TWO LADIES DROWNED WHILE FISHING NEAR SMITH'S FALLS.

The victims were Mrs. H. Stephens and her sister, Miss Jessie Jones, both of Syracuse, N.Y.

Special to the Whig, Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Near Smith's Falls, a double drowning occurred, yesterday afternoon, the victims being Mrs. Henry Stephens and her sister, Miss Jessie Jones, both of Syracuse, N.Y. They were visiting at the home of James O'Neil. About three o'clock the ladies went out in a boat to fish, and that was the last seen of them alive. About half-past five o'clock a boy named Cross, went on the creek also to fish. His trawl caught, and when he looked into the water to find the cause of the trouble, he was horrified to see two bodies on the bottom of the stream, his trawl being caught on them. The bodies were recovered and will, to-day, be sent to Syracuse.

Stubbed Its Own Toe.
About eighteen months since the T. Lindsay company withdrew its departmental store advertising from the Ottawa Citizen, because that paper took a course upon a public enterprise that did not favor the monetized interests of the head of the dry-goods firm. NUMBER OF CARGOES OF GRAIN THAT HAVE COME TO KINGSTON

During Various Years Since 1889—The Year 1904 Had The Smallest Number—How The Season Stands So Far.

So far this season, only sixty-one cargoes of grain have come through the Welland canal to Kingston. As stated in Thursday's Whig, the amount of grain that will come here this season will probably be less than half the amount which arrived last year. The total canal cargoes for the year may reach 100 or perhaps a few more.

The following table showing the number of grain cargoes that came to Kingston via the Welland canal, for periods from 1889 to 1909 is worth perusal. The worst year in twenty years was 1904, when only fifty-two canal cargoes came here. The next smallest year was 1905, when the number of cargoes numbered seventy-four. The list is:

| Year. | No. |
|----------------|-----|
| 1889 | 257 |
| 1890 | 176 |
| 1900 | 150 |
| 1901 | 151 |
| 1902 | 101 |
| 1903 | 146 |
| 1904 | 52 |
| 1905 | 74 |
| 1906 | 166 |
| 1907 | 166 |
| 1908 | 212 |
| 1909 (to date) | 61 |

In 1889, steamers carried about 20,000 bushels so that in that year about 6,500,000 bushels of grain arrived here from the west in the 314 vessel cargoes. To-day that number of vessels would carry about 25,000,000 bushels. Vessels now carry from 80,000 to 110,000 bushels.

WIRELESS STATION FIRE.
Special to the Whig, Aug. 20.—The Marconi wireless station, situated three miles outside this town, was destroyed by fire, which broke out at six o'clock this morning. All the telegraphic and other apparatus was ruined. Only the engineering and battery buildings are left standing. Communication from this station will be interrupted for some months owing to the difficulty of replacing some of the instruments. The loss is heavy, but not estimated yet.

TRAMP WENT TO SLEEP.
And a Thief Made Off With His Shoes.
Last night, a tramp, or knight of the road, as he is known to many, went to sleep on a front lawn, on Rideau street. There was, of course, nothing unusual about the knight going to sleep, but while he was in slumberland, something really unusual did happen. He lost his shoes. While he was busy "pounding his car," a sneak thief came along, succeeded in taking off the man's shoes, without disturbing him, and made off. When the knight awoke he was very angry. He had to tell his story when he asked for another pair at a nearby house, and this he has the story got out. The police were notified, but the shoes are still missing.

Getting Road Information.
Pictou Times.
A delegation from the good roads committee of Frontenac county were in the county on Friday getting a few pointers on good road making. They were taken over the Waupoos, Black Creek and Milford road, the Demoreville road, the Bloomfield road and up Talbot street. The delegation were all greatly pleased with Prince Edward's improved highways, and Mr. Tait, Kingston's stone contractor, said that the Bloomfield road was better than any of the macadam streets in Kingston.
The party consisted of Messrs. A. Rankin, chairman of the Frontenac good roads committee; P. T. Spence and G. Barr, of the committee; A. Tait, city road contractor, and Mr. Smith, superintendent of Frontenac construction.
Surely Mr. Tait didn't say that the Bloomfield road was better than the macadam roads City Engineer Craig has built here the past two seasons. Tui, tui! This is rank horsy from a Kingston contractor. No road in Prince Edward can beat King street, west from Barrie street west. Evidently Mr. Tait meant Kingston's wanduit roads.

THE LATE WILFRID DAY.

Young Bank Clerk Dies While His Mother is Abroad.

A very sad death occurred in the general hospital, on Saturday morning, when Wilfrid Day, son of Mrs. William Craig, 390 Alfred street, passed away, after a week's illness of typhoid fever. The saddest thing in connection with the young man's decease is that his mother is at present in Ireland, visiting the scenes of her birth. Wilfrid was a clerk in the Northern Crown bank at Odessa, having been in service for two years. A week ago he was brought to the general hospital, suffering from typhoid fever of the severest nature, and from which there was no hope of recovery. Some days ago his mother was called about his illness, but the remains of her oldest son will be laid to rest in Catawqui cemetery days before she can reach Kingston.
The deceased was in his nineteenth year and was a bright and popular young fellow. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, and with his mother and brother, came to Canada about five years ago, his step-father being William Craig, now resident of Kingston and a well-known and popular commercial man. He attended the Collegiate Institute here, and two years ago entered the service of the Crown bank. He was a member of Bethel church, and a regular attendant at its Sunday school Bible class while here. His brother, Roy, is a clerk in the wholesale dry goods house of Macnee & Minnes.
Six weeks ago his mother left on a visit to Belfast, Ireland. Since she came to Canada, death has bereaved her of her father, her mother, her sister and her brother, and now her eldest boy is taken from her while she is in her home land. The funeral will take place on Monday morning, at ten o'clock, from the family residence, 390 Alfred street.

THE LAST RITES.

Beautiful Flowers Covering the Casket.
A beautiful floral anchor from the corporation of Kingston stands beside the casket containing the remains of the late W. H. Miller, city auditor, at his late residence, 157 Alfred street. The city officials sent a beautiful wreath. The Board of Trade also paid mute tribute to the experiences of deceased by a floral token. Friends and relatives also contributed remembrances. Amid a wealth of blossoms, of which the late Mr. Miller was passionately fond, he slept in peace and quiet resignation. During Friday afternoon a cablegram was received from The Hague, and told of the sorrow and sympathy of his beloved and only sister and her husband, Hon. A. B. and Mrs. Aylesworth.
The funeral services were to have occurred at three o'clock this afternoon, to be conducted by his former pastor, Rev. W. H. Sparling, R.A., now of Brockville, and Rev. J. A. Boyd, M.A., of Zion church. The bearers chosen were warm personal friends: Messrs. R. Meek, R. Crawford, J. G. Elliott, G. A. McEowan, W. E. Bassam, R. J. McClelland.
