Daily Whig. LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED. The gramophone legislation has not been sufficiently clear and so it has been returned to the finance committee for a re-making. A compromise will be sought, something which will not put the noise machines completely out of business, and yet something that will reduce their exorbitant penalties to a minimum. The audiences at the theatres are mercifully saved from torture as they do not hear the dreadful disorders which the gramophones create, but they should be forced to listen to it occasionally as one reason why it should be abolished. There was once at a summer resort an alleged power organ which played the same tunes day after day and season after season and the inmates of a neighboring asylum were perceptibly affected, and for the worse. The inference follows that there must be something maddening about music of a certain sort, and this particular kind seems to be in abundance on Princess street at certain hours. It has touched the nerves of the people who live in the vicinity, and the limit of its endurance has been reached.

FICTIONS OF THE PRESS. The outcry which has been made in the conservative press, and to the effect that advantage has been taken of the conservative party in the North Waterloo bye-election, does not appear to have any foundation. The date of the contest having been fixed and the returning officer being appointed, the government had nothing more to do with the preliminaries. These are conducted by the permanent officials of the dominion and without any suggestion from any source. It was alleged that notices were not issued of the registration of voters and not sufficient time allowed for the work, but Mr. King points out that the judge of the county has an affidavit from the person who did the bill posting, that no formality was omitted, and that the procedure generally was such as the act of the Ontario legislature prescribed. It would be surprising if the county clerk, the police magistrate and the county registrar, were unable to read the law and obey it, and in insinuating that the officials acted stupidly or blunderingly the conservative association is not doing itself any credit. The fact appears to be that there is no desire, among the conservatives of North Waterloo, to oppose Mr. King, and in place of acknowledging that fact the party is offering the pretense that it is not having a fair show by reason of certain irregularities. Mr. King, a man of promise, a man who has made good all that was ever expected of him, a man who may some day be premier of Canada, could not afford to accept any doubtful honors, and he has taken the proper course in exposing the fictions in which a partisan press has indulged regarding his election.

ASIATIC BLOOD IS BAD. The Seigel murder case in New York raises the question as to whether the settlement worker is doing as much good as she thinks she is. Miss Seigel spent the most of her time in trying to educate the Chinese. They seemed to be anxious for light. They accepted her attentions. One of them was more than a devoted student. He was a devoted lover. The father, in time, detected the direction of events and would have put an end to them, but the mother, a domestic missionary for years, would not have it. The murder that followed is the saddest revelation of the kind that has ever occurred. The Chinese everywhere need watching. The theory is that in America their early education makes it necessary that they be instructed individually, and the Christian churches have been selecting the flower of the youth to act as their mentors and judges in matters of religion. Some of the students may grow out of their Oriental ways and really appreciate the care that is being taken with their instruction, but more of them are abandoned to their devices. In this city some of the Celestials have been given to anything but Celestial deportment, and if they suffer from the new license law it is because they have not preserved the odour of sanctity which was supposed to linger about their establishments. The cause of their ostracism is another matter. It is hard to define. It is due in part, perhaps wholly, to the segregation into which they are forced. Of all the peoples of the world they only will not cross or mix, or the other races will not cross or mix with them, and so they will retain all their ancient exclusiveness, and all their ancient enmities, and their last condition is sometimes worse than their first. The Seigel murder emphasizes the danger of settlement work, and it will lift therefrom some of the glamour which has singularly enough attached to it for so many years. Young girls will think twice hereafter about imperilling their lives in mission places.

EDITORIAL NOTES. Sir Robert Perks says the Georgian Bay canal is coming. To be sure it is. So is next Christmas. The Niagara military camp never was so clean and orderly as this year. Evidently the canteen, has been missed, and for the good of the camp. The deeper Welland canal is needed before the Georgian Bay canal, and the commercial interests of Canada do well in pressing for it first. The Whig believes with the Woodstock Sentinel-Review that people can do worse on Sunday than visit a public library. Next to the church there is no better place for a leisure hour. The tax on laundries will lead to their regulation. It will, we hope, not put any one out of business. The women who are eking out a living by washing do not come under the provision of this law. Col. Denison, of Toronto, now in England, is scolding the British people because they are slandering the coons on Canadians. John Bull may arouse himself enough to spank somebody one of these days. Because the Americans cannot have our pulp or pulpwood free they will not have our paper. In other words they will raise the price of paper on themselves, by a heavy import duty, and as a matter of course.

The inland revenue department will say the Canadian Grocer, establish food standards for Canada. "This well. The sooner by the labels or other signs the people know what they are eating, the better for the public health. The council, like the legislature, is looking for new sources of revenue. Why doesn't it tax the labour of the individual according to his worth or earning power? The people must be touched in a vital way if they would be roused. The Blythe murder is less excusable than many others. It was not the result of any sudden impulse, but of successive and violent assaults. The man who had no mercy upon a defenceless wife, whose life he beat out with a poker, has little claim to the sympathy and protection of his fellow men. Would Mr. Fournier, of Le Nationaliste, have been convicted of contempt of court had he been tried by a jury? It is doubtful. The more reason, therefore, why the sentence should be mitigated. Mr. Fournier was altogether too fresh in his criticism of the judges, and they were altogether too severe. KINDNESS CAUSES DEATH. Doctor Invites Patient To Ride And Horse Bolts. Pittsburg, June 22.—Mrs. Augustine Poit, who weighed 300 pounds, received fatal injuries in a runaway, last evening. This morning, in the West Penn Hospital, Dr. E. W. Eagleson, her physician, who was with her in the runaway, is so badly injured that he, too, may die. The accident happened at Coal Centre, twenty miles from Pittsburg. Mrs. Poit had been under the care of Dr. Eagleson and, to reduce her weight, he had proposed that she do more walking. Last evening he overtook his patient walking along the road and she looked so fatigued that he insisted that she get into his buggy. Scarcely had the woman been seated in the buggy when a runaway horse came dashing down the road and frightened the doctor's horse so that it, too, ran away. The buggy overturned, and crushed Mrs. Poit. She was hurried to the Pittsburg hospital by a special train. Searched the woman been seated in the buggy when a runaway horse came dashing down the road and frightened the doctor's horse so that it, too, ran away. The buggy overturned, and crushed Mrs. Poit. She was hurried to the Pittsburg hospital by a special train.

Wants No Higher Salary. London, June 22.—According to the London Teacher, a London county council schoolmaster has informed the education committee that he has no desire to proceed beyond his present salary of $675, as he considers that he is being paid what he is worth. Trade Value Of Cobwebs. London, June 22.—When the press once of cobwebs in a public house was objected to yesterday in the course of an application for the transfer of a license at Chester, it was explained that they attracted Americans and thus had a trade value. John Robinson is wanted by the Ottawa police on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Martin and her daughter. Mrs. Martin is not expected to live.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS. Accounted For. Toronto Globe. Biliken is the god of good luck. That accounts for the Mail and Empire's irritation that Billy King has joined the Laurier government. Precept And Practice. Winnipeg Tribune. J. J. Hill travelled to Seattle by special train, magnificently furnished cars, and told a waiting contingent that the only way to get along in the world is to cultivate simplicity and economy. The Gillies Blunder. Toronto Telegram. It is possible that the attempted sale of a small portion of the Gillies limit is working out of some vast design. Not an acre of the property should have been sold at the price offered. Very Apily Put. Toronto News. In addressing the Imperial Press conference, Lord Rosebery aptly described Edward VII as not merely the king of Great Britain, but the king of hearts. And hearts are trump in the British empire to-day. No, We Don't. Hamilton Spectator. An Ottawa despatch announces that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has politely but firmly turned Sir R. Perks and his Georgian Bay canal scheme down. One enterprise of national transcendent magnitude at a time is about all even Sir Wilfrid cares to handle. Do you blame him? A Sensible Ruling. Montreal Herald. Judge Bowring, in a New York court has ruled that occasional intemperance is not sufficient to warrant a man in putting away his wife. Considering how much intemperance, occasional and chronic, women have to put up with, the ruling looks like justice as well as law. Thousand Island Park. All Steamers Are Now On Their Routes. Thousand Island Park, June 21.—The steamer Arundell made her first appearance on the river on Saturday morning, and will again be on her usual route. All steamers on their usual routes, and doing a fair business.

An excursion party, of 600 to stop for four days, arrives at the Columbian this week. The line men are very busy here yet, stringing wires, and will be so for some time. Electric lights will be installed in many of the cottages this season. The bakery opened, last week, under the management of Morris & Kendall. Some good catches of fish are being made daily. W. R. Watkins, of Watertown, has arrived and opened the candy and ice cream parlors. Thomas Ozyara, proprietor of the Japanese Bazaar, here, has arrived from Florida and is fitting up. Services were held in the Auditorium for the first time this season, yesterday morning and evening, by Rev. Dewitt B. Thompson, director of auditorium services. Good And Bad Correspondents. In business life letters are answered daily—hundreds of them. Business men make it a point to never let their correspondence get in arrears. But in private and social life it is usually different. We are all apt to think it is unnecessary to be prompt with social correspondence. It might look too businesslike. Nevertheless, our social duties should require attention just as promptly and as "neatly" as our business affairs, and every household should be in position to handle social correspondence easily. Some ladies, particularly, put off answering letters because they do not have a supply of neat stationery, because they are shy on good pens or because their visiting-cards are unfit to enclose, or some trifling excuse. There is really no reason for the lack of good stationery or fine printing or excellent writing-materials. Neatness predominates in all styles of modern stationery used for social purposes. The finest engraved cards, the best monogram stationery, the neatest envelopes, etc., can be had in great variety and at modest prices, at the British Whig office.

Married At The Cape. Cape Vincent, N. Y., June 22.—On Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Remy Peo, east of this village, occurred the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Lula, to Bruce Major, of this village. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives by the Rev. Walter E. Cook, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Kinrades In New York. Hamilton, June 22.—It has been learned that Mrs. Kinrade and Miss Florence Kinrade are in New York City. It is said that that was their objective point when they left Hamilton, but that they went in a roundabout way so as to lose track of the gossips and reporters. The Kinrade residence at 105 Herkimer street has been rented to a laboring man at $10 a month. French Earthquake Loss. Paris, June 22.—It is estimated that the recent earthquake in the south of France wrought damage to the extent of $3,000,000. The population of the three prairie provinces has increased about three hundred thousand within the last three years, about half of the new settlers being from the United States. D. Lorne McGibbon, Montreal, has given $100,000 to build a sanitarium for consumptives at St. Agathe. Hon. Charles Murphy was entertained by the Canadian Club at Winnipeg.

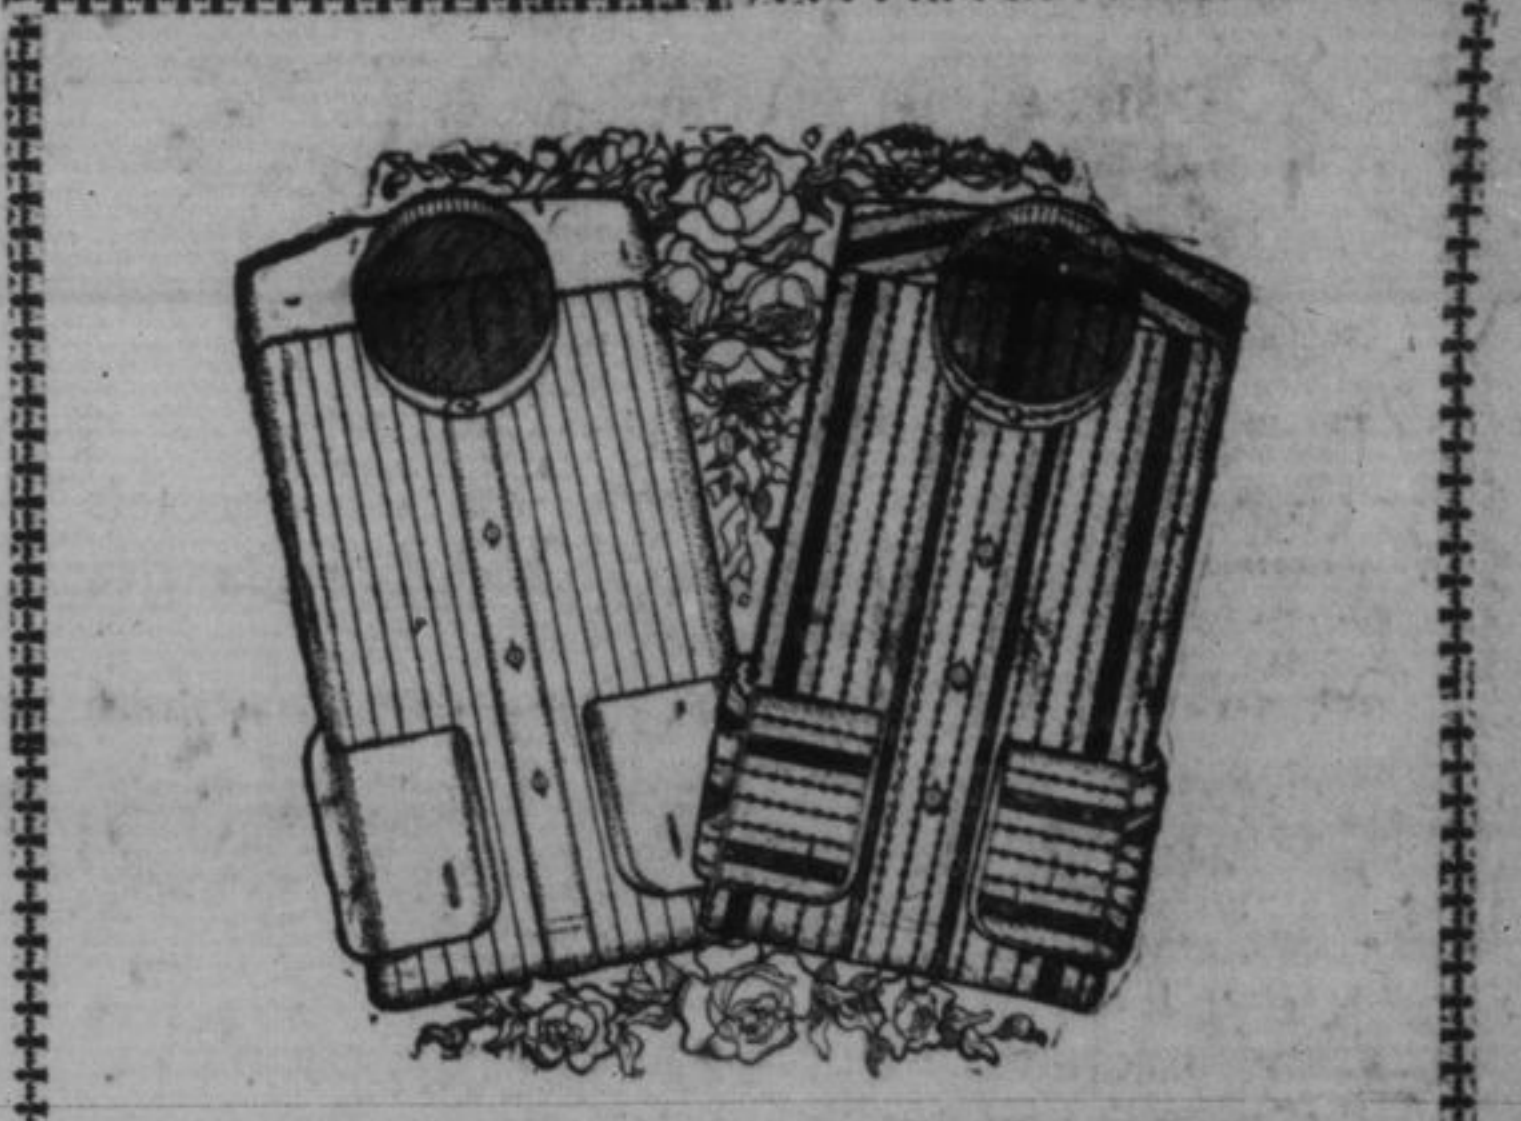

White Tiger Shot In Bengal. Calcutta, June 22.—A white tiger eight-feet eight inches in length has been shot in Dhenanthal State, Orissa. The ground color was pure white, and the stripes were of a deep reddish-black color. J. E. Burchell, Athens high school, is to sever his connection to take a position in Spencerville. On Sunday, June 27th, a monument erected to the memory of the late William Paul, by the members of the Smith's Falls Orangemen and Woodmen of the World, will be unveiled in Elmwood cemetery, Perth. At a meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Lombardy circuit of the Methodist church, Mr. and Mrs. Styan, the retiring pastor and his wife, were presented with a purse of money.

OCCIDENT AND ORIENT. Meet In Arena Of Buffalo Bill's Wild West. Two sides of the earth are reflected in typical scenes with the Wild West and Far East; men of many nations are shown in representative deeds and pastimes. There will be western historic pictures, Indian battles and an Oriental spectacle to illustrate the attributes of Occidentals and Orientals. The Far East scene will reflect a vista of the Sahara with its endless stretches of glimmering and glistening sands, its camel caravans and native Bedouins. A party of tourists are shown in a visit to the pyramids and Sphinx. They are surrounded by bandits and held for ransom. The Sheik of the Bedouin tribe sends his messenger to negotiate for the release money and to pass the time orders an entertainment to be given in celebration of the occasion. There at once begins a parade of the Eastern tribes and people, costumed and equipped in native paraphernalia, on foot and mounted on camels, and soon the arena is filled with a moving pageant of brilliant color. Four richly caparisoned horses draw a Hindu magician's tabernacle to the centre of the scene, and there will be exemplified the art of illusion and mystery. As a particular feature of the spectacle, Rossi's Musical Elephants, will be introduced in a demonstration of animal training such as has never before been witnessed with any exhibition. These mammoths of the jungle perform harmoniously upon various musical instruments—pump organs with their feet, ring strings of bells and blow trumpets of brilliant color. Directed through their specialty by four beautifully dressed young ladies who lead them in dances and marches and in other feats unusual to such mammoth animals. Bedouin athletes and acrobats, Japanese jugglers and neocomancers, Whirling Dervishes and other skillful experts will demonstrate various feats of agility and strength. The whole scene will be typically Oriental, in marked contrast to the Wild West section of the united exhibition.

Easy to operate. Easy to clean. Easy to protect. Water Pan Correctly Placed. Asbestos Lining prevents too rapid evaporation of water. The Feed Door of a No. 200 Sunshine Furnace is 12 x 13 inches. This means that the largest shovel can safely be emptied into our smallest size, and that good-sized chunks of wood require no chopping in order to be used as fuel. To keep the correct humidity for sanitary purposes, we place the water pan in SUNSHINE FURNACE right over the main door, a place where the heat and the householder can reach it. So in Sunshine Furnace the water never gets stagnant, and the householder never complains about the awkwardness of pouring the water in. Automatic Gas Damper allows furnace to be checked shortly after cooling. This saves fuel and protects plants in rooms above. To make "Sunshine" the easiest-to-be-cleaned furnace, we construct two flue doors, and place same not only at an equal distance from each other, but at an equal distance from the large feed door. So the operator with an ordinary soot-cleaning brush can go completely around the radiator without inconvenience; and, what is more important still, can do this without having to put out the fire or take down the smoke-pipe.
