MANY DON'T KNOW HEART AFFECTED.

More People than Aware of Have Heart Disease.

"If examinations were made of every one, people would be surprised at the number of persons walking about suffering from heart disease."

"This startling statement was made by a doctor at a recent inquest. 'I should not like to say that heart disease is as common as this would imply,' said the expert, 'but I am sure that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large.'"

"Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent."

"But undoubtedly heart weakness, not disease, is more prevalent nowadays. I should think that the stress of living, the wear and rush of modern business life, have a lot to do with heart trouble."

There is no doubt but that this is correct, and we would strongly advise any one suffering in any way from heart trouble to try a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Price 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or by mail direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FLUTTERING OF THE HEART.

Mrs. G. M. White, Williamstown, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with weak spots and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad I could scarcely lie down in bed. I procured a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they helped me so much I got another box and it has made a final cure. I cannot speak too highly of them. I think they are worth their weight in gold."

HATS OFF.

Facts About the American Indian's Healthy Hair.

The American Indian, accustomed from time immemorial to go bareheaded in all kinds of weather, is never troubled with falling hair or baldness. The close atmosphere caused by our "civilized" head-gear is conducive to the breeding of infinitesimal germs which dig into the scalp and thrive on the sap of the hair-root.

This true cause of baldness is of recent discovery and explains the non-success of all hair-growers which treated baldness as a functional disorder. Newbro's Herpicide is a direct exterminator of the germ. "It destroys the cause and permits the hair to grow as nature intended."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. $1.10 bottles guaranteed. G. W. Mahood, special agent.

BIG MEN AND WOMEN. The Big 40 for unnatural discharges, inflammation, irritations or secretions. The Evans Chemical Co., Montreal, Quebec, Canada. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper, 10c. or 3 bottles $2.75. Circulars sent on request.

Women know that men will make fools of themselves if given a chance—and they give them lots of chances. Many a tax-dodger would no doubt hold up his hands in horror if anyone was to call him a thief—but what else is he? Beef, Iron and Wine. "Our Own" make, pint bottles, 50c., at Wadell's drug store. Women would have no use for mirrors that would enable them to see themselves as others see them.

USE OF PUBLIC MEETING FOR PARTY PURPOSES IN MANITOBA.

What the Roblin Government Did in the Last Dominion Elections—Some of Its Actions Exposed.

Winning Free Press. Apart altogether from the "et al" items which are unprecedently multitudinous in the printed volume of public accounts of the province of Manitoba for 1908 and conceal the details in regard to an unprecedentedly large total expenditure of the public money last year, great numbers of the items which have no "et al" attachment show, when compared with the corresponding items in the years immediately preceding, the extraordinary lavishness with which money was laded out of the provincial treasury last year. That there was a dominion general elections campaign last year, in which the politicians who have control of the provincial treasury were intensely interested, is, of course, a mere coincidence.

For instance, there was spent in connection with the asylum at Selkirk, last year a total of $83,732.53, as against a total of $58,558.65 in 1907. The total expenditures in connection with the Brandon asylum last year were $18,189.99, as against $12,873.72 the year before. When details are looked into, such contrasts are seen as, for instance, that the broad bill for the Home for Incurables at Portage la Prairie was twice as large in 1908 as in 1907. There were 187 inmates of that institution in 1908. They ate $1,645 worth of bread, according to the public accounts, while the 83 inmates in 1907 ate only $840 worth of bread.

An immense amount was laded out of the provincial treasury for party purposes during the dominion campaign last year which is covered up by "et al" and other disguising items under the heading "Aid To Municipalities and Public Works." The system is for the government majority in the legislature to vote a lump sum for that purpose. At last year's session the lump sum was $200,000. It was handed out at the good pleasure of the government, the dispenser of it being Mr. Rogers. He over-ran the budget, the total of the hand-outs was no less than $216,203.91, most of it hidden effectually under disguising items.

So far as appears from the public accounts, $15,554.10, of this total was laid out in the dominion constituency of Selkirk. How much more was devoted to the constituency must be guessed at. The total amount distributed within that same area in 1907, as shown under the heading "Aid To Municipalities and Public Works," was $6,029.93, and the amount in 1906 was $5,618.15. Most extraordinary it is not, the manner in which the necessity for pouring money out of the provincial treasury for road work, and that sort of thing, increases when a dominion election campaign comes along!

An earnest worker in connection with road work and that sort of thing in the constituency of Selkirk was F. S. Szablewski, a trusty subordinate of Robert Rogers. Mr. Szablewski figures on the pay roll of the department of public works as an "inspector." He was summoned by the public accounts, and was questioned on Saturday last in regard to the road work and that sort of thing which was started in the locality of Gimli about six weeks before the dominion elections and ended just before polling day, which was October 26th. Inspector Szablewski did not shed information before the committee as plentifully as he handed out government cheques just before October 26th in payment for road work and that sort of thing. The honorable the attorney-general, who was present, acted as the lawyer for the accused acts in a court when evidence is being given which he wishes to minimize when he cannot block it out altogether. Szablewski admitted that he hired men, fixed his sums to be paid to them, and went out with sheafs of government cheques just before October 26th and paid them. Under examination his memory was notably defective, but the cheques were there and he had to acknowledge having distributed them.

Here is a brief extract from the concluding part of his examination by Mr. Johnson: "Did you take any part in the election of a member to the dominion house previous to October 26th?" "What do you mean?" "Did you canvass, or do any electioneering?" "I generally did attend meetings and expressed my views."

The chairman of the committee, Mr. Ferguson, of Hamilton, interposed at this point and ruled that the witness could not be questioned in regard to his political activity. Comment upon Szablewski's evidence is unnecessary. It speaks for itself as merely one chapter in the story of the manner in which the provincial government used the money of the people for party purposes in the dominion campaign last year.

Song From The Gardener's Lodge. Hermann Hagedorn, in February Forum. Wee, pretty jewels have I three, Frolicking under the chestnut tree. Two are my discards, one my pearl—Those are my boys and this my girl.

My oldest shall be a sergeant tall With a walk and a beard like a general; And an arm for his king and a heart for a wench. And an itch in his bones to stick the French.

My second shall learn the ways of peace Of spreading bloom and field's increase. Of spade and hoe and clod and seed, Of dropping fruit and clinging weed.

Not much he'll know of war and fame—But every-bud he'll call by name.

Oh, and the youngest, oh, my pride, 'Tis she will stay at her mother's side. Wash broom and kettle and rag and pan Till the good Lord send her a gardener man.

And a lodge and children two or three Frolicking under a chestnut tree.

Many who say they were driven, to drink would doubtless have arrived sooner or later anyway.

THE SOUR-MILK COW.

Reason Why Farmer Cut Tail Off Cow.

New York Sun. The woman was now to the country and her host took great pains to explain to her whatever she didn't understand about the farm. He had little regard for the truth, this farmer; he delighted to test her gullibility to the utmost.

The cows seemed to interest her more than any other domestic animal. One of the cows had lost her tail somehow and this fact led the woman to ask why it was. "That's the sour milk cow," the farmer explained with a straight face. "We always cut the tail of one cow in the herd so as to get sour milk fresh every day."

The woman looked her doubt. "It's perfectly true," the farmer insisted. "You see when the cow's tail is gone the sun shines continually on the cow's udder and the constant heat sours the milk."

But the woman still doubted. "Sleepless Little Babies. When babies are restless, sleepless and cross it is the surest possible sign that they are not well. Well babies sleep soundly and wake up brightly. Sleeplessness is generally due to some ailment of the stomach or bowels, or cutting teeth. Doses of Baby's Own Tablets will put the little one right, and give it sound, natural sleep. Mrs. Joseph Goveil, St. Evariste, Que., says: 'I have found Baby's Own Tablets a splendid medicine for constipation and stomach troubles. I give them to my little girl, and she keeps her bowels regular. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.'

Force Of Habit. Everybody's Magazine. In regard to faithful political service, an ambitious saloon-keeper was appointed police magistrate.

"What's the charge agin' this man?" he inquired when the first case was called. "Drunk, yer honor," said the policeman.

The newly made magistrate frowned upon the trembling defendant. "Guiltily, or not guiltily?" he demanded. "Sure, sir," faltered the accused, "I never drink a drop."

"Have a cigar, then," urged his honor persuasively, as he absently polished the top of his judicial desk with his pocket handkerchief.

How Germany Deals With Waster. Westminster Gazette. Germany, Progress reminds its readers, has a law that provides that if it can be proved that a man is earning a sufficient wage to support those dependent on him, but that he is dissipating that wage by vicious habits, he can be declared a minor, and he is then treated as a child. His employer is told that the wage must be paid, not to the man, but to a guardian appointed by the magistrate of the district in which he lives, who uses it for the support of his wife and children.

A New York girl named Wassell, whose stage name is Lucille Marcell, has been selected by Dr. Richard Strauss to play the name part in "Electra," and is now rehearsing with him in Vienna.

Charles Egan announces that his principal production next season will be Henry Bernstein's "Israel" without a star. The principal players will be Miss Constance Collier, James O'Neil, and Holbrook Blinn.

The benefit for Mrs. Lester Wallace in New York, this week, was the biggest kind of a success and many notables were on the bill, chief interest perhaps centering in the Faversham-Robson "Romeo and Juliet" scene.

The Sicilian actress, Mimi Aguglia, appeared at a special matinee in "Zaza," last week, in New York, and is credited with giving a really wonderful performance, and many notables, while others prefer her in the peasant roles in which she has made so deep an impression.

The new play by Robert Hitchens, "The Real Woman," was produced in London recently by Evelyn Millard, and a strong cast. Mr. Hitchens is not credited with success and many notables, while others prefer her in the peasant roles in which she has made so deep an impression.

Lillian Russell and Marie Cahill, both favorably remembered here, are in Chicago, and have proved that women are capable not only of tolerating but of outdoing each other. A newspaper persuaded each to tell what she thought of the other. If it, the newspaper, hoped for that which vulgar critics term a "cat fight," it was deeply mistaken. The names they called each other were sincerely eulogistic, says an exchange.

Toronto Star Will Toronto appoint a new play censor? If so, who'll get the job? Rev. J. M. Wilkinson, the well-known Methodist Episcopal preacher, is after it. Mr. Wilkinson is said to be making a strong bid for the office—if it is created—and he is canvassing those who sit in the hats of the nights in order to get their support for his application. Among others he has seen Mayor Oliver. He has also asked for the sympathetic support of some theatre managers; it is said. But it looks as if the clergyman would be doomed to disappointment. Mayor Oliver, who is chairman of the board of police commissioners, told the tax that he was almost certain the commissioners would leave the work of censoring to the police morality department. "If any change were made," said the mayor, "we would need to put it in the hands of a reasonable, responsible and intelligent man, who would judge things calmly and without prejudice or bias."

Sufficient Explanation. James Papp relates a story of Dean Burdon's indignation relating to a christening a male child "Venus." The father of the infant urged that he only wished to name it after his grandfather. "Your grandfather?" cried the dean; "I don't believe it. Where is your grandfather?" He was produced. "Do you mean to tell me, sir, that any clergyman ever christened you 'Venus' as you call it?" "Well, sir, I was christened Sylvanus, but they always call me Venus."

BARTERED FOR EXISTENCE.

Men and Women Willing to Sell Their Liberty.

Brooklyn Eagle. One of the most pitiable evidences of the intensity of the suffering from lack of work this winter is the experience of E. T. O'Loughlin, of Carroll street. In his desire to help a man who could not get work Mr. O'Loughlin arranged a "sale" of his man for life to some person who guaranteed food, shelter and clothing during that period. The sale attracted wide attention. It is not so long since the slavery of black men nearly disrupted the union. The fact that in one generation a white man should be willing to barter his liberty for life was regarded as a strange proof of the power of poverty to induce desperation.

But stranger things remained behind. Applications to be "sold" poured in upon Mr. O'Loughlin from poverty-stricken men and women until he has now a list of 273 men and seven women who are anxious to pledge their service for life to any one who will guarantee food, shelter and clothing. In a few instances the applicant wishes special work to do; for instance, one gets wishes to sell himself for life to write verses for a publisher or advertising firm, and one novelist wishes to write stories; but for the most part the applicants are ready to perform any labor required of them on the assurance of a living.

A few weeks ago such a condition would have been unthinkable in this country, and it is pretty nearly unthinkable now. Of course, the sort of provision asked for can be made only in a few cases. It is impossible that the practice should ever grow into anything more than a rare and exceptional method of meeting unusual cases of distress. But that nearly 300 people in one city should seek to enter into such an arrangement is a vivid evidence of the pressure which our social system puts upon those at the bottom. Mr. O'Loughlin's experience does not point to a remedy for the conditions, but his pile of pitiful letters affords crying evidence of the need of a cure as well as of the desperation which comes from continued failure to find work.

Let Us Be Kind. Sacred Heart Review. Let us be kind. The way is long and lonely. And human hearts are asking for this blessing only— Let us be kind.

We can not know the grief that men may borrow, We can not see the souls storm-swept by sorrow. Let us be kind.

But love can shine upon the way to-day, To-morrow— Let us be kind.

Let us be kind; that has no measure. This is of heaven and earth the highest treasure— Let us be kind.

A tender word, a smile of love in meeting, A song of hope and victory to those entreating, A glimpse of God and brotherhood while life is fleeting— Let us be kind.

Around the world the tears of time are falling, And for the loved and lost these human hearts are calling— Let us be kind.

To age and youth let gracious words be spoken, Upon the wheel of pain so many weary lives are broken, We live in vain who give no tender token— Let us be kind.

The sunset tints will soon be in the west, Too late the flowers are laid then on the quiet breast— Let us be kind.

And when the angel guides have sought and found us, Their hands shall link the broken ties of earth that bound us, And heaven and home shall brighten all around us— Let us be kind.

DEACON JONES WAS ILL.

How News of His Illness Was Received. Woman's Home Companion.

Deacon Jones, the great man of a little village of Massachusetts, whose outward piety was of a venerated order, but whose charity toward his fellow men was not as abundant as it might have been, was dangerously ill, and his brother deacons, impressed with the custom of issuing bulletins from the sick rooms of prominent individuals, decided to follow the fashion with the following results: "7 P.M.—Deacon Jones is in a serious condition."

"9 P.M.—Deacon Jones has rallied slightly."

"9 P.M.—Deacon Jones has suffered a relapse."

"11 P.M.—Deacon Jones has departed for heaven."

Thus the bulletins read at midnight; but early in the morning some unregenerate mortal who did not love the deacon evidently passed that way, for the light of a new day showed curious townspeople the latter report: "Heaven, 7 A.M.—Great consternation here. Deacon Jones has not arrived."

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Saving Explained By a Kingston Citizen Who Knows From Experience.

Many Kingston people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help.

Sick kidneys are responsible for a great amount of suffering and ill-health.

The reason so many use Booth's Kidney Pills is their quick relief for all Kidney weakness. Here is what a Kingston citizen says:

Mrs. M. O'Neill, of 263 Sydenham street, Kingston, Ont., says: "I had constant bearing-down pain had settled across the small of my back. I was weak and languid and could not stoop over to lace my shoes without much suffering. Headaches were frequent and usually accompanied by spells of dizziness. I would take cold with the least change of weather and it would settle in the kidneys. The kidney secretions would become irregular and frequent and cause me to leave my bed several times during the night. Although I had tried several remedies I could find no relief. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills, purchased at Malwood's Pharmacy, on recommendation of a friend. They cured me as I have had no trouble since and can recommend Booth's Kidney Pills as an excellent remedy."
