WICKED DEED

Attempted by John Fitzgerald, a Tramp.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

ON MABEL SPAFFORD, A LEEDS GIRL.

Eighteen Years of Age—The Attempt Failed—An Angry Mob Caught the Brute Who Was Committed For Trial By Gannanque Police Magistrate.

Gannanque, June 28.—Intense feeling was stirred up through the township of Leeds, on Friday afternoon, when it was learned that an unknown tramp had attempted a criminal assault on Miss Mabel Spafford, the eighteen-year-old daughter of H. Spafford, of that section. The deed was attempted while the young woman was gathering strawberries along the G.T.R. track. A tramp dressed in a grey colored suit, and wearing a wide-brimmed straw hat, accosted her, seized hold of her and tore her skirts off. The young woman struck the brute repeatedly in the face and held him at bay until the approach of a trap frightened her assailant, who escaped to the woods. The alarm was at once given and by means of the rural telephone descriptions of the assailant and particulars of the dastardly deed, spread through the section and some fifty men of the section, some of them armed, started in pursuit, with the avowed intention of rounding up the young lady's assailant and taking him dead or alive.

Through the evening he was located about three miles from Findlay, and the credit of his capture to some extent is due to Charles Shook, chesnut-maker of that section. When captured, fearing that the angry mob would take his life, without giving him the chance of a trial, he fell on his knees and begged for mercy. He was taken to the station house at Findlay and as the outrage had been committed in Leeds, the Gannanque constabulary were notified and Police Constable Thomson left on Saturday morning to bring in the prisoner, which was safely accomplished on about noon. About 2:30 o'clock the prisoner was given a preliminary hearing in camera before Police Magistrate Carroll. Miss Spafford, accompanied by her father, was present and identified the prisoner as her assailant of the previous afternoon. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge, giving his name as John Fitzgerald and his home as Montreal. The evidence of the prisoner's guilt being satisfactory, the magistrate summarily committed him to Brockville jail to await trial.

P. C. Thomson left Saturday evening with Fitzgerald in charge and handed him over for safe keeping to the officials of the county jail. The outrage stirred up intense feeling, not only through the rural section, where the deed was attempted, and the prisoner captured, but the town of Gannanque was practically up in arms against one of the most dastardly outrages ever attempted in Leeds township.

Gannanque Field Battery, No. 8, arrived home Saturday afternoon, and gave their customary parade and manoeuvres on King street, for the benefit of the general public. The boys looked well browned by their twelve days' outing.

A second police court case of a rather interesting nature came up before Police Magistrate Carroll, on Saturday afternoon, when seventy-five

The Result of Enquiry By the Cabinet.

LORD BERESFORD

WILL LIKELY MAKE HIS CHARGES PUBLIC.

A Movement Has Been Inaugurated For the Establishment of Travelling Scholarships So That Educated Youths Can Get Insight Into Life, Customs and Progress of Other Nations.

London, June 28.—Although no official announcement has been made as yet, it is understood the committee of the cabinet which investigated Admiral Lord Charles Beresford's charges of naval mismanagement and unparliamentary conduct, has decided to vindicate Admiral Sir John Fisher. It is expected Lord Beresford, in reply, will make public his charges and evidence a few days hence.

With the object of providing opportunities for educated youths of the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States to obtain a real insight into the life, customs and progress of other nations, a movement has been inaugurated for the establishment of travelling scholarships and the interchange of promising students between the three countries named. It is proposed to establish two travelling bureaus in New York and London, respectively, with initially twenty-eight scholarships, namely, fourteen for the universities of the United Kingdom, ten for the United States and four for Canada, the arrangements being controlled by one committee for the United Kingdom, of which Lord Strathcona will be president, and one for the United States and Canada. The cost is estimated at £13,500 for a suggested experimental three years, and the English committee proposes to appeal for a guarantee fund of £7,200, conditionally, upon the United States giving or guaranteeing £4,500 and Canada £1,800. It is hoped the first interchange can be made effective next year.

The permanent committee of the Imperial Press conference decided to maintain the contact between the two countries. The decision was reached to hold further conferences, next year, probably at Winnipeg.

Lord Beresford, at the conclusion of the conference, promised J. A. McDonald, and J. S. Brierley, that during his visit to Canada he would speak at the opening of the Canadian Club at Toronto and Montreal.

SKIN TURNS BLACK

NEW YORK MAN SUFFERING FROM CURIOUS MALADY.

The Doctors Puzzled—Entire Body, With Exception of One Side of Face Black As Skin of a Negro.

New York, June 28.—Though his examination of more than one hundred thousand patients since he assumed the post of admitting physician at Bellevue hospital has resulted in observations of many rare maladies, Dr. Leroy Smith, yesterday, confessed himself puzzled by the strange disease which had afflicted James McFall, a car driver, living at No. 315 West 114th street. The case, it is held, may prove to be one of the most unusual met by physicians.

McFall is thirty-seven years old, explained when he applied for treatment that during the last year his body gradually had been turning black. His entire body, with the exception of one side of his face, now is as black as the skin of a negro. The right side of the face alone has not been affected.

Dr. Smith admitted he was unable to specifically diagnose the cause of the peculiar transformation. He said the patient must be suffering from the unusual disease known as melanosis, which discolors the skin through an abnormal deposit of pigimentary matter in various parts of the body. Specifically this is an organic affection, due to the softening of the tissues by such deposits, especially tubercles.

FATALLY GORED.

Joseph Clothier, Kempsville, Victim of Animal's Rage.

Brockville, Ont., June 28.—Death came suddenly this week to Joseph R. Clothier, one of Kempsville's well-known residents, under tragic circumstances. He was leading a bull when it attacked him, and although he had sixty-nine years of age, very pluckily handled the animal, bringing him under temporary subjection sufficiently to lead him into the stable. There the bull renewed the attack with increased vigor. Getting the man cornered, he knocked him down and gored him. At this juncture a neighbor arrived on the scene, and armed with a pitchfork speared in driving the bull away. As a result of the injuries inflicted Mr. Clothier died the following day.

TOUCHED LIVE WIRE.

Lineman at Smith's Falls is Badly Hurt.

Smith's Falls, Ont., June 28.—While engaged in making repairs to a telephone line in Perth, John Moss, a lineman, came in contact with a live wire, and was washed from the pole to the pavement below, a distance of thirty feet. One side was completely paralyzed by the fall, three ribs were broken and his face and head were badly cut. He is still unconscious and little hope is entertained for his recovery. Moss was a skilled workman. He is twenty-seven years old and his home is in St. Johns, Que.

STATIONER'S FATAL FIGHT.

Lynchburg, Va., June 28.—Glenwood, famous stationer, accompanied by James R. Reese, engaged in a battle on the farm of Duval Radford, with Champion, a heavier stationer, and was killed. Champion secured a hold on the other stationer's throat, which he held until he dropped dead.

Matters That Interest Everybody—Notes From All Over—Little of Everything Easily Read and Remembered.

Parham, June 26.—A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. D. Goodfellow, on the evening of June 23rd, at eight o'clock, when her eldest daughter, Lucretia, was united in matrimony to W. J. Kennedy of Mimodosa, Man., by Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, of the Anglican church, Kingston. About 100 guests were present. The ceremony took place on the spacious lawn, under an arch of evergreens, decorated with ferns and daisies, from the top of which extended a floral bell. The bride was gowned in cream French tulle, trimmed with silk over lace and silk medals. The bride's youngest sister, Miss Lizzie, and her little cousin, dressed in white dainty muslin, and each carrying bouquets of maiden hair fern and pink carnations. Precisely at eight o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Myrtle Smith, the groom took his place beneath the arch which followed the flower girls, strewing flowers in the path of the bride, who followed upon the arm of her brother, W. L. Goodfellow. At the close of the ceremony the guests entered the dining-room, where a sumptuous dinner was served. The dining table was richly decorated with house plants, and the bride received many valuable and useful presents, among which was a gold brooch from the groom. The groom's presents to the bride were pearls. The bride's travelling suit was green broadcloth, with silk blouse and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left on Thursday afternoon for Kingston, thence by boat to Brockville and Westport. On return they will leave shortly for Manitoba.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

William Simon Went to Sleep on Track.

The alertness of an engineer on the suburban train, probably saved the life of William Simon, a sailor, on Sunday. Simon, while under the influence of liquor, went to sleep on the tracks, and when the noon train was going out to the junction, the engineer, who was keeping a watchful eye, ahead, noticed a man lying on the tracks, and had time to bring the train to a standstill. The police were notified, and Simon was taken to the police station, and in the police court this morning, was accused of drunkenness.

"I have a job on a car ferry," said the accused to the magistrate, who asked that you are alive to-day," said the magistrate, referring to Simon's close call. "You can see what a narrow escape you had, just because of your drinking liquor. Had it not been for the engineer, you might have been killed. I will impose a fine of $5 and order you to get drunk no more."

"When will the month start?" anxiously inquired Simon. "Will it commence right now at ten o'clock?"

"I guess it will, all right," replied the court.

William Rennie, a visitor for the circus, but who stayed over, and managed to get drunk at the game time, was given a chance.

"You will never catch me in this place again," he said to the magistrate, as he walked out.

STATEMENT IS FALSE.

Capt. E. A. Booth, master of the steamer Toronto, writes the Whig that the statement of the Montreal Star, that the steamer Toronto nearly collided with the government dry dock, last Thursday morning in a fog, is false. He says it is necessary to get close to the dry dock wharf in a fog in order to get bearings, but the water is deep there. Capt. Booth says a fog horn is not needed at the dock, but there should be horns at Four Mile Point or Snake Island.
