FRANTIC WOMEN. Organic disturbances of the feminine system act like a firebrand on the nerves of women, often driving them fairly frantic.

A nervous, irritable woman is a source of misery not only to herself, but to all those who come under her influence. That such conditions can be entirely overcome by taking

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Mme. Emma Chatel, Valleyfield, Bellerive, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For months I suffered with painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could do nothing for me, and said I must submit to an operation because I had a tumor.

"One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her. "I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your remedy is deserving of great praise."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WAS A "LOVE PIRATE" DIARY OF A GIRL INVOLVED IN DIVORCE.

Gives Points on Love—"If Kisses Were Ten Dollar Bills What a Merry World This Would Be!"

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29.—As an explosion of girl thoughts, impressions and philosophy the diary Miss Mary McLain, who became involved in a recent divorce trial as one of the principals in a "shadow kiss" comedy, is believed to outstrip anything since the revelations of that other Mary McLain, who came from Butte, Mont., Here are some of the things the blue-eyed cynic wrote in her diary while at summer resorts and at home in Chicago:—

"It's awful to have to talk to a kid that's silly about you when you really need rest. It takes young men an awful while to get wise to a dilemma.

"Those sad eyed men make me weepy. Ginger, all the fellows that think I'm cute are married or bald-headed, or both.

"It's hard to be good when the first principle of life in the sweet pure air of the farm is to sell cold storage eggs for new laid.

"I'd rather chase home a cow with cackle burrs in her tail through a wet pasture than go three blocks for a patent bottle of milk with all the cream in one end.

"I'm thinking of opening a manicure parlor for exclusive patronage—that means nothing less than $5. Ma says that the only people I'd get would be lunatics. That's all right, too. All the manicures would be dead if it wasn't for the lunatics.

"If kisses were ten dollar bills what a merry world this would be! "Now, this diary is to tell just only the absolute truth, and it's only for me to read, because one doesn't dare to tell the truth to one's friends, and one's enemies aren't worth talking to.

"I've found out what love is. It was in a book written by a man who said it had been loved by more women than he had fingers and toes. He says love is a distemper. Gee! That's what McClintock's pup had when his hair fell out and they drowned him because he couldn't die from chloroform. I think I see my future.

"Oh! I believe I have found the man. He's at least thirty-five, but he is the darlingest darling in Chicago, and he isn't married. When I told Pa he said to wait a month or two, because the first spotted horse looks all right in the twilight. Pa's getting to be a pessimist.

"Oh! little Mary, why is it that all the women wait until they are fifty and wear double lens glasses to talk women's rights? I guess it is because they don't find the sledding quite so easy as a pessimist.

"Now, just think of me morbid. Why they called me 'Sunny Mary' from the time I was four, and the first time I ever can remember being real angry was when they fed my milk toast to the bishop because he had bum teeth and I'd been crying for it for over an hour. I was only six then, but it shows you how they rub it into the suffering little ones."

No Joke To Shopman. There is a well known story of a little London urchin who ran into a baker's shop and, placing a half-penny on the counter, asked nervously and timidly: "Mister, av' you a 'alfpenny buster (bun)?"

"Yes, my little man; here is one quite hot." "Thanks, mister; would you mind a showin' it down my back?" "Down your back, my little man! Why down your back?"

"Cos, sir, I'm only a little 'un, and if those chaps outside know I've a buster they'll take it, and I am so 'ungry, I am."

"Dear me; how wrong of them! Come round here, my little chap. There—there, it is down your back." The boy ran off. In an instant another entered—a bigger boy.

"I say, mister, as a little boy just been in here?" "And did 'e buy a 'alfpenny buster?" "Yes."

"And did 'e ask you to shove it down 'is back, as us big fellows would take it?" "Yes."

"Yah! Where's your watch and chain? 'E's got 'em; 'e's just around the corner." Out rushed the baker. In a trice the big boy collared the till and bolted.

The Whig Commends It. What are your boys and girls reading? They are bound to read something. They will read trash unless you give them something better that is equally interesting. Try The Youth's Companion. There is plenty of adventure in the stories and the heroes and heroines are of the real kind, finding in the line of duty opportunity for courage and unselfishness. More than 250 such stories will be published in the fifty-two issues of 1909. There will be fully as many articles, sketches and reminiscences to impart useful information in the most agreeable way, familiarizing the Companion's readers with the best that is known and thought in the world.

Full illustrated announcement of The Companion for 1909 will be sent to any address free with sample copies of the paper. The new subscriber living in Canada who at once sends $2 for 1909 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1908 besides the gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1909, entitled "In Grandmother's Garden," lithographed in 13 colors. CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. The Double Yields to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Ask any doctor and he will tell you that rheumatism is rooted in the blood; that nothing can cure it that does not reach the blood. It is sheer waste of money and time to try to cure rheumatism with liniments and lotions that only go skin deep.

You can speedily cure rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood, drive out the poisonous acid and loosen the stiffened, aching joints. Among the thousands of rheumatic sufferers cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. W. A. Taylor, Newcastle, N.B., who says: "For great sufferer from rheumatism which was seated in my shoulder and knee joints. I tried liniments and blistering, but with no effect. In fact the trouble was getting worse, and my knee joints grew so stiff that they would snap if I stooped, and I could scarcely straighten up. Altogether I was a terrible sufferer, and nothing I did or took gave me any relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took the pills steadily for a couple of months and every vestige of the trouble disappeared. That was two years ago, and as I have had no return of the trouble I feel safe in assuming that the cure is permanent."

Nine-tenths of the common ailments that afflict humanity are due to bad blood, and as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood, that is the reason they cure so many different troubles, such as anaemia, indigestion, general debility and weakness, St. Vitus' dance, paralysis and digestion, rheumatism, eczema, neuralgias, backaches and irregularities, hood with all their distressing head-ache by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NATION OF CENTENARIANS. Revealed By Old Age Pension Claims. Dublin, Oct. 31.—Tales of the extraordinary longevity of the Irish peasantry have sometimes been received with incredulity, but the British government officials are now discovering that they are true.

The old age pension act has just gone into force, and the claims which are being made are proving the correctness of the tales. Under the act persons who are 70 years old or over are entitled to a pension of $1.25 a week, and it is necessary for them to provide the pension officers with a satisfactory proof of their ages, before they are admitted to the roll of pensioners.

Twelve hundred forms of claims have already been filed with the postoffices in Donegal, and among them are three which deserve special mention.

Charles Kelly, of Burren, in the parish of Inver, has submitted proof that he is 111 years old. What this means may be realized when one remembers that he was a year old when the insurrection of 1798 took place, and that he has lived in three centuries.

John McGinty, of Donegal, parish, is 106 years old, and Bryan O'Donnell, of Tower, in the parish of Inver, is 108 years old.

The venerable O'Donnell is proud of the fact that he has never uttered a word of English in his long life, and he cannot understand the language. He still wears the costume which the young bucks of a century ago affected in Donegal, buckled shoes, knitted stockings, with corruled knee-breeches, and a swallow-tailed blue cloth coat, with a waistcoat with brass buttons.

These three applicants are in excellent mental and physical health and they declare that they hope to live to enjoy their pensions for many a year to come.

Hair Luxury. Hair may be made lustrous and beautiful and its growth be promoted at the same time by the use of Dr. Dawson's Hair Restorer. It is a toilet luxury and a remedy for all hair and scalp troubles. Restores gray hair to its natural color. In bottles 50c. at Wade's drug store.

Introspection. Washington Star. "I hope you have come out of that horse trade with a clear conscience." "Yes," answered Si, smiling; "but it kind o' worries me. My conscience is so unusually clear that I can't he'p feelin' I must o' got the wust o' the trade."

An Illustrious List. London Globe. What man in the history of the world whose name began with A—and after that every other letter of the alphabet in order—exerted the greatest influence upon the thought and conduct of mankind? Of course there are some letters which are not very prolific in the names of great men, but we think most of our readers will be surprised to see how many of the most illustrious names in history are included in this list, compiled by a correspondent:

Aristotle, Bacon, Confucius, Darwin, Ezra, Franklin, Goethe, Homer, Isaiah, Justinian, Kant, Luther, Mohammed, Newton, Ossian, Plato, Quintilian, Rousseau, Shakespeare, Tasso, Uhlard, Virgil, Washington, Xavier, Young, Zoroaster.

Wanted To Know The Time. From an eastern city comes a sad story of a pawnbroker. He was enjoying a healthy sleep when a furious knocking at the street door brought him to the window with a jerk, according to the Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

"What's the matter?" he shouted. "Come down," demanded the knocker. "But—" "Come down!"

The man of many nephews hastened down stairs and peeped around the door. "I want to know the time," said the reveler. "Do you mean to say that you waked me up for that? How dare you!" The midnight visitor looked injured. "Well, you've got my watch," he said.

Beef, Iron and Wine, "our own" make. Pint bottles, 50c., at Wade's Drug Store.

HIGHEST IN HONORS Baker's Cocoa. 50 HIGHEST AWARDS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA. A medical writer says—"The use of a thoroughly reliable preparation of cocoa should be universally encouraged, and it is the consensus of opinion among medical men as well as laboratory workers that the breakfast cocoa manufactured by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., not only meets the indications, but accomplishes even more than is claimed for it."

NIGHT OF HALLOWE'EN SOME OF THE OLD CUSTOMS ARE TOLD.

The Celebration is a Relic of Pagan Times—It is an Occasion When Every Woman is Her Own Clairvoyant.

This is the night of Hallowe'en. When 's the witches may be seen. Some of them black, some of them green, Some of them like a turkey bean.

And some of them are red. They may creep down the chimney long after midnight prance around the room and then sit up on the foot of the bed and make ghostly sounds. If they do, it's a sign that you've got 'em.

Hallowe'en brings with it certain customs, and many fairs. It serves a wonderful purpose. The witch proper observes any spinstar can get out of that class, provided she can stand heroic treatment and dream. Young women who want to see in the dark shadows the face of a future husband are selected to disengage themselves. Generally hold a candle near a mirror, all other lights in the room being extinguished. Very few women can see the stranger, because they are busy looking at themselves. In some cities the stunts is dangerous, for the locker may peep into the grimy face of a burglar.

Black cats and pumpkins figure extensively in the ceremonies. The cats commune with the witches, and the pumpkins often resemble the future husbands. Children, for instance, who are bold on Hallowe'en are supposed to have some supernatural power. Indeed, they have the faculty of perceiving and holding short talks with spirits and freaks.

The celebration is a relic of pagan times. It is an occasion when every woman is her own clairvoyant. There are few records to show that men may glance into the glass and find a wife. Being more practical, the man lifts the glass to his lips and then goes out to find the real thing. When he does so he whispers a few things, with more or less success. If it happens to be the last call for dinner, he is accepted, after which the jeweler or the pawnbroker will sell him a diamond on easy terms. But there is a thorn in every Hallowe'en rose. The fairy in dainty may dream to-night that the young Lochinvar will ring the doorbell about 9 o'clock in the morning. When she hurries down to greet him she will find the bill collector. If the collector doesn't call the bill is lost.

Roses play no small part in the festival of love. Two American Beauties, at $1 per, may determine whether or not a fairy's sweetheart is faithful. They must be placed on a chair, two feet from a glowing coal fire in the grate. If they are as fresh and as beautiful at 8 o'clock as they were at midnight the young man, faithfully, is all to the good. If they have faded the fairy should chuck him.

There is only one custom on record where a man sought to commune with the spirits with the hope of seeing the fleeting vision of his future wife. He communed with the spirits in the bar. Going to his room at midnight he put a pistol and a rose under his pillow. Two hours later his friends slipped an Italian monkey over the transom. Waking up to find the picture of his wife, the man saw the animal. "If you are a monkey," he said, communing "you are in a fix. If you are not a monkey, I'm in a fix." So he shot the intruder. Since which time men have passed up the search on Hallowe'en.

Home Work Needed, Too. Philadelphia Ledger. A minister of a fashionable church in New York had always left the greeting of strangers to be attended to by the ushers until he read the newspaper articles in reference to the matter.

"Suppose a representative should visit our church," said his wife. "Shouldn't it be awful?" "It would," the minister admitted.

The following Sunday evening he noticed a plainly dressed woman in one of the free pews. She sat alone and was clearly not a member of the flock. After the benediction the minister hastened and intercepted her at the door.

"How do you do?" he said, offering his hand. "I am very glad to have you with us."

"Thank you," replied the young woman. "I hope we may see you often in our church home," he went on. "We are always glad to welcome new faces."

"Yes, sir." "Do you live in this parish?" he asked.

The girl looked blank. "If you will give me your address my wife and I will all on you some evening." "You wouldn't need to go far, sir," said the young woman. "I'm your cook."

PREVENTION OF THE WHITE PLAGUE. The prevention of Consumption and its cure in the early stages is a matter of fresh air and nourishment. Special secure nourishment you must have appetite, and nothing is better known to medical science to stimulate and invigorate the system than the active principle of GOD LIVER OIL—the only drawback has been that it has hitherto been impossible to separate the really valuable elements of cod liver from the nauseous oil or grease, which fact has largely effected the good derived from the alkaloids or active principles contained in the OIL.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS" is a preparation of the valuable alkaloids or active principles separated from the grease and combined with Phosphorus in the form of the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, the nutritious Liquid Extract of Malt, and the Bromoidal Tonic and Sedative Fluid Extract of Wild Cherry Bark.

In all cases of wasting diseases or an enervated condition of the system immediate improvement and eventual cure follow its use.

Read Brick's guarantee with each bottle. "BRICK'S TASTELESS" is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents; and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.
