Don't Let Scruples

Against assuming an obligation on Real Estate, deprive you. If everybody had to wait until they had enough saved to buy a home outright, mighty few people would be living in their own houses. Most homes nowadays are bought on the extended payment plan. A plan that means saving that monthly rent is worth considering.

It will cost but $25 down to buy a $800 home. $75 for a $550 home. $100 for a $1,200 home. $250 for a $1,600 home. $500 for a $2,800 home.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED IN THE LINE OF LABOR FOR MANY DAYS.

Everything Appears to Be Moving Along Satisfactorily in Kingston—No Great Boom, But Resumed Activity.

"I do not think there will be trouble of any kind, everything appears to be going on all right."

Such was the statement made by a prominent labor man, when asked about the prospects for May Day. He indicated that there was no indication of a strike, or trouble of any kind.

While there is no great boom on in Kingston, there is a story of resumed activity to be told. A glance at the number of permits being issued at the city hall, will show that great strides are being made in the building line. The manufacturers, merchants and bankers, are all doing a pretty fair business, and while, of course, it could be a great deal better, they have no great kick coming. The cold weather is holding back the sale of summer goods, and this is a great drawback to the merchants.

Real estate men state that business has been brisk, sales have been good, and land is showing a steady increase in value. There has been a great demand for houses of medium size, and the demand for small houses has been very great. May 1st, recognized all over as moving day, will bring about many changes in Kingston. The moving van will be very busy for a while. Farmers in the Kingston district have been hampered a great deal by heavy rains, which has caused trouble in the work of seeding, but for all that, they are looking for a good season. With the first spell of warm weather, they will be able to rush along the work.

Railway earnings are daily increasing, and this all goes to show that times are good. The local offices have been extra busy the past few weeks, looking after the students leaving the city.

Those who are in a position to know, predict that Kingston will this year experience one of the best years in its experience, in regard to the number of summer tourists. This will mean more money coming into the city, and someone is sure to derive a benefit.

The Mayoralty Contest. The Watertown, N.Y., correspondent of the Syracuse, N.Y., Standard says: The solution of the mayoralty problem is still a long way off. Both parties are free in admitting that his administration has been a business one, and that under his guidance better streets have been brought about, that thousands of dollars of improvements have been made, and in fact that at no time during its history has there been better management. A prominent republican said, to-day, that the organization was with Mayor Hugo (an old Kingstonian), in every sense of the word. In speaking of the outlook, this same politician said:

"If Mayor Hugo charged the city of Watertown for his services and his time, the sum of $5,000 would not cover the same. I have the opinion that he will be elected by one of the biggest majorities, for the people realize what a business administration means, and men with Frank Hugo's calibre are not seeking the office. The people will leave well enough alone."

Grand Opera House. Last evening, at the Grand opera house, the Fenberg company produced, by request, "The King and Queen of Gamblers." In the specialties Verne Sheridan sang sweetly, "In the Light of the Silver Moon," James Blackmore's two songs, "Yesterday" and "Are You Sincere," were admired. Marie McNeil, the lady compositist, was warmly applauded. Charles Hammond, the hoop roller, certainly hooped it down to the satisfaction of the audience.

To-night, amateurs' night, the company present "The Hawk and the Dove," and at the matinee on Saturday afternoon, "At Piney Ridge" will be repeated by request.

Time of Contract Expires. R. N. F. McFarlane's contract for the erection of the city building's dome expires to-day. The work is practically completed, only a few small things being unfinished. The work of erection began on Oct. 23rd. Everybody seems satisfied with the dome, which is certainly beautiful, and a big improvement upon the one destroyed by fire. The work of installing the clock and bell will be begun early next week. Every thing about the dome will be completed in three weeks, and before the influx of visitors around Victoria Day.

LODGE SOCIAL EVENT THE SPORT REVIEW

BY THE ODDFELLOWS OF CATARAQUI NO. 10.

A Fine Musical Programme Was Given—The Refreshments Were Served in the Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium—Dancing in the Lodge Room.

Last evening, Cataraqui lodge No. 10, I.O.O.F., held an anniversary "At Home" in their lodge hall in the Y.M.C.A. building, and there were over 400 in attendance, a large portion of the audience being ladies. James A. Minnes, vice-grand, presided, and introduced the following fine programme:

Vocal solo, "Sweet Thoughts of Home," C. Kelso; violin duet, (a) "The Keel Row" (E. Kross), (b) "Humoresque" (Dvorak), Norma and Mignon Telgmann; vocal solo, "Creole Love Song," Mrs. Evans; recitation, Miss Bawden; male quartette, Messrs. F. Wilson, W. Thompson, F. and A. Haffner; vocal solo, "The Song the Avul Sings," Alexander Atkins; reading, Dr. Richardson; vocal duet, "Maying," Mrs. Evans and Mr. Kelso; violin solo, (a) "Gypsy Dance" (Sarasate), (b) "Sourvenir de Posen" (Wieniawski), Mignon Telgmann; vocal solo, "Queen of the Earth," Lt.-Col. J. Galloway.

Every number received a hearty encore. The violin playing of the little Telgmann sisters was greatly enjoyed. They are popular at all entertainments where they take part. Dr. Richardson scored on the audience when he started off with a short French recitation. At the conclusion, Mr. Minnes remarked that he knew Dr. Richardson resembled Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but he never knew that he could speak French so well. The accompanists were Miss L. Walker and O. F. Telgmann. Salisbury's orchestra rendered several selections during intervals.

After the programme, the audience adjourned to the gymnasium where refreshments were served. Dancing took place in the commodious lodge room till midnight, the orchestra supplying music.

MISS IRENE GURNEY. With the Kyle Stock Company, at the Grand all next week.

Coming All Next Week. Most attractive in all features is the attraction booked at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening next, and it will require only a full house on the opening to demonstrate the full assertion of the management on behalf of the clever members of this talented organization. The leading roles are in the hands of T. E. Kyle and Miss Irene Gurney, and all of this company are noted for the excellent work in comedy and straight characters, and are bound to please the patrons who enjoy artistic work. New songs and music will be a feature of the entertainments, at popular prices. There will be a change of bill nightly, and also a special matinee for children on Saturday.

Had A Variety. Passengers on the morning train, coming into the city on the Kingston & Pembroke railway, had a variety of weather served up to them. When they left Sharbot Lake there were two or three inches of snow on the ground, and it continued to snow for some time, then they ran into a hail storm, and further on, an electrical storm, with a heavy downpour of rain.

Covered With Snow. Any person who happened to be at the Kingston and Pembroke railway station, when the morning train arrived at eight o'clock, would have imagined that it was about the middle of January, to see the tops of the cars and the platforms covered with snow. Passengers stated that there was quite a heavy snowfall at Sharbot Lake and vicinity.

A Cure For Truants. The cat-o-nine tails is evidently a good cure for truants. For a time, the police had many cases of truancy to deal with, but since this new punishment was meted out by the magistrates, there have been but few cases reported.

New Crop, Bermuda Onions. Home grown beet greens and spinach, butter beans, celery, asparagus, egg plant, cabbage, rhubarb, tomatoes, cucumbers and Boston head lettuce, at Carnovsky's.

FIVE MILE TRIAL RACE ON SATURDAY.

Efforts Will Be Made to Lower Cadet Watts' Record—City Engineer Craig Has Measured the Course.

The local runners are fast getting into trim for the Victoria day Marathon, and also for the three, five and ten mile city championships. The first trial for the three mile championship will be on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock, from the Y.M.C.A. building, when three or four runners will go over the certified course. The course was laid out, and the city engineer, who was called in, said it was correct. On Wednesday afternoon next, a new man will try to lower the record for five miles, held by Cadet Watts, and he will have to travel some, as Watts' record is 31:29-4:5. Watts will try to lower his own record next week and will also go after the ten mile shield. A number should enter for the ten mile race.

Kingston Golf Club. The annual meeting of the Kingston Golf Club was held on Thursday afternoon, and a flourishing condition of affairs was reported by the secretary-treasurer, Prof. P. G. C. Campbell. The following new members were elected: Anselmy Burrows, E. R. Hale, F. C. Ireland, B. Simpson, Dr. Edgington and P. C. Stevenson. The membership is now forty-nine, with fifty as the limit; hence there is but one vacancy.

These officers were elected: President, J. B. Carruthers; captain, Alan Palmer; secretary, P. G. C. Campbell; general committee, Lieut.-Col. Taylor, Lieut.-Col. Young, J. J. Hart, Capt. Panet, D. M. McIntyre, G. E. Hague, and the three officers; greens committee, Lieut.-Col. Taylor, Capt. Bell, J. J. Hart and the officers.

The club hopes to arrange matches this season with Ottawa, Perth and Brockville, and to enter a four-club league with Picton, Belleville and Napanee. A telephone will be placed in the club building to make things more convenient for the members.

Junior Baseball Series. On Thursday evening a meeting of the Kingston Amateur Baseball League was held in the Hall hotel. A large number were present, every team having its representatives. An important change was made in the playing rules of the league, and he issues permits to the manager of the team, holding the player's name, holding the permit with any other team, unless the manager returns him the permit and the secretary issues a new one.

An application was received from the Regiopolis College team to enter the junior series. It was considered, but the executive decided that it would not accept it, as it would make the playing season too long.

The executive ordered new bases. Opening day was discussed, and in all probability two of the city's most prominent men will throw and catch the first ball.

The following schedule was drawn up for the junior series: May 15—Irishmen vs. Shamrocks. May 22—Victorias vs. C.L.C. May 29—Irishmen vs. C.L.C. June 5—Victorias vs. Shamrocks. June 12—Shamrocks vs. C.L.C. June 19—Irishmen vs. Victorias. June 26—Shamrocks vs. Irishmen. July 3—C.L.C. vs. Victorias. July 10—C.L.C. vs. Irishmen. July 17—Shamrocks vs. Victorias. July 24—C.L.C. vs. Shamrocks. July 31—Victorias vs. Irishmen.

PROF. JORDAN REPLIES TO THE CRITICISMS MADE BY PROF. ORR.

He Still Maintains That Prof. Orr Has No Clear, Positive View on Genesis or on the Growth of the Hebrew Religion.

Prof. W. G. Jordan, D.D., of Queen's University, has written the following letter to the Toronto Globe:

I see from your issue of April 27th that Prof. James Orr has been devoting a little time to me in his address of Monday evening in Jarvis Street church. I am not going to take up your valuable space to re-open the controversy between Dr. Orr and myself. Trifling differences like the following I will not enlarge upon: "Dr. Jordan had said that the speaker attacked all critics." I would be very foolish to say such a sweeping thing; what I did say was that we have a perfect right to ask a man to be a little clearer in his statements when he attacks critics of all shades of opinion. One explanation, however, I feel that I ought to make in justice to myself and my friends in Toronto.

A few weeks ago I received a request from Dr. Elmore Harris, stating that Dr. Orr had just read my new book and wished to meet me in a friendly public discussion. I declined the offer mainly because the nature of the subject is not altogether suitable for formal public debate and partly because of the stress of unavoidable work during the examination period. Last week Dr. Orr visited Kingston and gave two lectures. On the first evening I was asked to speak, but declined to do so. On Friday evening I felt that it was a matter of courtesy to Dr. Orr himself for me to make a brief statement. I still maintain that Dr. Orr has no clear, positive view to present on the early narratives of Genesis and on the growth of Hebrew religion. Further, if the teaching of our college on these subjects is heretical, and irreconcilable with Christianity, Dr. Orr will find plenty of scope for his polemics, as the same heresies flourish in Scotland.

As for myself, I am now writing, as I have been in the past, to state my beliefs on these subjects before any suitable audience, and to answer specific questions. I am convinced that the Christian scholarship of two centuries has worked out solutions of many historical problems, and that those solutions tend to the strengthening, and not the undermining, of our faith.

After The Cabmen. Cabmen have been notified that they must not go on to the platform at the outer junction, to solicit business. In future they must stand near their cab, at the end of the platform, the same rule which applies at the downtown office. It is stated that a few days ago one of the officials of the G.T.R., who was paying a visit to Kingston, was much annoyed by the conduct of one of the "cabbies" in his endeavor to get a fare, and that as a result, this order was issued. The cabman, so it is claimed, wanted to get the official's valise, and induce him to ride.
