STREETS OF PARIS WILL RUN WITH BLOOD.
 Royalist Quoted As Predicting a Revolution in Prospect—May Day Will Be Momentous.
 Paris, April 12.—"You will see the streets of Paris running with blood ere long," solemnly prophesied a leading royalist on Sunday.
 The royalists are inclined to exaggerate the seriousness of conditions in the French capital, but it certainly is true that not since the days of Gen. Boulanger has revolution been so openly and so freely talked as it is today. The outlook would be more alarming, however, if the revolutionists knew just what they want or whom they should choose for a leader.
 In the eyes of the public the head and front of the present agitation is Citizen Pataud, the chief of the "Electricians' Union." His name sends fear into the hearts of the bourgeois shopkeepers and other employers.
 "Premier Clemenceau and others pretend to smile at the great success of their meeting in the hippodrome," said Pataud, to-day, in discussing the situation, "but they will laugh on the wrong corner of their mouths if they think this movement is not serious. This isn't the end. The dance is just about to begin; the orchestra is merely tuning up."
 Pataud has made veiled threats that his men will plunge Paris into darkness as they did once before.
 Secretary Neil, of the Confederated Unions, who controls 2,500 unions with 294,398 members, declared: "There will be no revolution—at least this year. I do not look for any serious trouble May day. Certainly there is no reason why the foreigners in Paris should be frightened. Eventually, the workingmen will get their demands. We are more powerful to-day than ever. Organized labor can control governments and assure to the proletarian equal rights with the rich. Some day the revolution will be rich wide."

THREE SISTERS WED.
 Father Gave Girls Away in Turn.
 London, April 12.—Three sisters were married, on Monday, in the parish church of St. Helen, Kent. The brides were the daughters of J. Tollington, giving them away each in turn.
 All Mr. Tollington's four daughters took part in the ceremony. Two of the brides were attended by pairs of sisters as bridesmaids, and the eldest of the daughters acted in that capacity to each of her sisters. Business was entirely suspended in the place, the church being crowded.
 Miss Eliza Tollington was married to the manager of the local co-operative store; Miss Bertha became the wife of J. G. Hutchinson, of Kegworth; Miss Evelyn's husband, James Fisher, lives in the district.
 The brides were attired alike, in cream dresses, orange bosoms, and veils, and each received from their respective bridegrooms a gold brooch the design being identical. The newly-married couples dispensed with the customary honeymoon trip and stayed at home.

CAPTAIN DROWNED.
 He Fell Overboard While Handling His Tug.
 Meaford, Ont., April 12.—Capt. J. McInnis, owner of the fishing tug Primrose, of this town, while bringing his tug from Owen Sound, where it had wintered, fell overboard, on Saturday, and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The accident happened off Cape Rich. The deck being coated with ice Capt. McInnis lost his balance and falling over the rail into the icy water sank immediately. Capt. McInnis, one of four brothers operating fishing tugs from this port, leaves a wife and three children. The body has not yet been recovered.

 The Ladies of Napanee Thoughtful and Generous.
 With the most sincere gratitude the general hospital is acknowledging an Easter gift from the Napanee branch of the "Woman's Aid." On Saturday there came from the generous women of that town over sixty bottles of the most delicious preserves and marmalade and fresh maple syrup. "You can't tell how much we appreciate these things," said one speaker at the hospital. In the box, too, were linen, old and new, and other gifts.
 Easter day was made bright for the children in the wards, too, by gifts of little baskets of Easter eggs from the junior league of Sedonham street Sunday school. Girls from Queen's college also brought flowers, which were put in the wards. The delight of the little sick people over the eggs and flowers was unbounded.
 Two Fire Alarms.
 About 6:45 o'clock, Saturday night, the firemen were called to Sydenham street church. The caretaker had started a fire, and smoke curling around the spire, gave a passing by the impression that there was a fire, and sent in an alarm. About 11:30 o'clock on Saturday night, there was another call for a chimney blaze on Montreal street, near Ordnance. No damage.

BOUND HIM OVER.
 If He Forfeits His Bond Then Jail.
 William Welch appeared in the police court, this morning, charged with assaulting and beating Robert Lipman, proprietor of the Princess theatre at his place of business on the evening of April 9th, about nine o'clock. D. M. McIntyre appeared for the plaintiff and J. Mel. Mowat for the defendant. Welch pleaded guilty, to striking Lipman, but said it was not his fault as the plaintiff provoked him.
 Robert Lipman testified that two ladies complained to him on Friday night that a man was disturbing the audience, and was swearing. Witness went up and, finding it was Welch, asked him to leave. Welch said he did not have to go out as he paid his admission. Witness then told him he would call the police if he did not leave. He went out and saw P. C. Filson, and while speaking to him, Welch came out to the door and using a curse, said he would get even with Lipman. Welch told him to move on, and he did it, but came back later and Lipman, who was sitting near the ticket office, did not see him until he came up and struck him on the side of the face, cutting his lips. Witness said that Welch had been drinking but was not drunk.
 "I fine you $5 and costs and bind you over on your own bond, of $100, to keep the peace. If you again break it you forfeit your bond or go to jail" said his worship.
 Another of Clark Wright's Indians was up, this morning, and was taxed $10 and costs or requested to do fifteen days at Castle Corbett, for getting a few drinks. He pleaded guilty and was given time to pay up.

Now the police do not know what to do, as they have no direct evidence that Louis actually did the selling.

PRINCE EDWARD
WILL BE CANADA'S NEXT ROYAL VISITOR.
 King Outlines Career Planned For Eldest Grandson, and it Includes a Tour of the Empire.
 New York, April 12.—The Herald's London correspondent cables: "I have just learned on excellent authority that King Edward, before he left Biarritz, sketched in broad outline the career he intends his eldest grandson, Prince Edward of Wales, to follow. It is probably not generally known that his majesty has really charge of the education of the young prince, who some day, in the natural order of things, is destined to occupy the throne.
 It is not expected that Prince Edward will return to his Royal Naval College at Osborne after the Easter vacation. He will probably be sent to the Senior Naval College at Dartmouth for a year or a little longer, a portion of this time being spent on a sea-going cruise. The prince will then do some reading under carefully selected coaches, in view of his future university career, but this will be interrupted in order that, following the precedent in the case of his father, and the late Duke of Clarence, he may make a tour of the outlying portions of the empire, accompanied in all probability by his younger brother, Prince Albert of Wales.
 Prince Edward will not, it is almost superfluous to say, make his career in the navy. In the fulness of time his royal highness will enter the army, and probably will serve in more than one branch of the service, but in the first place he will be gazetted direct to a cavalry regiment, without the usual preliminary of passing through Sandhurst.

Should Be Remedied.
 A prominent marine man, in speaking of the accident at the Catarqui swing bridge, stated that it was time there was a new bridge, as the present one was not at all able to fill the bill. He pointed out that if the bridge were wider, it would do away with accidents, but under present conditions, there was barely enough room for some of the barges to pass through. The accident has caused a great deal of comment in marine circles, and the consensus of opinion is that action should be taken to put it in proper shape.
