EVERYBODY STARTS IN THIS ONE WHICH IS CORRECT, DO WE COOK BY GAS OR DO WE COOK WITH GAS?

In the City of St. Louis a general discussion upon the above two sentences has been started. It is interesting to note that the "text book" of the investigators have put it to the learned heads to solve the problem. It would seem to be an easy matter to settle which expression is correct. Grammatically speaking we are not going to put ourselves on record, but we will say this, right here, that the one who is cooking either "WITH" or "BY" gas are well up in the running, while those who failed to get the pipes installed in their homes this summer, can better be their application at the office of the works, before it is too late to enjoy the benefit derived by the above named sentences.

THE BALLOON FISH.

It is Quite a Creature on the Nile.

A Berlin journal, Prometheus, contains a letter from Africa, in which the writer describes a fish which is known to the natives as the fakaka. It makes its appearance in the Nile at high water time. The creature might properly be named a balloon fish. Its whole body, with the exception of its head, is covered with a thick layer of a jelly like substance. On the uncovered part there are many sharp prongs. When attacked the fish rises to the surface, inhales air until its body assumes almost a globular form, then turns up its back, and by means of its protective prongs upward in the water. "Fish and man alike know how sharp these are and what painful wounds they can inflict, and they give the balloon fish a wide berth."

A Royal Fowl.

In England under an old law still in force the swan is a royal fowl, as whales and sturgeons are royal fish. All swans the property whereof is not otherwise definable when within the British dominions belong to the crown by virtue of this prerogative. When swans are lawfully taken into the possession of a private person such person may be said to have a property in them, but if they be at liberty they belong to the crown. Formerly it was necessary for persons who wished to keep these "royal fowls" to obtain a swan mark, which was granted by the crown and which could not be legally impressed without grant or prescription.

Whipping M.P.'s.

The urgency of a summons to Westminster issued by the Government Whip is indicated by the number of lines which underscore the opening word, important. A one-line Government whip means, "You ought to come"; a two-line whip, "You should come"; a three-line whip, "You must come"; and a four-line whip, "You are to come or there will be a smash-up of the Government, and a General Election."

Trains Despatched by Telephone.

The use of the telephone instead of the telegraph for despatching trains, one of the main subjects at the Detroit Convention of railway telegraph superintendents of the United States, is being tried on the Swift-Current to the Medicine Hat division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a stretch of some 150 miles. This, although an innovation in the Middle West, has been found so satisfactory in its results that its universal adoption is only a matter of time. Canadian Pacific trains will in future carry telephone sets, and in case of a breakdown communication can at once be made with the nearest railway station. The regular telegraphing staff will not be reduced, as the operators are wanted for general railway work.

A Race For a Copyright.

A good deal of interest was manifested in Montreal recently by the fact that Henry Savage, who recently bought the copyright of the play called "The Love Cure," put the piece on the boards there and played it, as it was learned that others had design on the copyright.

A Lady Churchwarden.

Miss Lenthall has consented to serve as rector's churchwarden at Besselsleigh, Berks, England, in succession to her brother, who succeeded his father in the office. The owner of the Besselsleigh estate has been one of the churchwardens of the parish for 150 years. The Lenthalls are direct descendants of Wm. Lenthall, Speaker of the Long Parliament, and it was he who purchased Besselsleigh Manor from the Fettiplaces.

Captured Young Bull Moose.

A young bull moose was caught in the wire fence of the C.P.R. about twenty miles north of Parry Sound a few days ago. The crew of a passing train captured the animal and brought it to town where it is being nursed and tamed. It is believed to be about three months old.

A CHARLESTON SOCIAL.

Camp Meeting at Lake Elvida Attracts Many.

Charleston, Aug. 30.—C. C. Slack and daughter, Mabel, Brockville, were at the lake last week. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. F. Foster, and C. Slack attended the picnic at Toledo, on Saturday. The camp meeting at Lake Elvida is attracting the attention of a great many. J. Foster, Ogdensburg, spent a few days here recently, visiting his old friend, Patrick Burns, of Syracuse. J. Burns, Ogdensburg, is visiting relatives, after an absence of six years. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Mack and son, of Brooklyn, N.Y., are guests at Cedar Park hotel. Trinity church Sunday school, Oak Leaf, held its annual picnic at Falls Bay, on Saturday.

The harvest social, under the auspices of Trinity church, Oak Leaf, was held on Thursday evening, on the lawn of Cedar Park hotel. The lawn presented a handsome appearance, being nicely illuminated and decorated with Chinese lanterns. The tables, laden with good things to eat, reflected great credit on the ladies in charge. The refreshment booth was handsomely decorated, where the Misses Gladys and Gertrude Johnson, Arthur Johnson and Lloyd Green dispensed ice cream, candies, nuts and soft drinks. M. Webster, of Ottawa, was present with his gramophone, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kavanaugh rendered sweet music on violin and piano. A Brooklyn lady, can be secured promptly if you will use Whig Want Ads, to get in touch with him. The army of well trained help in Kingston rely absolutely on the Whig Want Ads. to tell them of the good situations that are vacant. An advertisement inserted in the Help Wanted columns of the Whig will bring you the right man to-morrow.
