LIVED ROBINSON CRUSOE EXISTENCE.

Captain and Crew of Wrecked Fruit Steamer Cast Ashore on Uninhabited Island.

New York, April 27.—The small fruit steamer Joseph H. Cunco arrived here last night from Port Antonio, having on board Capt. Loren Walters and wife and six seamen, comprising the crew of the schooner, Addie and Bow-Prince, which was blown ashore on Low Cay reef at the east end of Marigana Island, on the night of April 7th.

Capt. Walters told of leaving the wrecked schooner in a skiff and rowing to the mainland, where for ten days they lived a typical Robinson Crusoe existence, the island being uninhabited. The chances of being rescued by a passing vessel appearing too remote, the captain re-embarked all hands in the skiff and rowed to Castle Island, a distance of nearly a hundred miles, where the Joseph H. Cunco picked them up.

WORTH $100,000, RE-ENLISTS.

James L. Dixon Likes to Be a Marine.

Chicago, April 27.—James L. Dixon, twenty-four years old, thinks that the United States Marine Corps is a good place for a man to be, even though he has inherited a fortune. He enlisted, yesterday, for four years.

Four years ago, when Dixon enlisted as a private in the marine corps, he received word that he had inherited $100,000 from a rich uncle in California. He served out his time, and a month ago went to Toronto, where he made $25,000 by a deal in grain elevators. He became tired of civilian life, however, and hurried to a recruiting office.

STILL OWN LAND.

Judgment Re Ownership of Bottom of Canal.

Perth, Ont., April 27.—Superintendent Phillips, of the Rideau canal system, has given the following decision of the department re "drowned lands" on the "Tay" branch of the Rideau canal.

"I am instructed that we do not own the land which is submerged, but we merely paid for the right to flood it for canal purposes. The land itself that is covered by water still remains the property of the original owners."

KINRADE MURDER INQUEST.

Believes Crown is Conducting the Case Fairly.

Hamilton, Ont., April 27.—That the coroner's jurors investigating the murder of Ethel Kinrade do not agree with George Lynch Staunton, K.C., "barbarous," was shown, last evening, when the inquest was fully opened, and, on the representations of Crown Attorney Washington, adjourned until Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The inquest had been closed and some of the jurors were starting to leave the room, when R. B. Spera, foreman, summoned them back. They then indulged in a brief discussion on the advisability of passing a resolution to show Mr. Staunton that he was in the wrong when he made the statements about the "crown methods."

"We thought it would be a good idea to point out to Mr. Staunton that he has a wrong impression about the crown's methods," was Mr. Spera's statement to a reporter, after the discussion. "The jurors do not think this inquest is being conducted as he says it is. Indeed, we think everything is being run fairly, and we wanted to express our opinion in the form of a resolution to that effect."

"Why didn't you pass the resolution?" he was asked.

"We thought it best to let the matter lie low for a time," was his reply. It was intimated, however, that the resolution approving of the crown's method would be passed before the inquest is closed.

Likely To Be Called.

Toronto, April 27.—According to official statements, made this morning, the crown fully expects that the Kinrade inquest will proceed at Hamilton Thursday night and that Miss Kinrade will be the first witness called. The attorney-general's department, it was learned, is proceeding with its preparations for the renewal of the inquest on this basis, although both the attorney-general himself and Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright refused to discuss the matter. After a long conference at which all the details were gone into, this morning, the attorney-general said there had been too much said on the case. In addition to James Baum, the crown officers, here, admit that several other witnesses, whose names have not yet been mentioned, will be called at the inquest. It develops this morning that instead of sending the original writ of certiorari obtained as a result of Lynch-Staunton's motion to Hamilton, for service on the coroner, the copy, which should have been registered here, was forwarded. The original was sent down, today, by special messenger.

TO TREAT INEBRIATES.

Provincial Plan to Aid Alcohol and Drug Victims.

Toronto, April 27.—The success of recent experiments of the hydro-therapeutic system of curing habitual drunkards and drug addicts, in the provincial hospitals for the insane at London, and Kingston will, the Globe understands, probably result in important steps being taken to enable victims to be treated at a nominal expense. The treatment is one of "boiling the craving out of the system" and some of the cures have been astonishing. One unfortunate woman was recently taken to the Kingston institution an inveterate morphine fiend. The report of the physicians to the department set forth that her body was everywhere calloused from injections, and all thought of cure had been abandoned. A treatment of three weeks, with a gradual lessening of the dose, served to get a cure. The craving for the drug being eradicated. Several cases of men who were alcoholic victims have been handled, and in every case the result has been a complete cure, according to the official reports. All desire for alcohol has been removed from the patient's system.

But with a cut finger, dishevelled clothes, and apparent fatigue, Adèle's parents are sure that she realizes that there are pleasanter experiences than going forth alone to a strange city in response to a desire for adventure.

THE SPORT REVIEW.

Interesting News From the Various Sporting Fields.

Schmidt has been doing all the catching for the Detroit Tigers. The Toronto ball team opens the season at Hanlan's Island, May 5th. Bones Allen may play inside home for Regina in the Minto cup matches. Columbus lost eight straight games in the American Baseball Association. The monument to Father Chadwick was unveiled at Brooklyn by baseball men. St. Yves expected to defeat Shrubby by two or three laps in their fifteen mile race. Columbus has purchased Outfielder Clarke from the Cleveland American League Baseball Club. Newark may protest the first game of the season, which they lost Thursday to the Toronto. The Eastern League baseball honor roll: 1908, Baltimore; 1907, Toronto; 1906, Buffalo; 1905, Providence; 1904, Buffalo; 1903, Jersey City; 1902, Toronto; 1901, Rochester; 1900, Providence; 1899, Rochester; 1898, Montreal.

Notwithstanding all the controversy and threats of the past few days it is announced definitely that the fifteen-mile race between Loggboat and Shrubby will take place as scheduled in Montreal on Saturday, May 8th.

At Durban, Natal, Walker, the Olympic 100 metres champion, broke the world's record for 150 yards, last Saturday, on the level. His time was 14.5 seconds. The track was measured by corporation surveyors. Subsequently Walker attacked the 100 yards record and covered the distance in 17.45 seconds, beating Wendell Baker's record of eighteen seconds at Fosdon Park, Boston, which was made on June 14th, 1886. Walker sails Thursday for a tour of England and the United States.

There's nothing much to say about Shrubby's victory over St. Yves on Saturday in New York, except that the Englishman is in raw form, and that the Frenchman is not the phenomenon at all distances that his going in the Derby seemed to indicate. The time, 1:26.12, is only 13.35 seconds faster than made in the Derby at the same distance, when Shrubby was ahead. Indeed, at fifteen miles Shrubby seems now invincible, as it was years ago that Appleby lowered the colors. The latter holds the record for the distance, viz., 1:30.04 3/5.
