

Enjoy Your Meals

By Simply Eating a Little Pleasant Tablet After Each of Them.

A TABLET DIGESTS A MEAL.

When digestion is perfect the fluids necessary to this process come naturally to the aid of the stomach. They are of right proportion and do their work speedily and well. When indigestion and dyspepsia are prevalent, these same juices come slowly if at all, are weak and insufficient or are filled with strong acids and alkalies. When such a condition exists each meal is a hardship upon the digestive organs. The meal should strengthen the juices, but on the contrary it weakens them, so that man by the very act of eating causes conditions to arise which of themselves bring him pain and longing for the next meal. By eating one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you mix the tablet with your saliva and it goes into your stomach a strong, vigorous fluid, many times more powerful than the natural digestive juices. These tablets are made up from natural vegetable and fruit essences and are composed from Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Lactose, Nux, Asa-cetic, Peppin, Bismuth and Jamaica Ginger. There is the formula and one grain of it will digest 3,000 grains of food in any stomach. Beside digesting the food it will give the blood the power to enrich the digestive fluids so after a time nature will take care of itself. Though you have no stomach trouble one of these tablets after each meal is a powerful assistance to nature and is an excellent habit to make. Go to any druggist and ask his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. We will abide his answer if he be an honest man. They sell for 50c per package. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address, F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

TAKE DRUNKEN MEN HOME.

Instead of to the Police Station in Cleveland.

New York, Feb. 1.—The plan, by which the police of Cleveland take drunken men home instead of arresting them, was endorsed by Police Commissioner Bingham as being the right idea, in his testimony before the legislative committee, which is investigating courts. Mr. Bingham said also that he knew that many arrests of women on the streets were made for the purpose of blackmail by the police, but that he could not prove it. "If you know how the whole slum traffic is carried on among immigrants in all parts of New York it would break your hearts," said Bingham. "If it could be stopped the whole social evil would be ameliorated. The Anglo-Saxon law is not efficient to deal with this."

OFFER OF BULGARIA

TURKEY WILL SHORTLY ACCEPT HER TERMS.

An Unpleasant Feature—Austria and Germany Held Aloof From Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy.

London, Feb. 1.—There has been a good deal of uneasiness felt, more perhaps in English financial circles than elsewhere, for the past few days over the Bulgarian situation. The danger of a deliberate outbreak of war between Turkey and Bulgaria has not been great.

The great powers are willing to bring sufficient pressure to bear that, any further action in that direction was prompt and will soon prove effective. There was, however, distinct peril of accidental war. A shot fired by a nervous sentry might easily start the flames of a conflagration, the limits of which could not be foreseen. There never has been an aggressive purpose on Turkey's part, and Bulgaria's hot-headed action in risking an expense many times the amount in dispute was pure bluff. She has gained her point, however, for Turkey, under pressure of the powers, will undoubtedly accept within a few days the terms Bulgaria offers.

The unpleasant feature of the episode has been Austria's and Germany's abstention from joining Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy in the prompt intervention which was necessary to avert trouble.

Sir Wilfrid was pleased with the gift, and gave them a cheque for $25. Making some purchases in a butcher's store, in Hull, they tendered the cheque in payment. The suspicious butcher asked them to wait a moment. He telephoned for police and Lecompte and Mault were soon in jail, where they languished indignantly for some hours until the premier was communicated with and they were honorably discharged.

FAREWELL MESSAGE

OF REV. CHAS. BILKEY TO ST. JAMES'

"Be Ye Steadfast, Unmovable"—Organ Recital Afterwards—Mr. Bilkey Received Afterwards in the Vestry.

In St. James' church on Sunday evening, Rev. Charles Bilkey preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation. The speaker chose his text from Corinthians xv, 17: "Be ye steadfast, unmovable."

The speaker said that the day of martyrdom had passed, but not because the devil was asleep, but simply because he had changed his mode of attack, and to-day he is no less dangerous. Wickedness hides itself in every disguise. Grafting goes on in all our public offices, but by this one must not think that all the world is bad. Mr. Bilkey said that the traitor within the ranks was the worst enemy to the advancement of the church. One of the disciples betrayed Christ, and ever since there has been a traitor in the church. The marvel is not that there is an enemy in the church, but that the church has expanded so well with it.

It is not right for some people to say they will stay away from church because some one else goes. Such people are not bad because they go to church, but in spite of it. "There is an old English motto," said the speaker, "Be sure you're right, then go ahead." Do what you think is right and leave the rest in the hands of God. Paul did this and did God forsake him?

"I have tried to do my duty as to God," said Mr. Bilkey. "If I made mistakes while among you, it was not for want of good intentions. I tried to show no favoritism, to treat rich and poor alike. I tried to go with the majority not with the few."

Mr. Bilkey went on to say that his stay in Kingston had been full of pleasure, and that the kindness shown him was such that he could not forget it. "I wish to thank the choir and the Sunday school workers for the great aid they were to me. It is very gratifying to me to know that my leaving this church is not the wish of the congregation. If I have been of any help at any time to anyone of you I shall feel that my stay has not been in vain. Now may He have you in his keeping and may He lead you all to Christ. I leave you with this message: 'Be ye steadfast, unmovable.'"

During the service several numbers were rendered by the choir. After the service an organ recital was given by Percy Marshall. After this Mr. Bilkey met many of the congregation in the vestry to say good-bye.

The most phenomenally successful of all modern light operas, "The Merry Widow," will be the attraction at the Grand on Wednesday, February 10th. With the organization will come the famous English grand opera orchestra, which has been for years a feature of Henry W. Savage's big musical production. Mr. Savage has given mounting of any of his operatic successes.

Tendered A Gift.

A very pleasant affair took place at the Grand Trunk station, to-day, before the departure of the noon train for Ottawa when a presentation was made to Rev. C. Bilkey, late curate of St. James' church. Quite a number of his friends were present, who Albert E. Shannon, on behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. Bilkey with a purse of gold. The clergyman was taken completely by surprise, and was deeply touched by the kindness of his congregation. He replied in a few well chosen words.

Prevented From Addressing Labor Congress.

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 1.—Victor Grayson, the socialist member of parliament, whom the house of commons recently suspended because he denounced parliament for not supporting the starving thousands on the streets of London, was prevented by a trick from making a speech at a labor conference here.

Two gentlemen called at his hotel and invited him to an automobile ride around the town. The party drove him out into the country, where they had luncheon together. Suddenly on the way back the car was halted and it was announced that it had broken down.

After a considerable delay repairs seemingly were effected and the party again started for Portsmouth, where they arrived too late for the conference at which Mr. Grayson was to have spoken.
