LUNATIC HIS OWN LAWYER.

Pleads For His Discharge From Matteawan.
Newburgh, N.Y., Sept. 25.—Severing De Angelus, an inmate of the Matteawan Asylum for Insane Criminals, appeared before Judge Thompkins in Newburgh, Saturday, and personally made an argument for his freedom. De Angelus is himself a lawyer, and said he was a brother of a justice of the supreme court in the fifth district. Judge Thompkins remarked that the prisoner's case was not well prepared, and De Angelus said he had little chance to consult law books, being confined in the hospital. It was only then that the court discovered that the prisoner was appearing himself in person.

De Angelus was arrested in October, 1907, for shooting Walter L. Massey, in New York city. He was found insane by a jury and sent to Matteawan. In his petition he attacks District Attorney Jerome and his own counsel, A. DeLoe Kneeland. He asked for a jury trial in New York to determine his sanity. He alleges that he is now sane and ought to be released.
The court took the papers and sent De Angelus back to the hospital. Dr. Lamb, superintendent of the hospital, says he is of unsound mind and is dangerous to be at large.

Desbarats' Newspaper Directory.
Printers' Ink in their "Elite Directory of Advertising Agents in America," compiled by Arthur Koppell, manager of the eastern department of the Publishers' Commercial Union, in its limited list of agencies of high standing gives two for Canada, one of which is the Desbarats Advertising Agency of Montreal. This agency has just issued a second edition of the Desbarats Newspaper Directory. The directory is of exceptional interest, as the information is very full and complete. Besides the usual matter, a complete list is given of the industries in each town and city. The compilation no doubt involved a great amount of labor, but it adds greatly to the value of the publication. As the Desbarats Agency has had a very successful experience, their advertisers including many of the most successful business firms in the country, their method of doing business evidently commends itself to shrewd business men, and the directory which contains over three hundred pages, will surely prove of great value to advertisers. We are informed that the publishers will send a copy to any business concern of good standing, who is either engaged in advertising, or who contemplates an advertising campaign, on receipt of request with 25c. enclosed for cost of postage, etc. The regular price is $5. The offices of the agency are at 42 Victoria Square, Montreal.

Gugelheim, the oil and vinegar merchant, has just discovered a curious little problem concealed in his pyramid of barrels. Says Gugelheim: "You can see plainly marked, the quantity of liquor in each barrel. Now, if I should empty a certain one of these vinegar barrels I would have left twice as many gallons of vinegar as of oil. Who is clever enough to tell which of these barrels must contain oil? Answer Monday."
