A FARMING RECORD.

The department of Agriculture at Ottawa has issued an estimate of the results of last year's agricultural work in Canada, which is interesting in various ways, says the Montreal Gazette. The area under field crops is put at 27,566,663 acres, and the harvest, computed at average local market prices, is given a value of $432,534,000. This is a large sum. It is to be remembered, however, that it only represents one branch of the farmer's work, and that the value of animals and their products, raised and sold, would add hundreds of millions more to the total. Taking the field crops, the acreage and yield are given as follows:

	Acres.	Bushels.
Fall wheat	770,400	8,798,000
Spring wheat	5,839,900	98,836,000
Oats	7,941,000	250,277,000
Barley	1,745,000	46,769,000
Rye	100,350	1,715,000
Peas	412,300	7,000,000
Buckwheat	291,300	7,158,000
Mixed grains	581,900	19,046,000
Flax	339,300	1,499,000
Beans	60,100	1,245,000
Corn for husking	366,200	22,872,000
Potatoes	563,000	73,790,000
Turnips	271,443	101,248,000
Hay and clover	8,210,000	11,450,000
Fodder corn	259,770	2,928,000
Sugar beets	10,800	109,000

It will be noted that as regards acreage, wheat, about which most is thought when the harvest is being considered, falls to third place in the list; and this position it also holds in the column which sets out the estimated value of the crops as gathered, which monetary importance as follows shows the monetary importance as follows:

	Value.
Hay and clover	$123,884,000
Oats	96,489,000
Wheat, fall and spring	91,228,000
Potatoes	84,819,000
Barley	21,855,000
Turnips and other roots	17,532,000
Corn for husking	11,837,000
Corn for fodder	11,782,000
Mixed grains	10,140,000
Peas	3,970,000
Buckwheat	4,215,000
Beans	1,988,000
Flax	1,457,000
Rye	1,202,000
Sugar beets	578,000

The values per acre of crops are also the cause of some surprise to ordinary observers, roots far surpassing even the most profitable of grains. Potatoes take the lead with the figure of $69.14, turnips coming next with $64.58, and then sugar beets with $53.52. There must be something beside the value per acre to make a crop successful, however, as, in spite of heavy bounties for the production of beet sugar, sugar beet growing is not an increasing branch of the industry. Beans and corn stand high in the list, the former being credited with an output valued at $33.08 an acre, and the latter at $32.32, when grown for husking and $45.35 when grown for fodder. Peas and buckwheat are on about the same level, the one being credited with $14.46 an acre and the other with $14.17. Hay comes in with $14.84 per acre. Fall wheat leads among the cereals, being credited with $21.10 per acre, spring wheat being rather far behind with $12.84. Then follow rye with $12.57, barley with $12.23, and oats with $12.15. It would be possible from this to infer that the crops that are most grown are not the most profitable, but in farming as in other businesses the man on the other probably knows what is best for him and acts on his knowledge.

By provinces, Ontario is in the lead, being credited with a field crop yield of $185,308,000, the other provinces coming in the following order: Quebec, $80,896,000; Manitoba, $66,660,000; Saskatchewan, $37,614,000; Nova Scotia, $20,084,000; New Brunswick, $18,042,000; Alberta, $14,522,000; Prince Edward Island, $9,408,000; British Columbia is not included in the list. As was said above, there are other products besides field crops to be taken into consideration in estimating the agricultural output of a year, and among them dairy products and fruit. Their inclusion would strengthen the position of the eastern provinces considerably, as the west is yet more largely given to grain-growing than to the more laborious forms of agricultural activity.

RELIGION IN BUSINESS.

Some years ago W. T. Stead, the British journalist, toured in America, and during his visit to the city wrote "What Would Christ Say if He Visited Chicago?" The inference was that he would see so much that was opposed to Christian ethics that He would have difficulty in seeing the fruits of the religion which so many people professed.

The critic holds a place which is not always popular. It is the function of the men who know, what Christianity means to give some demonstration of its value, and in Cleveland the church people have put their professions to the test. The six thousand of them who covenanted to live as Christ would have them do for at least three months—putting spirit and earnestness into the experiment—did not wholly succeed. Some of them had to almost candidly admit, on comparing notes, that they had fallen short of their high ideals, and through no fault of their own. They meant well, and would have succeeded better had their employers and associates given them greater encouragement. A few confessed that they had failed. The practices of the day—the deceptions of business for instance—went on because superiors would have no change or amendment in the interest of any experiment. Some may have lost their occupations, because they refused to serve mammon at the expense of truth and honesty.

The general result was such, however, that the Cleveland movement is destined to become permanent. Not only that but the men who have led in it, under an inspiration, have decided to spread it, and at this moment Dr. Eaton, formerly of Toronto, is with the advance guard who have invaded New York. Here it is intended to teach Christians how to live so that their religion may have visible effects. The teaching is simple and direct. It is, therefore, the antithesis of the sensational ways and works of the Holy Rollers and others of that ilk who have done so much to injure the cause. The world will watch the results. Six months hence the question may be put very feelingly: "What would Christ say if he visited New York?"

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Again we have a January thaw. Remarkable weather in a week's time!

Did you see "Raffles"? Hundreds watched his entry upon his active work at midnight. He is slick.

There are fifty-three Sundays this year, and it will be 110 years before that will occur again. Well, few of us will be there so don't worry over it.

The succession dates last year in Ontario were $1,700,000, or twice what were expected. So the robbery of the dead," as Mr. Matheson called it, goes steadily on.

The senate is threatened with abolition because it is afflicted with "innocuous detestables," or something of that kind. It may not go, but it deserves a knock.

The unemployed in Toronto refuse to work for their soup. They cannot be very hungry. There have been times in Canada when the soup kitchen was a welcome institution.

So Mr. Borden is to be allowed to finish his work. He has been through two elections and is up against it as hard as ever in parliament. As a finisher he is not very successful.

The Dominion government, it is said, has framed new regulations for the conduct of parliamentary business, which will result in saving of time, and in the reduction of useless speech-making.

What is this we hear—the members of the commons wanting their vote bit of drink. They're not going to revive the bar, in the house, surely, when the slogan is to abolish it outside of parliament?

It is significant that the leader of the opposition wants to know how woman's suffrage is working in the countries where it is conceded. The suffragettes will see that he gets the necessary light.

The Washington Post suggests that congress proceed with tariff revision with as little agitation as possible, make only such changes as are necessary to raise required revenue, and finish the job as quickly as it can.

The announcement that women are to wear smaller hats in the future will bring little or no comfort to the men who pay. It makes little difference as to the size of the hat. The size of the hat-bill does not change.

The local government would be very much annoyed if the federal government undertook to direct technical education in Ontario. The province now has its technical schools. Has it enough of them, or are they the right quality? That is the only question.

The street railway agreement with the city touching power, will have to be considered this year by the council. The power committee should load itself with facts as to what other places do, the prices paid, etc., so as to be ready to discuss the issue intelligently.

TO BUILD NEW CHURCH.

Portsmouth Presbyterian Mission is Flourishing.

At the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Mission in Portsmouth, held last week, the reports presented were most encouraging. J. A. Shaver, B.A., the student in charge of the work, presided. The financial statements showed the receipts to amount to nearly $550. Every liability for the year was paid and a small balance left in the hands of the treasurer. Encouraging reports were received from the Christian Endeavor Society, which provides the funds for paying the organist. The Sabbath school is being ably managed by Mr. Hamilton, the superintendent. The work of the Ladies' Aid Society, which was organized less than a year ago, was one of the most pleasing reports. Arrangements were made for the annual concert to be held on February 4th. The congregation expect to build a new church next summer. Liberal amounts are being subscribed for that purpose. The choir is greatly improved under the able leadership of Mr. Atkins.

"Rest, Only Rest!"

The following poem was one of Sir John A. Macdonald's favorites. It was written by Father Ryan.

My feet are tired, and my hands are sore,
My soul oppressed,
And I desire what I have long desired,
Rest, only rest.

'Tis hard to toil, when toil is almost
In barren ways,
'Tis hard to sow, and never gather
In harvest days.

The burden of my days is hard to bear,
But God knows best,
And I have prayed, but vain has been My prayer.

'Tis hard to plant in spring, and never reap,
For autumn yield,
'Tis hard to till, and then to weep,
O'er fruitless field.

And so I cry, a weak and human cry,
With heart oppressed,
And so I sigh, a weak and human sigh,
For rest, sweet rest.

My way has wound across the desert years,
And cares intense,
Wednesday evening, Jan. 20th, when Miss Maggie, second daughter of Matthew Trousdale, Hartington, and William Brown, Moscow, were married by Rev. J. E. Lidstone. The bride was attired in pale gray silk cologne, trimmed with allover and apique, and was unattended. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the home of the bride's parents. They intend taking up residence at Moscow.

Trousdale-Brown.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 20th, when Miss Maggie, second daughter of Matthew Trousdale, Hartington, and William Brown, Moscow, were married by Rev. J. E. Lidstone. The bride was attired in pale gray silk cologne, trimmed with allover and apique, and was unattended. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the home of the bride's parents. They intend taking up residence at Moscow.

Provide For Coughs.

Lung and throat troubles are sure to come during cold weather. Why not be prepared, to cure a cough in the shortest possible time by procuring a bottle of the Diamond Cough Remedy, to-day. No home should be without it. In bottles, 25c. and 50c., at Wade's drug store.

The Latest Addition.

The latest addition to the roll at the penitentiary, is Henry Blake, given two years, at Owen Sound, for theft. The deputy sheriff of Owen Sound arrived in the city on the early morning train, and left his prisoner in the cells at the police station, until ten o'clock this morning, when he had him removed to the big prison.

Died At Collins Bay.

Mrs. Mary E. Robertson, wife of Reuben Robertson, Collins Bay, died at her residence, on Thursday, after a long illness. The deceased was born in the township of Kingston, seventy-one years ago, and had lived in this vicinity all her life. The funeral services will be conducted at the Methodist church, on Saturday afternoon.

Easy Corn Curing.

HOCKEY GAME POSTPONED.

No Ice For 14th Regt.-Osgoode Hall Contest.

The senior O.H.A. game, scheduled here to-night has been postponed. The ice was in awfully soft condition on Thursday night and was far worse, this morning. The management of the 14th Club telephoned to Toronto to Secretary Hewitt, and he was just in time to catch the Osgoode team at the Union station, before they left. Everyone says that it was the best thing to postpone the game, as it is a very important one, and good ice is needed by both teams. The game will be played here on Wednesday night next, if the ice is in good condition.

Victoria Defeat Gananoque.

The Victoria hockey team defeated the Tigers in Gananoque, on Thursday night, five goals to nothing. The game was played on very poor ice, and this alone saved the Gananoque team from a greater defeat. The Vics. lined up as follows: MacDonald, goal; Coyne, point; Gaskin, cover; Brouse, rover; Grant, center; Moran, left wing; Hyland, right wing. The players returned at midnight.

Junior 14th vs. Picton.

The 14th juniors are scheduled to play Picton in the first round of the semi-finals. Home-and-home games will be played, the first being on Picton ice. The young soldiers will put in a good week's work and hope to land this section. They can do it, if they settle down to good, hard practice.

Queen's In Montreal.

Queen's left for Montreal at noon, to-day, accompanied by a large number of supporters. The Presbyterians had their final workout on Thursday, at noon. The following team was taken down:

A Game Scheduled.

One game in the senior City League series is scheduled for to-night, when the K.C.I. team meet the Frontenac Business College, at Royal rink. The game should be a good one, despite the bad ice.

Sporting Notes.

New York sporting men are inclined to make Shrubbs favorite over Longboat.

Port Perry intermediate, Picton and 14th Regiment juniors are all O.H.A. district winners.

At Glasgow the South of Scotland beat the North 3,728 to 3,328 at curling. Four hundred and eighty rinks took part.

John L. Sullivan is circulating a yarn to the effect that he has a syndicate with $75,000 backing for a Jeffries-Johnson fight.

The Cobalt Girls' Hockey Club challenges any club of girls in Ontario. Last year the Cobalt girls won the championship from Halesbury, New Liskeard and other northern towns.

William K. Vanderbilt has won nearly $700,000 on the French turf in the last four years. William Duke, his trainer, will have fifty-seven horses—nine four-year-olds, twenty-three-year-olds and twenty-eight two-year-olds under preparation at St. Louis de Poissy this year.

At Edinburgh, on Wednesday night, the Royal Caledonian Club gave a banquet of welcome to the Canadian curlers. There were 400 guests present, among them being many notables. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal presided, and referred favorably to the proposal of a temporary interchange between the historic Scottish and Canadian regiments.

Toronto Telegram: Osgoodes go to Kingston, Friday night, and they won't have to go much faster than they did here to pull out a win over the soldiers. The boys who carry their lunches in silver bags are turning out a promising team on the ice, and they have some good new material in shape for Friday night's game.
