THE BRITISH BUDGET

SOCIAL REFORMS WILL BE INTRODUCED

To Start Afforestation and Reclaim Waste Land—A Comprehensive Recast of the British Fiscal System—A Great Many Things, Hitherto Untouched, Will Be Touched.

London, April 30.—David Lloyd George's budget speech, yesterday, took four and a half hours in actual delivery, and when the chancellor sat down, exhausted, the house sat silent. The budget proposals for 1909-10 had taken its breath away.

The social reforms which Mr. Lloyd-George seeks to introduce in Britain are based, in the main, on German experience. Though the idea of setting aside £100,000 for labor exchanges, for both skilled and unskilled labor, is borrowed from France. There is to be a state insurance against loss of employment. The board of trade is developing a scheme under which only deserving workmen out of work will benefit. A vast scheme was outlined by which the state will aid in the development of natural resources, and a definite proposal was made to grant £200,000 to start afforestation and for the reclamation of waste land and the encouragement of small agricultural holdings.

The new taxation by which the estimated deficit of nearly $16,000,000 is to be made good, is the most comprehensive recast of the British fiscal system since the first free trade budget, over sixty years ago. The chancellor's proposals embody almost all the schemes which have been advanced in radical programmes for the past twenty years. The list includes a super-tax on incomes of over £5,000, a tax on mining royalties, a tax on urban undeveloped land, a tax on ungotton minerals, a tax on the unearned increment in land, increased death duties, and a tax on stock exchange speculation. The whiskey duty is increased by one-third. The tobacco duty is increased eight pence per pound. There is also an increased tax on motor cars.

WILL LIVE WITH HIM.

Redskin Runner Makes Home For Widowed Parent.

Toronto, April 30.—Thomas Longboat will move into a new house in Galley avenue. He is wired for his mother to come and live with him. Thomas Flanagan interviewed Acting-Mayor Ward and Ald. Church, and requested that the $700 the city voted to provide Longboat with an education be given to his mother in the form of a yearly allowance of $100 for seven years. The Indian's thoughtfulness for his widowed mother effectually refutes former rumors of his neglect of his parent.

NAPANEE BUDGET.

A Piano Recital of Very Great Interest.

Napanee, April 30.—The death occurred at South Fredericksburg, on April 28th, of Charles N. Elliott, aged thirty-one years and nine months. Deceased had been in poor health for several years, of tubercular trouble. The funeral takes place to-day. The remains will be taken to Tweed for burial.

A piano recital, the first of its kind ever held in Napanee, was given by pupils of Miss Florence M. Henry, in the town hall, on Wednesday afternoon, when the hall was well filled with a very appreciative audience. The different numbers of a most select programme were performed in an artistic and accomplished manner, showing the good work and high standard attained by Miss Henry, herself a graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. The numbers consisted of instrumental music and songs, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

He will spend a month there, under treatment, and then will go south for a couple of months.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

Said Society Man Attempted to Kill Wife.

St. Catharines, April 30.—A great sensation has been caused in this city by the arrest of Charles Barrillier, charged with attempting to kill his wife. The Barrilliers are prominent society people here and live in a very fine residence. About a week ago Mrs. Barrillier was removed to the hospital from her home, suffering from a severe gash in the head, which it was supposed she had received from a fall. Details of the affair have not been given out, but it is understood that the couple quarrelled and Barrillier struck his wife on the head with some heavy instrument. Mrs. Barrillier was not able to leave the hospital for some time and the doctors cannot as yet tell what the result of her injuries may be.

DIME NOVEL LURE

A BOY OF TWENTY-NINE IS THE VICTIM.

Wealthy Rhinebeck Resident. Accused of Burglary and Arson. Acquitted on Former Charge.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., April 30.—Herbert R. Clark, a wealthy young resident of Rhinebeck, was acquitted by a supreme court jury of burglary in the third degree.
There are five other indictments against Clark, charging burglary and arson.
One of them charges Clark with setting fire to the handsome mansion of Huntington, at Rhinebeck, which was destroyed, the loss being $50,000.
The trial of Clark brought to the court room many of Rhinebeck's most prominent citizens, who went on the stand as character witnesses.
Clark's father and mother and his wife and young son were present during the entire proceedings.
The burglary indictment charged Clark with breaking into a garage and stealing some tools.
According to the evidence of the witnesses, for the prosecution, Clark and his alleged accomplices had been reading dime novels of the "Deadwood Dick" type previous to the robbery.
District-Attorney Mack said he will have Clark tried on the arson charge.
Clark's attorney, John F. Ringwood, referred to his client as an "unsophisticated city boy in the country."

MAKE ENTRY

The New Sultan to Go into the City.

TO JOIN PROVINCES

AS ACCESSIBLE AS AN AMERICAN PRESIDENT.

Miss Lambert Has Written of The Butcheries on Hadjin—The Armenians Were Subjected to Great Cruelty—The American Women in the District.

Constantinople, April 30.—Sultan Mohammed V. will make his first public entry into the city, to-day, the Moslem Sabbath, when he will go to the mosque of St. Sophia for the Selamlik. He will visit parliament tomorrow. The new sultan, it is stated, will shortly make a tour of the provinces with a large military escort. He seems to aim at a democratic role and to be as accessible as an American president. It was noted that he shook hands with those who congratulated him after the accession ceremony instead of giving his robe to be kissed. Abdul Hamid's probate fate, however, seems to absorb more attention than his successor's prospects. Although his trial by court-martial has been nominally decided upon it is doubted, in many quarters, whether it will be carried out.

Miss Lambert Tells Of Butcheries. Constantinople, April 28.—A telegram was received here to-day from Miss Rose Lambert, one of the besieged American women missionaries in Hadjin. It sets forth the danger surrounding Miss Lambert and her companions. The messenger who first started with the message to the telegraph office was shot down on the way. The communication is dated Hadjin, April 26th, and says:

The rising against the Christians of Hadjin began nine days ago. The government sent troops to suppress the fighting between Mohammedans and Christians, but the men were not strong enough numerically to restore order. Many are dead and wounded on both sides.

"Desperadoes occupied the Armenian lodger five days ago and have been firing on the people without interruption since."
"The Armenian churches are now showing white flags, indicating that there will be no further resistance, yet the shooting and the plundering continues. Many shops have been plundered. The Armenian settlements and villages in the provinces have been burned and many persons killed."
"Hadjin is almost entirely without food, and animals in the city are dying of starvation. The provincial authorities have been appealed to, both orally and in writing, to send more troops to Hadjin, but thus far without result."

The American women in Hadjin are: Miss Virginia A. Billings, of Kirtland, O.; Miss Emily E. Richter, of Chicago; Miss Lambert, who is a daughter of Bishop Lambert, and Miss Baldwin. The last two mentioned were sent out by the Mennonite Brethren in Christ, of Ohio. Christian refugees by the thousand have been raised in Hadjin, and for eleven days the town has been threatened by fanatic Mohammedan tribesmen, whose camps completely encircle it.

MURDER OF A SETTLER.

Farmer Followed Tracks of Slayer's Horse.

Milestone, Sask., April 30.—Sensational evidence was brought out at the trial of Ernest Morris, formerly of Bethany, Mo., who is charged with the murder of his brother, a farmer named Kinrade, testified that Ernest was engaged by his daughter, and visited the house on the night of the murder, staying there until eleven o'clock. Upon leaving he said he was going to Milestone. Hearing of the tragic death of Charles Morris on the following morning, Kinrade became suspicious, and set to work to track Ernest by his horse's hoofs. This was easy to accomplish, owing to the fact that the horse had lost one shoe. The tracks went due south after leaving the Kinrade home, and then turned suddenly and led to within forty yards of the shanty on Charles' homestead, where Kinrade lost all trace of them on the hard ground. Kinrade excused himself for not having given his evidence at the inquest on the ground that he did not think Ernest guilty of the murder, and concluded his evidence by saying: "Now I have no possible doubt that Ernest killed his brother and then set fire to the shanty to hide his crime."

Other evidence proved that the fire which destroyed Charles' shanty occurred about one o'clock in the morning, which would be about the time Ernest reached there by the circuitous route.

SIGNED WIFE'S NAME

And He Made Money Out of Love Letters.

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—Chester M. Hamsher, in the federal court here, yesterday, pleaded guilty to a charge of signing his wife's name to love letters which he wrote to Neil Johnson, a wealthy man of Atchison, Kas., and he was sentenced to a year in jail.

The post office department could have made no objection to the love letters if Hamsher had not been mercenary in his motives. "Please send $10 by return mail—here are a million kisses for you"—that was the objectionable part of the letters.

The correspondence lasted six months and Johnson was misled of nearly $500 before he became aware of the deception and put the case before the post office authorities. Hamsher's wife knew nothing of the affair until her husband was exposed.

SENATOR WILLIAM M. STEWART.

One of the most picturesque members of the United States Senate, died at Washington.

ASKS STATE TO PAY

For the Fatal Injury to Client's Lungs.

Albany, N.Y., April 30.—A novel action is contemplated by Danforth E. Ainsworth, of Albany, former deputy state superintendent of public instruction, to hold the state liable for the death of a client who was afflicted with tuberculosis while in the employ of the state education department at the capitol.

It appears that Mr. Ainsworth's client, with two other women, became afflicted, following the death of another woman over a year ago, employed by the state. He contends that his client would not have suffered if the room in which the woman was employed had been fumigated by the state department officials as was requested.

Lord Kitchener Coming.

Montreal, April 30.—Word was received at the C.P.R. offices that Lord Kitchener, whose period of office as commander-in-chief of the army in India expires shortly will make a tour of Canada during the coming summer. According to present arrangements he will visit China and Japan in August, and will then be commissioned by the war office to come to Canada in order to examine the defensive forces of the dominion and report on their organization and administration, and how best their training can be co-ordinated.

Troubles At The Border.

Windsor, April 30.—Because she refused point blank to answer the questions of the American immigration officers, a well-dressed lady, the wife of an Aymer man, was refused admission to the United States yesterday. On account of the lady's frequent trips across the river the officers came to the conclusion that she was smuggling. Finally the traveller admitted her identity, and explained that she was a patient of a Detroit osteopath, and was crossing the river for treatment.

An Octogenarian Weds.

Cornwall, Ont., April 30.—The oldest bridegroom seen in Cornwall for a long time is Daniel Terro, a veteran of eighty-two years, who was married this week to Mrs. Louis Dophanis, a widow of sixty-seven years. The bride's maiden name was Arzilda Danault, and, like her venerable spouse, she is of French-Canadian descent. Despite their advanced years both are remarkably well preserved.

Wealth In Oil Shale.

Ottawa, April 30.—The senate committee on mines and minerals Dr. Elbs, of the geological survey, stated that the New Brunswick oil shale was far richer than the Scottish shale, from which the Standard Oil annually obtains sixty-two million gallons of oil and fifty thousand tons of sulphate of ammonia.

Struck By Lightning.

Elora, Ont., April 30.—The barn of John Barber, of the township of Nichol, near Elora, was struck by lightning early this morning and totally destroyed by fire together with the whole of the contents, including forty-five head of thoroughbred cattle. The total loss will be about $4,000, partly insured.

Ran Back For Shelter.

Port Dalhousie, Ont., April 30.—The steamer Bennington, ran back here last night, for shelter. The steward, Joseph Bernier, had a leg badly injured by the large mast block crushing it against the side of the boat. A St. Catharines doctor attended to him this morning, and he left with the boat cast-bound. All the wind-bound boats are leaving this morning.

MANY OBJECTIONS

To the Questions Put by the Citizens' Council.

Montreal, April 30.—Chief of Police Compuux was expected to be the star witness before the royal commission investigating civic affairs, to-day, but there were so many objections on the part of his legal adviser to the questions put by Mr. Laflamme, on behalf of the citizens, that it was decided to hear the chief later and give him an opportunity to come to some understanding as to whether all hotelkeepers concerned were to be heard before he could give his side of the story.

Another hotelkeeper, Lapointe, replied that he subscribed to Ald. Proulx's election fund and had a couple of prosecutions called off by paying costs after seeing the chief in police. Documents were filed by Mr. Norworthy, manager of the Dominion Securities company, regarding that concern's tender for the $2,000,000 civic loan in connection with which a request for an investigation has been made.

SECOND BIG STORM.

Montreal is in the Midst of a Blizzard.

Montreal, April 30.—This city and surrounding country are in the grasp of the second big snow storm of the week and the unusual climatic conditions are giving the quiet nouns much material for controversy. While the storm was raging west and south of here, yesterday, Montreal was enjoying clear, cool weather and was indulging in congratulations on her escape.

To-day, however, the tables are turned. On Sunday there was an unusually heavy snow fall for this time of the year and hopes were freely expressed that it was the last of the season, but it was not to be. At the outset the storm assumed the conditions of a blizzard, but as the storm progressed the temperature fell and there is a prospect of rain before long.

THE BIBLE SOCIETY

Will Appeal to Christian People For Funds.

The aim of the British and Foreign Bible Society is to give the word of God to all peoples in their own tongue at a nominal cost. In many cases those who most need this evangel are unable or unwilling to pay anything for it. The only way to bring this message of love home to such is to present free copies to those willing to accept them. This is done with good results in numberless cases. This work, however, is costly. Out of every $5 spent in producing and distributing the scriptures by the society, about $2 comes back to it from sales. For the remaining $3 it must rely upon the gifts of Christian people.

The executive of the Kingston branch, after discussing methods of raising funds for this work, decided to appeal directly to the Christian people of the city churches for a free-will offering. For this purpose special envelopes and literature, accompanied by a circular letter, have been sent to all the pastors. The churches are asked to be possible to observe the third Sunday in May as Bible Society Sunday, and to make an offering for this great Christian enterprise. It is felt that every lover of Christ ought to enjoy the privilege of contributing means to help give the word of life to the multitudes who are perishing for lack of knowledge. "Freely ye have received, freely give."

CLUBS AND LICENSES.

A Change Has Been Made in License Act.

Toronto, April 30.—During the session of the legislature which closed a few weeks ago, a change was made in the license act of the utmost importance to clubs which have charters from the government, with the liquor privilege. The change was not commented upon at the time, and in fact the license commissioners themselves were not aware of it till a day or so ago.

The change is that where formerly every club which secured a charter from the government could demand a license from the commissioners, now the commissioners are in full control and can grant or refuse a license at their discretion.
