St. Regis Lumbago Cure

Bedford, Ont., Aug. 20th, 1908.
The W. A. Singleton Co.
I think it my duty to tell you of the great good St. Regis Lumbago Cure has done me. I was troubled with Lumbago for about six years. Sometimes I could scarcely raise up from a chair. I tried several doctors and took nearly every kind of Patent Medicine, and would be a little better while the medicines lasted, and when it was done I was not fit to work in a very short time afterwards. About first of June I was advised to try St. Regis Lumbago Cure and am happy to say I had not taken half a bottle till the backache was gone and I have not felt it since. And I take great pleasure in recommending it to others who may be troubled with Lumbago or Kiney Troubles for I have found it to be all better for anyone than a recommendation.

Yours very sincerely,
JAMES McNEIL,
Clerk of Bedford Township.
Sold by all Druggists in Kingston.

At the time he casts his first vote a man is too young to realize that he doesn't know it all.

THE 5 P.M. EDITION QUEEN'S HARD AT WORK

THE RUGBY PLAYERS LOOK PROMISING.

Con. Millan Has Bought a Devil's Waggon—General Sporting Notes From Various Quarters.

Queen's football squad are certainly getting down to work better than they ever have before, and Captain Turner is bound that they will keep in good trim all season. Every afternoon they are out for practice. They play ball until it gets dusk and then they take a good run, after which everybody is well looked after by the trainers in the gymnasium. Every morning at eight o'clock the bunch are out again for another practice and are put through an hour's good, hard work, at signals, kicking and tackling. The college boys are showing up better this year than they have in some time, and feel confident that if they keep at work they can make good. They lost the first game in Ottawa last year by a mere fluke and they are bound not to lose this one, by the same cause. All the players seem to take a greater interest in the work this year than they have before for some seasons, and that points in the right direction. A large number of railbirds are out every afternoon and the team looks good to them.

Keeping In Shape.
The Kingston long distance runners are all keeping in shape this weather, to be ready for any races in this district. There are some good men here and if they are given the proper training they will make good.

Sporting Notes.
Longboat won the ten-mile Marathon at Lindsay.

Ottawa is to have a new athletic field. A movement is on foot to secure an option on one of three vacant pieces of property within ten minutes' ride from the heart of the city.

Toronto Globe: If lady wrestlers continue to visit Toronto for the purpose of meeting Miss Cora Livingstone, the lady champion, she will not have a very profitable engagement in this city. Yesterday afternoon Miss Bertha Myers, of Syracuse, N.Y., arrived in town and succeeded in staying ten minutes against the champion. Both girls show striking muscular development and a thorough knowledge of the holds and twists. Miss Myers is a physical culture exponent, and wants to meet the champion again tomorrow night, under the same conditions as last night's meeting, but Miss Livingstone wants a finish match, which will probably be arranged.

MOST PITIABLE SIGHT.
Man on Crutches Before Court For Drunkenness.

A most pitiable sight was witnessed in the police court, this morning, when Joseph Mack, close upon sixty years, and hobbling along, with the aid of a pair of crutches, was arraigned on a charge of drunkenness. Yesterday afternoon, the police were notified that Mack was stranded on Brock street, and Constable McAdoo gathered him in. The accused was staggering all over the sidewalk, and causing people passing a great deal of trouble. Mack was also accused of begging on the street. He admitted stopping a lady, and asking her for a few coppers, but denied most emphatically the charge made that he was under the influence of liquor. "It's all the fault of my foot," said Mack. "I lost my foot some time ago, and it is very difficult for me to get around. I had three or four glasses of beer, but I was not drunk." After taking the evidence of what Constable McAdoo, the magistrate imposed a fine of $2 and costs, with the option of fifteen days. Mack stated that he had been in the hospital at Belleville.

FRUIT RUSH ABOUT OVER.
Season One of the Best in Years.

"The rush of fruit is about over for this season," remarked a leading dealer this morning, "but it has been one of the best seasons in years. The crop on the whole, has been very good, and there has been no cause for complaint. The fruit has been well handled, and has met with ready sales."

It is stated that the pear crop this year was not nearly as good as last year. In Prince Edward county, where last year, there was a good crop, this year there is nothing to speak of. All the other fruits showed up remarkably well.

The express companies have had a very busy time, with the shipment, both companies here handling thousands of baskets every week, and this with the regular business has made them hustle. However, the fruit rush only lasts a few weeks.

A Busy Place.
A large number of farmers from all over the surrounding district arrived in the city, this morning, to attend the township fair. The fair grounds was a busy place, this morning, with the men getting their stock in shape for the judges.

Held Requiem Service.
Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The general synod of the Church of England in Canada, decided upon a requiem service being held at Christ Church cathedral here, while the funeral service to the late Bishop Carmichael was proceeding in Montreal.

The Last Rain Storm.
The last good rainstorm was on Sunday, Sept. 6th, when about a half hour's pour was enjoyed. There was a trace of rain on Sept. 15th.

"Huxley's marshmallows" for soothing. Sold only at Gibson's Red Cross drug store. Phone 230.

A successful man isn't necessarily a contented man.

HARTY'S ACCEPTANCE.

Some months ago, prior to the local election, Hon. Mr. Harty was nominated for a further term in the commons. Mr. Harty was absent from the city at the time, and when forwarded the nomination promised to consider it at a later date.

Now Mr. Harty's health is not robust. It was not such as to invite the excitement of a contest in 1904, and it will be remembered that he debated then whether he should go in opposition to his physician's advice on any account. The same issue became conspicuous recently when the doctor counselled him to seek the quiet of private life. Joined to the counsel of the medical advice was that of the family, and the member for Kingston was inclined to act accordingly.

Two contingencies, however, arose, and both had the effect of making him reconsider the matter. The first was the pressing invitation of the liberals in the city. They were united in urging him to be again their standard bearer. Other candidates might be available, but another was not desired by the party while it was possible to secure him, and the unanimity with which the party presented the request deeply impressed him. Still he felt that the personal side of his case could not be ignored.

The second incident—and the one which precipitated action—was the report which was telephoned him from Ottawa, and alleged to be published in a paper there. It was to the effect that he was dissatisfied with the choice of Charles Murphy, K.C., for cabinet rank, and meant his retirement from political life as a "protest" against it. A more outrageous assumption could not be made, for Mr. Harty has been one of Mr. Murphy's strongest supporters for cabinet office.

The result was that Mr. Harty accepted the nomination, "even though in so doing," as he writes to the president of the Liberal Association "I am acting in direct opposition to the advice of my physician." He added that he hoped he would be favoured with the loyal and vigorous support which had carried him so often to victory in the past, and that he keenly appreciated the honor the liberals of Kingston had conferred in once more selecting him as their standard-bearer.

The announcement will give the liberal party the greatest satisfaction and contribute to the enthusiasm with which the election is contemplated here.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Put On Two Feet Of Stone.
On the Queen street road, from Sydenham to Montreal streets, a depth of two feet of stone was placed, including a foundation of rubble, the first to be used on roads this season. That block is very steep and was worn down badly.

Waterworks' Tank Emptied.
To-day the waterworks tank was emptied, and the interior of the tank cleaned. This emptying is done every year. The usual amount of sediment was found in the tank, and a number of very tiny fish. Nothing of an offensive nature was discovered.

Called To Calgary.
The congregation of Knox church, Calgary, has given a unanimous call to Rev. James Shortt, Bayland, to act as associate pastor with Rev. J. A. Clark, Mr. Shortt is a graduate of Queen's University. He is a brother of Prof. Shortt, civil service commissioner.

Transferred To Winnipeg.
Capt. W. S. Conger, paymaster of the Eastern Ontario command, will be attached to the Winnipeg command from Oct. 10th. He has been here for the past two years and will be much missed. His successor will be Major Mack, of Ottawa.

Trouble Ahead.
Some of the men who were found guilty of selling liquor at Barrfield, without a license, have not yet paid their fines, and there is trouble ahead for them if the fines are not paid. The men who have not paid do not reside in the city, so it is a difficult matter to serve warrants on them.

Secured An Automobile.
Con. Millan is the latest Kingstonian to purchase an automobile, and he has become the owner of a fine electric runabout. The car arrived this morning and is a beauty, and "Con" will now be the envy of his brother-house-keepers as he speeds along in his handsome auto.

Get Outside Tenders.
City Engineer Craig favors the idea of sending Architect Power's plans and specifications for the new city dome to steel and reinforced concrete manufacturers in order to get tenders from them. He thinks that a dome of steel or reinforced concrete could be erected for a few thousand dollars more than the tenders received a few days ago.

Objected To Cold Doubt.
At the Anglican mission board meeting in Ottawa, in response to a query: "Are the laymen paying up?" E. J. B. Pense protested against a suggestion of cold doubts being thrown upon the movement from within the communion, along with a lack of board and other official encouragement of it. The results in the cities, which could be reached in one short season had been remarkable; every other large place was to be campaigned this fall, and the results of increased giving and interest in 1907 would be multiplied in 1908. And the sums pledged would be forthcoming for men were giving from the heart in this rejuvenation of mission spirit.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

THOSE WHO WILL BE ENTITLED TO BOUNTY.

Must Have Certain Requirements—The Proof of Eligibility—How the Applications Will Be Passed On.

London Advertiser.
Arrangements are now proceeding for the application of the British old age pension law, which goes into force on the 1st of January next. These arrangements involve the construction of a complicated administrative system, the cost of which will amount to a vast sum. How the money is to be provided, the chancellor of the exchequer has not yet announced, nor have any of the political prophets ventured to guess, but it is hardly likely the government would embark upon such an undertaking without having first considered the question of ways and means.

The plan to be followed in carrying out the pension law may be thus outlined: In the first place the applicant for a pension will be required to fill up a form which may be procured at any post office. The application must show that the applicant is seventy years old or over; that he has for at least twenty years been a British subject; that his yearly income, earned or otherwise, is less than $155; that he has not within a year received poor law relief, and that he has always worked according to his ability, opportunity and need. If in this latter respect his record is lacking, he may make good the deficiency by showing that for ten successive years before he reached the age of sixty he has paid dues in a recognized benefit society. He must, moreover, be of law-abiding character, and be able to show that he has not within ten years been imprisoned without the option of a fine or been convicted of drunkenness.

If on these points the legal requirements are satisfied the applicant will be prima facie entitled to receive a pension of $1.25 per week, provided the annual income of the applicant from all sources is less than $105. A sliding scale will determine the amount to be paid if the income sworn to is more than $105 and less than $155. An income of $155 or more debars the applicant from a pension.

The application, after being filled up, signed and sworn to, is to be sent to the excise man of the district, who will act as pension officer, and whose duty it will be to investigate the applicant's statement and collect proofs as to its veracity. Having completed his enquiries the pension officer forwards the application with either an affirmative or a negative recommendation to the pensions committee of the local council, whose allowance for expenses—they will get nothing else—it is estimated, will aggregate close on a million dollars a year. Disappointed applicants are allowed the right to appeal to the local government board, whose decision will be final. If the application is approved the applicant will be forwarded a series of coupons, dated a week apart, which, as they successively fall due, will be payable at the local post office. It will thus be seen that every precaution is taken against fraudulent claims, which at the outset, at least, are pretty sure to be numerous.
