“BACK TO THE SOIL”

There is a decided movement in that direction these days.

That the man who owns a few acres of fertile ground is about the most independent man in the world there is no denying. Business depressions, strikes and city strife do not trouble him.

If you want to get “back to the soil,” get into touch with this agency.

Here is a good chance for a retired gentleman to get thirty acres of land with a splendid stone residence, barn, stable, etc., just outside city limits.

WILL ASK COUNCIL FOR SYSTEM FOR THE DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

Kingston Women Discuss An Important Question and Pass Resolution—Believe Present Lack of Facilities is Menace to Health.

“Believing that the present lack of facilities for the disposal of garbage is a menace to the health of our families, we, the householders of the city, do therefore pray the city council to devise some plan for the systematic collection and disposal of refuse.”

The above resolution was passed at an enthusiastic meeting of Kingston women, held in the city council chamber, on Thursday afternoon. It was further resolved, to petition the council at its session, on Monday night next, to take upon the city, fathers, and present their case to them. A committee was also appointed to wait upon the aldermen before the council meeting, so as to arouse interest in the matter.

Miss Alice Chown was chairman of the meeting, and Mrs. Snelling was appointed secretary. The attendance was quite large, considering the inclement weather.

That Kingston is in need of a practical system of garbage, was the unanimous opinion of the meeting, and the whole question was discussed at some length.

In opening, Miss Chown explained the reason for calling the meeting. She referred to the system of garbage carried out in other cities, and stated that Kingston was sadly in need of a proper system. It was the duty of the ladies to arouse public opinion on the question, and also to arouse the city council to take action.

Dr. Connell, who was asked to give his views on the important question, said that garbage allowed to remain around the yards, was dangerous to public health, and advocated a systematic collection of garbage. There were important reasons why one should get rid of the house waste. One great evil was that of flies breeding in the house waste, and getting into the house; sometimes an epidemic was traced to this. House waste, if allowed to accumulate, would also attract rats, which were not very good neighbors, and also all the dogs and cats in the neighborhood.

Dr. Connell gave it as his opinion, that garbage should be collected three times a week at least, with far better sanitation if it were removed every day. In the cold weather it would probably not be necessary to have the garbage collected so often. It was important that the city council should adopt some system, which would serve for the rich and poor alike, and thus remove the menace to public health.

Dean Farthing was present, upon invitation, and also spoke briefly, on the matter. The question of cleanliness, he said, was a most important one, and should be given every attention. In the city, at the present time, it was very difficult to get a scavenger to do the work required. In going around the city, one could find many cases, where there was no work for the scavenger. In allowing garbage to accumulate, it was not only a menace to health, but was also unsightly. Some were so careless in the matter, that it was not only dangerous for themselves, but to others as well. One was impressed with the neatness of other places, and the speaker was of the opinion that there should be a combined effort, not only for a good garbage system, but also for a general cleaning up of the yards.

A most important question to be taken up, was that of the keeping of pigs and chickens, within the city limits. The speaker had not made a special study of the question of garbage, but was present to show his sympathy in the movement, and to show his willingness to co-operate with any steps which might be taken, to bring about the change desired. It was a pity to have the city marred through neglect in such small matters.

Miss Chown announced that the meeting was open for discussion, and suggestions, and several of the ladies gave their views on the situation.

One of the ladies present, a recent arrival from the old country, stated that when she found out the state of affairs in the city, as regards the garbage, she was almost afraid to take up housekeeping here. She was in constant fear of her children becoming ill. She believed that the public should be protected.

Another lady confessed that she was “shocked,” as she termed it, when she found out the state of affairs. Others referred to systems in vogue in Montreal and Ottawa.

Miss Chown said that no doubt if the whole question was gone into fully, it would be found that Kingston was about a hundred years behind the times. The milk consumed in the city, was not even tested. There was no doubt but that a great deal of sickness could be traced to uncleanness.

At this stage, it was proposed that a resolution be drawn up, which would be presented to the council at its session on Monday night, and the resolution, already referred to, was moved by Mrs. R. J. Hooper, seconded by Mrs. E. J. McLellan, and carried by an unanimous vote.

It was also agreed to have the resolution printed, and signed by as many of the householders as possible, for presentation to the city council, also that the resolution be forwarded to the Board of Trade and the Board of Health, for the endorsement of these bodies.

THE BOARD OF WORKS ENDORSED TO BUILD 100 FEET OF CRIBWORK.

Out From O'Kill Street and Fill in Unsanitary Bay—William Street Cribwork Does Not Belong to the G.T.R. Company.

The Board of Works committee had a session yesterday afternoon, Aldermen Graham (chairman), Henderson, McCann and Givens were present.

City Solicitor McIntyre reported as to the right of the city to insist upon the Grand Trunk railway company putting the cribwork at the foot of William street in regard to the spot in question being dangerous. The solicitor wrote that he could find nothing requiring the company to maintain the cribwork. The old Locomotive Works company was required to erect and maintain a culvert for the sewer passing through there. The solicitor asked the Board of Works for further instructions. The G.T.R. company had written the Locomotive Works company to repair the cribwork. This motion was adopted.

The Locomotive company disclaims proprietary rights, then it will be up to the city to make the necessary repairs. Permission was given Mrs. Brophy, 99 Wellington street, to re-erect a portico on the ground occupied by the present one. This matter comes under a recent resolution of the council.

City Engineer Craig reported that Capt. William Leslie had completed the O'Kill street sewer, and stated that the Captain deserves great credit for the work which was done under great difficulties. Capt. Leslie, he understood, had some timber, hemlock and spruce, over from his contract, that he would probably sell to the city very cheap, viz. $10 a thousand feet. The engineer said that the timber would be suitable for cribwork facing, 100 feet of which he recommended to be built out from Macdonald park at the foot of O'Kill street, and street scrapings be used to fill in the small shallow bay behind it. The bay in question was very unsanitary still, on account of filth lying in it. If filled in, it would improve the sanitary conditions and also add ground to Macdonald park. The board one. The engineer reported on the Matthews' property difficulty near the corner of Division and Russell street. It will be remembered that there is a waterway through this property, and sewage overflows on the land. Miss Matthews asked that the city abate the nuisance. This can only be done properly by constructing a costly sewer. The city solicitor reported that the sewer could be built and charged to the property owners benefiting. Such a sewer might cost nearly $20,000. On motion of Ald. McCann, the matter was referred to the Board of Health for action. That board has the power to recommend the sewer on sanitary grounds. They will, come back to the Board of Works.

The long-neglected question of the North street sewer outlet and that of the extension of same street to the water's edge will be considered at the next meeting.

Injured by Lad's Trick. On Thursday night an elderly woman received a bad fall on Division street, near Queen, due to the act of some small boys. The lady had a stout string tied across the street and when the old lady came to it she was thrown headlong to the street. Luckily she was not very severely injured, and with the aid of some friends was able to walk home.

It will indeed be a grand opportunity for all lovers of art. W. E. Bonney is in charge of the exhibition. He has just arrived from Ottawa, where he disposed of quite a number of fine paintings. These were some excellent paintings by F. M. Evans and J. C. Uren exhibitors in the Royal Academy, and C. E. Hannaford, patronized by his royal highness, the Prince of Wales.

What Vaccination Has Done.

Vaccination in Manila swept away smallpox after the United States took possession of the Philippines. The death rate was 6000 smallpox patients a year, after vaccination was introduced not a death was reported. Not a life, a leg or an arm was lost to anyone. “It is a matter of grim humor,” says Dr. V. C. Hester, “that the only people who die of smallpox in the Philippines today are the Americans who refuse to be vaccinated. At the worst all the others contract in the most dangerous part of the season is varioloid and even that they have half-heartedly.” Vaccination is imperative in the islands.

Gave Excellent Address.

Mr. Gordon, student at Queen's, and vice-president of the Canadian organization of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, addressed the meeting of the Young Men's League, in the First Baptist church, last evening. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered him for his excellent address.

Had A Bad Fall.

A young lady, clerk in a Princess street store, received a severe fall on Thursday, near the corner of Prince and Sydenham streets. She slipped on the wet pavement and fell heavily to the ground. It was some moments before she was able to proceed to her work.

What Makes History?

People, catching up the claims that the tower in Macdonald Park is historic, are asking what the history is. No one seems to be able to recall an incident that would make it even interesting, let alone marked. Not one resident in five hundred really knows its name. It is always called Murney tower. It is really Murney Redoubt, as the name carved on the King street side attests. It was called after Gen. Murney, of the British regulars. No one takes an interest in that worthy officer, historically or otherwise. The field on which the redoubt stands was called Murney Point, after Col. Murney, who lived in the earlier part of last century in the stone residence on King street, now occupied by Andrew Maclean, and who bought the land in that section from the founder of Kingston, Capt. Michael Grass, the donor also to the citizens of the valuable City Park.
