Child Opens Drawer of Sewing Machine While Parent is Out of Room-She Tries in Vain to Clear His Throat.

Brooklyn, N.Y., May 21.-Henry Stiefe, three years old, of No. 55 North Nipetcenth street, choked death in his mother's arms, yesterday, while the woman was frantically rushing to and fro on the sidewalk near her home, screaming for help. The boy, while alone in a front room, opened a sewing machine drawer and took out a button. He put it into his mouth and it lodged in his throat.

As the boy was writhing on the floor rushed in from the kitchen and found his face turning black, She discovered what had happened, and while trying to dislodge the button she ran with the child in her arms to the street and began to scream.
