THE GAME A FAILURE.
The game of the conservatives, on election day, was to arrest men on suspicion of wrong-doing and to put them out of the way for a certain time. At Winnipeg the Howell-Campbell assault case was the outcome of an arrest for which there was no justification. A respectable man was locked up and though his friends offered bail in any amount he was kept in the provincial jail by order of the attorney-general and herded with the convicts. And no prosecution followed.
At Morrisburg a man was arrested without cause, his pockets were rifled, his letters were read and his character injured by being called a crook. The case failed, and the defendant will see if he cannot get damages in the courts.
At Brockville there was a great furore when four men were arrested on election day, all liberals. The evidence so far submitted is flimsy enough, but it is sufficient to advertise that the arrests were made here, as elsewhere, as part of a great scheme of intimidation, and that it did not succeed.

SUITS MUST GO ON.
The elections have settled the fate of some men politically, but it may remain for the law suits to settle the fate of others. The men who have served writs upon others, charging them with libel, and the man who had another charged with criminal offence, cannot drop them very well. They may say that the people have condoned anything that is unseemly in their past life, politically, and there is some force in this contention.
But the libel suits were not expected to influence the election, and they must go on; and if they do the verdict of the jury in any case will be less important than the verdict of the people at the polls. And why? The court will have before it only one issue, the one involved in the suit, and it should mean the vindication of the plaintiff or his retirement from public life.
The manner in which the editor of the Eye-Opener has escaped the toils is remarkable, in view of the fact that his paper is not expected to find a place in his majesty's mails. That means that its contents must be pretty bad. The editor of another paper, which is recognized as reputable, having given the Eye-Opener's scandals increased circulation will have to defend himself, and a great deal depends on the result so far as one public man is concerned.

SHOULD CIVIL SERVANTS VOTE.
The Ottawa Journal makes the remarkable suggestion that the civil service officials in the capital be disfranchised, and for the sake of that peace of mind and sense of security which should be theirs. Our contemporary is satisfied that the officials exercised the liberty which was theirs as electors freely and according to their political inclinations. Those who were conservative supported the opposition candidates, and those who were liberals supported the government candidates. But there were circumstances in the campaign which made some people feel that it "might be better for the civil service as a whole and for the civil servant as an individual, if the right of the civil service to vote were relinquished."
A commission—one appointed for a special purpose—had recommended a certain general advance in salaries. But when later a permanent civil service commission was appointed it seemed to be best to leave to it the task of reorganizing the staff on a permanent basis and of providing at the same time for their better remuneration. For the time only a few changes were made in the salary list. This led to the charge from the conservatives that the government was not treating the civil servants properly, and the idea was to disorganize them and drive them into opposition to the government. The ministerial candidates had to off-set the agitation which they did with the declaration that there would be at the earliest date a revision of the salary list, and in all the departments. These are the alleged unseemly proceedings, a repetition of which it is deemed expedient to guard against.

A Real Hotel Project.
The Chicago syndicate, headed by Dr. Dupuis, will bring to Kingston on Nov. 9th, next Monday, a large plaster model of the proposed grand hotel for Kingston, as well as ground and perspective plans. This is the first real showing of hotel enterprise to fill the city's need, and it is elaborate and cheering.

It is possible, therefore, that the interests of the individual civil servant, the interest of the whole service, and the interest of the country at large, would be well served if the franchise now accorded the members of the civil service, both inside and out, were remitted.
What say the members of the civil service? The question is debatable, and it should be determined as they desire.
EDITORIAL NOTES.
Every place visited by Mr. Ames in Saskatchewan went liberal. What does this portend?
Penmanship, involving the freehand muscular movement taught in the colleges, will be conducted hereafter in the public schools of Manitoba.
R. L. Richardson, of the Winnipeg Tribune, is now regarded as the political hoodoo of the west. He has been defeated as many times; as he has turned his coat.
The Pall Mall Gazette thinks Sir Wilfrid is a "fetish." This is suggestive. It shows what Mr. Borden must become before he can command the adoration of the people.
Again it is intimated that Mr. Borden must use Mr. Maclean. But "Billy" has no idea that Mr. Borden will do anything of the kind. The World man is a builder, not a silder's helper.
There will be a redistribution of seats and a new voters' list before the next election in Manitoba, and a liberal government will see that the Roblin-Rogers combination does not manage the job.
No one sees the necessity of an Englishman for bishop of a Canadian diocese except the men in the east who cannot elect their candidate and do not want to see any other Canadian successful.
It is all very well to expose the conspiracies of the Standard Oil trust, but how far can this be done fairly with stolen correspondence? Does the exposure of one crime justify the commission of another?
A conservative print says the liberal press has advised the administration to "choke off the grafters." When and where was this done? It has never been admitted and proven that there were "grafters" in the government.
The Winnipeg conservatives speak slightly of the small majority obtained by Mr. Sifton in spite of stuffed voters' lists. But Mr. Campbell, Manitoba's government, was glad to hold his seat and continue as a very active mischief maker with a majority of one.
The New York World need not worry about reciprocity between Canada and the United States. It will not be. The American government turned down the Macdonald government and the Laurier government on the subject and now Canada does not desire negotiations.
The Canadian Courier thinks the opposition leader in federal house suffered in the rate election through the press which supported him. "Instead of being supercilious to the journalist," says our contemporary, "he should sedulously cultivate him." However, Mr. Borden is learning—by successive defeats.

The Ottawa Journal does not think there is enough work for a minister of labour, and that his task and that of some other minister should be united. No. That is not the proposition on which the people voted. There is to be a department of labour under the direction of W. L. Mackenzie King, and nothing else will do.

White Frock For Little Girl.
The frock here shown is a dainty and effective model for a small girl and could be copied in various colorings and materials. An all white lingerie frock is, however, suitable for such small tots at all seasons, and possesses the advantage of being laundered satisfactorily. The model was in white handkerchief linen, trimmed with narrow insertion of real Cluny.

A COLLAR BAG would make a gift that any man would appreciate. This very useful article is almost indispensable to any one who travels. It is made from fine calf leather, lined with dainty silk. It holds 12 collars—and has the draw strings for closing. The price is $1.00

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

A Straight Tip.
Guelph Mercury.
This is a straight inside tip. The people refuse to select Borden as premier because he parts his hair in the centre.
Varied Color Scheme.
Montreal Star.
Brown wigs in Chateauguay, White in Alberta, Black in Hants and lurid dyes in Victoria-Haliburton. Canada does not draw the color line.
Hard On Toronto.
Peterboro Examiner.
The Mail and Empire calls Toronto the "centre of intelligence" of the dominion. Why it hasn't even brains enough to control its street railway.

Natural Growth.
Buffalo Courier.
Canada has grown and prospered with the liberals in power, and the party has had the benefit of natural progress, which doubtless would have come under any administration, the time having been ripe for national development.
Knows His Men.
Hamilton Herald.
Remembering Sir Mackenzie Bowell's prediction that Messrs. Foster, Haggart and the other occupants of the "nest of traitors" would remain on the opposition benches "as long as the party has any factors in the conservative party," one is inclined to wonder if the venerable knight is the seventh son of a seventh son.

Centres Of Thought.
Toronto Globe.
The "great centres of thought" are Halifax, St. John, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Victoria, and New Westminster. What have Quebec and Kingston and Regina and Calgary and Vancouver done that they should have been left out of this distinguished list?

TOWN OF GANANOQUE.
Two Women in Police Court Through Quarrel.
Gananoque, Nov. 3.—A very interesting police court case came up before police magistrate Carroll, in the Town Hall yesterday afternoon, it being the adjourned case between two well-known female residents of the West Ward, which came up last week. One of the principals had made marks on the other with an umbrella. The counter charge made by defendant in the case was dismissed, and decision in the case of plaintiff's case for damages, for assault, was reserved until Tuesday morning. The feud between the two not being a new one, the magistrate gave them both warning that another appearance before him in the same or similar conditions would be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law.

The Gananoque Canoe Club have issued invitations for a big assembly in Turner's Hall on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 9th.
W. V. Bullock has had a gang of men engaged during the past week on extensive improvements to his property, a large addition also having been added to the main structure.
The following are spending some time in town:—Mrs. Saunders, wife of the director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa, with Miss Pitcher, at the parsonage. Mrs. Bingham, of Prescott, with Mrs. John B. Turner, King street. Mrs. Abernethy, King st., with Miss Phoebe Bryant, Garden street.
The following who have been visiting at a distance have returned:—Mrs. George Toner, Tanager street, from a week with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Campbell, Montreal. W. J. Belfie, King street, from a two week's hunting trip in Quebec Province. James Thomson, First street, from a short visit with his wife at Brockville General Hospital. Mrs. C. V. Taylor, Church street, from Clifton Springs, N.D. C. A. Watt, Pine street, from a week in the north-western provinces. The Misses Stark, Leeds township, from a short visit with Kingston friends.
The following residents of the town are visiting at a distance:—Ray Andrew, Stone street, in Brockville for a course in the business college. Mrs. Thomas Glover, Pine street, with relatives in Belleville. Joseph A. Thomson and family, South Lake, have removed to Sherbrooke, Que., where they will in future reside.
The following visitors in town have returned home:—Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. Matthew, to Colorado. Miss Montfort to Lansdowne. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frenenburg, to Lansdowne. Miss Norma Bean, Winchester, to Brockville.

There are many steps between downright sin and purity, and it takes time and patience to successfully travel the route.
