WAS BADLY INJURED HORSE WAS FRIGHTENED BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Mrs. John Lawless, Dufferin, Thrown Against a Barbed Wire Fence, Suffered Terrible Cuts—Husband Escaped With Slight Injuries.

As the result of a runaway accident, on Friday night, Mrs. John Lawless, of Dufferin, is at the Hotel Dieu, suffering cuts about the face, and her husband is also laid up with injuries received in the same accident, although his injuries are only of a slight nature, and did not necessitate his removal to the hospital. Mrs. Lawless was thrown against a barbed wire fence, and some thirty stitches were required to sew up the wounds in her face. She is in a very serious condition, but will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawless spent Friday in the city, and the accident occurred on the Front Road, about 9.30 o'clock, when they were on their way home. When about three miles on their way, they met an automobile, and the light on the auto frightened the horse, which bolted. The animal made such a sudden start that Mr. Lawless could not get it under control, and in a second, the rig and the occupants were thrown out, into the ditch, and up against a barbed wire fence. The rig was smashed, and the horse got clear of the rig and galloped on, being captured some time later. Mrs. Lawless, in some manner, got hold of the lines, and she was dragged along the fence for some distance, and this accounts for her severe injuries. Mr. Lawless escaped with a few bruises and a bad shaking up. He was able to care for his wife, and had her removed to the home of a farmer named Kinkade, living close by, and, later, she was attended by Dr. Robert Hanley, and, on Saturday morning, she was removed to the hospital.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY Y.M.C.A. Annual Thank Offering Meeting Held on Friday.

The annual thank-offering meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. was held Friday afternoon. There was a much larger attendance than usual, and great interest shown. The president, Mrs. John Wright, reviewed the work for the past year. The most gratifying feature in some respects, is the membership, which has grown to over two hundred ladies, representing nearly every church in the city. The president and officers have worked very hard to accomplish this and have the satisfaction of reporting the largest ladies' society in Kingston, and the largest auxiliary outside of Toronto, in the province.

Mrs. Robert Meek, the efficient treasurer, reports considerably over two hundred dollars raised during the year almost entirely by free-will offerings. This feature of the work is a decided improvement on the old plan, and more in keeping with Christian work. Mrs. Wright appointed Mrs. Warwick, Mrs. Beall and Mrs. McCullum as nominating committee. After dainty refreshments the ladies viewed the famous painting, "Guiltily," now on view in the Y.M.C.A. A splendid paper on the life of the late Dr. Robertson, the missionary statesman, of the North-West, was read by Mrs. Williams. Much of the success of the local Y.M.C.A. work is due to the woman's auxiliary, and under the leadership of Mrs. Wright the best year in the long series of successes has just closed.

THREATENED TO SHOOT WIFE. Insane Man Was Removed to the Asylum.

The police had a sad case to deal with to-day, when they were called upon to remove a resident of Clergy street west, a German, to Rockwood asylum, his mind having become mentally unbalanced. It was stated, to-day, that during one of his spells, he threatened to shoot his wife, and it was considered best that he should be taken to the asylum. He was taken to the institution, this morning, by Constables Mullinger and Davies. The unfortunate man has been acting strangely for some time, but at no time has been violent. He has four children. It is thought that under proper care, his mind will again be restored. He is about forty-five years of age.

Told in Twilight

Mrs. A. W. Cooke's tea at "Hazel-dell," the afternoon of the day, her youngest daughter became Mrs. James Farrand Pringle, was just as perfect in its way as all the wedding arrangements had been. The hostess, with Canon Cooke and her sons and daughters, understands the art of hospitality, and where this grace exists there is pleasure. The pretty old house looked lovely, indeed there were those who have been at many weddings who said that never had they seen more elegant white stock and yellow daffodils made the air sweet with a spring freshness, and ferns and other flowers mingled with them made a floral picture which will long stay in the minds of those who saw it. The tea was as happily informal as the wedding breakfast, and although the World's wife and all his daughters were there the numbers of pretty girls in pretty frocks, who dispensed tea and cake saw to it that no one missed the refreshment of one or the good luck of the other. Mrs. R. W. Rayson, Mrs. J. O. Crisp and Miss Edith Van Strubben were in charge of coffee, tea and jam, and the table here again, in arrangement, was seen that art which most effectively conveys art. There was great regret felt by the bride and all her people that none of the cadets were able to come to the marriage service and the breakfast, but military life seldom allows any cessation of routine for festivity. The girls, too, missed their scarlet-coated partners, who always make so interesting and entertaining notes for pretty frocks, to say nothing of other attractions. It is hoped that Mrs. Pringle will be able to hold a reception at "Hazel-dell," on her return from her honeymoon. She and her husband will also spend a few days in Cornwall.

Many were the pleasant surprises prepared for Wednesday's bride, Mrs. James Pringle, but perhaps none more appreciated than that which came to her late on her wedding eve. Some days ago a mysterious request came from Montreal, for her monogram, and the mystery was cleared up when a large express parcel being opened a monogrammed tea service was revealed. The gift was from two of the bridegroom's friends, who had worked under him in construction camps, and wished to show his bride just how much they thought of her husband. The tea set, of massive silver, exquisitely and heavily chased, was accompanied by a large silver kettle brought in the same way as the rest of the silver.

Mrs. H. V. Lyon entertained the Keweenaw club at her home, 138 Maryland street, on Saturday evening. Dr. Jones, American consul, gave the club a little talk on his experiences at Port Arthur and other places during the time of the Russian-Japanese war, which was both instructive and entertaining and was very much appreciated by all present. Recitations given by Mrs. B. J. Mills and songs by Mr. Deal were also very much enjoyed. Light refreshments were served by Miss Lyon, assisted by Miss MacGill, and the party dispersed as the clock was striking twelve, all feeling that they had spent a very pleasant evening.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Mrs. John Bell Carruthers, "Annandale," was hostess at a ladies' dinner party, last night, with her sister, Mrs. Hansard, as guest of honor. The dining-room, as are all functions at "Annandale," was very enjoyable, and the dinner table, with its silver vessels filled with daffodils, looked most artistic. Among the guests were Mrs. T. D. R. Hemming, Mrs. E. T. Taylor, Mrs. James Gildersleeve, Mrs. R. T. The other guests were Mrs. John Bell Carruthers, Mrs. Jeremy Taylor, Mrs. Walter Macnee, Mrs. James Cappon, Mrs. Arthur Flower March, Mrs. Alan Palmer, Mrs. Percy Stevenson, Miss Lois Saunders, Miss Eleanor Macdonell, and Miss Bessie Gordon. The table looked especially pretty with yellow silk and jonquils.

Mrs. A. F. Chown, University avenue, gave another of her pleasant teas on Thursday of this week. Her guests, who numbered about forty, were seated at quartette tables, and refreshments were served by Miss Daisy and Miss Ada Chown, Miss Gertrude Howton and Miss Grace Hiseock. The rooms were filled with lovely flowers, and the afternoon was most enjoyable.

The dance given by Mrs. W. D. Gordon, King street, on Wednesday, for Miss Marguerite Elkins, was as jolly as possible. The girl guests were the not-outs with some of the younger set among those fully launched socially. A number of the older men from Stown were asked to meet them, and the list of men present included many of the battery officers and the course men here just now.
