THE IMPULSE IN ELECTIONS.
 The American political managers, after due consideration, have concluded that they can get along with less money. They have compared results in previous elections and have discovered, very conveniently, that there has been a great waste of cold cash. Some places have actually shown political retrogression (in votes) when they have suffered from an overdose of boodles. Hence there will be a retrenchment of funds this year and a probable misuse of fuel-oil. The Canadian experience (in Colchester) proves that whiskey does as much as money. It dopes men. It puts them out of business for the time being. Less money and more whiskey may, therefore, be the expedient of some politicians on both sides of the line and in the elections which will run contemporaneously. Bayne, a live American, being still at large, is in a position to give valuable pointers to his party.

Canada is feeling the pinch of hard times, but it would feel the pinch the more were the Grand Trunk Pacific not under construction. The big undertaking has given work to thousands of men who would otherwise be idle.

MAKING THE GHOSTS WALK.
 Mr. Borden is calling on the shades of Sir John Macdonald for help and inspiration in this campaign. He contrasts the conduct of a former with the conduct of this government, and intimates that the policy of the former had been one of exposure. It is unfortunate for Mr. Borden that the public records do not justify his contentions.

Scandal wrecked the conservative government in 1874, but the charges were laid in parliament most specifically. The man whom they concerned the most, the leader of the party, declared, "These hands are clean." A commission found the government "not guilty," but parliament reflecting public opinion, forced the dissolution of the house, and in an appeal to the people which followed the government was defeated.

Scandal once more shook the government, later, and in connection with the public works department. Talk of Sir John Macdonald sending a couple of men to jail, Sir John was not the man to desert a supporter until he could not help himself. He turned a deaf ear to the stories of wrongdoing until the late Mr. Tarte, as a conservative independent, preferred charges in the house, and subsequently made them good.

Mr. Borden is not doing his case any good by revising history which contains so much that discredits the conservative party. He should not encourage the ghosts to walk now.

The Weekly Sun thinks Canada is losing her cheese trade because in the first seven months of this year she shipped less proportionately to England than New Zealand. There is something apparently wrong with the statistics since the demand for cheese has never been better in Canada than during the last season, and the selling price never so high.

CHARGES NOT PREFERRED.
 The point of Mr. Fielding at a recent meeting in Nova Scotia is the one of greatest importance in an election. It is that notwithstanding the much talk of corruption of the conservative campaigners—notwithstanding their desire to make scandal the great issue in an election—not a single minister is charged with personal misconduct in parliament.

Had any one been deeply at fault, had any one been shamefully deficient in political morality, he would have been boldly assailed, as ministers in the past have been, and if proven guilty, been driven from public life.

"No member of the conservative party," said Mr. Fielding, "had dared in Ottawa to make a charge of corruption against any of the ministers. Suspicion had been cast on some of the tens of thousands of men employed by the government, but it was only fair to these men, the appointees of a conservative government, to say that so far no charge of corruption had been sustained."

EDITORIAL NOTES.
 Mr. Borden assures the people of the maritime provinces that the fringe of the scandals has only been reached. In Colchester? Is there worse than has yet been heard?

Some one has complained that the council is very non-progressive. Perhaps it is made up largely of men of his choice. He may have been very easy to satisfy at election time.

Mr. Borden is being accompanied on his tour by the provincial premier. What is the matter with the men who stand up with him and obstruct public business? Is he ashamed of them? Or has he been warned that they will hurt his cause?

The boom is on again—in stocks and western land. The government's experts warn the people to look out for a smash in Cobalts, and a voice from the west warns the people that some new towns exist only on paper and that $1,000 or $2,000 each is too much for corner lots.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS
A Sure Sign.
 Montreal Herald.
 Tait's election is assured. At least so one might conclude from the fact that anarchists are said to be already planning to take his life.

Our Mistake, Australia's Lesson.
 Melbourne Age.
 The door of Canadian immigration is closed. That of Australia is still wide open. There is a kind of immigration that may be a blessing, and an immigration that may be a bitter curse. Australia must discriminate, which Canada did not.

A Proper Wish.
 Sir Wilfrid at Sorel.
 "I tell you in all sincerity that I want to carry the coming general election in order to finish this great work (the Grand Trunk Pacific), and when it is completed I shall be content to say with the prophet of old: 'Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace!'"

Declined The Offer.
 Woodstock Sentinel-Review.
 The conservative papers have kindly commented to the postponement of the reorganization of the Laurier cabinet until after the election. It appears that Sir Richard Cartwright has not looked with a kindly eye on the invitation to come out and take the field against Sir Wilfrid.

Plain Talk.
 Montreal Witness.
 Let Mr. Bourassa come down from the cloudy region of generalities, and tell those who hang upon his words of wisdom how the policy he advocates is going to mend matters. Playing the role of Charley Thibault, without Charley's cynical humor and Kabelaian abandon, is too solemnly absurd for more than smiling toleration by French-Canadian intelligence, low as Mr. Bourassa estimates it.

BREATHE HELP FOR CATARRH
 Druggist G. W. Mahood is Having Splendid Reports From Hyomei Users.

It's the poison germs in the air you breathe that creates and feeds catarrh. Hyomei simply catches these germs on their way to work and destroys them. The first breath of Hyomei air kills the catarrhal poison. This makes the air you are breathing inward helpful, it goes on its way through the air passages, bronchial tubes, and lungs passages with germ, destroying power that cannot be resisted, it soothes and heals the wounded and inflamed membrane.

VIEWING GAS HOLDER.
 J. M. Campbell Came Here to Oversee the Repairs.

J. M. Campbell was here, yesterday, from Rochester, N.Y., to view the work being done to the interior of the new gas holder, in order to make it water tight. A water-proof material is being coated over the surface. When this is completed, a brick wall will be built inside the concrete foundation making it absolutely secure. That is the way in which Mr. Campbell is going to hand the tank over to the city.

The Buffalo, Lockport and Rochester electric railroad, of which Mr. Campbell is the head, is progressing well. By November 1st the line between Rochester and Lockport will be completed. At present about thirty-five miles have been laid, and cars running over the distance.

THE LATE MISS CAREY.
 The Youngest Daughter of a Famous Bandmaster.
 This morning the remains of the late Miss Margaret Etta Carey, who died on Saturday morning, were laid to rest in Catarqui cemetery. Service was held in St. Paul's church by Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, M.A.

The deceased was the youngest daughter of the late William Carey, formerly bandmaster of the 9th Foot (Imperial), and later of the Royal Canadian Rifles, the Queen's Own Rifles and the 14th Princess of Wales Own Rifles. Several years ago she sustained a fall on a slippery walk on Princess street, which caused internal injuries. She was operated upon in Montreal and twice in Kingston, but the relief was only temporary, and ten days after the last operation, she passed peacefully to rest. The deceased young lady was greatly esteemed by her many friends, and beloved by those who knew her best. She is survived by two sisters, Patience, a trained nurse in New York, and Mabel, at home, and three brothers, Thomas, bandmaster of the 15th Regiment, Belleville; Alexander, of Kingston, and William, of Pittsburgh. In religion Miss Carey was an Anglican, a member of St. Paul's church. Her remains lay surrounded by a miniature garden of flowers.

MARINE NEWS.
 What is Found About the Wharves.

The steamer Haddington arrived yesterday with freight from Montreal or the locomotive works. H. S. Folger's yacht, Ramona, will arrive from Clayton to-day and will be laid up for the season. M. T. Co.: The tug Bartlett cleared for Montreal, with two barges; the steamer Wassaga, cleared for Hamilton. Swift's: Steamer A. E. Ames, up Sunday, steamer Dundurn, up Sunday; steamer Rideau King, for Ottawa, this morning. The steamer Caspian did not arrive down until six o'clock Sunday evening. It was due here at ten o'clock in the morning but became smoke bound three miles this side of Pictou and dropped anchor there until it cleared up. She returned direct from here, not going down the river. The steamer America ran aground in Bateau channel, near Simcoe Island, Sunday afternoon, while on her way here from Cape Vincent. The heavy fog was the cause of the accident. The steamers John Randall and steamer Pierpont went to the America's aid and the vessel was released after a few hours' delay. There was a goodly number of passengers on board.

LEAVES FOR OTTAWA.

PROF. ADAM SHORTT.
 Prof. Adam Shortt left, to-day for Ottawa to assume his new duties as civil service commissioner of the Dominion government. By his departure Kingston loses one of her best citizens, and Queen's University one of her most brilliant professors. The city of Kingston parts with him with keen regret, and Prof. Shortt does not leave without many kind memories and without as keen regret over severing precious ties formed during his thirty years' residence. When seen this morning, the professor said he would begin his new duties to-morrow. He was satisfied that the chair of political science at Queen's from which he had retired, was in good hands. He was sure that Prof. Skelton and Assistant Professor Swanson would keep up the traditions of the chair. When asked if he hoped to pay Kingston a visit now and then, Prof. Shortt said he certainly intended to do so, and would be glad to have the privilege of delivering a few lectures to the students of his alma mater. Prof. Shortt has not yet taken a house in Ottawa, and may not do so before next spring. Mrs. Shortt and children will now go to the capital for another month.

An Ernestown Wedding.
 Odessa, Sept. 12.—On Wednesday, September 9th, a delightful event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Parrott, Odessa, when their only daughter, Keitha A., was united in marriage to William O. Hagerman.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. McColl, Napanee, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride looked charming in her gown of point d'esprit over white silk, trimmed with silk lace, and satin baby ribbon, with a wreath and veil, as she entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. H. Jamieson, Hartington. The bride and groom took their places beneath an arch of evergreens decorated with a large white bell and flowers. After congratulations, all were ushered into the dining-room, where a fine repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman took the midnight train at Napanee, for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The bride's travelling suit was brown broadcloth, shot silk waist with hat, and gloves to match. The esteem in which the bride and groom are held was manifested by the fine array of beautiful and costly presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and job.

Overcoats cleaned and pressed, My Valet. A lot of times it is safer to back down than it is to get your back up. Genuine citizenship cannot be determined from a strictly money basis. It is better not to want a thing than it is to get it and wish you hadn't. The charity that ends at home doesn't do its full duty. A lad is something that every man has and the rest of us sneer at.

What's In A Name?
 Editor:

About six years ago a new Cast Iron Range was put on the market by the McClary Manufacturing company, and a contest commenced for procuring a suitable name. Some 20,000 were suggested, but the one that appealed most to the judges was "Pandora."

The same year an extensive advertising campaign was put on, and has been kept ever since, by which this name and the Range have become nationally known. Pandora is now a synonym for Merit.

If there could be any doubt in any person's mind as to the value of newspaper advertising in Canada, the success of the Pandora Range, and the widespread acquaintanceship with the name Pandora, is the best proof that advertising does bring the people in closer touch with exploited goods.

A Daily Airing For Her Dogs.
 New York Sun.
 The degree of care now exercised with canine pets is shown by the woman who twice a day parades through Fifty-seventh street to give her dogs an airing. In a baby carriage of the capacious design made for twins she rolls four fuzzy white dogs, made fast by strings to the vehicle and not allowed to move from the regular row in which they are placed. Slowly they progress from east to west on the north side of the street, and then their owner, crossing to the lower side of Fifty-seventh street, turns them toward the east.
