A VIVID DESCRIPTION OF HOW A JAPANESE BECAME CHRISTIAN.

Powerful Address of Dr. Ebina, of Japan, at Laymen's Mission Meeting—Regarded It As a Duty to His God to Preach.

The feature of last evening's meeting in Sydenham Street Methodist church in connection with the inauguration of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in Kingston was the address by Rev. Dr. Ebina, of Tokio, Japan...

Dr. Ebina pointed out how Christianity had so worked upon the people of Japan, that in the recent war with Russia, all classes were privileged to give up their lives for their country...

Mr. Gordon, of Toronto, followed with a short address on the topic, "Do Foreign Missionaries Pay?" He had done layman service in China and Korea, and could strongly answer yes to the question...

Owing to the late hour, Rev. Gunn, of Toronto, did not give his address as scheduled. He spoke briefly, however, and urged the people to try and emulate the spirit of Dr. Ebina, realizing their duty to their God.

Principal Gordon, referred to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement that the twentieth century belonged to Catholics. The Principal said that many things such as the discovery of anaesthetics of steam power, etc., were credited as being the greatest things of the nineteenth century...

Five little girls in fetching Dutch costumes, gave out the menu cards, and assisted in many ways. Their names were Miss Mildred, Wormwith, Miss Florence Elliott, Miss Alda Nicole and Miss Mildred Clow.

There is a great desire among the women of the churches to hear the address at to-night's banquet, and it was hoped to secure Grant Hall as a date for them. But it was occupied and the City Hall affords only a moderate space...

STORY OF POLICE COURT.

Drunk Blamed the Election For His Trouble. Nearly every person who comes before the magistrate, on a charge of drunkenness, has some excuse to offer for his conduct.

"You're charged with being drunk," said the magistrate to James H. Brown. The police records showed that James arrived at the police station at 10.20 o'clock, Thursday night in the custody of Constables Bateson and Naylor.

"I believe that's so," said the accused, and without further comment, the magistrate imposed a fine of $2 and costs, or fifteen days.

Royden Keath was faced with a double charge that of being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty. Constable Craig, who arrested Keath on Princess street, at 11 o'clock on Thursday night, stated that he was using some very bad language.

"I had a little too much," was the explanation given by Keath to the court. He was called upon to pay a fine of $2 and costs, the option being twenty days in jail.

The charge against four employees of the K. & P. Railway, that of damage to property belonging to John Tweedell, was further adjourned until Nov. 2nd.
