THE DAY'S GREETINGS

SENT FROM OUTSIDE TO KINGSTON SCOTCHMEN.

President A. E. Ross Sent This Greeting to Societies All Over Canada: "A Health To Old Scotland and The Sons of The Heather."

The Scotchmen were handed out dark and dismal weather for St. Andrew's day, but as the old time parades are no longer in vogue, and as their banquet has been postponed, it didn't matter.

President A. E. Ross, M.D. of St. Andrew's Society, sent out the following greeting to sister societies throughout Canada, from Vancouver to Halifax:

"From Cornwall—'Where the Highland tartans wave Love and friendship join together No vile tyrant, serf or slave, Trends the homie purple heather, Sae drink a cup the Scotland yet Wi' a' the honors three.'"

"From Winnipeg—'O'er sickers e' the west are a' fu' the year. God never en's mou's but he sen's meat t' fill them. may the memories o' the auld hame refresh the nicht among ye. Guid are be wi' ye an' at last e' the Lord's ain howf may ye hae bydan.'"

"From Toronto—'Gif ye want true friends, we're on your list.'"

"To Scotsmen a', in ilka lan' We gie this day a friendly han' An' say we'll them ye proudly stan' For Scotland's fame."

"We toast Saint Andrew an' his ban' An' our auld hame."

"For Scotland's friends 'Ye powers wha mak' man-kind your care An' dish them out their bill-o'-fare, Auld Scotland wants nae blinkin' ware That jumps in luggers; But if ye wid her gratefu' prayer Gie her a Haggis.'"

"From Trenton—'May peace and plenty be the lot o' ilka kindly brother Scot.'"

GREAT SCOPE FOR WORK.

T. B. Billings Speaks in the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday Afternoon.

T. H. Billings, M.A., student secretary of the Y.M.C.A. for Canada, gave an excellent address under the auspices of the senior Bible study club, at the Young Men's Christian association on Sunday afternoon, at 1:15.

Dr. W. G. Anglin was chairman and gave a most cordial welcome to the speaker and also to the visitor's presence.

The crowd sang heartily many of the familiar hymns, and entered with enthusiasm into the singing of Alexander's new gospel song, "He Will Hold Me Fast." Mr. Billings spoke on the great scope for work the association movement afforded, dwelling on the necessity of entering into the spirit of service.

The address was much enjoyed. The Bible study club cordially invites all young men who are strangers in the city to join with them each week at four o'clock. Everybody is welcome.

Now, among the cases we have so far had in Kingston, not one has had a recent successful vaccination; in fact in all cases but three, the disease has attacked individuals who have never been successively vaccinated, and in these three the most recent vaccination was over twenty years ago.

A similar history can be obtained from any community in Ontario where the disease has occurred in recent years. There is then every reason for urging all citizens and the members of their families still unvaccinated (except those exempted by age or disease) to protect themselves as quickly as possible, for the disease will only spread now by attacking those not so protected.

Splendid Pictures At Bijou.

A fine colored drama entitled "The Lover Who Played False" is on at the Bijou, to-day and to-morrow, together with an exciting melodrama, "Chased by Bloodhounds." The latter tells of how the cleverness of a pair of dogs led to the capture of two criminals. There is also an interesting series of pictures showing scenes in the mountains of Switzerland and a dashing song by Will West, entitled "The Sailor Boy." The programme is one of unusual length and interest.

EXACT DEATH RATE

FROM SMALL-POX IN ONTARIO IN EIGHT YEARS.

Was One Per Cent of the Cases.—Prof. W. T. Connell, of Queen's Medical College, Writes About Vaccination.

Kingston, Nov. 30.—(To the Editor): In your issue of 28th inst., there is a letter from "Citizen" stating that in the past eight years there have been only two deaths in Ontario from the disease we now have in our midst. The official returns of the registrar-general of this province give 5,268 cases from 1899 to 1906 inclusive, with 56 deaths, a mortality just over one per cent. This is still a very small mortality and shows that the type of the epidemic is mild, especially when we compare it with the Montreal epidemic of 1885 where over thirty per cent of those attacked died.

But in this very mildness which has permitted the disease to spread, for many patients are only ill for a few days, a number do not call in a physician and indeed a few are actually not incapacitated for work. This gives us a group of unrecognized cases, and these cases, not knowing the possible dangers in others (or in a few cases being selfish enough not to consider others), go about their duties, mingle freely with the public and are centres from which the disease spreads.

Isolation and quarantine will prove inefficient to protect the public in the presence of such cases, in fact in all cases but three, the disease has attacked individuals who have never been successively vaccinated, and in these three the most recent vaccination was over twenty years ago.

A similar history can be obtained from any community in Ontario where the disease has occurred in recent years. There is then every reason for urging all citizens and the members of their families still unvaccinated (except those exempted by age or disease) to protect themselves as quickly as possible, for the disease will only spread now by attacking those not so protected.

At The Police Court.

At the police court, this morning, a contractor was summoned for a breach of the city by-law, in allowing a fire escape, which he is erecting on the Congress hotel, to encroach on the sidewalk. The contractor said that he was backed up by the license inspector, and the license department, but the city solicitor contended that the work must comply with the city by-laws. The fire escape will cause no inconvenience, and the contractor will likely receive the necessary permission. The city engineer will be given plans and will report.

FINE LEAD PROPERTY

SITUATED EIGHTEEN MILES FROM KINGSTON.

The Property to Be Developed by The Canadian Lead Mining and Smelting Co.—Some Facts Concerning It.

Canada is recognized as a country containing an abundance of mineral wealth and Ontario is looked upon as the richest province in a rich dominion. Her silver, lead, nickel, iron and mica properties have made the eyes of the mining world turn towards her in longing.

Many mines have been opened up in the past few years and all have turned out rich ore. A representative of the Whig visited one of the richest lead properties in Eastern Canada on Sunday last. This is the property of the Canadian Lead Mining and Smelting company, limited, situated about eighteen miles from the city, near Loughboro.

The property embraces the mineral rights of 220 acres of land, which is so arranged that about one mile of the vein outcrops on the property. The vein in some places reaches a width of 22 feet, and averages 12 feet in width, carrying over 6 per cent lead, as the lowest estimates of it, and the assays show 15 to 20 per cent lead.

Many experts have examined the property and all have no hesitation in pronouncing it the richest lead property in Eastern Canada. The property is surrounded by a number of small lakes, nature thus bestowing every advantage for concentrating the ore, and four miles from the mines the Bay of Quinte railroad runs through to Kingston. The natural location of the property affords every advantage for removing and handling the ore. Mine No. 1 is situated at the base of a hill rich in lead.

Much work has already been done on the property, the mines being developed to such an extent that 124,000 tons of ore are broken out and ready for treatment, and the company are ready to proceed installing their large concentrating plant on the property, and to erect their smelter in the city. At the present time three shafts have been sunk to different depths. Shaft No. 1 at mill No. 1 goes down to a depth of 270 feet, all in rich ore, and 1,200 feet of drifting has also been done from this shaft. Over a mile from mine No. 1, in a northeasterly direction, mill No. 2 is found, where a shaft has been put down seventy-five feet. From this shaft some of the richest ore yet removed has been taken. The vein has been followed and tested, and is found to run between these two mines, and about middle distance between them, a shaft was put down to a depth of 90 feet in rich ore.

These mines are now equipped with complete mining plants and buildings, and with other development work done has cost $95,000. When the concentrating mill and smelter are completed the company will begin to market the great quantities of lead which they have ready.

Fifty thousand dollars of the capital stock will be put aside to drive a tunnel between these two mines, a distance of over one mile, taking three years to complete. When the tunnel is completed $15,000,000 worth of ore will be blocked out on the property.

The large smelter that will be erected at Kingston will not only smelt the ore from the companies own mines, but will be capable of handling the concentrates from any other properties in Eastern Canada and will also treat large quantities of by products. One year after the smelter is completed it will be ready to handle Cobalt and silver, with its other ore.
