HAPPY EXCURSIONS

FRENCH SCHOOLGIRLS TO ENTERTAIN BRITISH.

Pupils of London Institution to Have Good Time in the French Capital. Paris, May 8.—A happily inspired manifestation of the entente cordiale is to take place next week when a number of young girls from London and provincial schools will visit Paris as the guests of students of the five city lycées for girls. The minister of public instruction has approved the scheme. A committee of ladies, including Mme. Liard, wife of the vice-rector of the Sorbonne, Comtesse Jean de Castellane, Princess de Polignac and others are busying themselves with the necessary arrangements.

There will be a series of excursions to the principal sight-seeing centres, when each English miss will have for a companion a French school girl about her own age.

On May 14th an Anglo-French concert in aid of the fund for Consumptive Children will be given under the conductorship of M. Camille Saint-Saens. There will be a girls' chorus of a thousand voices, and in addition, the girl soloists will be heard in English, Scottish, Irish, Welsh and French melodies.

The promoters of the movement are hopeful that the friendships formed on the occasion of these reunions will be continued, and the girls of the two countries who are to be thrown together next month are to be encouraged to write to each other when the business is over and they drift apart.

Watch the Skin for Bad Blood.

It Comes to the Surface in the Form of Pimples, Boils, Rashes and Humors.

Where the blood is weak and depraved the system lacks staying power and force. Eruptive disorders and unsightly blotches break out, the skin becomes yellow and muddy, the eyes lack lustre.

Reader, does YOUR blood need attention? If so get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they filter out all poisons, eliminate disease-making germs, nourish and re-vitalize every drop of blood in the body.

No medicine exerts such a marvelous influence for good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they clear the complexion, make it exquisitely beautiful; they cure pimples, rashes and skin troubles of every kind. Read the following carefully.

No Appetite—Bad Color—General Debility. "I was run down," writes Mr. Albert E. Dickson, of Fairhaven, P.O. "My color was dull and unhealthy, appetite was poor, and I constantly suffered from rheumatism.

"I found it hard to sleep, and felt worn out and tired all the time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills made an instant change. I grew stronger, my blood was restored, rheumatism vanished, to-day I am vigorous, cheery and healthy, in every respect."

You will never realize what good health means until you feel the quickening, vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every tired, overstrained, nervous man and woman should use this grand tonic regularly. Life will then be full of happiness and buoyant health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.

MONTREAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The Prices Paid For Various Products. Montreal, May 7.—We have suffered another break in the butter market today, owing to pressure to sell on the part of holders. Everyone was offering their goods to-day at 22c., and sales are reported as low as 21½c. Finest eastern townships creamery at this level of price is more or less attractive, and it looks very much as if this will be about the current price to-morrow at the country markets, that is to say 21c. F.O.B. factories. The first meeting of the Huntingdon butter and cheese board was held to-day, and the offerings there were sold at 21½c. Receipts to-day were 1,500 packages, and this large quantity helped considerably to keep prices on the down grade.

The high prices paid yesterday at the country boards were fully maintained to-day. At all the boards buyers were eager to get all the cheese they could lay their hands on, and prices ruled from 12c. to 12½c., white cheese selling at slightly more than colored in every case. At Picton, the bulk of the cheese were colored and sold at 12½c., one lot of white offered selling at 12½c. It looks very much as if the top has been reached now. The quantity is increasing rapidly and there will soon be ample cheese to fill present requirements without paying high prices for them.

The egg market keeps firm, and prices are well maintained at 19½c. to 20c. per doz. for selected new laid stock. There is a steady stream of eggs to the cold stores, but dealers are complaining about the high cost, and are not looking for much profit in this business this year.

The offerings of live hogs on this market were light this morning, and were quickly picked up at prices ranging from $8.15 to $8.25 for selected lots weighed off cars.

WILL NOT DO WELL.

A Colonel Talks About the New Order.

London, Ont., May 8.—When seen about the new legislation against the selling of liquor in the officers' mess at the camp, Col. Peters expressed himself very strongly in the matter. The militia act had prevented the sale of liquor in the messes, but had permitted it in the officers' messes. The trouble arose out of the fact that liquor was sometimes passed from the officers' mess to the men.

Col. Peters does not think that the action will have any favorable effect on the conduct of the camp, but rather the opposite effect.

"I've never seen any drunkenness in the camp," he said. "The men could not get drunk there. Now, under this regulation they will come down town and get drunk. The two regulations have been tried in the United States army, and the results of the total prohibition in camp have been anything but satisfactory."

Col. Peters remarked that they were killing the militia by this sort of regulations. "The idea seems to be that as soon as a man puts on a uniform he becomes a blackguard and a loafer."

THE SPORT REVIEW.

Interesting News From the Various Sporting Fields.

Tyrus Cobb has regained his form and is batting in great style for the Detroit Tigers.

Cobalt has apparently dropped the lacrosse idea and will now organize a soccer team instead.

Napoleon Lajoie, of Cleveland, has been out of the game, as the result of being spiked by a base runner.

The Montreal A.A.A. track, where the Lombard-Shrubbs race will be held this afternoon, is three laps to the mile.

Edmunds, of Toronto, beat Young Muldoon, the latter quitting in a second bout, after Edmunds had a fall to his credit.

Svanberg and Cibot are regarded as favorites in the New York Marathon Derby this afternoon. "Tom" Ek picks the Swede, but Shrubbs says, "Watch Cibot."

"Pat" Powers has the following long-distance runners under contract: St. Yves, Dorand, White, Simpson, Maloney, Corral, Cibot, Orpheus, Svanberg, Crooks, Marsh.

The Marathon game in Canada bids fair to surpass the United States contests, for there is practically no limit to the number of Canadian Marathoners yet to be heard from.

Officials of the Illinois Athletic Club have announced that they are trying to match Max Lutheg and Eugene Tremblay for the lightweight wrestling championship of America, on May 29th, at Chicago.

Various wise persons might as well refrain from further remarks about one Wagner being all done. In three games, playing against the world's champions, he has only stolen six bases, and made eight hits. When he gets into shape he may begin to play some real baseball.

Hamilton Times: Sherring cannot be blamed for joining the professional runners. He has a lot of good races in him yet and the desire to run. The C.A.A. czars, who have whipsawed a lot of less deserving athletes, refused to give him his card, so he couldn't run in amateur events. So what could the poor boy do?

"I approve of Sunday baseball with out the charge for admission, and believe every one else should do so. Narrow minds at the head and in the church do more evil than good." Such was the declaration made by Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor, in an address before the Men's Social Club of the Classon Avenue Presbyterian church, Chicago.

Pelix Carvajal, the Cuban runner, is five feet four and a half inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. In January he took on nine American soldiers at Juanjama and made them all, running in relays, quit after he had covered forty-one miles. A while ago he ran from one end of Cuba to the other, more than a thousand miles, in twenty-six days. Another time he ran steadily for eight hours in an exhibition.

John P. Wagner, the $10,000 shortstop of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the greatest man in baseball. That is his Christian name; the other is "Honus," or "Hans." Wherever men and boys play baseball they know of Wagner. They have read and talked about him for years, and they are still talking about him. On Sunday and on Monday last Wagner's name was flashed across the country. He stole second; third and home on Sunday, and on Monday he got five hits out of six times up, stole three bases, on the both days he did some wonderful fielding.

ARRAYED AS BUTTERFLIES. Fad For Bright Colors Strikes Male Society. Vienna, May 8.—Suddenly forsaking neutral tints, masculine Vienna has taken on the glory of the butterfly. The fashionable promenades of the city present a curious spectacle, for if women are this season wearing brighter colors than ever before, the men appear to be outvying them, and, if cannot be denied, with success.

All men with any claims to belong to the fashionable world have adopted with a suddenness that savors of rearrangement soft hats of the most delicate tints of pale blue, mauve, dove color, sea green, olive, violet and a multitude of lawn shades.

The hats are small, and are trimmed with a broad band of the same shade as the felt. They have supplanted all other modes alike with youths and men well on in years. They are invariably worn with the brims turned down.

ROAD TO OLD AGE

PAVED WITH PIE SAYS FORMER MAYOR.

Smith Ely, Who is Eighty-Five, Attributes His Strength to the Use of Sweets Throughout His Life—Dessert Always the Better Part of His Meal.

Everybody with a taste for pastry or a weakness for sweets will hail with joy the explanation of Smith Ely, mayor of New York city in 1877-78, and now eighty-five years old, as to his prolonged life.

"Sweets did it," says Mr. Ely, in an article contributed to next month's Medico-Legal Journal. "I don't know that this diet of sweets has benefited my disposition, but it has given me strength to undergo the nervous strain and excitement of a political career in Albany, Washington and New York that would have shortened the existence of a beef-eater."

"My parents, like many others," says Mr. Ely, "thought that sweets of any sort were unwholesome for children, and I enjoyed only such things in my childhood within strict limitations. Consequently, when I attained the age of sixteen and found employment downtown, with permission to dine as I pleased, I made up for lost time. My regular meal for many months consisted of three or four pieces of bakers' pie. At all periods of my life the dessert has always been the better part of the meal."

"I resided for more than twenty years in the neighborhood of the Fifth avenue hotel, and during all that period it was my regular habit, on my way home from clubs and entertainments, to stop at Mallard's and have a meringue glace, followed with a cup of hot chocolate with whipped cream."

"It has been, and still is, my habit to place a lump of confectionery of some sort in my mouth upon retiring for the night."

VAST WEALTH OF FRANCE.

Large Fortunes Few—Ten Millionaires in Country.

Paris, May 8.—The Viscount d'Avenol has given an interesting lecture on the wealth of France. He said that in 1909 France finds herself ten times richer than she was in the middle ages, and six times richer than she was seventy-five years ago, during the time of King Louis Philippe, when her wealth was $9,000,000,000. Now it stands at $16,000,000,000.

This wealth has been acquired almost entirely during the last half century, and is in the hands of the army of small landowners who have taken the place of the few owners of vast estates which have been broken up.

France has a very small number of people possessing large fortunes. Only 5,000 have incomes of $20,000 a year. There are only ten millionaires, who enjoy incomes above $1,000,000 a year.

Loaded. Judge W. L. Walls, of Cody, Wyo., according to Lippincott's, has a sarcastic humor which has made many culprits squirm, and among the number was a defendant in a recent cattle-stealing case, who was trying to explain that it would have been quite impossible for him to bring into town the best he was accused of having stolen and butchered, owing to the fact that his two pack horses were heavily loaded with other things.

One horse, he had told the jury, was packed with his fur overcoat, mining implements, etc., etc.

"And what was on the other horse?" inquired the judge.

"Well, there was a gallon of whiskey—there was a gallon of whiskey—The flustered defendant could think of nothing else.

"I knew a gallon of whiskey was a load for a man," said the judge dryly, "but I didn't know it was a load for a horse."

Not His Business. Everybody's Magazine. "Pow'ful fertile country down them in Texas," said the colonel. "Yes, seh! Why, seh, I know spots down there where the trees grow so close together that you all couldn't shove your hand between their trunks. And same, seh! Why, seh, I've seen Fehginyuh dead in those same forests with antlers eight feet spread! Yes, seh!"

At this point some meddlesome idiot asked the colonel how such deer ever managed to get their antlers between such trees trunks.

"Theh, seh," said the colonel, drawing himself up with squeaking dignity, "is theh business!"
