

REVOLUTIONISTS VERSUS ROYALISTS IN PERSIA

The forces of the shah, the king of kings, have by no means had it all their own way at Tabriz. During the last two weeks, the whole civilized world has been wrung with the story of street fighting in Constantinople. But in far-off Persia, in the town of Tabriz, street fighting of a terrible nature has been taking place almost without cessation for six months. A quarter of the town has been in the hands of 5,000 separate revolutionists, who have kept up a heroic struggle against the hordes of wild Kurds which the shah has sent against them. All the streets and narrow alleys in this quarter were barricaded and held night and day, while the dry river-bed that skirts the town to the north was the theatre of daily skirmishes between the ever-watchful riflemen. The fighting continues month in and month out with varied success. Sometimes the revolutionists seize a point of vantage, sometimes the shah's troops. But neither seems able to make any decided way. The above picture represents the revolutionists defending the bridge in the Devachi quarter of Tabriz.

WHAT IS REMARKED

LARGE BUTTER AND CHEESE EXPORT TRADE POSSIBLE.

If Guided By a Uniform Plan of Careful Procedure on Part of Dealers—Some Hints.

Montreal Witness.

The cold weather which has recently been general, has acted as a deterrent to the make and sale of cheese. The factories are not operating on a supply nearly as large as they had expected to. The prices are holding up well, but the export business is not curtailed thereby, as might have been expected, because the demand in the British Isles markets is considerable, and the supplies are not excessive. The Canadian produce continues the favorite on the English market, and where a high price is justifiable and necessary the Britisher will comply.

If reasonable weather sets in there will be a reduction in the price of cheese, which will form a better basis for export trade.

The outlook for a remunerative export butter trade with the English market is somewhat doubtful. It need not be so, however, if dealers will give proper attention to the packing of butter, and consider themselves about the appearance of the shipments. First impressions count for much with the English merchant, and a careless box, full of knots and kinks, has small attractions for the buyer in England.

Locally, the produce dealers insist that these details should be given more careful attention, and he knows that with butter, which is not properly packed, and which when cut, was found to be speckled with bubble holes, the prospects for its profitable sale was much diminished, and its value considerably lessened.

The pasteurized milk, which is now being made, is of a good quality, but the sale of it is often rendered unprofitable by a hasty method of buying, and a ridiculous practice of undercut-ting, which destroys the possibilities of a broad and profitable sale.

If these faults are rectified the way is paved for a much larger export trade, especially when, in the near future, a fine grade of butter will be produced from pasture-fed cows.

TUNNEL THROUGH ROCKIES.

At Cost of $1,500,000 Big Grade is Overcome.

Field, B.C., May 21.—In a few weeks the famous Big Hill at Field, with its terrific grade, its safety switches, and its banks of half-charred cinders, will be a thing of the past as far as the C.P.R. is concerned.

For twenty-five years it has been a huge burden to the company. On Wednesday last the separating rock of the second of the spiral tunnels between Field and Hector was broken through. The two horses met within a fraction of an inch. Nothing much remains to be done except to lay the steel through the tunnelling over the new roadbed in connection with it.

The contractors, Macdonnell and Gzowski, started operations in September, 1907, and estimate that they will be able to hand over the work to the C.P.R. in about a month's time.

The tunnel has cost the C.P.R. $1,500,000, but the great saving in locomotive power, etc., will amply repay even this large expenditure. The total length of the two long tunnels is something over a mile and they are the first spiral tunnels ever driven on the American continent.

FLUNG INTO A CHEST.

Express Messenger on Southern Train Roughly Used.

Augusta, Ga., May 21.—Two robbers boarded southern passenger train No. 17 at Warrentonville, S.C., ten miles east of here, last night, got the drop on Express Messenger Thomas L. Hutton, knocked him senseless with a piece of rubber hose and ransacked in an empty express chest. The robbers secured about $200. The robbers rode into Augusta, and left the train in the heart of the city. The robbery was discovered when the messenger was liberated at the Union station. Negro porters who were engaged in unloading the express located the imprisoned man by his vigorous kicking within the chest.

WILL MAKE FIGHT.

Brantford Company Will Run Cars Next Sunday.

Brantford, Ont., May 21.—The first move to establish a Sunday car service in this city, will be made by the street railway company, on Sunday next, when cars will run over the city lines regularly to Michawake park. The management announced that it had that legal right, and intended to use it. The park is just outside the city, and is a favorite resort for Sunday visitors, who now travel by the Brantford and Hamilton Radial, which operates on Sundays. The Local Day Alliance has already taken issue on the matter, and an interesting fight is promised.

ENCOURAGE LAY PREACHER.

Sir Robert Perks' Advice to Methodism.

Ottawa, May 21.—Sir Robert Perks spoke in the Dominion Methodist church on plans for the formation of a united, federated and world-wide Methodist brotherhood. He urged the church in Canada to make more use of the laymen, pointing out that in Britain of 25,000 preachers, 20,000 were "lay." He suggested that the new brotherhood, which was partly intended for the relief of the poor, might immigrate as members to Canada, more worthy men than the disreputable Central Europeans.

TO MAKE ENQUIRY

Of Conditions As to Pupils at the Raja Yoga.

COL. JUSTO GARCIA VELEZ

Havana, May 21.—Secretary of State Justo Garcia Velez has ordered the chancellor of the Cuban legation at Washington, to go to Point Loma, Cal., and make a thorough investigation of conditions surrounding the Cuban pupils at the Raja Yoga.

The secretary took this action on the strength of reports that Cuban children at Mrs. Katherine Tugley's institution are not being treated as well as other children under the care of the same institution.

La Defiance, a Santiago journal, has also denounced the treatment of the children, which Mrs. Tugley calls her "Lotos Buds."

POOR BOY TO MILLIONS.

H. H. Rogers Achieved Success Attained By Few.

New York, May 21.—Henry H. Rogers, who died Wednesday, was a money-maker, and one of the most successful of the so-called Standard Oil group. He began life as a poor boy at Fair Haven, Mass., where he was born, and there retained his legal residence until the day of his death. He is variously reported as having started life as a newsboy and as a driver of a grocery cart, but whatever his humble start in business, he achieved success attained by few men of a generation. He was a man of many friends and an enthusiastic yachtsman.

Until recently he had held the reins of the Standard Oil company, following the retirement of John D. Rockefeller, although J. D. Archbold attended to the routine management of the great corporation.

Just how much money Mr. Rogers leaves is not known. His fortune is variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000, which will make his son, H. H. Rogers, Jr., one of the richest young men in the country.

Violated Customs Laws.

Halifax, N.S., May 21.—The French fishing schooner Dictator, which was seized at North Sydney by Capt. J. W. Gordon, of the government cruiser Gladiator, on Thursday last, for violating the customs laws, has been fitted into and sailing from St. Ann's last summer without entering and clearing with the customs officer, the maximum penalty for which is $400. The vessel was dealt with leniently, however, and released on payment of $50.
