BOARD OF HEALTH

ELECTED DR. A. P. KNIGHT AS CHAIRMAN.

No Ice For Selling Purposes to Be Cut Inside the Prescribed Limits—There's No Need to Enforce Vaccination.

The board of health held its inaugural meeting on Monday afternoon, and elected Dr. A. P. Knight, Queen's University, as chairman, on motion of John Lemmon, seconded by Dr. Etherington. There were present: Mayor Couper, Dr. Etherington, John Lemmon and Dr. W. T. Connell, along with Medical Health Officer Bell, Sanitary Inspector Gordon, and Assistant Inspector McCammon.

A large number of accounts were presented in connection with the fort hospital. All of these were carefully scrutinized by the members before they were passed. In this regard, Mayor Couper gives promise of being the watchdog of the people's money, as he went over every account. Some of the accounts were held over for further investigation. One of these was from a young lady patient, who had lost some clothes as a result of their catching fire while being fumigated. Another was for $15 for groceries supplied a family of four who were fourteen days in quarantine. The law requires that the city pay the provision bills of those who are too poor to do so themselves while quarantined. Those who are able to pay must pay for their own keep while in quarantine, and look as pleasant as possible.

A young man who suffered quarantine and was out $14 wages and $8 board, wrote for compensation, but his request was refused, as the law is clear on the point. It was thought he should be thankful for having escaped captivity in the fort with the disease itself.

The health officer reported that there were only four cases at the fort. Two of these were from the county. Only one of the four developed in the city, the fourth being from Trenton, so that in six weeks there has been only one new case here. Dr. Bell said that the furnishings at the fort were being carefully stored for future use, and at the next meeting of the board he would have an inventory to present.

As to enforcing vaccination, Dr. Bell stated that he had asked the city council for instructions as to who should do the enforcing. The council could do it much cheaper than he, as medical health officer, would do. However, he ventured the opinion that he didn't think it was really necessary to enforce the by-law, as he thought that most of the people had been vaccinated.

Sanitary Inspector Gordon reported that he and Mr. McCammon had marked out the limits for ice cutting in the harbor, the same as last year, viz.: 1,200 feet out from the Martello tower in the harbor, and 1,600 feet out from West and Collingwood streets, extended. It was lawful to cut ice only south of a line connecting the three points.

The propriety of allowing any ice to be cut, inside of these limits, was discussed, and it was decided to require any company or individual cutting ice for sale for either domestic or cooling purposes, to cut it beyond the line fixed by the sanitary inspector.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Property Owners Should Note This.

Kingston, Jan. 26.—(To the Editor): The legislature very properly refers the disposal of questions which involve the rights of property in respect to bonus rights and exemptions, to freeholders. Because of this, the question of voting a bonus to the Wormwith company, must be decided solely by those who are property owners.

It is pertinent to point out to freeholders that while they have the casting vote in the issue, as a matter of fact the taxation from the sum annually required to retire debentures, comes not from property owners alone but from the whole body of taxpayers, freeholders and tenants alike.

Does it not follow that the property owner should view this question, not as one that pertains to himself solely, but as one that relates itself to the rights and interests of the taxpayers at large.

It can be easily shown that a very large proportion of the taxes is borne by the business element of the community, and this element in the very nature of things employs its capital for the extension of Kingston's commercial interests, rather than in locking it up in real estate investments.

Take for example St. Lawrence ward. Here you will find many large taxpayers, who are not freeholders. Now their business experience and insight and their commercial interests makes them very sensitive to the fluency that would tend to restrict the commerce of the city. Feeling as they do that the closing down of an industrial plant as large as the Wormwith piano works, will affect the city in its commercial side. They are incapable of making that opinion effective, because as non-freeholders they are debarred the franchise.

Here then, is a case where the individual property owner can advance the interest of all. He ought to think of the general interest of the city as well as to safeguard his own. If the freeholder as a matter of fact locks the value of property in Kingston depends upon the maintenance of its present commercial status—that a decrease in its trading power means a decrease in the value of property—that an increase means a corresponding stiffening of values, he will then be thoroughly seized of the importance of safeguarding the general commercial interest of the city.

The question is—shall we continue as we have been doing, to hold our own or shall we by rejecting the bonus by-law take a first step towards the general interest of the city? Therefore a first step towards decreasing the value of real estate in Kingston.

Let the men of Kingston ponder if this is fact, and ask themselves if they are prepared to strike a blow at the prosperity of the city. Every vote against the by-law is a knock for Kingston, so let every voter stand shoulder to shoulder, support the by-law and thus give a long and a strong and an united boost to the prosperity of Kingston.—PROPERTY OWNER.

SHARE IN INTEREST.

The programme is out for the Young People's Missionary Conference, in Kingston, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next. The Kingston leaders are eager that workers from the district come in and share in the great interest and undoubted benefits. Delegates will be assigned to private houses if they notify early. But come in, and after it is over you will be grateful for the experience. Send for programmes to Miss G. C. M. White, care Whig, or Miss S. Moxley, First Congregational Church.

Seniors Final Practice.

The senior soldiers had their final workout with the juniors, on Monday night, after the intermediate game. All the players were out and showed fine form. The senior forwards played with the junior defence and the junior forwards and the senior defence, thus making a real senior defence, thus making a real good practice for everyone. "Jim" Scotland handled the team from the side and made them play hockey all the way through. Saunders, Powell, Vanborn, Bernier, Crawford, Davidson, "Jim" Richardson and George Richardson were out for the seniors, and Marchand, Sparks, Hyland, Brouse, Grattan, Moran and Nicholson were out for the juniors. For nearly an hour the players went at it good and stiff, and after the practice were all given a rubdown in their own room. The seniors are all in the pink of condition. The team will line up as follows: Saunders, goal; Powell, point; Vanborn, cover; Crawford, rover; Bernier, centre; Richardson, left wing; Davidson, right wing.

Juniors For Belleville.

The junior soldiers will not have a chance to play home-and-home games with Picton, to decide their rank in the junior O.H.A. series, as the rank cannot be secured here in time. Manager Swaine tried to get the rink, but failed, so a sudden-death game was arranged in Belleville for Thursday night. This will give Picton a little advantage over the locals, as they have played on this rink several times this season, once against Belleville and once against Trenton. Picton have also had more games this season than the locals, but it is some days since they have had one.

The young soldiers were out, Monday night, and put in a hard hour's work. They are playing better hockey every day they practice and have improved quite a bit since their last game. They will leave for Belleville on Thursday afternoon at 3.19 o'clock. The team will be picked from the following players: Marchand, Sparks, Hyland, Davidson, Brouse, Grattan, Moran, Nicholson.

City League Games.

The Harmony Club are scheduled to play the Y.M.C.A. bunch in the senior series of the City Hockey League, to-night, at the Royal rink. This game should be a fast one, if the ice is in condition.

K.A.H.A. Series.

The Mic-Macs and Royals will clash to-night for their first game in the Kingston Amateur Hockey Association series. Both teams are strong and a fine game should result. The game will be played on Royal rink.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Purchase Old Sterne Property on Property on King Street.

The Kingston Knights of Columbus have purchased the four Sterne property on King street, near Johnson, and intend to erect upon it a club building. This property was purchased a year and a half ago for $2,300 by leading members of the local Elks lodge, which intended on buying the brick building upon it a large club house. However, the Elks joined with the old 14th club in establishing the Fronteac club, and didn't require the property. The local Knights of Columbus are a flourishing organization and include the leading Roman Catholic gentlemen of Kingston.

THE SPORT REVIEW

THE SOLDIERS WILL MEET THE LAWYERS

In Senior O.H.A. Game on Wednesday Night—Junior 14th Team Plays Picton a Sudden Death Game in Belleville.

If the weather man could very kindly answer the prayers of many local hockey lovers and continue the present cold weather, a fine hockey game will be put on here on Wednesday evening, when the senior soldiers will meet the Osgoode Hall seven in the second game of the O.H.A. series. This game was scheduled for Friday night last, but was postponed, on account of the bad ice. This game should be one of the fastest games drawn in the city, and should draw a record-breaking crowd.

The 14th defeated the lawyers in Toronto, but they had a hard fight to do it, and will have just as hard a fight to do it here. The locals have improved since their last game, but so have Osgoode, and according to Toronto reports, the law students have improved immensely, and will be in fine condition.

On the Osgoode team are some well-known hockey players, including Beulah Davidson, Debbs of Ottawa, Stockton, and "Jimmie" Macdonnell, Davidson and Debbs are both very last men. Stockton plays a hard game, and is considered one of the best in the business. "Jimmie" Macdonnell needs no mention; he has made Kingston's sporting element feel proud of his work in Southern Ontario, and all that need be said is that he is playing better hockey to-day than he ever did before. Gordon Campbell, Queen's, has been chosen as referee for the big game. "Curly" is one of the fastest men playing intercollegiate hockey, and with him in charge the spectators are sure that the game will be hockey all the way through.

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

The by-law needs a large vote. Are you going to be responsible for its defeat through carelessness or neglect? Deducting the expense of having the razor honed and the cost of a new strap, a stick of soap and a supply of healing lotions, the man who started the new year by shaving himself is still considerably behind the game.

The cabmen from stand 400 held their annual "At Home" on Monday evening at the new dance hall, corner of Clarence and Bagot streets. A large number were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Music was supplied by Crosby and O'Connor's orchestra.

Property voters' attention is drawn to the fact that the Wormwith company employs eighty-three men, nearly all householders. Who will pay taxes to replace those paid by the employees should the company leave the city? Figure it out and you will find that it is just as cheap to pay the bonus and keep the extra taxpayers here. There will be no property to be assessed as vacant, thereby bringing in less taxes.
