RENT WASTE

It is said that 20 per cent, or one-fifth of a man's earnings is a fair allowance for rent.

Perhaps the rent you pay is not so large a percentage of your wages; perhaps it is more. At any rate why not save that expense, or a large proportion of it, by purchasing a home?

Buy one on the installment paying plan and pay for it a little at a time. You've no idea how easy we can 'let you in.'

For example: We can sell you a Cottage for $500, by paying $75 cash and $7 per month.

FOR MORAL REFORM KINGSTON ORGANIZES A LEAGUE.

D. G. Laidlaw's President—Two Strong Addresses Given—Rev. Dr. Chown Says Inspector Wright Should Change His Ways.

A fairly large sized meeting was held in St. George's hall on Monday evening, to organize a local branch of the Social and Moral Reform League. Rev. Dr. Chown and Rev. Mr. Pidgeon of Toronto, were present and delivered strong addresses in regard to the movement. Among those present were: Rev. Mr. Villiers, Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, Dean Farthing, Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, Rev. Mr. Macdunn, Rev. Douglas Laing, Rev. Mr. Whitmore, Rev. W. H. Sparling, Rev. T. C. Burke, Rev. Dr. MacTavish, Rev. Mr. Craig, Robert Meek, G. A. Bateman, B. W. Robertson, Dr. Sparks. The Trades and Labor Council was represented by T. H. Fleming and W. T. Edgar. Dean Farthing was appointed chairman, and after opening prayer by Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, Dr. Chown was called on for an address.

The speaker went on at some length to tell how many scandals and corrupt practices had occurred in other places, and that some had been 'pulled off.' The power of the church was honeycombed by the political machine. He told of the practices by both conservatives and liberals in London, Ont., at a recent election. 'In Kingston at a dominion election,' said the speaker, 'there was a corner where there was a man in a room up above the one in which the men went to vote. This man had a hole cut in the floor and he saw which way the man voted. If he voted the correct way the man put his hand up on the window as a signal to his friends outside and when the voter came out he was given his money.' 'That is how they do things in Kingston,' said Dr. Chown. He told another case of a Presbyterian minister who went about bribing voters. He was found out, brought before the church court, and after hearing the evidence the minister was allowed to go free. So far, as the judge said he committed the act in a moment of great excitement. 'Nearly as bad as the Methodists,' said the speaker.

Dr. Chown also spoke on the evil of cheap theatres and how much they were doing to undermine the thoughts of children, making them crave for degraded papers and literature. 'The liquor law should also be enforced,' said the speaker. 'I would not do one thing to injure a hair in the head of the inspector, but the council to be organized here should demand that either change his ways, or demand an investigation by the government.' The cigarette evil was also touched upon, as was the obscene postcards, etc. The speaker stated that the new league might also aid the provincial leagues for the cure of the feeble-minded, who are not strong enough to look after their own moral welfare.

The next speaker was Dr. Pidgeon, who spoke more along the line of organization. He spoke of the great wave of reform that was present sweeping over Great Britain, and other countries, especially the nation to the south of us, where whole states were swinging into line. The speaker touched on the good work done by Roosevelt, Hughes, Seth Low and other men in New York, in St. Louis, and other places. 'The speaker then said that the league to be governed would be composed of representatives from all the churches and denominations. Some years ago the Methodists started their own reform league, the Presbyterians came next, and now nearly all had their own branches. This branch was to make it all one, all to work together for the good of the community. 'You will be surprised how far we can work together,' said the speaker. 'We can go along together as far as we can, and then each church can, if it wishes, carry its own line in some particular direction, if it can.' Mr. Pidgeon said that the reason so many laws in so many places were not enforced, was because it was no one's special business to see that they were enforced, and that was THIN BLOOD MADE STRONG. Tiredness and Weakness Overcome.

A JOYOUS LETTER. 'I admit because neglected early treatment I am entirely to blame for the condition of weakness that for nearly two years made my life a misery,' writes Mrs. Hazen, of Beaufort. 'At first I felt sort of flat in the morning and could do no more than pick at my breakfast. Later I remember my sleep was disturbed, that dreamy, restless sleep, from which you finally awaken, feeling as if you could never get up. Then I became thin, lost my color, got nervous and fearful about nothing, and kept thinking about myself all the time, and was irritable, cross and easily made cry. What would have become of me if I had not taken Ferrozone I can't imagine. Ferrozone put new life into me from the start. It strengthened my nerves and brought back my color, and in a little while, less than three months, no healthier or brighter woman would be found anywhere. I highly praise Ferrozone and advise sick people to take advantage of its health-conferring properties.'

Ferrozone quickens the powers of both body and mind, simply because it forms lots of blood that's full of life and vitality. Ferrozone creates appetite, gives strength, vim and endurance, it's good for old people, good for everybody that needs better health. Thousands of men, women and children use Ferrozone every day and all say it's the best nourishing, strengthening tonic made. Try Ferrozone yourself, 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all dealers.

the chief work of the league. He touched briefly on the liquor question, saying, 'The Whitney government are enforcing the liquor act, but they are doing it from the centre by sending out detectives, who are doing the work, but are not seeing that the inspectors do their duty.' The speaker advocated a system of provincial police.

Dean Farthing said a few words, and then the work of organization was commenced. Rev. J. C. Villiers was present and produced the minutes of two meetings held last May and June. These were read to the meeting.

The following officers were elected for the local branch of the Social and Moral Reform League: President—D. G. Laidlaw. Vice Presidents—Hiram Calvin, B. W. Robertson. Secretary—Left to the executive. Executive Committee—Edw. J. B. Pense, Oliver Chown, Elmer Davis, G. M. Macdonnell, T. Ailen, T. H. Fleming, Dean Farthing, Rev. W. H. Sparling, Rev. Dr. MacTavish, Rev. J. C. Villiers, Rev. D. Laing. After the officers had been elected and the president installed, quite an interesting debate started about when the leagues would get to work. Mr. Macdonnell wanted to get to work to purify this coming election, and get to work at once. The president and the speaker thought the matter better left to the executive, as there were no members enrolled yet. After a further discussion a book was passed around among the men, those who wanted to join signing their names.

This morning we took out our telescopes, but could see no sign of any rebuilding on top of the city dome. Perhaps Editor Daley was cracking a joke.

Overcoats dyed or pressed. My Valet. Some time during Saturday night two boat-houses were broken into and articles carried away. Two spark plugs, two valves and other small pieces of machinery were taken off the gasoline launches. It was clearly shown that all the thieves wanted was the parts of an engine, as many of the costly articles were left. In one house a valuable gun and a large amount of brass was left untouched. The police are working on the case.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH HAS A DISCUSSION ON AN EGG BILL.

Medical Health Officer's Report—A Case of Chickenpox Not Reported—The Medical Attendant to Be Asked to Explain.

What occupied half the time of the board of health session, yesterday afternoon, was a discussion as to whether a poor woman should be paid twenty-five cents a dozen for fifty-eight dozen of eggs supplied during the summer to the small-pox hospital. The woman's bill was $14.50. It was decided to pay 21c, the alleged prevailing price at the time. Dr. Evans declared that the board had no right to set a price on the eggs. It had ordered them, and accepted them, and should pay up. The woman claiming her eggs were strictly fresh and worth the money. If she cares to sue the board in the division court, she'll have an easy win, for everybody knows there's a difference in eggs, some of which are useful only for throwing at bad actors.

Medical Health Officer Bell reported that during September, there were reported with him these contagious disease cases: Scarlet fever, 9; typhoid fever, 4; diphtheria, 1; small-pox, 1. Of the typhoid fever cases only two originated in the city. There were fourteen outside typhoid fever cases brought here for treatment.

The chairman reported that a rumor current among the officers that a small-pox case had been quarantined in a citizen's house. Investigation showed that the case was one of chicken-pox, and that the patient had been laid up three weeks, but had gone away. The medical health officer received notice of the case, and the board decided to see the physician in charge for an explanation.

Mayor Ross said that he intended calling a meeting of the civic finance committee this week to consider the isolation hospital question, and would notify the board's representatives of it, so that they could be present.

Dr. Evans wanted to know why the city council had appointed public vaccinators, when the health officer could call upon the health officer to attend at the city hall whenever required, and vaccinate those who applied. The mayor said the city council could do what it pleased in the matter. If it wanted to appoint vaccinators there was nothing to prevent it.

In attendance at the meeting were: S. S. Corbett (chairman), Dr. Knight, Dr. Etherington, Dr. Evans, John Lennon.

AT THE GRAND.

A Charming Musical Comedy, on Wednesday.

'Three Little Maids,' direct from its unprecedented success in London and New York, comes to the Grand on next Wednesday, Oct. 7th. This charming musical comedy, with its delightful novelties, its dashing songs, beautiful young women and clever comedians, has broken all records for this class of entertainment, and has drawn crowded houses at every performance given since its first night. A peculiarity about this production is that it has drawn the same people over and over to see it.

'The Gay Musician.'

To crowd a Broadway theatre during the torrid spell of weather in the early part of last summer is the distinctive record of Julia Edwards' new comic opera, 'The Gay Musician,' which the Amusement Producing company, under the direction of John P. Stocum, will present at the Grand on Thursday, Oct. 8th. A cast of New York favorites will be seen in the production, while the chorus places itself on record as the best singing and dancing combination seen and heard on Broadway this year. Scenery and costumes have been made by renowned artists.

POLICE COURT BREVITIES.

Thomas Rush Was in Need of a Rest.

'I didn't drink very much, your honor, I will thank you for a chance.' Thomas Rush, an old war pensioner, has a strong love for whiskey, and every pension day he has to yield to the temptation of the flowing bowl. 'You need a rest,' said the magistrate, to the accused. 'You need to be cared for, as I believe you have been sick.' 'No, your honor, I am all right. I will not have a chance to get this way again until next pension day.' 'Three dollars and costs, or one month,' said the court, and Rush was led away. He was arrested early Monday.

Investigation Made in Purse-Snatching Case.

The police have been making an investigation into the purse-snatching cases, but have been given a setback in their work through the fact that the ladies will not consent to prosecute. Constable Arnel, who has been working on the case, secured enough evidence to lodge a charge against a lady, but when he interviewed the ladies in the case they refused to press the case. The police are very often hampered in this city, as they cannot go along with the case.

W. Peters Takes A Wife.

On Monday evening a quiet house wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Colborne Blake, when her daughter, Jette J., was united in marriage to William Peters, secretary-treasurer of McGowan's Cigar Co., city. Rev. W. H. Sparling, B.A., officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Maude. The groom's best man was Sergt. Bert. Hazelton. The only guests were the immediate families. After the wedding supper the happy couple left for a trip to New York, Hartford and Southampton, Conn.
