

NEW YORK WOMEN IN LATEST FAD.

Mrs. James B. Eustis

Mrs. A. Stewart Walker

Both Mrs. James B. Eustis and Mrs. Walker took part in a series of picture dances during the past week. In one of her dances Mrs. Eustis performed with a 40 pound python. Her costume was striking in its originality.

WHAT WHIG CORRESPONDENTS TELL US.

The Tidings From Various Points in Eastern Ontario—What People Are Doing And What They Are Saying.

Washburn Items.

Washburn, May 21.—The farmers are about through seeding. Planting potatoes is the order of the day. The Cold Spring factory is turning out a first class article, much to the advantage of the patrons. Recent visitors were: Miss Waddell and Mr. Carmichael, at J. Ball's; Mrs. McCay and daughter, Aggie, at W. Wood's; Frederick Scott, at Dudley Shannon's; Mr. and Mrs. George Cuddy, at Mrs. Hamilton's, Cushingdale.

Selby Personal.

Selby, May 21.—R. Paul is buying eggs. E. Anderson spent a few days this week back at his farm. Mrs. Dafae is renewing old acquaintances here. The funeral of Mrs. J. Grange was held to the Methodist church and was largely attended. Mrs. Edgar spent a few hours with her mother, who is very ill. Mrs. D. McKim and Mrs. Huot spent a few days in Napanee recently. Visitors: Mrs. Winter and daughter, at J. McGuiness'; C. Dean and wife, at E. Williams'; R. Lucan and wife at G. Vallenau's; J. Tuoloch and wife at E. Anderson's; Miss Grange at J. Grange's.

Tips From Picton.

Picton, May 21.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mulholland, on Tuesday, was largely attended. Interment took place at Glenwood cemetery. The farm formerly occupied by Guernsey Stevens has been purchased by Church Bros. Picton, and they are making improvements. The road grader is doing excellent work to the country roads, and it is quite an improvement on the old way of doing the annual routine of road-work. Mrs. Collins, who has been ill, is greatly improved, and will live with her daughter, in town, for the summer. A. Powers is making great improvements to his store.

Joyceville Jottings.

Joyceville, May 21.—The weather is quite favorable for the farmers as they are trying to get in their crops. School is closed this week, as the teacher, Miss Anglin, is attending the convention at Kingston. Edward Acnew and William Trotter are on the sick list, as also is Mrs. James Donaldson. The Brick and Tile company has resumed work again at Wash-

A MILITARY REVIEW

To Be Held at Barriefield, Monday Morning.

Col. W. D. Gordon, officer commanding Eastern Ontario, has issued the following orders for a military review on Barriefield common on Monday morning:

The corps detailed below will parade on Barriefield common in honor of Victoria day, the 24th inst.:

Gentleman cadets, Royal Military College (by permission of the commandant.)

The Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, "C" company, 1st Regiment, National Guard, New York (39th Separate company.)

14th Princess of Wales Own Rifles:

The troops present will be under the command of Lieut.-Col. Burstell, R.C.H.A., who will detail a brigade major and brigade sergeant-major.

The troops will be reviewed by Col. W. D. Gordon, officer commanding Eastern Ontario.

The several corps will parade in review order and proceed to Barriefield independently in time to be drawn up in position in line at 10:20 a.m. in the following order from the right: R. C. Horse Artillery, gentleman cadets, R.M.C., "C" company, 1st Regiment, N.G., N.Y., (39th Separate company), 14th P.W.O. Rifles.

Two marksmen from each corps will be detailed to report to the brigade major on the parade ground at 10 a.m.

Parade states from each corps must be handed to the brigade major on arrival on the grounds.

The force will march past, artillery at a walk and trot, infantry in column and quarter column.

At the conclusion of the march past, the force will re-form on the original ground and advance in review order.

Column of route will then be formed, infantry in fours, and the force will march off from the right, via Ontario, Brock, King, Barrie, Princeton and Wentworth to Queen street.

On reaching there each corps will be dismissed to its private parade.

Death At Piccadilly.

Piccadilly, May 20.—B. Shay and family will move from this vicinity. He has bought a farm out on the front.

B. Bottler went through here buying pigs. He is paying $7.75. The farmers say it is the highest they were ever offered. The Presbyterian Sunday school has reopened.

Death visited the home of G. M. Knight, when his aged mother passed away.

He was unable to rest. Her funeral sermon was preached in the Methodist church. She leaves four sons and four daughters—Mrs. Thomas Kennedy; Cole Lake; J. Walroth, Reynoldsdon; Mrs. John Walker, Colling Bay; Mrs. Colter, Glenvale; John, Kingston; Warren; Cobalt; Robert, of this place, and Chester, on the homestead. "What's happened?" asked the postmaster.

"He seen an advertisement in one o' them papers that's published down in Maine sayin' if he'd send a dollar they'd tell him about a sure way to cure seasickness."

" Didn't they tell him?"

"Yes, they told him all right, but it's a blame swindle, just the same. The answer he got was, 'Travel on the cars.' By jing, they ain't no use tryin' to beat these city sharpers, but I got ahead of 'em once."

"How did you manage it?"

"I seen one of their advertisements that said if I'd send $2 they'd let me know how to keep my razor from pullin'. Course I knew there was some sell about it somewhere, so I wan't surprised when the answer come to let my whiskers grow."

"But, how did you get ahead of them?"

"One of the dollars I sent 'em was a counterfeit I'd got shoved off on to me at the county fair."

That's About All.

Catholic Standard and Times.

"What then?" asked the professor, "is the exact difference between logic and sophistry?"

"Well," replied the bright student, "if you're engaged in a controversy it's just the difference between your line of argument and the other fellow's."

Have You Cold Sores?

Rubbing in glycerine and vaseline won't cure in a month. You need a powerfully healing ointment like Dr. Hamilton's. Rub it on night and morning and the cold sore is cured. For this purpose alone Dr. Hamilton's Ointment should be in every house. 50c. boxes sold everywhere.

IF YOU ADVERTISE

You Need the 1909 Canadian Newspaper Directory.

According to the 1909 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory, just over 1,000 daily newspapers, 1,013 weekly or semi-weekly, 262 monthly or semi-monthly, and 14 published less frequently.

These figures can be relied on, as the Canadian Newspaper Directory is published by the oldest and largest Advertising Agency in the Dominion, A. McKim, Limited, of Montreal and Toronto. This is the Sixth Edition of their Directory, which fills a very real need in Canada, and deserves a place on the desk of every business man, whether he is an advertiser or not.

In addition to listing and describing Canadian periodicals, the directory supplies a comprehensive gazetteer giving the population, the chief industries, the railway, telegraph, banking facilities, and other interesting features of every newspaper city, town and village in Canada.

The book contains over 430 pages. It is splendidly bound and is certainly a credit alike to the publishers and to Canadian newspapers generally.

A. McKim, Limited, are particularly well qualified to edit and publish this, the standard book of reference on Canadian publications. They are the pioneers in the Advertising Agency field in the dominion, the McKim Agency having been founded in Montreal in January, 1889, twenty years ago, by Anson McKim, who is still at the head of the business.

During all this time they have been the acknowledged leaders in this line in Canada, and the agency business has been developed from a very small beginning—then growing only the functions of the middle man—to a very large producing enterprise which runs into the millions.

Years ago McKims recognized that one of the requisites for successful advertising is a thorough knowledge of advertising mediums, and they began the publication of the Canadian Newspaper Directory, which is now recognized as the most complete and accurate work of the kind published.

Protest From The Gallery.

Philadelphia Post.

Charles Frohman once organized a company of colored artists to play Othello, of which he tells a good story. In the scene between the Moon and Desdemona, where Othello demands the handkerchief, the actor who was playing the title-role, confused vociferously with impulsive "Desdemona," cried, "give me that handkerchief!" But the doomed lady only babbled of Cassio, and never shouted again. "I ast ya for the second time to git me dat han'-kerchief!" Still the fair one parried the issue with talk of Cassio, and the kindly Othello, now thoroughly incensed, bellowed, "Woman, for de third, and last time I tell you to feth me dat han'-kerchief! Away!"

As he was just about to open his mouth again a big leather-lunged pug in the top gallery shouted down at him, "Fo' heaven's sake, nigger, why doan yo' wive yo' nose on yo' sleeve an' let de show go on?"

A Realistic Actor.

Woman's Home Companion.

Malcolm was three years old. He stood stock still in the middle of the floor, one arm extended horizontally. His mother, looking up from her sewing, saw the door open.

" Shut the door, Malcolm, please," she said.

No response. She repeated her request. " Still no response."

"I assed you to shut the door."

Still Malcolm stood in the middle of the floor with his arm outstretched and did not move.

"Malcolm," said his mother, "if you don't shut the door at once you shall have to punish you."

Malcolm burst into tears and flung himself on his mother's knees. "Muvver," he cried, "I was bein' a wooden sign, an' wooden signs can't shut doors!"

Memory Studies.

Boston Record.

A small boy went into a South Boston drug store and rubbed his left foot up and down his right leg in an effort to remember something that had escaped him.

"Say," he began, "will you tell me the name of the place where we Americans have many soldiers?"

"Fort Sheridan?"

"Oh, that's right," he said.

"That ain't just it, but it's some-where around there."

"Perhaps you mean Manila?"

"Manila! That's right! I knew I would get it after awhile. I want a bottle of manila extract for flavorin' They're going to have ice cream."

Reaches The Bone.

Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A striking illustration of the growth of business population is furnished by an assertion in New York that nearly twice as many people are carried up and down in the elevators of these buildings as are carried horizontally on the transit routes of that city. A calculation of the work of the 8,000 passenger elevators in New York estimates their total transport at 6,500,000 passengers per day, while the public service commission's figures put the total passengers per day on the surface, elevated and subway cars at 3,500,000.

Journalism At Midasville.

Greenville Tribune.

The Tribune was out on time last Saturday, but in some cases was late in reaching subscription readers for the reason that we ran out of one-cent stamps and were forced to wait until Tuesday last before the postmaster could get a stock. Yes, indeed, we had the price all right.

We have been asked to enlarge the paper—that is, add more pages, but we cannot do at present. It is all that my man Friday and myself can do to get it out as it is. I want to say that I write every line that appears in these columns, and as soon as the paper is printed I get busy at folding and wrapping and licking postage stamps.

After a man has been carried three blocks beyond his street he is willing to walk back several more for the privilege of conversing with the conductor.
