

Harry Reid Knows.
G. W. Mahood, the druggist, does not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on every bald head, but if there is any life left in the roots of your hair Parisian Sage will stimulate the hair bulbs and cause your hair to grow again. Here is one case. "I am now using the second bottle of your Parisian Sage, and can notice a new crop of hair appearing. I am glad to say it is a darker color than my hair was before I became bald." Harry Reid, 10 Manhattan St., Rochester, N.Y.

Don't wait until your bald before using Parisian Sage; use it now. Kill the dandruff germ and prevent baldness. G. W. Mahood, the druggist, sells Parisian Sage at 50c. a large bottle, and he guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure all diseases of the scalp, or money back. Parisian Sage is a delightful invigorating hair dressing; it makes the hair soft, fluffy and beautiful.

AND AGAIN NO QUORUM

THE CITY'S BUSINESS IS NEGLECTED

By Members of the Light, Heat and Power Committee—Important Matters Held Up For Lack of a Quorum.

"I will call a meeting of this committee for Thursday evening, and if a sufficient number of members do not attend to constitute a quorum, we'll go on without them. The business of the city cannot suffer through the failure of aldermen to attend to business."

This was the statement made to press representatives by Ald. Elliott, chairman of the light, heat and power committee, yesterday afternoon, when, after waiting till nearly five o'clock he was unable to get enough members together to constitute a quorum. Ald. Carson and Rigney were the other two in attendance.

This committee is getting notorious for not attending to business, and at a very important period, too. The street railway power question has to be dealt with, as well as the gas tank question, and every day's delay is a serious thing.

Manager Folger was prepared to report on the street railway power question. He figured that the total cost of supplying power to the company during 1908 was 2.23 cents a kilowatt hour, this figure including every charge that could possibly be made. The company is paying at the rate of 1.66 cents.

Manager Folger also reported that if the street railway ceased to be a customer of the city, the cost of producing electricity at switchboard would increase from 1.87 cents a kilowatt hour to 2.09 cents, so that it is a benefit to have the street railway as a customer.

GLARING ENCROACHMENT

Of Building on Princess Street—A Revenue Scheme.

While there are scores of porticos that encroach on lines of streets, if one wants to view real encroachment let him take a walk up the west side of Princess street and gaze about him. Near the corner of Princess and King streets a couple of buildings encroach from three to five feet over the street line. There is quite a job in the walk at the point in question. Further up, at Wellington street, another glaring encroachment is visible to the naked eye. From Montreal to King street the encroachments of buildings is really fierce. No wonder Princess street is narrower than it should be when buildings encroach so glaringly on the thoroughfare.

Only when some of the old buildings are removed can the line of streets be maintained. The city engineer will not allow new structures to encroach. If building fronts are torn out they will have to be rebuilt from the back.

It is suggested that a charge of ten dollars a year should be made for every encroachment of buildings or porticos on city property. If this were done the city council could collect a revenue of $1,200 or $1,400 a year. A live board of works would take up this matter and create a new revenue which the city could well afford to receive with open arms.

Montreal And Quebec.

A veritable edition de luxe among railroad pamphlets has been issued by the Grand Trunk railway system to proclaim amongst tourists the glories of the cities of Montreal and Quebec. The brochure is beautifully printed and generally arranged in the artistic style of earlier days, when the ornamentation of a volume was regarded as an important incident to its presentation of reading matter. It is also very well written, and gives an interesting description of the two most interesting cities in Canada, with many illustrations from photographs. Sent free to any address. Apply to E. J. Quinlan, Bonaventure Station, Montreal.

SEAM FIGHT.

declared out of action they should have stayed out.

A very fierce fight was waged over near St. Mark's church, and for a time seemed likely to result in a pitched battle between the 14th and cadets. A company of twenty cadets who had been declared out of action in an engagement with the advance guard under Capt. Campbell, Craig and Dawson, attacked Lieut. Swaine and his company, who were stationed around the church. The fight became very fierce, and enough "lead" was put out from the 14th trenches to kill a regiment, coming in the open as the cadets did, but they still kept coming, and kept firing when they were quite close. So close were they that 14th men were badly burned on the face and had to be removed to the general hospital in the city. When this happened the 14th men got sore, and only for the timely arrival of a mounted officer, something would likely have happened. As it was, the cadets were taken prisoners and marched to the college, where they were released. Many other close engagements took place during the evening.

Richard Waldron, who was driving two of the umpire's Major Kaubach and Capt. Dawson in his automobile, was fired upon at very close range while driving along. One cadet was so close when he opened fire that Mr. Waldron's hand was severely burned, and it will be some days before he is able to use it again. It was an uncalculated accident and the officers left the automobile to see why they had been fired on.

Cadet Watts was seriously burned with the powder from a gun discharged too close to his face. He was placed in hospital at the college, where he was attended to by Dr. Kilborn. The doctor said this morning that he was doing nicely and would not suffer any very serious results.

Sergeant Williamson, V. 1 company, 14th regiment, had his left hand badly injured by powder. He was severely burned about the hand and wrist.

Two other members of the 14th had their faces badly burned in the engagement at St. Mark's church and were removed to hospital. Their wounds were dressed at the institution and they were able to leave then for their homes. No serious results are feared.

Fine New Boats Will Be Seen.

Among the new boats to be seen on the river this month are a fine motor cruiser for Nathan Straus, New York, who owns a summer home near Edgewood Park, and Walter J. Green's new power yacht just completed at Morris Heights, N.Y., by the Seabury company. Mr. Green is the rear commodore of the Frontenac Yacht Club and an enthusiastic yachtsman. His summer home is Watch Island, opposite Fine View, A. J. Sherwood, of New York, will have a new thirty-three-foot motor boat, with twenty-four horsepower Pierce engines. Alexander Robb, another New Yorker, is having built a twenty-foot yawl launch, and C. M. Englis, Brooklyn, will be the proud possessor of a fifty-five-foot cruiser with sixty horsepower Standard engine. J. Wainwright, Jr., owner of Chip III, will convert the craft into an open cruiser, removing one of the sixty horsepower motors. This boat developed twenty-seven miles per hour on a single motor last season, and was the cup defender of the Clippewa Yacht Club in the American Power Boat Association races.

CHILDREN'S AID CASES

SEVERAL WHO APPEARED IN POLICE COURT

May Have to Be Sent to Industrial School If They Don't Mend Their Ways—Some of the Chronic Paupers.

The Children's Aid society held its usual monthly meeting in the police court room on Tuesday afternoon, under the guiding hand of the president, Rev. Alex. Laird. The attendance of members was fairly good, and matters of interest to several children, wards of the society, and of other children, who perhaps ought to be made wards of the society, were dealt with, while several matters were referred for further consideration before final action will be taken.

From the report of the agent, Rev. D. Macallum it was clear that the work of the society in his hands is done with great discrimination and thoroughness, and that on every case being reported to him it has immediate attention. His report comprehended a number of cases in both the city and the country, and some of these indicate how great is the need for the more fortunate members of society to remember the stewardship of brotherhood which they owe to others less fortunate, and especially the debt of guardianship which they owe to neglected children in the community.

Reference was made by Mr. Macallum to several juvenile offenders who have recently figured in the police courts and of these offenders, he said, it might be necessary, unless they mended their ways, to commit them to the care of the industrial school. Reference was made to one or two cases where families had become as it were, chronic paupers, making a regular round of certificates which they owe to others less fortunate, and while it is advisable to err on the side of mercy and kindness, inculcating harm is done to young children who are sent out to beg for themselves and for their parents, day after day, week after week, and month after month; and that when such a practice was followed by any family, it became the duty of the society to act in behalf of the children.

The agent and solicitor were constituted a committee to deal with one or two very special cases. After each case had been reported on and dealt with, the meeting adjourned until September, unless there should be demand for a special meeting.
