Put a little Sunshine in your home. An old-fashioned, ill-working furnace is a non-producer. It consumes the coal, but through leaks and cracks wastes the heat. It is not economy to have such a furnace in your own home, or in your tenant's home.

If you are thinking of building you should be interested in Sunshine Furnace. It adds 100 per cent. to home comforts. As soon as you let the contract for your house decide on your furnace. The "Sunshine" man will be pleased to tell you just how the rooms ought to be laid out with an eye to securing greatest heat from the smallest consumption of coal.

If you want to experiment with the question don't specify "Sunshine." If you want to settle the question specify "Sunshine."

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE MATTER OF Thomas Peters and Michael Maroskas, of the City of Kingston, Merchants, Insolvents.

NOTICE IS HEREBY given that the above Thomas Peters, and Michael Maroskas, of the said City of Kingston, in the County of Frontenac, carrying on business as Fruit and Candy Merchants, and Restaurateurs at the said City of Kingston under the name of T. Peters & Co., have made an assignment under R.S.O., Chap. 147, of all their estate, credits and effects, to N. E. O'CONNOR, of the said City of Kingston for the general benefit of their creditors.

A meeting of their creditors will be held at the office of N. E. O'CONNOR, Notary at Law, No. 114 Brock St., in the City of Kingston, on FRIDAY, the 30th day of July, 1909, at the hour of three o'clock in the afternoon, to receive a statement of affairs to appoint inspectors and fix their remuneration, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally.

Creditors are requested to file their claims with the assignee, with proofs and particulars thereof required by the said Act, on or before the day of such meeting.

AND NOTICE is further given that after the 15th day of August, 1909, the assignee will proceed to distribute the assets of the debtor amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given, and that he will not be liable for the assets or for any part thereof, so distributed, to any person or persons whose claim he shall not then have had notice.

Dated at Kingston this 21st day of July, 1909.
 N. E. O'CONNOR, Assignee.

THE CHEAPER WAY

EACH STORY IN HOUSE COVERED BY MORTGAGE.

Principle of Borrowing Money, Even With Cash to Spare, General in Germany.

Berlin, July 25.—Herr Sydow, chancellor of the Imperial exchequer, stated in the Reichstag during the recent financial reform debates that most German property is mortgaged. Herr Sydow's assertion may sound strange to American ears, but mortgaging property is a recognized principle of German business practice.

It is estimated that fully 90 per cent. of the modern buildings existing in Berlin are mortgaged for less than greater amount. The percentage is probably a fair barometer of conditions throughout the empire. Hardly any German thinks of improving his property without the employment of borrowed money. He will borrow and give a mortgage if he has the funds in the bank or otherwise invested. The principle is that capital can be borrowed on mortgage at a lower rate of interest, than capital can earn in other forms of investment. Not only is town realty generally mortgaged, but virtually all farm lands, and even the great landed estates of Germany.

It is a peculiar fact that German mortgages are only in rare instances ever paid off. Most property that changes hands is transferred on terms which include the assumption of the mortgage. The buyer, who, like the former owner, finds it possible to earn a substantial profit from his rents over and above the fixed interest charge.

"Building funds" are a unique feature of German mortgage practice. A man will build one story of a house and mortgage it, and secure funds for the second story, and so on, story by story, till his house is built—and fully mortgaged. It is easier to dispose of mortgaged than un-mortgaged property in Germany, because the buyer is required to pay less in cash.

About Shirts.
 The old Scotsman who referred to the surplus as a "sack" or shirt was perfectly correct. For that is what it originally was, according to the London Chronicle. After the invasion of the northern barbarians it was a common custom to wear a white shirt over the sheepskin or other skin then in use. "Hence, in the twelfth century," said Dean Stanley in his Christian Institutions, "the barbarous name of supercilium or surplis—the over-ur. Its name signifies that it is the latest of ecclesiastical vestments, and though, like all the others, generally worn both by clergy and laity, indoors and out of doors, it is the most remote in descent from primitive times."

He Explained.
 American Veterinary Review.
 At school one day a teacher, having asked most of her pupils the difference between an island and a peninsula, without receiving a satisfactory answer, came to the last boy. "I can explain it, sir," said the bright youth. "First get two glasses. Fill one with water and the other with milk. Then catch a fly and place it in the glass of water. That fly is an island, because he is not completely surrounded by water. But now place the fly in the glass of milk, and it will be a peninsula, because it is nearly surrounded by water."
 "The boy went to the top of the class."

Wifely Pride.
 M. A. P. Life.
 There is no telling what quaint turns wifely pride and devotion may take. Sir Mervill Beethorpe, a gentleman in a prominent house, for the occupant of the first floor to admit him, chanced to overhear two women conversing on the stairs.
 "One remarked that her husband always wore a clean shirt every Sunday morning."
 "Well, now," responded the other, "I never care about Sundays, but I always do see that he has a clean shirt Sunday afternoon, 'cos that's the time he is generally drinking, and when he does take a coat off to fight I do like to know he looks nice and clean."

Suspicious Of Her.
 Cleveland Leader.
 "Ma!"
 "Yes, precious?"
 "I'm a good boy these days, ain't I?"
 "Yes, pet—'nother been a very good boy since you've been talked to so seriously."
 "And you trust me now, don't you, ma?"
 "Yes, darling—implicitly."
 "Then what do you keep the jam cupboard locked for nowadays?"

Renounces Rights To Throne.
 Lisbon, July 27.—That it was love and not the hope that she might someday be able to mount the throne of Portugal, that led Miss Anita Stevens to become engaged to Prince Miguel of Braganza, was proven to-day when the prince publicly renounced all rights to the throne.

$10,000,000 TO CHARITY.
 Large Amount Thrown to Dogs During Funeral.

Bombay, July 27.—One hundred thousand dollars were distributed to the beggars of this city during the funeral of Naroji Wadai, the last of the old Indian navy shipbuilders. Wadai was very wealthy, and left nearly $10,000,000 to charity, including a large fund to assist poor girls to marry.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR.
 Its Great Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder.

Even at the age of eighty years Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The court physician, following Prof. Unna's discovery, undoubtedly, treated her majesty's scalp with a germ destroying preparation, that was not made public. It is now known, however, that the remedy for dandruff, the germ destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that does destroy the dandruff germ. Without dandruff hair will grow profusely, and falling hair will be stopped. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. G. W. Mahood special agent.
