Daily Whig.

PROMISE NOT REDEEMED.

Mr. Studholme, the labour representative of Hamilton, has called up in the legislature what should be a live subject, namely the necessity in Ontario for more technical education.

The local government is showing no particular hurry about building a technical college in Hamilton.

ORIGIN OF G.T.P. SCHEME. Mr. Wainwright, of the Grand Trunk company, speaking at a commercial men's banquet in Quebec, took occasion to refer to the origin of the G. T. P. scheme.

SPRIT OF THE PRESS. So It Appears. O'Connell Journal. Brother W. F. Maclean got some valuable assistance, yesterday, from the western M.P.'s.

What It Means. London Advertiser. The overthrow of free trade will mean an end to a free market for Canadian produce in Great Britain.

Getting Wisdom. General Grant made a tour of the world that was regal in its character.

Drop In For A Drink. The palm garden in Best's drug store is lively these days as ladies are daily busy serving tea, coffee, cocoa and light lunches.

SCANDAL OF MORMONISM. When some years ago it was learned that the Mormons had secured a foothold in Canada, profound regret was expressed, because Mormonism is something that should not be tolerated much less encouraged.

The Sceptical Reed. London Argonaut. Once when Thomas B. Reed was with the late Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, and Joseph Choate, Mr. Choate, when asked to take a drink, said that he never drank, never smoked, and never gambled in his life.

He May Be Satisfied. Toronto Globe. In the face of an alleged protectionist wave of public opinion it tends to make one sceptical to find that those who were elected as free traders three years ago still stand unanimously by their colors.

Here's A Pretty Go. Montreal Witness. It may not be generally known that there is a community in Canada where men are politically chloroformed at the age of sixty.

LAD WAS BADLY HURT

That no less than 105 had been debarred from voting at the last election. It appears that all who pay a two-dollar road tax are entitled to a vote, but men over sixty are exempt from paying the road tax and are consequently deprived of the joy of voting. R. Von Banner, who claimed to be a German of noble birth, was drowned while attempting to cross the Niagara river on the ice below the falls.
