No Raise In Rent

When you own the house you live in, you are not troubled with the constant fear that your rent will be raised.

Many landlords take advantage of their tenants.
They know, if the house suits them, they do not want to move, so up goes the rent. The tenant must either stand the raise or get out.

Buy or build a home of your own. We will sell you a house or a lot on which to build, in either event you will find our terms reasonable. No raise in rent for you then, no rent at all.
The plan is worthy of serious thought.

We want to show you the advantage of seeing us early either as to buying or building.

THE SCIENCE BANQUET

WAS THE BEST EVER HELD AT QUEEN'S.

Hon. George F. Graham Was Unable to Be Present—Several Prominent Men of Science Were in Attendance.

"It's always fair weather.
When good fellows get together." This quotation rings true all the world over, but never truer than when Queen's students get together for an evening especially if they be science men. The twelfth annual dinner of the Engineering Society was held in Grant Hall, on Wednesday evening, and was a grand success. It surpassed any previous one of the Engineering Society. Grant Hall never held since its erection a cleverer or jollier crowd than on this occasion.

At seven o'clock the wide doors of the hall were opened and the three hundred guests were soon seated. The guest table was laid from side to side of the hall directly below the platform, and from this five tables were laid the length of the hall. The table arrangement was most artistic, and reflected great credit on the committee in charge. An excellent menu was furnished by Caterer Belson, and was done ample justice. The service was a feature of the banquet, the medical students acting as waiters for their brethren in science.

At the guest table, E. L. Bruce, president of the Engineering Society, was seated in the toastmaster's chair, with Principal Gordon on his left, and Adam Shortt, as guest of honor on his right. The members of the faculty and the other guests including, W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., Prof. H. E. F. Haultain, Toronto; Dr. Milton Hersey, Montreal; H. Holgate, C.E., Montreal; Eugene Coste, Toronto; D. M. Melnyre, Dean Adams, McGill, and Dean Galbraith, S.P.S.G., Toronto, were recognized at this table.

After the wants of the inner man had been looked after, the toast list was commenced. Mr. Bruce read a telegram from the Hon. George F. G.
Graham, minister of railways and canals, stating that owing to important business, he would be unable to accept the kind invitation of the society. The first toast, was "The King," and the national anthem was sung.

In proposing the toast to "Our Country," W. F. Nickle said that a nation only 100 years old, would be considered an infant, but if we measured Canada by the events of the past 300 years, we had no reason to be ashamed of her. He spoke of the sublime courage of the men of 1860, who brought about confederation, making the people to the south of the United States and settling in Canada. Before closing Mr. Nickle spoke in glowing terms of the late Principal Grant, who did so much for Queen's and for Kingston.

This toast drew an eloquent reply from Professor Shortt. The speaker said that Canada was not only attractive to us but to others, one of the notable features being the constant world-wide reference to it, meaning that Canada was becoming a nation. Lord Milner, visited Canada, and was strong in recognizing us as a nation. Prof. Shortt then spoke of a Britisher and a British subject, saying that if one had the choice, he would likely want to be a Britisher.
"A Britisher is a man who knows no superior on earth," said Prof. Shortt.
This statement was greeted with defying applause. "We in Canada will be able to make the foreign element in Canada true Britishers. We recognize that the old cry that Canada lacks the means to develop her natural resources, is fast floating away.
We see from the experience of the people to the south of us that one way to develop our natural resources is to go out and destroy them right and left, to take out the best element and throw the rest to the winds.
Already over there they are awakening to the fact that they are coming to an end of many of their natural resources, and the destruction of many more."

"Ours is a new country," continued this speaker. "We have heard a lot about our timber resources, but the one resource also great, as are also the coal resources, in the east and west. We have also certain power resources, so we may have an indestructible power in our water falls." The speaker touched on other matters of interest before concluding.

The next toast, "The Profession," was proposed by Prof. Haultain, professor of mining in the School of Practical Science, Toronto, and responded to by Dr. Milton Hersey, Henry Holgate, C. E. and Eugene Coste, M.E. In replying to the toast Dr. Hersey spoke to the students, especially the younger ones who had not yet decided what course to follow. He spoke of the work of the chemical engineer, pointing out the wide field it had. Mr. Holgate spoke on the work of the civil engineer and Mr. Coste that of the mining engineer.

The science quartette rendered two fine solos, after this toast.
D. M. Melnyre, K.C., proposed the toast of the University," and Principal Gordon and Dr. Clarke, replied.
The principal made an eloquent address concerning Queen's. He said that on this occasion one thought most of the students of the science faculty, but that there was no malice between them and their friends across the campus. The study book and outside service was always ready to render a service or learn something from its friends on the other side. "We need clear thinking men, who will remember that the nation is like the individual who compose it. The purpose of Queen's is to try and send out into the world, men who would be an honor to the country we love better than we love our university." The toast to the faculty was proposed by M. S. Williams, '09, and replied to in fitting addresses by Dean Dupuis, and Prof. J. C. Gilliam. After the faculty song the last toast, "Sister Institutions," was proposed by S. King, '09, and replied to by Dean Adams, McGill, Dean Galbraith, S.P.S.G., Toronto, and Messrs. Byrne, McGill, Chestnut, S.P.S., Marshall, Ottawa, and Cadet McAvity, R.M.C.
It was two o'clock when "Auld Land Syne" brought the happy affair to a close.

OUTLOOK FOR POOR

THE DEMAND UPON RELIEF SOCIETIES

Will be Large, But Not Unusually So—Kingston Needs a Little More Thrift—How Things
Look.

Will there be extraordinary demands upon the poor relief organizations this winter, is asked?

The likelihood is that there will be as large demands as there were a year ago, but it is not thought that the wants of the poor will be any greater than usual. There has been a fair amount of work for the laboring classes since last spring, and if the snowfall during the months of January and February is like it was last winter, the laborers will receive quite a boost.

The poverty during the past two or three winters has been chiefly among immigrants, who were unused to a hard winter. These have now become accustomed to the Canadian seasons, and are a trifle more thrifty than they were before they landed on these shores. The records of the various poor relief organizations in the city show that these have been the people who required constant aid. Outside of them there was a very small amount of help needed to keep the wolf from the door.

The various organizations are preparing for their winter's work. They will have to do, but it is not likely that the calls will overtax them.

TO THE BUSINESS MEN.

The Whig, on Saturday will be an extra large edition—in fact, you will wonder when you pick it up if you newspaper newsboy hasn't given you in mistake the Sunday edition of some New York paper. With the regular issue will be included a handsome Christmas number, finished in colors. The circulation of the Saturday issue will reach from 800 to 1,000 copies in excess of regular sales. Many merchants are taking advantage of the opportunity, and increasing the size of their advertisements.

Died At Fort William.

Karl F. M. Gardiner, second son of J. J. Gardiner, Nelson street, passed peacefully away on Wednesday evening, at Fort William, death being due to pneumonia. The telegram bearing of the sad news to his parents was received on Wednesday night. His death was a shock to his relatives, who although they knew he was ill, did not expect the disease to prove fatal. The late Mr. Gardiner left here about one year ago to enter the service of the Northern Navigation company, at Sarnia, and later received an excellent position in the C. P. R. service at Fort William. He was popular with everyone with whom he came in contact. Deceased was born in Kingston about twenty-one years ago, remained in the city until he had passed through the Collegiate Institute, and entered college. Besides his sorrowing parents, one sister, Miss Kate Gar-diner, and two brothers, Leonard and Frederick at home, are left to mourn.

Wedding At Portmouth.

A very pretty house wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, Portmouth, when his eldest daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to Francis Daryau, son of Captain Charles Daryau, Colling-wood street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. Crisp, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Miss Irene Daryau, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and John Guild supported the groom. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast when Mr. and Mrs. Daryau received the congratulations of their friends. The couple left on an extensive wedding tour to Toronto, Hamilton and other western cities. The best wishes of host of friends follow them through life.

Again At Scene.

About one o'clock, this morning, fire broke out in the ruins at the piano works, and the firemen from the lower station were called to the scene and remained for about two hours. The fire broke out on the Princess street side of the building.

TWO HOCKEY LEAGUES

MAY BE OPEN FOR CHAL- LENGES THIS SEASON.

What Club Will Secure the Hartly Trophy?—What is Heard in Sporting Circles.

From the present outlook there will be two hockey leagues in the city this season. The first meeting of the City Hockey League will be held this evening and the Kingston Amateur Hockey League will meet the early part of next week. Last season there were four teams in the K. A. H. U. league, the Mic-Macs, Royals, R.C.H.
A. and C.L.C., in the senior series.
These teams certainly put up a fine exhibition of hockey. The Mic-Macs, champions of last year's league, will likely organize again and defend the silverware won last season.
The Frontenac Business College team, winners of last year's city league games, will also meet shortly.

Sporting Notes.

Harry Pulliam was re-elected president of the National Baseball League.
An age limit of twenty-one years is proposed for juniors in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.
James J. Corbett will be referee of the bout between Papke and Kelly in Los Angeles next Tuesday.
Ty Cobb has closed with Detroit for next season. There will be no square barring over his salary in the spring either.
Father Stanton promises to put a championship hockey team in the city league under the Ottawa College colors.
Toronto Telegram: Longboat and one job of ancient memory seem to be two men who just about cornered the boiler market.

Here is the way the Montreal Wanderer hockey team looks at present: Goal, Herby; point, Ross; cover, Glaeser; right wing, Blackford; left wing, Gardner.
Henry Labouchere doesn't mince words in London Truth. Just tells Yankee James E. Sullivan and his athletic aide-camp who tried to defame the management of the Olympic games that they are out-and-out liars.

Ottawa Free Press: It looks another race between Wanderers and Ottawa, the outcome of which is still in the background till Tom Phillips makes up his mind definitely. If he plays again Ottawa looks the one best bet.
Edgar Dey, an Ottawa boy, who played in Pittsburg, has signed a contract with the Ottawa hockey team and will play on the forward line. Manager Kee of the Winnipeg Maple Leafs, had offered him a big salary and a good position.

Ottawa Free Press: It is not improbable "Jack" Williams, the celebrated rugby half-back, will be seen at cover-point for Cliffides in the In-terprovincial League. Williams first gave out "Jack" would play with Ottawa II's, but later word has him in a Cliffide uniform.
Not McGill, but Laval University hockeyists have been invited to visit Boston and play a challenge match with the Harvard University team.
For the past two seasons the McGill team made the trip, but last year some little unpleasantness arose over the fact that the team which was sent to Boston was not the strongest the red and white could send.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Big Audiences Continue to Greet Marks Company.

The Marks Bros. No. 1 dramatic company had another bumper audience at the Grand Opera house last evening. "The Witch of Wall Street" was the piece presented and was the best play produced by the company during its present engagement. May A. Bell Marks, in the dual character of "Jane Ingleside," who loved, and "Marie Dubois," who hated, held the closest interest of the audience by her clever interpretation of her role.
She was ably assisted by Kate Marden, Mollie Starr, Harry Truesdale, Harry Starr and George Marks.
In the specialties W. Dyer sang in fine voice "Good-Bye," "Sweetheart, Good-Bye," and "The Memory of You." George Marks, in connection with the illustrated pictures, sang "O'Brien Has No Place to Go" and
"The Girl Who Threw Me Down." Little Marie Marks also sang two pretty songs. The singing and dancing of the Vernon sisters was much admired.
To-night the company presents "The Midnight Express," with May Bell Marks in the role of "Bessie Braddon."

SAME SIZED CLOCK DIAL.

Will Be Used in New City Dome
As in Old.

The city property committee had a meeting yesterday afternoon to discuss the question of size of clock dial to be put in the new dome. Architect J. W. Power was present and said that it was necessary to know at once what diameter of dial was to be used, as the contractor wished to get the roof of the dome sheeted and to get it covered in meant that the dial circle had to be constructed.
The size of the clock, its workings, etc., so that provision could be made for its reception.

The committee decided upon a seven-foot dial, the same size as the one in the old dome. The architect was instructed to secure catalogues of clocks at once so that provision could be made again next Monday and decide what kind of clock to call tenders upon.
