"MY KIDNEYS HURT ME ALL THE TIME"

Gin Pills Cured Them. Free Sample Box Leads to Cure.

Only those who have been tortured with Kidney Trouble can appreciate how Mr. Trumper suffered. Being a railroad man, he was called upon to do all kinds of heavy work. The constant strain of lifting, weakened the kidneys. I received the sample box of Gin Pills and was greatly benefited by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition I could not lift or stoop without pain. In fact, they pained me nearly all the time. I have taken three boxes of Gin Pills, working all the time at heavy work on the railroad and did not lose a day.

LIVINGSTON'S

YOUNG MEN'S BANQUET HELD AT BROCK STREET CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

A Programme of Toasts Was Carried Out and Some Fine Speeches Delivered—Call For Christian Service.

A banquet was held by the young men of Brock Street Methodist church, Thursday evening, when about fifty were present. The evening was most enjoyable in every way, and the whole tone of the gathering showed the optimistic spirit now pervading this department of the work. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Burke, was chairman, and by his genial kindly way, made an ideal host. The menu was all that could be desired, from oysters to ice cream. From the chairman down, each man present regretted his limited capacity.

At the close of the supper, a programme of toasts was carried out. "The King" was proposed by Mr. Burke. In his address, the chairman gave what was designated by himself, a brief speech. It was too much so, but in the few minutes taken up, he gave a momentum to the gathering. The speech of the evening was given by Dr. C. C. Nash, who spoke of the advantages such an organization as the young men's Bible class afforded. As is customary with the aged, he grew reminiscent and presented a splendid argument for a clean, Christian life.

C. R. Drury responded. He gave an interesting account of the class during the past eight years.

The toast to the "Old Boys" was a most popular one. Edward Orser gave a splendid welcome, and the old boys who responded, proved that they were in hearty sympathy with the old class yet.

Bob Robinson and Mr. Ehy both spoke briefly. The ladies were not forgotten. Mr. Gibson was poetical and not uncharacteristically so as the young ladies present were "dremms." Miss Hoppin was given an enthusiastic reception, and deserved every bit of it. She is the teacher of the Bible class, and it was very largely due to her efforts, that the banquet was the great success it was. Mr. Burke was given a vote of thanks to which he replied by telling a typical Irish story. The Y.M.C.A. was represented by the secretary. The event is likely to become an annual affair.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Vaccination Issue.

Kingston, Jan. 15.—(To the Editor.) The board of education itself, and certainly the citizens, have no reason to be proud of their board, who have not yet learned the first principles of what liberty means. There is no other place of any importance on this North American continent where force is used in respect to vaccination. It is a debatable question, but in many places those in authority express to their citizens the desire and importance of vaccination. With many I watched, all through the sham small-pox scare, for action to be taken against men who refused to be vaccinated. To threaten was easy, but to act they dare not, knowing full well that the law would not permit punishment for refusal. Now, thanks to the electors, we have a noble, noble body, the "board of education," who will visit vengeance upon the children of our city, and that after the scare is over, forcing them to be kept from school, contrary both to the laws of our province and the best interests of the community. It would be well if some parents do bring action against those who say, "Your children must not attend school," while such children are healthy. Poor Kingston must bear the sin and shame heaped upon her by narrow men who climb into place.—Yours, CITIZEN.

Had A Jolly Drive.

About twenty-five young people, from the city, last night, drove to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ballantyne, Ballantyne Station, where they enjoyed the evening in games, music, etc. Several selections were rendered by the Bethel quartette, composed of Messrs. Allan and Frederick Halfer, Frederick Wilson and William Thompson. Although the drive was a long one, it was much enjoyed by all, as the weather was mild. The young people arrived home at five o'clock this morning.

SPENT PLEASANT EVENING Junior Templars Provide a Fine Entertainment.

Fourteen new members joined the Kingston Star of Hope Juvenile Temple, at the session held in the Sons of England hall, Thursday night, at seven o'clock, and a good programme of songs and recitations was rendered. Next Thursday, H. F. Norman will favor with some gramophone selections, and the children are anticipating a jolly time.

At the session of the Hope of Kingston lodge, at eight o'clock, two new members were initiated and final arrangements were made for a social, to be held next Thursday evening. Letters were received from grand chief templar, and the grand secretary, re propaganda work in the county of Frontenac, and the lodge appointed a strong committee to consider this question. A dozen volunteers were in evidence when R. W. Allen appealed for half a dozen workers to cover a district that has been neglected in the canvass for license reduction.

Non-members were admitted at 9 p.m., when the chief templar read a very interesting paper on "The Underdog in London, Eng.," written by Rev. A. C. Holthouse, vicar of All Saints' church, Sibley, Eng., part of which showed that Dickens' description of Seven Dials in "Sketches by Boz," will hold good to a large extent, to-day, despite the efforts of a devoted band of missionaries, whose labors are not much lighter than those of their brethren who go to the uncivilized quarters of the globe. It was resolved, that a letter conveying the thanks of the members, and their best wishes for his success in the work he has undertaken, be sent to Mr. Holthouse.

WAS A FINE EVENT THE SCHOLARS ENJOYED A GOOD TREAT.

The Annual Entertainment of Queen Street Methodist Sunday School on Thursday Night—Dr. Lake Showed Many Views.

Last night the scholars and teachers sat down together to the annual tea. About two hundred and fifty enjoyed the good things provided, being waited on by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. After tea there were shown by Dr. Elmer Lake lantern views, comprising a series of pictures, illustrating the parables of our Lord, and a number of views of the Hudson and its lakes. Interposed between the lantern views were a number of recitations, dialogues, songs and duets. These items were contributed by the Misses Rose, Ennis and Dodds, and Messrs. Harris and Rockwell Gage, Elizabeth Pound, Gladys and Ruby Quail. The whole entertainment was very much enjoyed by all present, and at the close the vote of thanks to Dr. Lake, moved by R. Crawford, was very heartily carried. The thanks of the Sunday school are very freely given to the members of the Ladies' Aid Society for their splendid help given to the lady teachers, under Mrs. W. H. Asseltine, in the work of preparation during the afternoon, and also in serving the tea in the evening.

FATE A MYSTERY.

Paris, Jan. 15.—Advices received state that the French cruiser Admiral Aube, which went in search of the Fabre line steamer Neustria, on December 19th, has arrived at Gibraltar. No sign of the missing vessel was discovered and her fate remains a mystery. The Neustria sailed from New York for Marseilles on October 27th.

GETS HIGH HONOR.

A Queen's Graduate Who is Climbing Up.
At the December meeting of the Royal Economic Society of London, Dr. Norris A. Brisco, of the department of economics, of the College of the City of New York, was elected a fellow. This is the second honor Dr. Brisco has received from abroad, as in December, 1908, he was elected fellow of the Royal Historical Society. These honors come partly on account of the favorable reception of his book, "The Economic Policy of Robert Walpole." Dr. Brisco graduated with honors in political science and history from Queen's University, and was awarded the Gowan scholarship in political science. He took his graduate work at Columbia University, under Prof. Seligman and John Bates Clark. At Columbia, Dr. Brisco was successive scholar and fellow in economics. Since his graduation he has been with the College of the City of New York.

A Warning Issued.

A city official called at the Whig office, to-day, with a sample of a so-called "asbestos" covering for lamp wicks. It was sold in his home at 75c. by a stranger, who guaranteed it to last three years and to be a great saving on coal oil. It lasted three nights and then fell to pieces. The arrangement is simply a perforated piece of thin metal, fitted tightly over the top of the wick with the aid of a pair of pinchers. The light department, as well as the local electricians deny that they have any connection with the stranger or his scheme. The official wished to warn citizens against the agent.

HE SAID HE DID IT

JAMES SUGDEN WAS REMANDED FOR SENTENCE.

He Was a Bank Swindler and Was Collared While Working His Game in a Branch Bank in Lachine.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—James Sugden, a bank swindler, one whom the police and the banks have been anxious to catch for some time, who was recently caught working his game in a branch bank in Lachine, near here, appeared in court, to-day, and pleaded guilty to the charges against him. He was remanded for sentence. It is believed that for years Sugden, who resided in Westmount, has been making a good thing out of the banks by opening accounts in branch banks and manipulating forged papers. He left a trail of forgeries in Ontario and American cities before coming here. The Allan steamer Corsican, from Liverpool, for Halifax, and St. John, was reported ninety miles south-east of Sable Island, at 8:40 a.m.

LADY BERESFORD'S ASHES.

Taken For Burial to Curraghmore Ireland.

THE LATE LADY WILLIAM BERESFORD.

Dorking, Eng., Jan. 15.—The funeral of Lady William Beresford took place at her late residence, Deepdene, attended by a large gathering of relatives, friends and employees on the estate. Among those present were the Marquis of Waterford, Lord Charles, and Marcus Beresford, and Mrs. George Cornwallis-West. The body was taken to a crematory, and the ashes, following the expressed wish of the deceased, were taken for burial to Curraghmore, Ireland, for interment in the family burying place.

Words Of Much Interest.

Speaking of Mr. Pense's semi-retirement from the editorial chair of the Whig, the conservative Stratford Herald says: "Mr. Pense is at once one of the ablest and most upright men in Canadian journalism. His newspaper is the leading one in eastern Ontario, barring only the dominion capital. In every sense Mr. Pense and his newspaper are looked up to and admired by his conferees."

REPUBLICAN PLOT.

London, Jan. 15.—The Express prints a story from Lisbon, completely unconfirmed, of a Republican plot. It is stated that many arrests have been made that the garrison, strongly reinforced, is kept constantly under arms, and that the crews of the warships in the Tagus are kept in readiness to land.

SHOW HORSES BARRED.

Local Livery, Horses in "Bunco In Arizona."

As a result of the close watch given by the authorities, regarding the foot and mouth disease, the horses owned by the company, "Bunco in Arizona," were barred from their turn, when the production was given at the Grand, on Thursday night. Local horses, from McIlquham's livery, were secured to fill the bill, and although not accustomed to stage work, went through their part with high honors. In this play, which is a regular "thriller," the excitement is intense, the battle with the Indians being a special feature. It was at first feared that the horses, accustomed only to street scenes, and quiet life in a livery, would object to such doings, but with very little training they were put into shape for the footlights, and carried out their part perhaps just as well as the horses owned by the company, now having a well-earned rest in Uncle Sam's territory.

The show played in Ottawa, before coming to Kingston, and there, too, local horses had to be pressed into service. It is doubtful if anyone in the audience at the Grand, last night, had the least suspicion that the horses belonged to Kingston, and that any of them were being used as an "understudy."

The company will pick up their horses as soon as they cross the border.
