LOCOMOTIVE WORKS IS THE BACKBONE OF KINGSTON TO-DAY.

The People Have Hon. William Hartly to Thank For This—In the City's Interests to Retain Him As Member of the Commons.

At the present time, the Canadian Locomotive Works are the backbone of Kingston, and the man whom the people can thank for this is Hon. William Hartly, M.P., who is again the liberal party's nominee for the House of Commons.

Last year the amount of cash disbursed to the workmen and merchants of Kingston, amounted to the large sum of $457,000. This was exclusive of materials that had to be purchased outside. Thus nearly half a million dollars was circulated in Kingston during 1907 by Mr. Hartly's works. All the other large institutions of Kingston combined do not expend so much money here.

Two years and a half ago, when the people voted the works exemption from taxation on extensions, the company agreed to expend $250,000 in three years. Already considerably more than that amount has been expended on extensions, and the company isn't half through yet. At least a quarter of a million dollars more will be expended on the works, which in five years hence will likely employ 1,000 men as against 600 at present.

The works has succeeded splendidly and its 600 employees, the majority of them with families, are the backbone of the old Limestone city, and a credit to it in every way. May their number ever increase. They not only help the city industrially, but they add to its renown in the fields of sport, and in the volunteer militia.

Last year the company built a power house and a new boiler shop, and also practically rebuilt the machine shop. This year extensions are being made to the new boiler shop, making it larger than the original. This will be followed by a new foundry and erecting shop.

It took a great deal of courage to go on with such large expenditures, but Mr. Hartly had the courage, and Kingston profits thereby. It would take great nerve to do this even when conditions were normal, but it must be remembered that during the past year locomotive building has been at a standstill.

Kingston has the only locomotive works on the continent of America that is busy to-day. For a whole year there hasn't been a single locomotive ordered by a Canadian railway company. Fortunately for Kingston as well as the company, Mr. Hartly had orders on the books that would carry the works well into the year 1909—over the famine period, until the prosperous times would come again. Thus the workmen can thank the head of the company for having given them steady work, when elsewhere there is a depression.

Mr. Hartly's continuance as member for Kingston and the return of the Laurier government means the strengthening of Kingston's locomotive works and good times for the workmen.

THE CHILDREN'S DAY IN SEVERAL CHURCHES ON SUNDAY.

John McIntyre, K.C., Addressed the Sunday School of St. Andrew's—Services in Chalmers and Cooke's.

At Cooke's church, on Sunday morning, there was a special service for the children, which was of a bright and interesting nature. The special programme of hymns and scripture readings, issued by the Presbyterian church, was carried out, and the pastor gave a helpful address. Mrs. Evans sang very sweetly. "She Hath Done What She Could."

"Our Gifts; What We Have, What We Are," was the subject of Rev. Dr. McTavish's address. He pointed out to the children that they had a great deal more than they imagined. The gifts of God were wonderful and most precious; they had been bought at a wonderful price, by the blood of Jesus Christ. The question would be asked, "Does God want your gifts?" What gift could you give Him? The greatest gift for God would be to give one's life to Him. God said, "Give Me thine heart. One could do nothing that would please Him more. Children should do their best at home, at school and at play, to please Him. In the little things one had to do every day there should be an effort put forth to please God.

At St. Andrew's Church. On Sunday afternoon Children's Day service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and was largely attended by both scholars, parents and friends. The lessons were reviewed, and passages read by the school and the pastor, after which the children listened to an interesting address from John McIntyre, K.C., who has been absent from Sunday school for some months on account of illness. The children greatly pleased to see Mr. McIntyre back again, and listened to his interesting and instructive address with every attention. During the service Miss Elveda Perley, of Montreal, sang "A Song of Trust."

At Chalmers' Church. The children's service at Chalmers church was held at 11 a.m. The Sunday school classes occupying the central portion of the church. The regular General Assembly programme was followed by an address on "Special Gifts," by Rev. Dr. Macgillivray. The choir rendered an anthem and Miss Tweedell sang a solo.

First Baptist Sunday School. Yesterday was quarterly review day. It was a pleasure to see nearly all the old scholars back, and also a number of new faces coming to join the ranks. A number of pupils wrote on an examination paper prepared by the Sunday school board of the Baptist convention. Every scholar making fifty per cent, or over secured a certificate, or a seal to a certificate already secured, at some previous writing. To the rest of the school a very interesting address was given on the quarter's lessons by Mrs. Halkett of Ottawa. Mrs. Halkett always secures the attention of the young people in her bright and helpful addresses. It was a great pleasure to have her speak.

At Princess Street Church. Sunday was an anniversary day with the Sunday school of the Princess Street Methodist church, and in the afternoon there was a rally of the school, at which addresses were given by Rev. Robert Meek, A. A. Jordan, and the superintendent, Miss Emma Wilder. The pastor, Rev. F. H. Sprague, preached to large congregations, both morning and evening. At the evening service a quartette, composed of Messrs. F. Charbono, G. Laidley and Messrs. W. Timmerman and W. Mack, rendered some fine selections. The speakers at the rally, dwell on Sunday school work, and encouraged the scholars in their work.

CASE WAS DISMISSED. Was Charged With Violation of City By-Law. At this morning's session of the police court, a citizen was summoned for a violation of the city by-law, in having reshingled a house, without using asbestos paper, or mixing the shingles in mortar. The citizen stated that he did not know that he was violating the law. It was the first job of the kind he had undertaken, he was not aware of what was necessary. On this account, the magistrate stated that he would dismiss the charge, stating that he felt sure that the violation was not committed intentionally. Much good would result from the case, in that notice would be given out that the by-laws of the city must be carried out.

Was A Runaway. A serious runaway occurred on Saturday night on Colborne street, near Division street. A farmer went into a house and left his team standing outside the door. The horses took fright and galloped down Colborne street at a furious pace. They were finally stopped by a couple of men, before any serious damage was done, other than spilling part of the load of lumber around the street.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL THIS EVENING.

Board of Health to Ask For the Enforcement of the Vaccination Law—The City Buildings' Dome Question to Be Discussed.

This evening, the city council will have several important matters before it. Dr. Etherington and Francis King will wait upon it, as a deputation from the board of health, to ask that the law regarding vaccination be put into force here, as the board fears that there may be an epidemic of smallpox during the winter, and also to ask that a suitable smallpox hospital building be arranged for at once, as the present building in use is not fit for winter occupation.

The council will also have before it the report of the property committee regarding the city buildings' dome. What will be done, it is difficult to say. The light, heat and power committee promises to have a report on the new gas tank and the repairs being made to it. These repairs are being made under the direction of J. M. Campbell, lately the city's light plant expert, who intimates that they will cost the city nothing.

Report On Road Paving. A special meeting of the board of works is to be held this afternoon, to consider City Engineer Craig's report upon the permanent road paving question.

FATHER WOULDN'T STAND IT And the Hypnotist Was Forced to Revive His Son. It was extensively advertised that on Saturday afternoon, at a certain hour, a young man would be hypnotized and put to sleep in a Princess street store window, for two hours. At the appointed time the "professor" was pleased to see the large crowd that were gathered in front of the store, and he finally made his appearance with the young city chap, who was going to give a public exhibition of how to sleep. He was put under the influence and laid on the bed. He just had time to get nicely into dreamland when his father happened to go on and he was ordered to get up for the main entrance to the above store. The parent and the hypnotist then had a few choice words, the latter coming out second best, with the result that the boy was brought "back to life" and sent on his way.

JUDGMENT RESERVED. Hears Case of F. C. Marshall, of Kingston. The court of appeal heard argument on Friday in the case of the estate of F. C. Marshall, on an appeal from a decision of the divisional court. Application was made in the first place to Justice Riddell to have Mr. Marshall, Kingston, declared dead, to enable his heirs to collect on an A.O.U. policy, but his lordship found the proof of death insufficient. The divisional court reversed Justice Riddell's decision. Judgment was reserved.

Died In North Toronto. The many friends of Mrs. Elmer Davis, Sydenham street, will sympathize deeply with her in the death of her mother, Mrs. F. H. Schine, of T. Fox, North Toronto. Mrs. Davis went to Toronto, about a week ago, to be with her mother, who died on Wednesday morning.

Arrived From Old Country. On Sunday, the two newly-appointed members of the staff of the Royal Military College arrived, Capt. H. Kaulbach, accompanied by his wife, coming from Belfast, Ireland, and Capt. J. P. Schine, of the Royal Marine Light Infantry, from England.

AT THE GRAND. Guy Brothers' Minstrels Gave a Fine Show. Guy Bros' minstrels gave a fine show at the Grand Saturday. The company is ever popular in Kingston. There was good singing, dancing and a line of specialties that were most entertaining. Outhank and Blanchette gave the best turn in acrobatic work ever put on in the city, and Kennedy and Doyle certainly upheld their reputations as expert dancers. Tom Voce, with his "talking figures," was a special feature. The Eagle quartette sang well. Harry Dole, soprano, rendered several fine selections. All the musical numbers were good.

To-Night De Wolf Hopper. Great are the promised features that will attend the appearance in this city of our old footlight friend, De Wolf Hopper, at the Grand to-night, in the latest of his series of fantastic characters, the Pied Piper of Hamelin in the new fantasy from the pen of Austin Strong entitled "What Happened Then," music by Edward Warren Corlies. The Schuberts have surrounded Mr. Hopper with a strong company of singers and farceurs, including among the principals dainty Toby Claude, Helen Cullinan, Dallas Welford, Owen Baxter and Norman Tharp.

Tyranny Of Tears. "The Tyranny of Tears" will be at the Grand on Thursday, Oct. 1st. Mr. Ganthony played to perfection the part of the hen-pecked husband, and Miss Hazel Stanmore proved worthy of the conquest that was hers. Her voice is one of rich quality and rare sweetness, a manner simple and unaffected, with the temperament of a genius and the technique that conceals itself in the finished result.

POLICE CONSTABLE BUSY. Made Three Arrests Inside of Fifteen Minutes. Three arrests inside of fifteen minutes. This was the record of Police Constable "Harry" Filson on Saturday night. As a rule Saturday night is always a great night for drunks, and this occasion was no exception to the rule. The constable was not looking for drunks but in some manner they came his way, and inside of fifteen minutes after he went on duty for the night he had the three drunks in the cells. And this is the most remarkable part of it all was the fact that the three offenders were taken in charge within almost a stone's throw of the police station. All three were in such a state as to be unable to care for themselves, and the "cooler" was the best place for them.

$6.00 New York Excursion. The New York Central will run the annual excursion to New York from the R.W. & O. division, on October 6th and 7th, 1908. Tickets good only in day coaches will be sold for morning and evening trains above dates at rate of $6.00 to return until October 16th inclusive. Through special trains will be run on October 6th direct to Grand Central station. Folders showing time of trains and complete information may be obtained of ticket agents or by writing H. S. Folger, ticket agent, Kingston, Ont.

Particularly Strong Number. The Canadian Magazine for October is a particularly strong number. Among the important contributions is one entitled "War," by Prof. Goldwin Smith. The first article is a review of government ownership in Western Canada, by George Fisher Chipman. Other contributions of interest are: "Heaven," by Rev. J. Pateron Smyth; "Among the Magdalen Islands," by Frank Yeich; "A Mystery Play," by Arnold Haultain; "The Back Door to the Northwestern Wheatfields," by Roden Kingsmill, with short stories by several Canadian authors.

May Be Summoned. There was a disturbance on William street on Saturday afternoon, and a call was sent in to the police. A citizen somewhat under the influence of liquor, was annoyed by some boys, and is alleged to have used some bad language. Some of the neighbors made a complaint.

He Wanted Rest. Penniless, footsore and weary, a tramp called at the police station, on Saturday night, and asked to be given shelter. He was taken in. His story was that he was in search of work, but had been unable to find any. He was very tired, and wanted rest.

Change Of Time. Kingston and Cape Vincent, Sunday service discontinued, also morning boat to Cape Vincent and evening boat from Cape Vincent; Steamers leave daily 2 p.m. Overcoats dyed or pressed, My Valet.
