LAURIER WILL RETIRE. Some Tory papers are saying "Laurier may retire," the Whig can confidently declare "Laurier will retire," but only when death has foreclosed on him.

HE DOES NOT FORGET. It is an accusation against the federal government that the increase of salary for the inside service at Ottawa, the flat rates covered by Bill No. 187, represent "an election debt."

It is an accusation against the federal government that the increase of salary for the inside service at Ottawa, the flat rates covered by Bill No. 187, represent "an election debt." So says the Toronto News.

The elections came on suddenly, and during the campaign a grievance was developed in Ottawa. It was to the effect that the government, with all the evidence before it, had shown no disposition to remedy the situation.

It was charged that this assurance was tantamount to a bribe. Now it is "an election debt," and strange to say, it is not disputed on its merits, and the only fault of the opposition lies in the fact that all the officials have not been given higher salaries.

EDUCATION OFFICE BLUNDERS. Kingston is to have a Model school for another year, and, as in 1908, it is to meet the requirements of the district.

The fire and light committee have an excuse for examining the applications for the fire chiefship in camera. It is that the present positions of the applicants would be imperiled.

This was observed as Empire Day in the public schools. The date is the 23rd, but as that will not be a school day the exercises had to take place earlier.

It was brought out that in 1904 the total charge on the provincial treasury for Normal and Model schools was $84,604. The estimates for the first ten months of the present year for the same service is $171,251.

Mr. Borden is an admirer of the U. S. government. What is there about it which commands the affection of any Canadian legislator? It does not assume responsibility for any legislation.

Good To Themselves. The members of the senate refuse to reform that body. The wealthy old gentlemen will not part with that $2,500 a year—not if they can help it, and they believe that they can.

Beck's New Name. Guelph Mercury. Adam Beck is generally called the power minister, but the Hamilton Spec. has a new one for him, the Pop-wower minister.

ALDERMEN ON THEIR TRIAL. It distresses all those who are interested in the success of the public utilities to learn that the Light, Heat and Power committee cannot do business because not favoured with a quorum of members.

ence, though it has been made apparent that the committee should meet and attend to business of an urgent character.

One has to recall that this lack of attention to details, and at critical times, is a characteristic of the council committees. They are changed from time to time, with the changes among the aldermen, and the result is detrimental to the public interests, and to the business of the department.

Would they serve gratuitously? In all probability they would—until, at least they had demonstrated their capacity or success. Commissioners, if acting at present in place of aldermen, would be seized with the necessities of the hour.

EDITORIAL NOTES. Brockville hotel men want the photographs of all those who are put upon the Indian list. Good idea. Don't you think so, Inspector Wright?

Mr. Borden sums up the federal session by saying that the government was on its defence all through it. Well, if somebody who was not interested would give the opposition a certificate of character and tell just what it accomplished the leader would be entitled to receive bouquets.

The Witness had a splendid women's number. The fair sex are supposed to have done all the literary work upon it, and it is very much to their credit.

And, when the Woman's Christian Temperance Union plead for a sober soldiery, why should newspapers in Canada tell them that if they insist on the government enforcing its own laws and trying to keep their boys sober in the camp as their mothers and fathers wish them to be—and their employers insist that they must be—why are they told that the women must come and give them tea and coffee?

SHOULD BE NO LIQUOR IN THE CANTEENS OF MILITARY CAMPS.

A Montreal Lady Writes the Whig on the Subject—She Takes Issue on the Meaning of "Canteen."

Montreal, May 20.—(To the Editor): In reference to your editorial, entitled "The Canteen Must Go," in your issue of May 12th, will you permit me to take issue with you in regard to the meaning of canteen? The canteen is not a soldiers' saloon, but a soldiers' grocery and provision store.

LOCAL THEATRICALS. In Aid of the Fund to Fight Tuberculosis.

On Tuesday evening at the Grand Opera House the daughters of the Empire will present an entertainment, consisting of theatricals, tableaux, singing and dancing that will be a rare treat to all who see it.

Among the principals in the theatricals and singing are Mrs. K. Blair, Mrs. F. Cartwright, Mrs. J. J. Harty, Misses K. O'Hara, Beatrice Tandy, Norma Hughes and Phyllis Taylor and Carl Tandy.

Facts Coming Out. The Fredericton Gleason admits that the "imperial" tribunal which inquired into the Central railway matter published a "progress" report twelve days before the general elections.

"An Englishman's Home." Ottawa Citizen: Those who have seen a Yeomanry major gallop up to the front of a Canadian mounted infantry regiment, and, after boisterously calling it to attention, adjust his moustache and, looking the regiment over for a moment, exclaim: "Why, damn it, you're not my men. Oh, beg pardon, I'm in the wrong shop," would not be surprised to witness such a scene as takes place in "An Englishman's Home."
