

WAS THE GIRL KILLED

WHILE SHE WAS ON THE OPERATING TABLE?

The Detroit Murder Mystery—The Body of Woman Found in a Sack Has Been Identified.

Detroit, Sept. 8.—The identity of the woman's body found in Ecorse Creek, here, yesterday, with the head and legs cut off, was fixed by the discovery of a hair containing the missing head and limbs at a point not far distant from where the bloody torso was found. After the remains had been made presentable at the county morgue, here, they were identified as those of Miss Mabel Millman, aged twenty years, who lived in Ann Arbor, and who had come to Detroit a week ago, to visit Miss Martha Henning, a close friend, residing on Cass avenue. Miss Henning could not, or would not, tell the police very much about the matter, other than that Miss Millman admitted to her having had a quarrel with her lover, whose name she did not mention, in Ann Arbor.

The physicians in charge of the post-mortem, today, gave it as their opinion that Miss Millman had been operated upon, but that the operators, having failed, had suddenly decided to kill their patient while she was yet upon the operating table. While this, of course, is a purely hypothetical theory, the detectives are inclined to give it considerable credence on account of the shocking manner in which the unfortunate girl's body was mutilated when the limbs were amputated. No arrests have yet been made. The case has caused a great sensation throughout the state.

USE CANADIAN SOO.

Because of the Greater Depth of Water There.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 8.—Because the water in Lake Superior is a foot lower than usual, and the fact that the Canadian canal has a greater depth of water than the American, most of the larger vessels of the lake fleet are heading for the Canadian canal, when bound to avoid congestions and accidents. President Livingstone, of the Lake Carriers' Association, is co-operating with the Canadian department of canals in devising regulations governing movements of vessels, forbidding vessels attempting to pass each other or trying to reach the canal ahead of others arrived earlier. A fine will be imposed for violations.

A WOMAN SUICIDED.

Her Body Found Suspended From An Apple Tree.

Ayr, Sept. 8.—A sad case of suicide occurred early this morning, on the farm of Thomas Bawinshamer, near Wolverton, a few miles from here. Miss Agnes Scott, a sister-in-law of Mr. Bawinshamer, aged about fifty years, was found suspended by a rope from an apple tree, life having been extinct for some time. No witness can be assigned for the woman's act, except that she had been in poor health for some time. An inquest is pending.

Sciatica

Expected Death Any Day. Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, an in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Happiness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferreroze, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25c per bottle or five for $1.25, sold everywhere.

CURED SIX YEARS.

LATE HENRY YOULDEN.

Funeral Took Place on Wednesday Afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon, the remains of the late Henry Youlden were laid at rest, in Cataract cemetery. The funeral took place to St. Paul's church, at 2:30 o'clock, and Dean Bidwell conducted the services there, and also at the grave. The floral tokens formed a very beautiful collection, and included a broken column, from the congregation of St. Paul's church; a wreath, from the Sunday school, and a cross, from the members of the Guild of the church.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. John McEwen, H. E. Price, Henry Huttan, Richard Bunt, Charles Smith and Charles Selby.

The demise of Mr. Youlden recalls the tragic death his mother met, in 1851, by drowning, when the schooner "Jennette" capsized at the foot of Wolfe Island. An old-timer relates the tragedy as follows: A Mr. Jenkins, sailmaker, had made up a pleasure party and taken them across the river in his new boat, built for a regatta then close at hand. The party, numbering thirty-five, had lunched at the foot of Wolfe Island, and with H. O. Hitchcock as sailing master the yacht was pointing across the channel in the direction of Clayton, when a squall struck her. She careened, became unmanageable, and in three minutes sank in twenty feet of water. Eight persons clinging to the mast, four or five feet of which remained out of the water after the yacht went down. Of the drowned, fourteen were ladies (all of them seated in the cockpit at the time) and five men. The saved included J. Wilson, formerly manager of the water works; Mr. Hitchcock, Wolfe Island, and J. O'Shea, the greatest diver and swimmer in the country. Mr. Youlden was one of the ladies who met a watery grave.

ANNUAL W.C.T.U. MEETING.

Very Few Protestant Women in Penitentiary.

Much of the old-time enthusiasm was evident at the annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. held last Thursday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. rooms. There was a great representative attendance and signs of vigorous efforts in connection with the work during the coming year.

Mrs. (Rev.) McCallum, the honored president, was in her accustomed place, and presided in her usual general manner. Mrs. (Rev.) Craig gave a brief Bible study.

Reports of the past year's work, in various departments, were given. Mrs. Gardiner's, regarding mother's meetings, was exceedingly interesting. The report of prison work, given by Mrs. McCallum, was noticeable for the small number of Protestant women in the penitentiary, four and five being the most, attending the weekly meetings held during the year. Their anxiety to attend the meetings and the appreciation of any kindness shown to them, was very encouraging to those who took part, and led them to hope for some good results. Mrs. (Rev.) Craig, superintendent of soldiers' work, gave her impressions of this year's military service. No hymn was sold, as contrasted with previous years when there were several carousels. The entire freedom from scenes of drunkenness and rowdiness, so frequently witnessed heretofore was noted and in consequence few were admitted to the hospitals for treatment.

RATHER SCEPTICAL

REGARDING SUCCESS OF NEW REGIME.

On the Intercolonial Railway—Hon. H. R. Emmerson Doubts If the Change Will Benefit the Finances.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Hon. Henry R. Emmerson, former minister of railways, who is in the city, is still rather sceptical regarding the success of the new regime on the Intercolonial railway, but is in the meantime suspending judgment. At the time of the appointment of the board of management, he expressed doubts that the change would result in any benefit to the finances of the road. Asked regarding how the change was working, he said: "It is not much of a change. It is merely substituting a four-headed management for a one-headed management. The road is now managed by four men instead of one, and each man has one-fourth of the power of a manager. That is all."

Starvation Treatment a Failure

The Sensible Cure for Indigestion is "Little Digesters"

Probably because the taking of food causes such intense discomfort, many dyspeptics think that by abstaining from this and that—practically starving themselves—they can cure the trouble.

Of course, where indigestion is caused by sheer gluttony, cutting down the food would no doubt do good. But in most cases indigestion is caused, not by overeating, but by lack of physical exercise, and consequent lack of vigor in the organs of digestion. Partial starvation still further impairs the bodily vigor, and makes the trouble worse.

The dyspeptic needs plenty of good, wholesome food. He can eat it, and DIGEST IT, TOO, if he takes a "Little Digester" after each meal. "Little Digesters" help the weakened stomach to do properly that which it cannot do alone—digest and assimilate the food needed to build up the system.

KINGSTON GIRL WEDDED.

Miss Lulu E. Mallan and J. B. Bajus Married.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. James' chapel, Monday, at 8:30 a.m., when Rev. Father Hanley united Miss Lulu E., daughter of Patrick Mallan, Pine street, and Joseph B. Bajus, of Syracuse, N.Y. The fair young bride entered on the arm of her father and looked charming in a dress of cream silk and white silk, with a beautiful hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Gifford, of Seattle, Wash., was prettily attired in white with large white hat, and carried pink carnations. The groom was assisted by the bride's brother, Michael Mallan. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the bride's home, where her mother, in a beautiful black silk gown, received them. After congratulations, all sat down to a bounteous wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Bajus left amid showers of rice and confetti, for New York, to spend a short honeymoon, after which they will go to their new home which is awaiting them in Syracuse. The bride's going-away gown was a dark blue tailor-made suit, with silk waist, to match and beautiful blue hat. The many costly presents, including several cheques, testified to the esteem and popularity of the young couple. A number of the guests were from outside cities. The bride's many friends join in wishing her much joy and happiness in her new home.

Took Thirteen-Year-Old Girl to Live With Him.

Magistrate Denison refused to back the warrant sworn out by the Hamilton police, charging Howarth with abduction, holding that while the abduction took place in Hamilton, the greater crime was committed in Toronto. He remanded Howarth for a week to consider what sentence to impose. Life imprisonment, with the lash in any event, is a possible penalty.

New Church Of England Hymnal.

The Book of Common Praise, being the new hymn book of the Church of England in Canada, has just been issued by the publishers. In considering the text of the hymns the committee have had before them the original form as well as the uglier variants shown by other hymnals, and wherever common use has endeared a particular reading to the church that form has been adopted.

The Book of Common Praise is also particularly rich in its music. As a result of the use of different hymnals in Canada some hymns have in various parishes and dioceses become wedded to different tunes, and in order to meet this difficulty the committee have provided a large number of alternative tunes, there being no less than 1,113 tunes available for the 735 hymns.

The Book of Common Praise is issued in a great variety of styles and bindings and at very reasonable prices. R. Egglew & Co., Princess street, have on hand a full stock and cordially invite all members of the Church of England to early inspect the same.

Here is a New Kind of Soap. How to Shampoo. You are now using some soap and naturally think it is good. But here is a kind that is different from any you know—one that has taken us 43 years to perfect. Try one cake and compare it with what you now use. We welcome such a test as this for we know in advance the result. You will never go back to the other kind. Here is a soap made from vegetable oil pure enough to use on your table. We pay far more for this in France than we might pay. So we get only the best. Cocoon oil from the isle of Ceylon is brought over 12,000 miles and mixed with the olive oil. Then both are boiled doubly long. After this we mill them by our own special process. We have scoured the best factories of England, France and Austria for almost half a century to perfect this process. We have combined the best ideas of foreign lands with our own improvements to attain perfection. When milled, the soap falls like flakes of snow into enormous bins and is then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Then it passes through granite rollers and comes out in miles of silky ribbon. After being dried eight times it is pressed into cakes and is simply perfect soap. It lathers into a rich creamy foam and wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin soft and pink like an infant's. So we call it 'Infants' Delight.' The perfume is dainty and pure—it suggests only the delicate scent of the roses. Use one cake today and see what a wonderful difference there can be in soap. 10 Cents a Cake At All Dealers. Another Contest. EVERYBODY STARTS IN THIS ONE WHICH IS CORRECT. DO WE COOK BY GAS OR DO WE COOK WITH GAS? In the City of St. Louis a general discussion upon the above two sentences has been stirred up and its interest has become widespread. In fact some of the investigators have put it up to the learned heads to solve the problem. It would seem to be an easy matter to settle which expression is correct. Grammatically speaking we are not going to put ourselves on record, but we will say this, right here, that the ones who are cooking either "WITH" or "BY" Gas are well up in the running, while those who failed to get the pipes installed in their homes this summer had better file their application at the office of the works, before it is too late to enjoy the benefit derived by the above named sentences.
