THE INSURANCE ZEIGLER GOT BY FRAUD.

Northern Insurance Company Sues the Widow and the Mother—The Latter Admits She Received $200 of the Amount From Her Son.

The Northern Life Insurance company has entered an action against the widow and the mother of the late George Zeigler, formerly its local inspector, for the recovery of $1,000 which he secured from the company on a policy of his brother, William, through fraud and forgery. His brother disappeared in 1904, and the following year the Northern company's inspector filled in claim papers, forged signatures of Dr. Sands, Rev. W. Tucker, R. J. Reid, S. Harkness and others, and received a cheque in favor of his mother. The signature of the latter was forged to the cheque, as she says she didn't sign it, and the money collected from the bank.

The widow and the mother underwent a preliminary examination last Saturday, J. L. Whiting, K.C., is acting for the former, and W. F. Nickle, K.C., for the latter. The deceased's mother stated that she received $200 from her son, and signed a paper for it. He told her that he had secured a man to buy the policy for $200, which he was giving her. She had paid five premiums on it. She also declared that her son's wife had told her she received $800 from her husband from a policy.

Mrs. George Zeigler denied that she had ever said such a thing. She declared she had never received any such amount from her husband, and knew nothing of the transaction. The case will likely be heard in London this fall.

Practices will be held at the rink on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, until the league is finished.

NAVIGATION TIED UP.

Docking of Kingston at Toronto Caused Trouble.

The docking of the steamer Kingston, at Toronto, on Monday, caused considerable trouble. The Yonge street slip was placed under a complete blockade for a couple of hours, when the Kingston was tied up at the wharf and there was a warm dispute between those in charge of the vessels as to their relative rights. The Garden City could not get in, and the Kingston could not get out, and a deadlock was the result. To make matters worse, three other craft were impounded in the slip. After an indignation meeting, an appeal made to the harbor master, resulted in orders being given the steamer Kingston to "move on," and navigation was again opened.

WEDDED MONDAY NIGHT.

Miss Lillian Reid the Bride of T. J. Elliott, Boston.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Paul Reid, 35 Union street, at nine o'clock Monday evening, when his daughter, Miss Agnes Lillian Reid, graduate nurse of the hospital, at Lowell, Mass., was united in marriage to Thomas John Elliott, formerly of Kingston, but now of Boston. The room in which the ceremony was performed was beautifully decorated with plants and cut flowers. Rev. John McConnon, of Boston, Ont., was the officiating minister, the ceremony being performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Both bride and groom were unattended.

The bride looked charming in her Princess gown of white silk-embroidered cologne, over taffeta, with trimmings of folded chiffon and filet lace insertion, outlined with bands of white duchess satin and finished with white silk cord and tassels. The long sleeves were of folded chiffon with filet insertion.

After the ceremony the bridal party sat down to the wedding breakfast, when the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left at midnight on their wedding tour, after which they will take up their residence in Boston.

Many beautiful presents from friends in and outside the city testified to the esteem in which the bride was held. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are followed to their new home by the best wishes of all their friends.

THREE BLIND YOUNG MEN.

Gave a Fine Entertainment Last Evening.

Fully three hundred people were gathered in St. George's hall on Monday evening when a concert was given by the blind artists, Herbert C. Treener, Kingston, Roy Wilson, Brockville, and James Bourdault, of Ontario. These three young men—none of them is over twenty-four years of age—have all suffered the loss of their sight, but their work is really marvellous. Mr. Treener needs no introduction to Kingston music lovers as his playing has been enjoyed by many large audiences in the city. His playing on this occasion was a great surprise to the large number present. He played the most difficult compositions with perfect ease, and one to hear him could not realize that he was not in possession of his sight. Mr. Wilson is an eloquentist of rare ability, his many numbers being greatly enjoyed. He gave three recitations, "The Bicycle Ride," "The Whistling Regiment" and "The Cremation of Sam Magee." Mr. Bourdault possesses a sweet baritone voice, of which he has perfect control. His best number was "The Palms," sung in French, by special request of one of the ladies present.

These three young men have been giving a series of concerts in the west and have met with great success. Their work has been a wonder to all who have listened to them while they have been on tour.
