A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letter.

Mrs. Letitia Blair, Cannifton, Ont., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was sick for five years. One doctor told me it was ulceration, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor, and advised an operation. No one knows what I suffered, and the bearing down pains were terrible.

"I wrote to my sister about it, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It has cured me of all my troubles, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me to pass safely through Change of Life."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Every Woman is interested and should know about the wonderful MARVEL Whirling Spindle. The new "Yarn" Spindle. It gives full particulars and directions in the valuable leaflet "How to Spin". Write for it to the General Agents for Canada.

FRESHLY MINED Coal is far more desirable than that dug out of the earth a year ago. It's cleaner—hasn't stored up twelve months' dirt and dust; it's dryer and in many ways a greater heat producer. Here it is at your service on quick order—bright, well screened coal in all the standard sizes at standard prices for better even than standard quality.

WHAT SEARCHLIGHT SHOWS.
The searchlight, we are informed, has been turned upon the transactions of the government in so far as one person is concerned, namely, A. W. Fraser, of Ottawa. One William J. Conroy, of Aylmer, is suing him for a share of the profit made in the sale of a timber limit, bought originally for $1,650 and sold for $100,000. The purchase may have been made, and no doubt was, under terms of competition, and Mr. Fraser may have come into possession of the property rightfully and fairly. At the same time many will feel that there has been in this an unnecessary sacrifice of timber limits.

The sale of limits generally can only be defended on the ground that the people must have timber with which to carry on building operations, and that this timber would be practically unobtainable if not provided as near as possible to the habitable districts. It has been computed that the forest lands of Manitoba and the North-West Territories cover 722,578 square miles, and in British Columbia the belt is 20,000 square miles. Up to this date there has been disposed of 123,500 square miles, so that is enough, without reproduction, to last for 220 years, and there are 600,000 square miles of forest areas, mostly spruce, which can be cut every twenty years.

It was the magnitude of the thing, the fact that large slices of forest would not be missed, which suggested the looting which began in 1883, and in which members of the government and members of parliament engaged. These divided among themselves, free of cost, 10,326 square miles of area, (212 limits) making a strip of forest area three miles wide and extending from Halifax to Vancouver. In the eighteen years the conservatives gave away 29,322 square miles of timber limits free, not one cent of money going into the treasury. The liberals sold no limits without a compensation. Between 1896 and 1908 they sold only 6,500 square miles, but some of it went too cheap, by public sale, as the Fraser case has shown.

ROBLIN AS A SLANDERER

The position is one he does not appreciate, that of arbiter between the Globe and Mr. Roblin, but Mr. Willison, of the Toronto News, has performed a manly and courageous act. He has vindicated the Globe, and incidentally discredited Mr. Roblin, because there was nothing else to do. The circumstances under which Mr. Roblin spoke may have been irritating. He had come east to join the entourage of Mr. Borden, and he did not hesitate to engage in its clamour on the land question.

The liberals were accused of looting the public domain, and as Mr. Roblin appeared to be particularly rude in his bearing—he was the Bill Sykes of the party—the Globe paid him due attention. It cited the losses the province of Manitoba had sustained by his mismanagement of its lands. The evidence of these losses was contained in the records of the Land Titles' office, and Mr. Roblin became angry when confronted with them. The lesson that he should purge or purify his own record before he undertook to criticise the records of others.

When Mr. Roblin went to the Toronto political meeting he suffered from a brain storm. While it raged he became very abusive. He accused the Globe of crookedness in connection with the Crows' Nest Pass railway, whose cost was increased from $1,850,000 to $2,000,000. In addition the Globe received 250,000 acres of the best coal land in America. "I charge the Globe," said he, "that they used their influence to rob the country that Robert Jaffray and his associates behind the Globe might obtain money."

Offensive reference was made to J. A. Macdonald, the editor of the Globe, and the attempt made to prejudice him in the public estimation, to represent him as a proacher of righteousness while his employers and friends looted the public treasury and lands. The result is known. Mr. Macdonald appeared to an impartial witness, the man who was editor of the Globe during the Crows' Nest Pass railway discussion, and Mr. Willison declares that he shaped the policy of the Globe at the time without dictation from or reference to any one on the directorate of the paper.

The result is evident. Mr. Roblin has slandered the Globe and its editor, and the best thing he can do is follow out his plans and disappear from public view as soon as possible. He has certainly hurt the party he wanted to serve more than words can say. His misbehaviour at Toronto and Peterboro cannot be excused or condoned.

EFFECTS OF THE TOUR.
The Toronto News thinks the tour of the liberal leader has been wasted. "He has dwelt insistently," says our contemporary, "upon the glorious history of liberalism." He has done that, and with pardonable pride has done more. He has justified the policy of the government in every respect. He certainly found that the people are satisfied respecting the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. They heartily participate in the slogan, "Let Laurier finish his work."

At Niagara Falls Postmaster-General Lemieux, returned from a study of the question in the United States, had the pleasure of announcing that rural mail delivery had been decided upon, not as at one time contemplated, but on a plan which was quite within the means of the country and that gave him great satisfaction. The minister of railways and canals, at two places, intimated that the Hudson Bay railway would be undertaken without delay, to meet the growing needs of the North-West; and the latest news is that from the sale of land so far effected there is a nucleus of $5,000,000 for the work.

When the demonstration occurred at Berlin the resolution came to hand from the Trades and Labour Council, which said that the workmen should be represented in the government by a minister of labour. The premier said that if W. L. Mackenzie King were elected in North Waterloo he should be the man.

The new secretary of state joined the party at North Bay, and Hon. Mr. Murphy, in his speech, showed that he had a progressive spirit, and that he would not be a drag on the wheels of government. Here, too, the premier received the petition of the C.P.R. men and undertook to use his best offices in the settlement of the trouble. "A wasted tour!" Not so far as the liberals are concerned. The premier has stirred the people as they have not been for many a day, and by addressing the most dignified character of the party, the self-righteous element; which prates continually about purity, takes a magic lantern, to illustrate the corruption of the enemy and leaves it to the other fellows. I do not mean to suggest that Mr. Ames personally is open to the suspicion of doing the wrong things he denounces. He has painted Canadian public life in unwarrantably dark colors. The quinquennial slanging match which always breaks out before a Dominion election, has been organized and systematized this time, to such an extent that it is calculated to defame the character, and injure the financial credit of the country.

Mr. Dalby On Mr. Ames.
Montreal Herald.
Henry Dalby, one time organizer of the conservative party, may be a candidate in St. Antoine division. Mr. Dalby selected St. Antoine. Herbert Ames, has the misfortune to be identified with the worst element in the conservative party, the self-righteous element; which prates continually about purity, takes a magic lantern, to illustrate the corruption of the enemy and leaves it to the other fellows. I do not mean to suggest that Mr. Ames personally is open to the suspicion of doing the wrong things he denounces. He has painted Canadian public life in unwarrantably dark colors. The quinquennial slanging match which always breaks out before a Dominion election, has been organized and systematized this time, to such an extent that it is calculated to defame the character, and injure the financial credit of the country.

No Basis For The Cry.
Canadian Courier.
Every large railway or other corporation in Canada occasionally pays prices which are too high. Further, every such corporation or company is occasionally cheated by employees. The latter does not confine his attention to the great spending departments of the Dominion government. It is, therefore, unreasonable to expect that all government purchases shall be at the lowest possible price or that it shall always get what it stipulates for. If private companies and individuals cannot do it, governments are not likely to be more successful. This is not written to justify the marine department. Its methods were certainly in need of improvement. So far, however, there seems to be little real basis for the large-sized charges which have been thrown at Mr. Broderick. There was basis for criticism; there seems to have been little basis for the cry of "wholesale graft."

Tupper's Lament.
Sir Charles Tupper's recent croaking on political questions, recalls the following verses once published regarding the "has been":

Poor country, 'tis of thee
So full of misery
Of these I sing,
Land where the best is bad,
Land where we're all so sad,
Let me beguile me, glad
Thou poor old thing!
O luckless land to-day
'Neath hateful plenty's sway,
I weep for thee!
How can men care for what
They've promised or they've got,
As long as things are not
All run by me?

Federal Finances.
Montreal La Canada.
Under the Laurier government the annual surplus has been $5,500,000. Under the conservative regime the average deficit was $249,000. The main complaint which the conservatives make against the liberals with regard to financial matters is that the Laurier government has increased the expenditure of the country. We ask the electors, do they prefer a deficit of three millions or a surplus of nineteen millions after having expended a hundred millions?

Fall Importations Of 1908.
Prevost, Brock street, has received all fall importations for order work in his tailoring department. His ready-made clothing and gents' furnishing departments were never better assorted.

Fire did $75,000 damage at the Standard Soap Works, Calgary.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

The Three Renegades.
Ottawa Free Press.
Borden, Foster and Roblin—three renegades who began life as liberals, have the insolence to preach political consistency!

No Appeals For Boodle.
London Advertiser.
The liberals have not only a great leader in Laurier, but a pure one. No one can imagine Laurier telegraphing to a government contractor: "Send me another ten thousand."

A Sad Omission.
Toronto Star.
Sir Charles Tupper has written an open letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in which he mentions most of the notable things he did with the exception of the time he dined with the Emperor of Austria off a service of gold.

A Brave Young Man.
Montreal Herald.
Mackenzie King parts with a deputy minister's salary and a job in which he has done good work of a kind that he likes, in order to run against a wealthy distiller, who has a start of three hundred majority. He has his nerve with him, anyhow.

Chained To The "Gang."
Halifax Chronicle.
In spite of the Montreal Star's warning, that eminent Tory statesman, George W. Foster, was on hand to welcome Mr. Borden at St. John. The leader simply can't shake Foster. He implored Dear Lefurgey to keep mum about those western land deals, "except to Borden, Bennett and yourself."

Roblin's Impertinence.
London Advertiser.
Mr. Roblin is going to and fro in the eastern provinces denouncing the federal government, which has kept the land for the settler, while his own government has parcelled it out in large blocks to speculators and capitalists. Knowing this, isn't Mr. Roblin showing a good deal of impertinence?

Mr. Dalby On Mr. Ames.

He Boasted Too Much.
Montreal Star.
Mr. Borden, betrayed this feeling (in Toronto) in the very speech in which he rushed to the defence of his absent lieutenant. He made open boast, of the fact that the insurance commission had indignantly failed to condescend to the name of "R. L. Borden" with "any land deals." This tells us more emphatically than any definite declaration could do, what Mr. Borden really thinks of men whom this insurance commission did succeed in connecting with "land deals." If it would have been a disgrace for "R. L. Borden" to have been mixed up with these land deals which the searchlight of the commission revealed, what is to be said of Mr. Foster, who went into one of the most gigantic of these "deals" with the money of his trust company in his hands? What, further, is to be said of other members of Mr. Borden's entourage who initiated this "deal" by getting special inside information from two railway magnates whose companies are constantly soliciting parliament for legislation?

The Late Thomas Hunt, Sr.
Thomas Hunt, Sr., one of the oldest inhabitants of the Thousand Islands, died at his home on LaRue Island, recently, aged ninety-four years. Mr. Hunt was born in Tipperary county, Ireland, and came to this country when nineteen years of age, and about sixty years ago located on LaRue Island, where he has since made his home. He was a very active man for his age, and was in good health up to within the past year, when he commenced to grow feeble. Mr. Hunt has many friends in this vicinity as well as in Rochester, who deeply sympathize with the many relatives. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, who is his second wife, six children, Fitz M. Hunt and Damer Hunt, Brockville; Mrs. Charles Cirtwell, Robert and Henry Hunt, LaRue Island, and Mrs. Ellen Frendergast, Utica, and two brothers, Henry Hunt, Sr., LaRue Island, and Francis Hunt, Brockville.

Effects Of Electricity.
The observations of Dr. Mullendorfi concerning the effects of electricity on the animal body show some remarkable results. Man has much greater power of resistance, or much less susceptibility, than many other animals. A leech placed upon a copper plate which rests upon a larger plate of zinc in contact with the animal, is troubled by slight differences of potential. An ox treated for rheumatism with electricity succumbed to a current absolutely innocuous to man.

$15,000,000 For A Department.
In 1902 the department of agriculture at Washington was thought to be doing fairly well when it spent $4,000,000. It is now spending $15,000,000. Its work includes forestry service, the bureau of animal industry, the testing of foods, the study and prediction of the weather, the development of new plants, the building of roads, and the crop reports. One item of ten thousand dollars to be spent this year may result in the saving of millions. It will be used for testing plants believed to be suitable for paper-making.

CHURCH THIEVES BUSY.

Bethel Church Entered For Fifth Time.

On Saturday afternoon thieves broke into Bethel church and secured about $3.50 from a cupboard. Those who committed the theft were thoroughly acquainted with the church and knew just where things were kept. This is the fifth time the church has been entered and every time the thieves have been successful. On Saturday entrance was gained by a window in the rear, and once inside the sneak thieves had little trouble in securing the coin. It seems that there must have been two, one to enter and one to keep watch, as the church is in a thickly populated part of the city, and the caretaker lives near. The crooks evidently watched the movements of the janitor and when he was out of sight got in to the building, rummaged around until they got what they wanted and then got safely away.

George Mills was seen by the Whig, this morning. He stated that the church had been entered five times, and amounts ranging from 50c. to $3.50 taken. The church people are of the opinion that the theft was the work of boys.

The case has been put in the hands of the police and the detectives are working on it. If the offenders are caught they should receive a stiff sentence.

MARINE NEWS.

What is Found About the Wharves.
The steamer Wanderer arrived from the islands, on Saturday night, and after undergoing some repairs, will be placed on the Cape Vincent route. Swift's Steamer City of Ottawa, down, Sunday; steamer Rideau King, for Ottawa, this morning; steamer Belleville, up, to-day; schooner Cornelia, at Wolfe Island, with coal for Swift. There is nothing slow about Capt. Patterson of the schooner Mary Ann Lydon. He succeeded in making a trip over to Oswego and back, while other schooners remained out around Nine Mile Point. The Lydon is discharging a cargo of coal at Crawford.

At M. T. Co. The steamer Fairmount and barge Ungava, cleared for Port William; the steamer Crowe discharged 75,000 bushels of wheat, and cleared for Duluth; the steamer John Cramer, arrived from Duluth, with 75,000 bushels of wheat; the steamer Westmount arrived from Port William with 90,000 bushels of wheat; the steamer Advance, passed on her way from Montreal to Port William, with packages freight; the tug Bartlett cleared for Montreal with four barges; the tug Thomson cleared for Montreal with three grain barges.
