THE WANT—MORE MONEY.

The president of the United States is the initiator of most of the great national movements affecting the relations as well as finances of the people. He sees plainly that there will have to be more revenue, as the expenditures of the government are growing rapidly and far exceeding at present the annual receipts.

Mr. Taft's idea is to tax the net incomes of the financial corporations. It will be an obnoxious proceeding. It will surely invite hostility. And yet it seems to be the only way of raising regularly and continuously the money that is wanted for national purposes.

The president makes the proposition more plausible by saying that supervision of the financial institutions is increasing, that the great reason for it is the expectation that it will be, at least $25,000,000 at the disposal of the government.

The matter does not rest with congress or the United States senate. The legislatures of the various states will have to give their consent, and amend the state law which will enable the central government to move for an amendment of the constitution, and when it is said that the last amendment to this almost sacred document, occurred forty years ago, and had to do with the inalienable rights of the voter, it will be at once apparent what the president has undertaken.

FADS IN EDUCATION.

Mrs. Hoodless, of Hamilton, in the report of the minister of education, and as an insert in his book, advocates the establishment of schools in which girls may be learned trades. Her argument is that the girls should be considered as well as the boys, and that provision has been made for the technical training of the latter.

Mrs. Hoodless attaches too much importance to the manual training. It does not qualify any youth for a specific occupation. He does not learn a trade. Moreover, the studies of the manual training and domestic science classes have to be more clearly defined.

A MUNICIPAL MANAGER WANTED

The city of Guelph, through its board of trade, has made a remarkable declaration, namely: one in favour of a general commission. This is the only city in Ontario that is the owner and operator of a radial railway from which its earnings are $25,000 per annum, or thirteen per cent.

It purchased the gas and electric works some time ago and reduced the cost of one from $1.80 per thousand feet to $1, and the other from 12c. per kilo-watt to 10c; the profit on both being $34,179 last year. Guelph is in the hydro-electric zone and expects to illuminate the city electrically at 60c. per 1,000 watts.

advantage in boards of control, though they were better than any changeable committees, and as the pioneer in municipal ownership, the more fortunate municipality in the matter of plants from which large profits were derived, it seemed the fitting thing that Guelph should lead in other directions.

Municipal management has been on its trial. In Montreal it has been scandalously deficient. In other places there have been errors and indiscretions which are part of the average municipal system. In no city has the business manager been tried, and Guelph, through its board of trade, sees merit in it of a very high order.

How is the change to be secured? There will have to be a special charter, and the approval of it by the legislature will raise many interesting questions.

THE PORTICO QUESTION.

The portico question is an irritating one. There is a disposition to refuse all applications for permission to encroach on the streets because the proceeding is one which sooner or later will lead to trouble.

Occupancy will not give any one right of possession so far as the streets are concerned, but there would eventually, if the encroachments were permitted, be such a tresspass and disfigurement as to render the situation intolerable.

The argument that because an error has been committed it should be continued is not a good one. Why add to the embarrassments, to the conditions that are causing trouble and must sooner or later demand a remedy?

The proposition of the city engineer is not a good one. The rental for general occupation would not be collected except with great trouble and expense. The city has had its experience with the building of walks on private account. It knows how the accounts piled up until the city stopped the business.

The present occupants of the streets should be required to acknowledge their trespass and agree to remove the erections when called upon to do so.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Some of our streets are in bad shape. Is there any prospect of permanent pavement for some of them? The Mail announces a demand for the retirement of Sir Richard Cartwright. Who makes this demand? Not the liberal government or party.

The New York Times, as a substitute for the tax on income, proposes a stamp tax. The greatest of all nuisances. What makes the Times suggest it? The city council will not contemplate a summer vacation while it has some of the larger issues on hand. It should get down to business, however, without delay.

The toll question will not put away the county council. It is put away from session to session but will bob up serenely. Sooner or later it will have to be tackled and disposed of. The postmaster-general is hopeful that in five years the whole of the province will have free rural mail delivery. He cannot be bribing the people by that kind of talk at present.

WAS HIS IMAGINATION

A FEAR OF RABIES CAUSED HIS DEATH.

Brooklyn Policeman Dies Several Months After Being Bitten By Mad Dog.

New York, June 19.—Fear that he would die of rabies, while in fact no symptoms of the disease existed, caused the death of Policeman John H. O'Donnell, of Brooklyn, in a sanitarium in Connecticut. While he was on duty in lower Fulton street early on the morning of September 21st last, a washman in a building in course of repair told O'Donnell his dog had gone mad. O'Donnell volunteered to attend the animal. It was taken inside and the dog leaped on the policeman, who was bitten on the right hand and left thumb. O'Donnell was in the party which finally killed the dog.

When the dog's body was dissected in the Willard Parker hospital the animal was declared to have had rabies in the worst form. O'Donnell was much downcast and he began to feel that he was going to die. On reading of the death from rabies of a man living in Flatbush last fall, he became completely unnerved and had to get another leave of absence. He returned to his duty and then worked until May 15th, when it was necessary for him to be relieved again.

'T WAS A NEW ONE.

Ottawa Man Put Down For a New Faith.

Canadian Courier, Toronto. There is a literary magnate in Ottawa whose views on religious matters are somewhat variable, and, therefore, he has "moved" from church to church until Anglicans, Presbyterians and Methodists feel doubtful of his ultimate creed. Finally, the gentleman decided to call his convictions by a name new to the general public and the members of his family were duly informed of the latest doctrine. A census expert happened to call at the house a short time after the latest change of heart, and, as the father was at the office, the mother was making afternoon calls, the children were interrogated as to certain facts in connection with the family history.

"What church do you go to?" asked he of the blue documents. "We used to have a pew in St. Andrew's," said a small boy cheerfully, "and before that we went to the English church. But now we are—oh, what's the name of it, Susie." "Susie looked up rebukingly and said to the census man: "We're Gnostics and we don't need to go to church any more."

CONVENTION FOR KINGSTON.

Retail Merchants Will Meet Here Next Year. The Provincial Retail Merchants' Association will hold next year's convention in Kingston. This was decided upon at Brockville, yesterday, at the closing session. This speaks well for Kingston, when it is stated that when the matter of a place of meeting was up for discussion, there was not one representative from Kingston present. However, the Kingston delegates who were present at Wednesday's session, extended an invitation for the convention to be held in the old Limestone City, and they succeeded in winning over the convention. Toronto, Hamilton, Peterboro and Lindsay made a very strong bid for the honor, but it was a case of Kingston first. The city will be glad to welcome such a convention, and retail merchants are more than pleased at the result. It is expected that next year's meeting will be attended by far more delegates than this year.

Mind Its Own Business.

A citizen writes as follows: "Our city light, heat and power committee is tinkering with a street railway matter with which it has no concern. What has it to do with the company's offer to sell the road? Nothing at all, and yet it dilly-dallies with it. Its business is the manufacture and sale of power and light. Let it quote the cost price of manufacture to the street railway company, and be done with the matter. The finance committee of the council is the body to deal with the offer to sell the road. The light, heat and power committee should have sense enough to mind its own business and send the purchase question on to the quarter to which it belongs. The two ex-mayors on the light committee ought to know by this time the difference between an ice wagon and a doctor."

Pugsley After Hazen.

Ottawa Free Press. Hon. William Pugsley, having waited for months for the Hazen government to take action upon the report of the Central Railway Commission, has now set the law in force in his own behalf. There are always two sides to a case. Mr. Pugsley's side will now go on the judicial records of New Brunswick.

Bonds Selling Well.

Toronto News. On both sides of the Atlantic Canadian municipal bond quotations are regarded favorably. There has been a remarkable appreciation in those securities in the course of the past few months. The plethoric condition of the money market has facilitated their absorption.

THE WHIG'S JUMBLE

Tells About a Lot of Things in General.

Go to Frank Cooke if you want porch curtains or the material. R. Davison, Picton, left Thursday for the old country to buy goods. Abbey Salt and Bromo Seltzer and Enos Salt. Buy these at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Fresh there. Mrs. R. Herrington, Picton, came to Kingston with her little boy to have an operation performed on his ear.

"Try maple mint walnut sunda" with Neilson's delicious ice cream, at the fountain in Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Charles Skinkle, Gilead, has purchased about fifty acres of land, part of the W. H. R. Allison estate at Allisonville. Derangement of the liver, with constipation, injures the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Try them.

A very pleasing event took place at Lindsay on June 13th, when Miss Orla Belle Davis, only daughter of Mrs. Adelaide Davis, Napanee, was united in marriage to Robert Earl Vanderwater, Sidney township. "Visitors to Kingston" are always pleased to know they can buy Huyler's and McConkey's delicious sweets. Sold in Kingston only at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store.

A quiet wedding took place on June 14th at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Staley, Wellington, when their eldest daughter, Jessie, was united in marriage to Elvin F. Brough, formerly of Picton, now of Sulphide, Tweed. "Only one store in Kingston" can supply you with strictly high class sweets. Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. McConkey's and Huyler's and Neilson's sold there.

Mrs. Fry, a respected citizen of East Wellington, died on Friday at her daughter's, Mrs. Peters'. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Arnold Dorland, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Peters. She was a member of the Methodist church. Ministers, lawyers, teachers and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid liver and biliousness. One is a dose. Try them.

At the graduation exercises of the Metropolitan Hospital Training School for Nurses, Blackwell's Island, New York, on May 29, Mrs. E. Beatrice Christie, of Picton, was awarded the prize for general excellence during the third year of her training, also the Guernsey prize of $50 for general excellence during the three-year term, and also took first honors for general excellence and deportment. Mrs. Christie took the prizes during her first and second years also for highest general average in class and practice work.

Have Too Much Money. The squallid Gould scandal illustrates once more how little money can buy. The divorce courts do not find their work among the sons and daughters of those who get a fair day's pay for a fair day's work, and who fall in love naturally during the innocent associations of youth and marry with the intention of together making their way in life. "The gilded forehead" whether it be of "the fool" or the wise man—attracts by its glitter a cloud of moths and less harmless insects whose blandishments only a shrewd man can resist. A father can leave a lot of things to his children of more value than a pile of gold.

An Economical Remedy. Wade's Ointment is put up in large boxes at a small price. It is cheap in the truest sense because you get for the price a large quantity of a most valuable remedy. Wade's Ointment cures skin affections that many dollars worth of other remedies would probably not cure. It cures eczema (salt rheum), scaly or itching eruptions of the skin, pimples, blotches, dandruff, etc. In big boxes, 25c., at Wade's drug store.

Built In Canada. The new steamship Hamonic is being widely praised as among the staunchest, best equipped and finest on the upper lakes. It was built in a Canadian yard, and without a government subsidy. The latter fact is not the least notable of all that are alluded to. It means that where men of courage and means are combined big things can be done in Canada on a business basis.

Spent Sunday In Watertown. Only $1.65 return, going Saturday or Sunday; returning Sunday or Monday. Campbell Bros'. For new snap brim straw hats. "Only one store in Kingston" that sells ice cream bricks, Neilson's, from Toronto, are sold at Gibson's Red Cross Drug Store. Frank Cooke's office, 346 King.
