HE IS THE MAN

To Whom Kingston Should Show Gratitude.

WARM TRIBUTE PAID

TO HON. WILLIAM HARTY BY SENATOR SULLIVAN.

He Thinks This Great Benefactor of Kingston Should Not Be Opposed By Mayor Ross—Describes a Visit to the Locomotive Works.

Hon. Dr. Sullivan writes an interesting letter to the Whig on civic and political topics. He says he writes not as a senator or a physician, but as a freholder of the city. The doctor addresses himself particularly to the mayor and members of the city council. Addressing himself to the mayor, he says: "I was astounded, Mr. Mayor, to hear of your nomination as member for the House of Commons, to represent this city. Are you to serve this city or a political party?"

HON. DR. SULLIVAN.

Strange, that what I consider the finest ingratitudes, would be ascribed by you the proper thing to do. You have, Mr. Mayor, with phenomenal rapidity, been advanced to the highest civic office in the gift of Kingston, and it is your duty to guard its honor and advance its progress without regard to creed or party or race. You recollect, Mr. Mayor, that when the County of Frontenac decided by an immense majority, to give nothing to Queen's University, you remember that then, the principal being very ill, William Hartly said: "I will give $1,000, if you will call it Grant Hall, or $100 if called by any other name." This was only one thing of the many which he did and still does for that university. Now, Mr. Mayor, you are a professor of standing in that university; do you think it is your duty to try and defeat Mr. Hartly? Mr. Mayor, if you and the city fathers would

KNOWS IT NOW

That Annexation Has Passed For Good.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP

IS HOWEVER DESIRED WITH UNITED STATES.

Canada is Too Big to Be Annexed to Anything—Independence Will Be the Next Thing—Filling Feeling For the Mother Land is Everywhere Apparent.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 6.—"I was told on every hand that the thought of annexation, very popular a decade ago, has passed for good; and the central reason is that Canadians realize now, as they say, that their country is too big to be annexed to anything. They are sufficient unto themselves. Prof. W. D. Lyman, of the chair of civics and history, at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., makes the foregoing statement in closing a series of travel sketches dealing with the Upper Columbia river and touching upon the state of Canadian politics and thought regarding the United States as he found them on his return to the north country during the summer just closed. He says: "I took pains to converse with a large number of people of various occupations and degrees, and I found universally a feeling of friendliness and good brotherhood toward the United States. I found a sentiment that there should be the freest possible trade relations between the two countries. "I was especially impressed with the thought that Spokane, beyond all other places, is in a position of advantage in respect to the enormous productive country now developing just north of her across the line, and that the establishment of active relations will be a tremendously potent influence in the great Spokane of the future. "But with all these indications of amity and comity, I was told on every side that the thought of annexation, very popular a decade ago, had passed for good. And the central reason is that Canadians realize now, as they say, that their country is too big to be annexed to anything. They are sufficient unto themselves. "They will be an independent country of their own some time. They are substantially independent now. There was some talk, indeed, of the feeling of the imperial empire of Greater Britain. But generally speaking, the sentiment in Canada may be summed up as one of filial attachment to British and pride in the grandeur of the English empire and the English name, together with an equally warm fraternal feeling toward the United States and a sentiment that the interest of both demand complete freedom of trade; and yet with these sentiments the overshadowing conviction that Canada will be neither American nor English, but Canadian; that Canada will in due time become an independent nation."

TIRES OF LOVE MAKING.

Artist Major to Sue For Separation.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 6.—Beautiful Estelle Leighton Major, of this city, who married Ernest Lee Major, a well-known Boston artist, shortly after posing for his masterpiece, "The Wood Nymph," is to be defendant in a suit for separation brought by her husband. "My husband was too devoted to me—his attentions were sickening," said Mrs. Major. "As an artist he is great, but we are too unsuited temperamentally to live together. He is devoted to his art, and he does not think of my happiness. He is a very nervous man, and he is unattractive to me. I am going on the stage because I am devoted heart and soul to my career. I helped him in his art, but he hindered me in mine."

WAS LURED TO WED.

He Was Victim of a Broadway Infatuation. Pittsburgh, Penn., Oct. 6.—What promises to be an interesting divorce case has just been brought to light here through the filing of papers, George S. Weiss, eldest son of Gustav Weiss, one of the richest restaurant men of Western Pennsylvania, has on reaching his majority filed suit for divorce against his bride of a few months, Mrs. Julia Kelly Weiss. The young husband charges his wife with having practiced fraud on him in veiling him into matrimony, it being alleged that she allured him into the "Great White Way" in New York and there wine and dined him until she got him infatuated. Then making the claim that he had compromised her, she succeeded in getting him to marry her.

A New Torpedo Invented.

London, Oct. 6.—The Telegraph announces the perfection of a new torpedo, the result of the labors of two naval officers which it says "places the equipment of the British fleet far ahead of rival powers, and which will revolutionize naval tactics." It is understood the torpedo is an improved type of gyroscope for keeping it on the course, consequently it runs more consistently than the present torpedoes. It will be fitted to all the new battleships.

CANNOT VIOLATE TREATY.

Without the Consent of All the Signatories.

London, Oct. 6.—It is semi-officially stated that Great Britain has adopted the firm decision not to admit any government's right to violate an international treaty without the assent of all the signatories, especially Turkey, which is most directly affected. The latter's efforts to reform have excited the admiration and sympathy of the British people, who wish to see her succeed in her work of regeneration. Before replying to Austria's note, Great Britain will notify her views to the other signatories of the Berlin treaty and will await their opinion.

Maintaining Dignity.

Constantinople, Oct. 6.—Hiberto Turkey has preserved, in the face of desperate provocation, the same calm dignity she displayed throughout the recent domestic revolution. There is no surprise in this. On the contrary, there is great indignation, but all Ottoman statesmen recognize that peace is essential at the present time, and will go as far as possible to preserve it.

People Are Stirred.

Belgrade, Oct. 6.—Serbia is angrily stirred by the act of Bulgaria and Austria. The populace of the capital through the streets, discussing the possibility of war. The feeling against Austria was voiced at a great mass meeting last evening, prior to which the demonstrators paraded, firing revolvers and shouting "Down with Austria."

The View in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 6.—In the political earthquake, which is overthrowing the frail treaty structure of Eastern Europe, French diplomacy concerns itself first with coming to the assistance of its friends, Russia and England. The view of the foreign office is that with calmness peace should be preserved. It is felt here that Bulgaria's declaration of independence leaves King Edward and Emperor William as protagonists in the centre of European politics. Foreign office advisers from Sofia deny that a general mobilization order has been issued as yet, but explain that, because of the autumn manoeuvres, 20,000 men are already under arms. Feeling in the business world is greatly depressed. The Temps observes that the Paris Bourse has not known such mad markets since the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war as were experienced, yesterday.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE.

Canned Fruit Follows Those Choice Tomatoes.

Halifax, Oct. 6.—Tory rum seems fated to go astray. There was a consignment of "choice tomatoes" that got away down at Chatham, Colchester county, last fall, not to speak of numerous others in the same campaign, and now a consignment believed to have been meant for prominent tory workers in Hants county almost suffered the same sad fate. The story of this last mentioned lot shows that the "purity" party is beginning its operations early. A gentleman in Hants county thought it best to take time by the forelock, so he ordered a substantial lot in Halifax. There were gallon jugs and half gallon jugs and smaller packages innumerable.

WATERWORKS COMMITTEE

Decides to Increase Rent of Its Wharf.

The water works' committee met, yesterday afternoon. Present were: A. W. Craig (chairman), Couper, Kent and Chown. A petition of W. Nevin, for a water main on Cataract street, and another from Mrs. Nancy Stover, for a main on Victoria street, were granted. The chairman and the permittees were authorized to issue the pump house coal for $120. The water works' coal has not hit to be insured, but on account of last year's big fire, it was deemed wise to do this. The tender of Selby & Yonclen for hydrants, sewer boxes and valve boxes was accepted. It was decided to raise the rent of the water works' wharf to $300 a year, and to notify the Donnelly Wrecking company. The rent has hitherto been only $125 a year. The new rate will be from May 1st, 1909, when the old lease will be cancelled. The berth at the foot of West street is to be under the control of the water works' committee.

Is Given the Lie; Dr. Pugsley's Challenge.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 6.—Replying to the reported statement of Premier Hazen that the members of the provincial government have been in the habit of taking money out of the treasury whenever they pleased, Hon. Dr. Pugsley said: "If the published report of what Hazen said is correct I charge him with wilfully and deliberately uttering a falsehood in order to deceive the people of this province." Mr. Pugsley also said that Deputy Receiver General Babbitt, to whom Mr. Hazen is said to have attributed the statement, was an honest man and he did not believe he had made such a statement.

MISS MITCHELL MARRIED.

A very pretty home wedding took place on William street, on Tuesday morning, at the beautiful home of John Mitchell, when his youngest daughter, Rita Selina, was married to Dr. Ross Mortimer Bradley, of James town, Pa. The drawing-room, where the ceremony was performed, by Rev. C. A. Sykes, of Sydenham street—Methodist church, was a bower of palms and lovely ferns. On the mantelpiece pink carnations in tall crystal vases, looked at themselves in the large looking-glass, and between them stood a large bouquet of bridal roses. The piano, at the end of the room, from which Miss Louise Singleton played the wedding march, was also decked with ferns and flowers and white satin.

John Hunter Sarnia, and Frederick Shields, Duluth, were drowned by the upsetting of a scow in tow of the Reid Wrecking outfit, near Whitefish. Dr. George L. Joseph Chamberlain does not intend shortly to retire from the house of commons. On the contrary his health is much improved and he is preparing an address to his constituents. The sale of Dominion Methodist church, Ottawa, to the C. Ross company, at $125,000, was approved at a meeting of the quarterly board of the church. The actual taking possession of the church property will, however, be deferred until the congregation has secured a site on which to build another home.

Choice Tomatoes.

To overcome the difficulty of bringing in the county of Hants unknown, he conceived the idea of having it distributed among a consignment of fruit he was getting from a prominent dealer in Halifax. There are, however, dealers and dealers, but the tory worker does not seem to have thought of this. As had luck would have it his whiskey went to a liberal, with instructions to pack it carefully inside the fruit packages, so that its presence could not be detected, and forward it to the dealer, who was surprised at this order, and telephoned the consignee, who to his horror, saw the mistake at once, and took possession of the contraband goods. There was quite a substantial quantity of liquor in the lot. This is the latest dodge down here, "choice tomatoes" being under the ban.
