round, each minister affixing his signature and seal. It then became a question who should present this fateful document to the sultan. The general opinion was that Zeki Pasha would be the best fitted, but he declined the honor, and said that evidently the grand vizier alone could communicate such a mazbata, since it was not one to be sent in, as usual, by one of the private secretaries, and none of the ministers was specially qualified.

Said Pasha accordingly took it in, giving proof of considerable moral and physical courage, since his majesty's mood was a dangerous one. He was, nevertheless, received, coldly and taking up the reed pen, the sultan wrote the historic "Olman" (So let it be) at the foot of the mazbata,
