Want To Be Poor All Your Life?

Can't you look back over the past few years and see where you missed it in not investing in lots? Others bought them while they were cheap and made fortunes.

You can't get rich working for wages. It's the savings well invested that bring fortunes.

Put yourself in a position to get a part of the profits from the growth of Kingston during the next few years. Get a start in life by buying a lot or two now while they are cheap. Don't wait until the prices advance. Wake up! Come out of it!

Now I want to show you what I have to offer in Building Lots. I have them in all localities.

BY CLOSE MARGIN KINGSTON RINK LOST IN CONSOLATION.

Captured By Eastern Hospital, and Score Was 9 to 8—Westmount Wins Final Ladies' Competition—The Prizes Presented.

In a match which was warmly contested from start to finish, Eastern Hospital rink, Brockville, skipped by Mr. Stewart, won a victory over the Kingston rink, Mr. Bailey, skip, in the final consolation, by a score of nine to eight, at the bonspiel, last night.

This was the only match played last night. The big bonspiel will now be brought to a close after the points' competition is concluded, and for which there are a great number of entries. A large crowd witnessed last night's match, which was played on very poor ice. Both the rinks in this contest have had a very strenuous time on the ice, but notwithstanding this, they put up a battle royal, and the game was not won until the last stage had been reached. Skip Bailey's team put up a magnificent battle for supremacy, and at the close both the winning and losing teams were congratulated.

In the ladies' final consolation, the Westmount Heathers, skipped by Mrs. Mundie, won a victory over the Kingston rink, skipped by Miss Dalton, by a score of five to two. The contest was a good one. In the ladies' match, the rinks were shortened on account of the bad ice.

Following are the scores:

Second Round Consolation. Montreal, Mrs. Johnston, 5; Kingston, Mrs. Dawson, 10.

Lachine, Miss Strathy, 6; Montreal Heathers, Mrs. Gault, 3.

Third Consolation. Montreal, Miss Tyre, 9; Kingston, Mrs. Dawson, 3.

Final Ladies' Consolation. Westmount Heathers, Mrs. Mundie, 5; Kingston, Miss Dalton, 2.

Semi-Finals Consolation. Kingston, Bailey, 11; Napanee, Dr. Leonard, 6.

Final Consolation. Eastern Hospital, Stewart, 9; Kingston, Bailey, 8.

Presentation Of Prizes. A very pleasing part of last night's proceedings was the presentation of prizes, which took place in Queen's medical building, before quite a large audience. The honor of handing over the prizes was given to W. F. Nickle, M.P.P. The different cups and trophies were arranged on a table, and presented a fine appearance.

Before calling upon the winners, Mr. Nickle said that it was rather unfortunate that the weather had turned out so mild, for the latter part of the bonspiel. This, however, was something over which the club had no control. Mr. Allen, the skip of the Cobourg team, winners in the all-comers' contest, was then called upon, also the members of his team, to receive their prizes. Mr. Allen, in speaking in behalf of the team, said that last year his team had had the pleasure of playing with a Kingston rink at Belleville. The members of the rink were more than pleased with the trip to Kingston. Everyone had a most enjoyable time, and wished to return thanks to the members of the Kingston club for their kind hospitality.

Capt. Leslie and his team, the runners-up in the all-comers' contest, were then presented with their trophies, and the skip and the other members of the team, Messrs. A. Strachan, Fred Gill and Mr. Sutherland, made appropriate remarks. Dr. Mohr accepted the trophy, in behalf of Eastern Hospital, and made a neat address, in which he paid the local club a high compliment on the success of the bonspiel. Dr. Mohr said that he had attended many bonspiels, but never had been present at one where the visiting clubs had been extended such a generous and warm-hearted reception, as had been given at this bonspiel. He was very glad to see so many ladies interested in the game. He was of the opinion that his own rink would have done better, had he secured some ladies to play on it.

Dr. Mohr, in his concluding remarks, stated that he wished to speak on behalf of all the visiting curlers, and extend thanks to the local club for the kindness shown them during their stay in the city.

Mr. Nickle, in replying to the kind words of Dr. Mohr, stated that as a member of the club, he wished to say that the members appreciated the kindness of the visitors, in taking part in the bonspiel. The affair might be a success, but if so, it was due to the co-operation given the Kingston club by the visiting curlers. Of course, there must be the winning and losing teams, but he was pleased to note that in the contests pulled off, there had been shown the true spirit of sportsmanship. Everything had passed off well, and everyone was in the best of spirits over the results.

Addresses were delivered on the ice by the members of the Eastern Hospital and Kingston rinks, just at the close of the play. Members of the Westmount ladies' team, winning the consolation, were unable to be present, and some of the ladies took charge of the trophy.

Hard Work Curling. With the ice in such poor condition, the curling was made very hard work, yesterday, and the ladies had a most strenuous day. They went on the rink at their own request, and stayed in the game like "old timers." It was stated that the ladies would have also been willing to play more, last night, but under such circumstances it was not deemed advisable to do so.

The visiting curlers, both ladies and gentlemen, carried away a large number of the brooms used in the games to their homes, as souvenirs. It was stated, last night, that several more ladies' clubs will be organized in Eastern Ontario, as a result of the Kingston bonspiel.

Points Competition. The following have entered in the points competition to be run off Friday or Saturday: R. D. Sutherland, T. M. Asselstine, James Thompson, R. J. Hooper, E. J. Pissinault, William Leslie, A. de Montroy Bell, Prof. Dyde, E. H. Brower, C. J. Burns, D. C. Ramsay, P. S. Pilkey, W. J. Driver, W. H. Dalby, H. W. Going, M. P. Reid, W. B. Dalton, A. W. McLean, A. R. Williamson, H. B. R. Craig, S. R. Bailey, H. Angrove, W. R. Sills, C. J. Maybee, Mr. Leonard, A. E. Ross, C. T. Wilkinson, L. W. Gill, George Hanson, Robert J. McKelvey, P. W. Stewart, S. S. Corbett, E. Lyons, W. H. Montgomery, J. S. Andrew, H. F. Mooers, J. M. Farrell.

Games Called Off. There were some games scheduled in the points' competition at the curling rink, to-day, but owing to the mild weather, they had to be called off. All the big events have been pulled off.

The Annual Meeting. Zion church held its annual meeting, on Wednesday night, with about fifty people present. The reports of the various departments showed steady progress. The regular offerings for the year were the largest in the history of the congregation. Messrs. W. Peters, J. McKee, A. Truesdale, G. Gibson, A. Reid and C. Hibbert, were appointed managers.

UNIVERSITY CONCERT IN GRANT HALL WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Queen's Musical Organization Gave Some Fine Selections—Miss Enid Newcombe, of Toronto, Was the Cellist Attraction.

The concert given in Grant hall, last evening, by Queen's University Glee, Mandolin and Guitar Clubs, and students' orchestra, was one of the best musical events of the season, and was heard with great pleasure by a large audience. The opening selection was the Canadian national anthem, splendidly sung by the combined clubs, the audience standing during its rendition.

The artist of the evening was Miss Enid Newcombe, of Toronto, whose cello playing was most charming. Miss Newcombe is master of her instrument, and occupies a high place in the ranks of cellists. She gave three numbers, "Tarentelle" (Popper), "Broken Melody" (Van Biese), and "Carillon" (Fischer), all of which were enthusiastically received, and to each of which Miss Newcombe responded.

The students' orchestra, twenty-five strong, was a new feature of the university concert. This organization is under the leadership of W. H. Walker, bandmaster of the 14th P.W.O. Rifles, and is a splendid addition to the musical forces of the university. Its selections were "Maritana" (Wallace) and "La Paloma" (Vradier), both of which were well received.

The Men's Glee Club, always a favorite, showed strength both in numbers and volume. It is a well-balanced choral organization, and is under the direction of Miss Louise Singleton. "Sword of Ferrara" (Ballard), a topical song, and "Hark, the Trumpet Call," were its numbers. The topical song contained some delicate and enjoyable references to students and professors.

The Ladies' Glee Club is also directed by Miss Singleton, and it, too, is a musical organization that does Queen's credit. "Serenade" (Shubert) and "The Stars Are Shining in Heaven" were its programme numbers, both of which were sweetly rendered. The Mandolin and Guitar Clubs have lost none of their old-time strength. Their two numbers were a galop, "Prince Charming" (Duffel), and "Montclair Galop" (Weidt), which were played in a pleasing manner. The last number on the very excellent programme was "With Sheathed Sword," from Costa's "Damascus," rendered by the combined Ladies' and Men's Glee Clubs, and which was given with splendid effect. Altogether the concert was a great success, and ranked as one of the very best ever given at Queen's.

NEGLECT OF THE CITY TO REAP THE BENEFIT BY LIQUOR FINES.

Last Year the Ontario Government Collected Over $1,500 in Fines Here—A Rap at the City Council.

Kingston, Jan. 21.—(To the Editor): According to law, the government and the municipality should share equally in the revenue derived from liquor licenses. But at one of the semi-annual distributions last year, the government received $5,638 and the city only $4,075. Why did the government receive $1,563 more than the city? Because it enforced the law and collected the fines. Why did not the city enforce the law and receive the revenues, paid in fines? "Ay, there's the rub."

As matters now are, two policemen may stand before a barroom window on a Sunday afternoon; they may see a man behind the bar selling liquor, and men before the bar drinking it. Now, what are those policemen to do? Arrest those who are violating the law—two laws, in fact, the Lord's day act and the license act? That would seem to be the reasonable course to pursue, but the policemen are expected to shut their eyes, or look the other way. If the license inspector came along and asked them to assist him in making a raid they would be expected to respond to his call; otherwise they are not expected to do anything.

Here is a source of revenue which has not been tapped by the city. Elmer Davis, in a capital address before the council, on Monday evening, pointed out that if eight licenses were cancelled the loss in revenue would be only $2,000; but though there would be this apparent shrinkage, many thousands of dollars, now wasted, and worse than wasted in drink, would go to swell the wealth of the city, and increase its revenue-producing power. If the city enforced the law as it might, and should, there would be little need to look around for new sources of revenue to offset the $2,000 lost by the cancelling of eight licenses. No one will contend that the license law was rigorously enforced last year, and yet in a single day over $1,500 was collected in fines. The trick might be repeated two or three times a year, with advantage to all concerned, and the money might just as well come into our city treasury as go to the provincial.

This subject presents another very serious aspect. Probably it is not generally known now that our police are not supposed to take notice of infractions of the license act. Were it common knowledge that they would promptly arrest a poor little boy who stole a loaf to keep him from starving, but that they would close their eyes when they saw men in the most shameful and flagrant fashion violating the license law, what would the effect be? Would it not be that law, and the officers of the law, would be held in contempt? If that sentiment should prevail, a sad day is dawning upon our fair city.—Sincerely yours, W. S. MACTAVISH.

It is rumored that the city council will take no action this year regarding the reduction of licenses. I trust the rumor is not correct, for one does not like to think of our city fathers proclaiming themselves as weaklings, trifling with one of the most shameful evils of modern times, or as laggards, hindering the progress of a city which should be, not only abreast of public opinion, but in the very van of progress.—W.S.M.
