SOME NEW FACTS

AS TO THE SHOOTING OF MISS ETHEL KINRADE.

There Were Eight Shots Fired Into the Girl—Likely Only Stunned By the Shot in the Brain—Flossie With and Without Hat.

Hamilton, Ont., March 8.—The developments in the Kinrade murder, this morning, are as follows:

The announcement, for the first time since the murder, that Miss Flossie Kinrade wore a hat when she ran to the residence of Mrs. F. J. Hickey, across the road, to give the alarm, giving additional significance to the story of Motorman Stone, who says he saw the girl run across the road in front of his car at 3.25 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder, and that she wore no hat, her hair flying loose.

This announcement opens up the new theory that the girl may not have gone into Mrs. Hickey's residence at 3.25, but may have run back to her father's house, and put on her hat, for Mrs. Hickey stated, this morning, that Flossie wore a hat when she came into her house.

The announcement, for the first time since the murder, that the bullet which entered Ethel Kinrade's cheek took a perfect level course, proving the girl was not standing on the back steps when the shot was fired.

The further announcement is that Ethel Kinrade might have been lying on the floor from five to twenty minutes, stunned from the shots fired into her head, before receiving the three bullets in her left breast, which caused her death. If she had been dead when she fell to the floor, the large pool of blood which formed the scalp wound would not have been there. The size of the pool indicates that her heart was beating and that the pool took about twenty minutes to form. It is thought the murderer may have returned to the house and fired the three shots into her breast.

The giving out of the information that eight shots were fired, instead of seven, and the positive information that the revolver was used of very low pressure.

The statement that George Tait Blackstock, K.C., the celebrated criminal lawyer of Toronto, would conduct the inquest, has not been confirmed. A search of the house was made, this morning, for the purpose of finding the revolver. Nothing was found.

Taug Attacks Girl.

Hamilton, March 8.—Another daring outrage, the perpetrator of which is still at large, was reported to the police, last night, the victim being Miss Burkholder, of 87 Augusta avenue. Miss Burkholder was returning home from church and parted with a lady companion at John street and Augusta avenue. She was proceeding down Augusta, and when a short distance from her home a man brandishing a knife emerged from an alleyway, and exclaiming, "Say a word and I'll cut your heart out," dragged her into the lane. After a desperate struggle Miss Burkholder managed to escape, and ran to her home, falling unconscious in the doorway. Dr. Bingham was summoned, and for a time it was feared the young woman would not survive the shock, but at midnight she was thought to be out of danger.

HOUSE MEDAL FOR GIRL.

Heroism in Slocum Disaster Will Be Recognized.

Washington, March 8.—Miss Helen I. McGinnis of New York, one of the youthful heroines of the frightful General Slocum disaster of June 15th, 1904, is to receive a medal of honor, voted to her by the House of Representatives. The resolution was introduced by Representative Goudeau, of New York, and March 13th was named as the day of presentation. This ceremony will take place in the speaker's room in the presence of a committee of representatives.

Over The Falls In A Ball.

Niagara Falls, March 8.—Robert Leach, the Chippawa hotelkeeper, announced his intention of going over the Horseshoe Falls in a rubber ball. He has concluded arrangements with a Bristol, Rhode Island, rubber concern, to construct the vessel in which he will make the perilous trip.

OLD ITALIAN ARRESTED

For Striking His Landlord's Aiter Being Evicted.

An old Italian tailor named Marcello Jenovez, who lives in an old rooming house at the foot of Johnson street, was arrested at 1.45 o'clock, this afternoon, by Constables Naylor and McAdoo, on a serious charge. The old man has been living in this house for some months and was five months behind in his rent. Z. Handler, who owns the property, could not get any money from him, so he went to see his solicitor, who told him, after giving the Italian a month's notice, he should put the tenant and his belongings on to the street, and this Handler did. The month was up about a week ago, but the Italian made no move to go, so to-day, Handler went to the house, put all his stuff on the street and nailed up the door.

When the old Italian came back he was greatly surprised to find his belongings on the street, and his front door nailed up. He became very angry, in fact frenzied, in the manner of his race, and when he could not enter another way, he impulsively stuck his hand through the glass, and was sorry immediately afterwards that he did so. His cries and curses became very wild, and finally the police were sent for, the above named officers responding.

The case was explained to them and they told the old tailor that all he could do was take his stuff and get out, and do it quick. He piped up a long stick, but was quickly disarmed by Police Constable McAdoo, and forced out on the street, Handler, the tailor, and the two policemen, walked out of the yard to Johnson street together, and to the crowd it looked as if the fun was over. But not so. The old man just waited for a good chance and when it came, he dealt Handler a terrific blow over the head with his heavy walking stick, the force of the blow staggering the man. Before he could again strike, Police Constable Naylor was on his neck, and had the weapon taken away from him, and he was marched to the station.

There was a trail of blood along the street to the police station, and this came from the old man's left hand and arm that he had cut severely in many places when he pushed his hand through the window. When he arrived at the police station Dr. Mundell was summoned and it required quite a number of stitches to close the cuts. Handler came to the station and laid information against the Italian.

BURNED AT STAKE.

Rockwall, Texas, March 8.—After being identified by Mrs. Arthur McKinney as the negro who attempted a criminal assault upon her, Friday, Anderson Ellis was taken from the Rockwall county jail, last night, and secured to an iron stake driven into the earth and burned to death in the presence of 1,000 persons. Early in the evening Will Clark, a negro, was shot and killed when his father refused permission to a posse to search his premises on the assumption that Ellis was concealed there.

HOLINESS CONVENTION.

Will Be Continued Throughout This Week.

At the Holiness Movement convention, on Sunday morning and afternoon, Rev. R. C. Horner preached to large audiences. At 10.30 a.m. the text was Psalm cxvii, 6: "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." At 2.30 p.m. the text was Psalm cxvii, 5: "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy." One particular need to a revival of religion was tears, Mr. Horner said. We do not lack for professors of religion or for church-going people, but there is a great lack in tears, for people to go forward spreading salvation by weeping over the lost and perishing around us. At 7 p.m., Rev. Mr. Tompkins preached an impressive sermon on these words: "What Will You Do With Jesus Which Is Called Christ." The large hall was crowded to the doors, and about two hundred could not be seated. The interest in these meetings has increased so much that it was decided by all interested, financially as well as spiritually, to hold the hall and continue the meetings all this week. As was publicly announced, there will be three meetings daily, at 10.30 a.m., 2.30 p.m. and 8 o'clock in the evening, and on Sunday the evening meeting will be at seven o'clock. Everybody is welcome.

White Lake Items.

White Lake, March 8.—Farmers are drawing wood and logs to Sharbot Lake and Mountain Grove. School opened, Monday, March 1st, under the management of Miss Mary Groomer, of Sydenham. J. M. Cox, assessor, was in this vicinity this week. Mr. and Mrs. H. England and Mrs. George Conboy spent two days last week at William H. Conboy's, and T. Johnson's. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warren and children and Mr. and Mrs. William Kimberley, of Sharbot Lake, are at T. Johnson's.

Sad Circumstances.

Inspector Arniel, in investigating a case of tranquy, came across a rather unfortunate circumstance. The mother said that her baby was ill, and as she could not afford to lose a few days' work, offered her $1 per day, she had been compelled to keep her boy home from school. The boy will resume his studies and no action will be taken.

REV. DR. ROSE'S VIEW.

Bible is Not Historically Infallible. Winnipeg, March 8.—Rev. Dr. S. P. Rose, of Broadway Methodist church, the most aristocratic Methodist congregation of Winnipeg, caused a mild sensation, last night, when he attacked the infallibility of the Bible. The reverend gentleman made no reference to the name of that controversy, but gave his own reasons for the belief he advanced. He plainly declared he did not believe in the doctrine of absolute infallibility, and argued that the Bible was more abused by good people than any other book in the world.

Dr. Rose quoted passages from the Bible, which he contended proved it was not historically infallible, and ventured the assertion that owing to his serious doubts in this matter he had at one time contemplated retiring from the Christian ministry, and would have done so but for the advice of Rev. Dr. Nelson.

Wallace; secretary-treasurer, N. Leckie; captain of first team, C. Vansickle.

There will be an effort put forth to make the College Journal a weekly publication. This has been suggested before, but now the Journal staff is organizing a canvass throughout the five faculties, the object being to secure the support of six hundred intramural students. This should be easily obtained, as there are 100 students, and the fact of a weekly journal for the same subscription as the bi-weekly now, and of such a high merit, should meet with the support of every wide-awake and progressive student.

Dr. Swanson presented the debate trophies to intercollegiate champions, Messrs. M. B. Bow and A. D. Corns and Messrs. A. C. Dorland and J. Dawson; also the inter-year shield to year '11. Dr. Swanson, in making the presentation, complimented the debaters on their efforts and success, making special reference to the Bates College debate. An effort is being made to establish a more efficient training in the art of public speaking at the college.

HURLED FROM CAR.

Madrid, March 8.—King Alfonso was hurled from a motor car, to-day, when dashing down a steep curved road near Seville, the automobile struck a wall. The king is reported slightly hurt.

DIED ON SUNDAY.

Son of the Principal of Central School.

A sad death, and one affecting a large number of persons within and without the family circle, is that of Walter Ettinger, the twelve-year-old son of the principal of the Central school. He was not a strong boy, but he was active and energetic, and a great favorite in the school. A week ago he was taken ill, and a doctor called in, but not until Saturday was his case considered serious. Then, after having shown an improvement that promised an early and complete recovery, he suddenly sank. He did not suffer, however, towards the end, but passed peacefully away on Sunday morning. To-day his class in Victoria school is feeling the bereavement, and the teachers and pupils have given some manifestation of their griefs. Naturally the home of Mr. Ettinger for the time being is under a great shadow, and in their sorrow the parents have the sympathy of many friends.

The Late Mrs. A. B. Lowe.

On Sunday night, Barbara Lawson Macpherson, wife of Archibald B. Lowe, passed to rest at the family residence, 110 Bagot street, after a long illness. The deceased lady was born in Carleton Place sixty-two years ago. She was married in 1872, and with her husband resided afterwards in Cobden, Ottawa and Kingston, coming here ten years ago.
