ISOLATION HOSPITAL

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL ASK CITY TO ERECT ONE.

Matter Was Discussed at a Special Meeting Held on Saturday Afternoon—Cases Must Have Proper Care.

"That this board recommend to the city council the erection of an isolation hospital, of such material as they may decide, upon an isolated part of the smelter site, or such other location as they may determine, such building to have suitable accommodation for at least twenty patients, two wards and a few private rooms being recommended, and to contain proper heating, cooking and lavatory devices, construction to be commenced at the earliest possible moment."

The above resolution was passed at a special meeting of the board of health, held on Saturday afternoon. The recommendation will come before the city council, at its session tonight. Upon the request of the board, members of the finance committee were present to discuss the matter. Chairman Corbett presided, and the other members of the board present were Dr. Knight, Dr. Evans, Francis King, Dr. Etherington, John Lemmon and Dr. Bell, medical health officer. The deputation from the finance committee included Aids. Nickle, Rigney and Robertson. Mayor Ross was also present.

Chairman Corbett explained the purpose of the meeting. He stated that there was a new case of smallpox in the city, the patient, a boy seven years of age. Several cases had been treated during the summer in the building now in use, but it was a question as to whether this building would be suitable for the fall and winter. The building suited the purpose all right for the summer. Some action should be taken, however, to make preparations, should there be any outbreak. He believed that people should be given all the comfort that was possible to give them.

Ald. Rigney said the question was not one that had to do with the finance committee. It was necessary that the board of health have some recommendation for the council. Mr. King said that the board had the power to erect a temporary hospital, but hesitated to take action regarding the erection of a permanent hospital, as the council had power to do this. For this reason, the board desired to consult members of the council.

Dr. Evans said that the present situation required immediate attention. Mr. King said that the question to be considered was that of the erection of a temporary or permanent hospital. Members of the board had been looking over the city for a site.

Dr. Evans suggested adding to the present building, and having it removed down to the water. He was of the opinion that the building could be made suitable. Dr. Knight said that the time had arrived when the city needed a permanent isolation hospital. For eight months the city had been treating cases, and one could not tell when the city might be faced with an outbreak.

Ald. Nickle said that the city would demand a comfortable building for the treatment of such cases. The city should expend $3,000 or even $5,000 rather than have it said that one child died through the city's neglect. They must be given the best accommodation. The board should undertake the executive work in the matter, and then let the city machinery get down to work.

Mayor Ross said that it was up to the board of health to say what they wanted done, but it was not right for the board to unload the work on the finance committee. The finance committee did not intend to shrink from their work, but in this matter it was not the duty of the committee to make suggestions. The finance committee might recommend something that would not meet with the favor of the board.

Dr. Etherington pointed out that he and the chairman had been searching for a suitable hospital site, but had been unsuccessful. Ald. Rigney quite agreed with the remarks of Mayor Ross. It was his belief that the board should make the suggestions to the committee. If it was so that the board could not secure a site, then the committee could take a hand and secure one.

Dr. Evans remarked that he was quite as much in the dark, in the matter as the finance committee. He had supported a motion, giving two members the authority to furnish the city council with plans, etc., for a new hospital. This committee had been given full power. Mr. King said that he did not see why that should be any difficulty. All were agreed as to the necessity, and it was quite proper that the board of health should make the recommendation. All that was left to consider was as regards the class of building to be erected.

Mayor Ross said that the county might be just as liable to need a hospital as the city. The hospital complained of the amount received for infectious diseases was not sufficient, and it might be necessary to erect a new building for these cases. After some further discussion, Mr. King moved the resolution calling for the erection of a hospital, which was then carried.

As regards the vaccination of the children, Ald. Nickle asked whether the resolution passed by the board was of a compulsory nature, or merely confined to the school act. He was given to understand that it was confined to the school act.

Ald. Nickle asked for a clear explanation of the board's communication to council. Did it mean the appointment of public vaccinators or the more drastic measure of universal compulsory vaccination? If it meant the latter, he as an alderman would not allow it to be done without giving citizens who were opposed to the fair hearing. Council should proceed carefully.

Dr. Etherington said, in reply, he only wanted at this time the appointment of public vaccinators for all who applied for voluntary vaccination. Dr. Evans said he was glad to see the board recede from its unfair and extreme position, and if it only meant vaccination for those who applied he would offer no further fight. At five o'clock the board and finance committee visited the smelter site and after looking over things thought the present brick building could be made into a four-ward isolation hospital at an expense of from $1,500 to $2,000.

MAY WAX IS HOME. Racing Season of W. H. Carson's Paer is Over.

W. H. Carson's pacer, May Wax, arrived here, to-day, from Nashua, N.H., having finished her season's racing on the New Hampshire circuit. Four races on that circuit, to have taken place last week and this, were called off. May Wax has had a season of successes. She started in Kingston, on May 25th, and won the 2.30 class of the Eastern Ontario circuit. At Gananoque, Brockville, Montreal and St. Hyacinthe, she won her classes handsly. Then she was entered in the New Hampshire circuit and won all the races there that she finished. On two occasions she had collisions, and her driver was injured in each case. Both these races she had practically won.

May Wax began the season with a 2.30 mark, and comes home with a mark of 2.16. Had the other races on the New Hampshire circuit taken place, her marking would have been still lower, as she is capable of making faster time. However, Mr. Carson is not anxious to press her to the limit yet. There is no doubt but what he has the fastest pacer ever bred in Kingston, and, barring accidents, May Wax will bring him fame and wealth. He will enter her in the ice races during the winter at Ottawa and other eastern places. May Wax won eleven firsts during the season.

AT SYDENHAM ST. CHURCH. Rev. J. Williams, Butcher Occupied Pulpit.

Rev. J. Williams, Butcher of London, Eng., secretary of the Wesleyan Methodist Sunday School Union, occupied the pulpit at Sydenham street church, on Sunday morning and evening, and preached eloquent sermons. He also addressed the members of the Bible class in the afternoon.

At the evening service, Rev. Mr. Butcher chose, as his text Colossians iii, 1: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God." In the church, to-day, said the speaker, during his remarks, a great many were looking for novelty, not only in the message, but in the message as well. The old message was better than the new. An old friend was better than a new friend, any day. A great many never endeavored to understand the story of the crucifixion, and never tried to understand their relation to the cross of Christ. If one should ask the question, "What is the cross to me?" in some quiet hour, the answer that would come would be most helpful. The cross was an object lesson, concerning the heart of God. There is a sense by which we might know God; the knowledge might be partial, but would be sufficient. To know the deepest and truest lesson concerning God, one would have to go to Calvary, and sit under the cross. It was very difficult for some to understand the meaning of the sinfulness of sin. The speaker referred to the crucifixion and stated that in the present day there was a great lack of intelligence and that he honestly believed that if Christ came to the world, there might be some who would want to act the same way towards Him. He prayed that God would send a revival of religion. We could not get near to Christ crucified, unless we could see things in a better light. There were many things for which we had to accept the fact, but could give no explanation of.

At the morning service, Henry Angrove sang "Face To Face," and in the evening, Mrs. E. G. Andrews sang "O, God Be Merciful," both numbers being well rendered.

SIMPLE GOODNESS

THEME OF ONE OF CANON DANN'S SERMONS.

His Morning Sermon a Logical Appeal For Renewed Zeal in Missionary Work—Layman's Movement Was Lauded.

Canon Dann, of St. Paul's cathedral, London, preached at matins and evensong, at St. George's cathedral, on Sunday. His morning sermon was a missionary one from the text "Wag the man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, will not leave the ninety and nine and go after that which was lost until he find it." Christ had shown us the character of God by this illustration of the shepherd seeking the lost. Christ's last order had been "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel," and those who fail to obey are as soldiers flinching before their captain's command. God is Himself the great missionary. The first murderer, Cain, is he who tried to shirk responsibility and asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?" When we hear of the failure of missions we have to hang our heads in shame—they have failed because we have failed. The preacher appealed for zealous support of the M.S.C.C. and of the great Layman's Missionary Movement.

At evensong Canon Dann said he would preach a very simple sermon on goodness, and his text was "Make the tree good and the fruit will be good." There are many misconceptions as to what goodness really is. You hear men say "so-and-so is a good man, he knows the Bible from end to end." This might be knowledge of true doctrine but not goodness. All the observances of the religious life are necessary to true goodness, but are only the scaffolding of it. Again goodness is not just not doing bad. You never made a man or woman, boy or girl good, by the law of negation. Parents who try to bring up their children on the law of "Don't" were briefly told by the preacher that their efforts would meet with conspicuous failure. But again, the doing good things, by the law of goodness, good deeds without goodness, are like fruit stuck on a Christmas tree, pretty to look at but not the living fruit of the tree. Then what is goodness? God being the Good One, union with His life is the one way of obtaining goodness. God became incarnate to reveal the love and being of God. Received by baptism into His Body, we are made living branches of the true vine, and this life of the vine circulates through our life, and enables us to live a life of goodness. See our Lord with the sinful, the weak, the sick, the helpless. We must try to follow Him there. Goodness means a life of sacrifice, of mercy, and of love, of long-suffering, of meekness and of peace. It is that life of Christ being produced in you? asked the preacher at the close.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. The Plays to Be Produced This Week.

At the Grand on Thursday, October 15th, will be presented "From Broadway To The Bowery," a new four-act melodrama, dealing with high and low life in the great metropolis of the western hemisphere.

It is a stirring, well-written melodrama, full of exciting incidents and tells a well-told story, with plenty of good comedy scenes to relieve the tension. The cast is a good one and includes "Chuck" Connors, "The Mayor of Chintook" who is the most unique character in New York, to-day. The play will be given a simultaneous production by the Harry Sellers' company.

"Babes In Toyland." Victor Herbert's famous extravaganza, "Babes In Toyland," with book and lyric by Glen MacDonough, the famous librettist, will be an attraction at the Grand on Saturday, October 17th, matinee and night. This production, played for over one year and a half in New York and one year
