FOX WAS JUSTIFIED

VIEW OF CORONER'S JURY IN CLIFF FIGHT CASE.

Held That Accused Acted Properly in Protecting the Girl He Was With From Reardon, Who Was Killed in a Fall Over the Cliff.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—The inquest into the death of D. J. Reardon, who was killed here a few weeks ago by a fall over a cliff while scuffling with Thomas Fox, was continued last evening. Fox was held blameless by the jury, who held that he was justified in protecting Miss Williams, the young lady who was with him at the time, from assault. Fox will probably now be released when brought before a magistrate and the charge of manslaughter on which he is held withdrawn.

Tax Collector Bartels is sending out his "third and last call" notices to delinquents. Evidently he expects to get a piece of the alleged greenback windfall of Monday. A drunken man received severe injuries on Brock street, Tuesday night, by falling off the sidewalk into the road. He was taken home by some men and his cuts and bruises were dressed.

These nice easy rainfalls are doing much to make the hard ground fit for ploughing. If the weather remains fine for the next three weeks the farmers will complete their fall work all right. The Y.M.C.A. Harriers are still doing some good running in preparation for their handicap race on Thanksgiving day. This race should be one of the best long-distance events pulled off in this city.

CHARACTER POINT

On Which Defence Acted—Judge Ruled It Out.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 28.—The trial for murder of Elliott J. Kimball, former chief of police of Lenington, who, on July 28th, shot and killed George Healey, began in the court this morning, before Judge Lathford and jury. Frank Arnold, K.C., was the prosecuting attorney; O. L. Lewis, K.C., was the defending counsel. The defence began by drawing out evidence from the witness, Miss Mary Wellington, as to Healey's character, which the judge would not allow, saying the life of a man the worst character in the community must be protected. The defence replied that it had built its case on the character point and, therefore, would have to continue the case on a new tack.

MONKEYS ROB ORCHARDS.

Villagers Greatly Alarmed By Sudden Appearance.

New York, Oct. 28.—A despatch to the Tribune from Seekonk, Mass., says: The woods near this town are overrun by a troop of monkeys whose advent is a mystery, and the villagers for ten miles about are greatly alarmed. The monkeys were first seen about ten days ago. They frightened women and children and rob gardens and orchards right and left. For a week hunters have been trying to run them down, but so far only four have been killed. They are supposed to have escaped from some coasting vessel.

MONEY FROM TRUSTS

Used By Republicans of Indiana, Says Kern.

JOHN W. KERN.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—John W. Kern, democratic nominee for vice-president, made the charge before a good-sized audience at Tipton, Ind., that $100,000, largely contributed by trusts and combines, was brought in to Indiana last Sunday and passed through the hands of Hon. Frederick Sims, secretary of state. Sims declares he knows nothing of a $100,000 campaign fund for Indiana.

NO INQUEST HELD.

Report Made By Dr. Mundell to Crown Attorney.

A full report of the circumstances surrounding the sad death of John Scott Bostridge, on Sunday evening last, has been prepared by Dr. Mundell and handed to John L. Whiting, K.C., crown attorney. The report embodies the exact cause of death, how the lad came to touch the wire, and the story of the boys who were with him. No inquest will be held over the remains, and it is not known yet what steps will be taken. According to the boys' story, young Bostridge jumped up and touched the wire, the electric current passed through his body and he fell back, dead. He must have touched the wire above the cut-out, as no electricity can pass below it. The wet weather and the storm seem to be the cause of the fatality as there is not generally any current in the wire used for pulling up the lamp, even above the cut-out, unless the wires get crossed or something else happens, and the cut-out is placed there as a means of safety in case such an accident, as the wires crossing, etc., happens. The rubber cut-out on the pole in question is about seven feet above the ground.

DISCHARGED FROM WORK.

Lad Then Ran Away From His Home.

Because he was discharged from his work, and did not care to go home and tell his parents, the Johnson street lad, reported missing yesterday, working in a factory in the country, not very far from Kingston. The lad's father, who spent all day yesterday looking for the stray-away, this morning received a letter from him in which he stated that he ran away because he lost his job, and did not care to go home and tell his parents. The father will go out into the country and bring the lad back. The boy left the city Monday afternoon, and the father was out in search of him all Tuesday night, as when he did not come home as usual it was believed that he had met with some accident.

Rip Van Winkle At Bijou.

Rip Van Winkle, perhaps the most popular comedy drama ever written will be given Wednesday and Thursday at the Bijou. As every boy knows Rip was the Dutch settler in New York state who went to the Catskill mountains, forgot the years, and the ghost of Hendrick Hudson's pirates and was put to sleep for twenty years. The story was originated by the great American writer, Washington Irving, and is one of the things that will never die. There is also offered a fine pathetic drama, "His Daughter's Voice," and a comedy, "The Lost Cake," together with an illustrated song, "The Fairy Queen."

Heard Good Address.

The address of Miss McLeod, nurse at the Walkew Home Mission hospital, Saskatchewan, before the women of the various Presbyterian congregations, in Cooke's church, on Monday, was well attended. The mission is maintained by women mission workers and the nurse's talk was found intensely interesting.

Sent To Asylum.
