DUTY OF THE PROVINCE.

Statistics may show, as Dr. Osler contends, that tuberculosis is on the decrease. His formidable array of figures goes to prove that in the larger cities of America and Europe the percentage of deaths from phthisis is very much lower than it was ten mon precaution are doing their share towards the most desirable results, have its isolation hospital for the treatment of consumptives. The most each municipality can offer is hack, and it is better than nothing, and the poorest protection from the inclement weather. The provincial government can very well afford to lead in the establishment of hospitals, on high ground, away from the populous centres, in several places in the province, and it will probably take action when the premier crops antiquated theories and becomes somewhat up-to-date in his ideas.

SHUT OUT THE FREAKS.

Do we want the Dowieites, or any branch or section of them, in Canada? Certainly not! They had lodgment near Chicago. Under the inspiration of the leader they were given to various extravaganzas. A Word To Conductors. There are frequent complaints about local street railway conductors not being on the alert to notice when passingers desire to get off the cars. Frequently people have to pull the bellcord themselves because the conductor is attending to everything else but his business-gaping at the surroundings or talking with those on the rear of the car. It is most annoying for passengers to have to wait until near the unattentive conductor. The street railway management is, no doubt, eager to please, so here's a text for a
