INSOMNIA Dr. J. F. ELLIS Member of Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly for Guysborough County.

WILSON'S Invalids' Port (A la Quina du Férou) Insomnia is a very frequent accompaniment of exhaustion of the nervous system. Through the intellectual centres slow impairment, memory, will, reason all become measurably affected. Wilson's Invalids' Port, a combination of pure Oporto Wine and Cinchona Bark, is one of the best nerve tonics known to the Medical Profession. Its use will not only cure sleeplessness but allay irritability and all forms of nervous depression. Ask YOUR Doctor. BIG BOTTLE Sold at all Pharmacies Everywhere.

"WOMEN!" "Are You Nervous?" The results of modern civilization are evidenced in an increase of nervous disorders. It could not be otherwise with the way we eat, drink, lose sleep, and keep up a continual round of excitement. The work, the worry, the excitement, all tell upon the nerves till they cry out in revolt and will not be placated till a remedy such as MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS come along with their nerve-strengthening and energizing properties, and restore them to their normal condition.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS Mrs. Wm. Levi, Markdale, Ont., writes: "I had for several years been troubled with nervousness, and, like many others, spent lots of money on medicine that did me no good. I was so bad that the least noise would make me jump and my heart would thump so you could hear it plainly and I could not lie on my left side at night. I saw a few testimonials of others and decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and to my great joy and surprise they completely cured me and it only took six boxes to do it. I have a neighbor, Mrs. Rickett, and I induced her to try them and they effected a cure. I can endorse their use for anyone afflicted as I was." Price, 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THOUGHTS IN DREAMS STARTLING RAPIDITY WITH WHICH MIND WORKS.

The Events of a Whole Lifetime May Flit Past the Dreamer in a Few Moments—Queer Results of a Dream Experiment By a Noted Psychologist.

A characteristic of dreams which, as the rather materialistic Dr. Clarke says, "hints at a life that has neither beginning nor end and is bounded by no limits which human thoughts can compass" is the rapidity with which events happen in the dream world. Thus, when asleep and dreaming, we live an entire lifetime in a minute; in a space of time that is scarcely more than a second we pass through the experiences that would not be duplicated in this objective sphere in hours, perhaps in years.

Count Lavelette relates that one night, when imprisoned and under sentence of death, he dreamed that he stood for five hours at a Paris street corner, where he witnessed a timely succession of harrowing scenes of blood, every one of which wrought his soul to the highest pitch of excitement. When he woke he found that he had been asleep less than two minutes. In a more recent experiment, made expressly to test the truth of the theories, the subject was allowed to sleep by a few drops of water being sprinkled upon his forehead. It took but an instant to accomplish this result, and yet in that incalculable brief space of time, the man dreamed of going on an excursion; of an accident by which he was plunged into a lake, and during the long struggle to escape death that followed all the experiences of his life seemed to flash before him, just as they are said to appear to a person who is actually drowning.

Dreams are tricksters. Prof. Titchener, of Cornell University, told with gusto of his experience. As a specialist in psychology he interested himself in dreams. Like a true scientist, he once set about gathering data. He wanted to know what caused dreams, where they came from, what they meant, and all that. He determined to watch himself when he slept and to wake himself at once when he found himself dreaming something of value. So, with a note book on a writing table near his bed, he forced himself to waken for several nights and to write down, while the dream impressions were vivid, his remembrance of the details and his physical condition to attempt to arrive at the possible causes of his dreams.

He was getting on famously. One night he had a particularly vivid dream. In accordance with his practice, he forced himself to awake and immediately wrote down clearly everything about it, then went back to sleep again. The next morning he arose and was astounded to see that his note sheet was blank. He remembered positively the notes he had set down thereon in the middle of the preceding night. The next night again he wrote down his dream, and his dream, only to have the same uncanny sensation the next morning at finding nothing recorded. The strange circumstances set him to pondering. That night he impressed upon his mind before dropping off into slumber that he must awaken with his first dream, or, if not, with his second. The next morning he awoke and was surprised to find this strong anti-sleeping command delivered to himself was present all through his dream consciousness. When the first scenes of a vivid dream came before his fancy he felt himself awaken and he set about writing down the facts upon the pad at his table. It was then that, from some source of inner consciousness he felt the command again to awake, although he seemed at the time to be in full possession of his normal faculties. His eyes opened, and the secret was out. He found himself lying in bed, where he had been all that night. His rising after each dream had become so much routine that he had dreamed that he had arisen and had made the notes, and his dream was so clear that it seemed reality.

Starting Early. Little Maurice will get on—you see if he doesn't. Little Maurice's mother was a dressmaker, and little Maurice had a baby sister. Now, the drawing-rooms and dining-rooms and best bedrooms and passages of dressmakers' abodes are liable to secrete pins upon their carpets, no matter how much care be exercised; and, as little Maurice's baby sister had a passion for crawling a penny for every dozen pins he brought her. "Nurse" whispered little Maurice, as his stock of pennies increased, "do you know what I am going to do when I get sixpence?" "Well?" enquired nurse. "I'm going to buy twenty-four farthing packets of pins, and scatter them all over the floor, and pick them up," replied the infant financier.

The wit is also quite frequently the bore.

THINKS HE DID RIGHT.

A Letter Regarding Man's Quitting Ministry.

W. A. Rockwell, Wellington, writes the Napanee Express: "In order that our friends may know the fact concerning my son Ferdinand's retirement from the ministry, I ask your indulgence in giving space for the following official statement of Bishop Neely from the Chicago paper: 'The Rev. F. S. Rockwell, of the Sheridan Park church, has proposed to enter upon secular business temporarily in order to meet certain pressing financial obligations, but for the purpose of avoiding any questions as to ministerial relations, he has formally requested a certificate of location. Such a location takes him out of the membership of the annual conference, but makes it possible for him to be reinstated when he abandons his secular work.' 'I wish to say, in addition to the above that I approve what Ferd has done, and hope he will succeed and pay the other fellow.'

Nature's Signal. Pain is Nature's signal that some nerve is in distress. Nerves cry out when poisoned, when under pressure, or when directly injured. The remedy that relieves the pain, no matter what the cause, is Smith's White Liniment. Cures sprains, swellings, bruises, lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism. The handiest remedy you can have in the house. Only 25c. at Wade's Drug Store.

COMMANDER EVANGELINE BOOTH. During the anniversary services of the salvation army, at Philadelphia, Miss Booth's appeals brought tears to the eyes of many in her audience.

Prompt And Decided. We are as strong and vigorous as our blood is rich and pure. All power and vitality comes from the blood. Many people always have impoverished blood. All may have pure, rich, vitalizing blood by using Wade's Iron Tonic Pills (Laxative). The benefit is prompt and decided. They are a great nerve strengthener and blood maker. In boxes, 25c., at Wade's Drug Store. Money back if not satisfactory.

Too Generous. Chicago News. "Now, ladies and gentlemen," began the political orator, "lend me your ears."—Just then someone in the gallery threw a head of cabbage at the speaker. "Pardon me, my friend," continued the speaker, turning his eyes toward the point from which the cabbage had come, "I only asked for your ears; I don't care for your head."

Is Your Back The Weakest Point?

Does it Play Out First When You Have Steady Work to Do. Look For Other Indications That the Kidneys Are to Blame and Obtain Cure By Using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Many a man finds that his back is his weakest point and does not know why. He cannot do heavy work and even light work, if continuous, leads to an aching back. Under these circumstances you can be pretty sure that the kidneys are weak and disordered and that the back pains are really kidney pains. Other symptoms are deposits in the urine after standing, pain and smarting when passing water, frequent desire to urinate, also headache, dryness and harshness of the skin and pains in the limbs and body.

If an insurance company finds these symptoms present, they will not insure your life. Isn't this sufficient indication that there is danger ahead? Backache soon disappears when Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are used and kidney disease is thoroughly cured by this treatment. You can find positive proof of this statement in almost every community in this country and here is a letter very much to the point. George Tryon, Westport, Leeds county, Ont., writes: "For two years I was completely laid up with lame back and could neither walk or ride. I tried many medicines and the doctor's treatment did not help me. 'A friend told me about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and this medicine completely cured me. I have never had a lame back or kidney trouble since and my cure has been the means of selling many boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.' One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edman-son, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE SPORT REVIEW.

Interesting News From the Various Sporting Fields.

Nattie Bumpoo was run up from $400 to $1,000 by E. Casin at Los Angeles, but Owner R. F. Carman retained the gelding by the customary $5 bid.

Over $500 has been raised for the champion Lindsay Midgets, an at a civic banquet some night this week each player will be presented with a suit of clothes and a hand bag. An offer has been received by cable from Henry Payne Whitney for the services of Jockey J. Butler to ride in England. Butler had an arm broken in a fall at San Francisco last week. "Wally" Huggs was re-elected president of the Montreal Football Club and "Ted" Savage captain of the first fourteen at the annual meeting held in the M.A.A.A. clubhouse, Friday night.

The Toronto ball team arrived in Chatham, Ont., Saturday, and are now comfortably housed in Hotel Sarnia ready to start the long pull of rounding into shape for the coming season. Manager James Murphy is responsible for the statement that Powers, who proved such a good one on the Toronto last year, is not going to the west. He will play with the Toronto this year or he will not play at all.

The great question that is agitating Hamilton all—between turns on the bowling alley—is whether "Billy" Sherring will get his amateur card. The great little runner should get it, as he is as near amateur as they are built horsehooves.

Record time was made in the fifteen- and three-fifths mile road race, which was run off at Rye, on the Sound, Port Chester, Saturday. Thomas Morrissey, unattached, winner of last year's Boston Marathon race, finished first in 1 hour 29 minutes 30 seconds. James Malone, Mohawk, A.C., New York, was second, four minutes behind, and S. A. Mellor, Mercury A.C., third.

President Edward Hanlon, of the Baltimore Baseball Club, was loud in his denunciation of his eastern league schedule when he was asked how it suited him. "Baltimore got the worst in the allotment of dates in every way," said Mr. Hanlon. "It is undoubtedly the worst schedule that was ever arranged for Baltimore, and it is pretty rough, considering that the pennant was won here last season."

Ketchel had the right dope on his fight with O'Brien. He finished training on Wednesday, and said to his sparring partner, "Nick" Muller, after the final go: "Well, if O'Brien can beat me feeling as good as I do, he can have Johnson. They can say all they want to about O'Brien's cleverness, but I want to get to him only once. If I can hit him once I will stop him. I don't think he can stay away from me for ten rounds."

Philadelphia "Jack" O'Brien, after outpointing Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, in five rounds was practically knocked out in the tenth round at the National A.C., New York, Friday night. Ketchel knocked him down three times before he got over a left hook on the point of the jaw, which sent the crafty Quaker to the boards in a helpless condition. The round had four seconds to go and the bell rang. He had a chance to fore Referee Hurst had a chance to count off the fatal ten seconds.

Evidently, Frank Gotch gave De Rouen a pretty rough time of it in their match on Thursday night, judging from this clipping: "Frank Gotch, of not only throw Raoul De Rouen, the Frenchman, in straight falls at the Missouri Athletic Club, but he also gave the Frenchman his first taste of the 'too grip' applying the pressure hard when De Rouen tried his usual rough tactics. The Frenchman left the ring at the end of the bout, tamed and chastened. Throughout the entire first period De Rouen's rough tactics of no and immense strength proved of no avail. Gotch was easily the quicker man, and when he became aroused at De Rouen's attempts to rough it he went after the Frenchman until he had him thoroughly scared. Once he shoved De Rouen completely over the ropes." De Rouen weighed 261 pounds to Gotch's 212.

The Senator's Sad Mistake.

Saturday Night. The recent discussion in the house of commons over the abuse of the franking privilege as regards campaign literature recalls an incident in a western city in the campaign of 1904. A certain senator from the west was in the habit of making purchases of domestic supplies in the east and franking them home. During the campaign the senator received a request from the conservative committee in his home town for some campaign literature. He wired back that he had mailed a generous supply, and one night the conservative committee gathered in force to receive the precious literature. The secretary produced the bag and, with due ceremony, it was opened, but alas! somebody had mixed the campaign literature, the bag was found to contain a generous supply of toilet materials. The campaign literature had been delivered to the senator's office in the same building, and there had to be a transfer of the contents before the election fight could proceed. You don't want to mention franking domestic articles in that senator's presence nowadays.

Logic At Least.

In a certain public school is a little girl pupil who is well up in most of her studies, but she has an inveterate dislike of geography, and it seems impossible to teach the study to her. The other day her teacher, made impatient, sent to Rosie's mother a note requesting her to see that the girl studied her lesson. The next day she showed no improvement, however. "And did your mother read the note, Rosie?" said the teacher. "Yes, ma'am," was the reply. "What did she say?" "My mother said she didn't know geography, an' she got married, an' my aunt didn't know geography an' she got married, an' you didn't get married."

Undigested Food

When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence. So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of stop all fermentation, sweeten the contents of the stomach and give natural assistance that relieves the stomach of its burden. The use of Beecham's Pills gradually strengthens the stomach nerves and soon restores them to a normal, healthy condition. Beecham's Pills positively cure all stomach troubles, while their beneficial effects on the liver and kidneys greatly improve the general health. Beecham's Pills have been used and recommended by the general public for over fifty years. Prepared only by the Proprietor, Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Lancashire, Eng. Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes 25 cents.
