Making a Success

Financial success is founded mainly upon three essentials: The capacity for MAKING money, the faculty of SAVING money and shrewdness in INVESTING money.

The capacity for making money counts for nothing without the "backbone" to save a portion of it.

If you not only earn and save, but invest wisely, there is practically no limit to your money-making success.

The most attractive investment to-day is Kingston real estate. I invite you to call and go over the situation thoroughly with me.

GRAIN NOW ON MOVE

BIG RUSH EXPECTED WITHIN NEXT EIGHT DAYS.

Over Half Million Bushels of Grain Will Have Reached Kingston By End of Next Week—Marine Notes Along Harbor Front.

Within the next eight days, over half a million bushels of grain will have arrived in Kingston. This is the information given to a Whig representative, who made inquiry at the M.T. Co's office here, this morning. The grain will come from Fort William and Duluth, but for the most part will be Manitoba grain. Several vessels are now on the way to Kingston grain dealers, and the latter part of next week, should see matters very busy around the M.T. Co's elevator.

Several years vessels are also due to arrive at Richardson's within the course of the next two weeks and there will be quite a revival of the grain traffic in Kingston. All summer it has been exceedingly quiet, but that the new grain is ready for shipment, it is expected that there will be a rush in from now until the end of the season.

The steamer John Randall passed on her way to Smith's Falls coal-laden, from Oswego.

The steamer Jessica is at Deseronto, loading lumber for Oswego.

The schooner Keowatin is due at Swift's to-day, with coal from Oswego.

The schooner Cornelia is in port, undergoing some needed alterations. The steamer Sowards cleared for Oswego.

The steamer North King is laid up in Crawford's slip.

M.T. Co.—Steamer Rosemount from Duluth, 63,005 bushels of wheat; tug Bartlett, down, two grain barges; tug Emerson, from Port Ballouise, with Standard oil barge No. 37, will clear for Montreal, steamer Kinuung cleared for West Superior, steamer Rosemount cleared for Port William.

The Donnelly Salvage and Wrecking company was the lowest tenderer for removing the wrecked steamer Prescott from the Montreal harbor. The underwriters now claim they are not responsible for the removal and the steamer will be sold by auction for the benefit of whoever is concerned.

A LOYAL SONG.

Which Breathes True Canadian Sentiment.

We clip from the Toronto Star the following patriotic song, the author being Mrs. J. H. Bickett, Bagot street. The verses have the ring of true loyalty, and in their tribute to the monarch who has effaced himself when peaceful for the peace and the gain of Europe, as well as of his own dominions, will find an echo in heart of every true Canadian. The authoress has written stirring music, which fits the words and breathes out their sentiment.

Onward, O Canada.
Onward, O Canada, our vast land of birth, The greatest British land on earth, Our noble emblem decked with gold, Man, woman, child, in honor hold, Strong our allegiance to our King, From these our shores have gone to stir, Who spread his just laws o'er our land, Majestic mantle sheltering all.

CHORUS.
Onward, ever onward, our ringing call to thee, We'll make thee yet the greatest land in our noble King's command, Canada, loyal and free, God bless our King and land.

Onward, O Canada, our vast land of birth, The greatest British land on earth; Glorious, peaceful, fruitful land, God's gift to us from we'll stand, In our great faith in Him and land, And honor for our King, For these our shores have gone to death, With calm salute to flag and King.

Onward, O Canada, our vast land of birth, The staunchest British land on earth, Our loyal debt redeem, and bring Untarnished fame to land and King, And make our country Britain's pride, A colony of all the globe, A faithful peace—our gift for him, A peace-giving, generous-hearted King.

Married At Napanee.

A very quiet wedding took place at the Trinity church parsonage, Napanee, on Wednesday, September 8th, at high noon, when Lulu Maude, second daughter of Archibald Burgess, Wilton, was united in marriage to Philip Howard, only son of John Roberts, Perth Road. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. McCall, in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride, becomingly attired in a tailored suit of navy blue, with picture hat to match and wore the groom's present, a beautiful gold watch and chain. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to Sydneyham to their new home, where their many friends wish them a long life of happiness.

Cleanses The System.

The group of uric acid diseases known as rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, sciatica, lumbago, etc., all have common cause and can be thoroughly eradicated by one remedy—Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure. No remedy ever introduced has given such marked and uniform results. It thoroughly cleanses the system of rheumatic poison and builds up rich, pure blood and abundant vitality. Sufferers can try this remedy with certainty of almost immediate relief and of permanent cure in due season. Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure is a great blood purifier and spring tonic; in bottles, 50 cents, at J. B. McLeod's drug store, corner King and Brock streets (Wade's old stand), and corner Princess and Montreal streets.

"The Gay Musician."

"Taking a chance" is the essence of insurance companies and the latest gamble against fate" is insuring the voices and twinkling feet of the singers and dancers who are with John P. Slocum's musical success, "The Gay Musician," by the noted composer, Julian Edwards.

A few weeks ago, Manager Slocum was waited on in his office by a prominent insurance agent in New York. After securing insurance on the scenery and the costumes of "The Gay Musician" the agent induced Manager Slocum to insure his life and also take out a policy against accident and illness.

Manager Slocum remarked to the agent: "Well, you have insured me pretty well, and the only thing left for you to do is to insure me for the voices and feet of my singers and dancers." The joke was turned to reality, and in a few minutes Manager Slocum held a policy, insuring him for stated sums in case any of his singers succumb to throat trouble or if any of his dancers cannot twinkle their nimble feet.

"The Gay Musician" appears here at the Grand on Monday, September 20th.

MUST NOT INTERFERE WITH THE CARRYING OUT OF JUSTICE.

Instructions From Washington to Consul—The United States Citizenship Question Here Not Yet Settled.

United States consuls have instructions from the department at Washington not to interfere with the administration of Canadian justice, and leave United States citizens who get involved in this country are required to apply through the proper Canadian sources and not through Washington. In regard to the request of the prisoner, John Campeau, that Consul Van Sant take up his case, all that will be done by the consul will be to inquire into the genuineness of Campeau's story and aid him in presenting his claim to Ottawa, and not to Washington. There may be no doubt but what the burglar was enticed across the line from Charlotte, but the likelihood is that he was quite fairly secured. Campeau will make the necessary affidavits which will be forwarded to the department of justice, and an enquiry will then be instituted.

The Citizenship Question.

Consul Van Sant has not yet been able to finally decide who are and who are not United States citizens in this district. The question is much involved, and it may be a year before the sheep are divided from among the goats. Mr. Van Sant isn't even clear as to whether his little daughter is a citizen of the United States, as she was not born in the consulate, but at the general hospital. The consulate is regarded as United States territory, while the consul occupies it and it must be preservatively inviolate.

LOOKED FOR SETTLEMENT

Chinamen Disappointed at City Council's Action.

Kingston Chinamen looked for a settlement of the laundry question by the city council, on Monday night, and feel rather disappointed to have it left over, and especially with such little hope, as there now appears to be. "I'll go to jail before I pay $50 for a license," said one Celestial, in speaking of the matter.

They all appear to be still very much opposed to paying the money, and if the police again have to place them under arrest for disobeying the by-laws of the city, they will have their hands full.

Some of the Chinamen have made up their minds to discontinue business if the payment of the tax is pushed, but are just now holding out to have the final decision.

GOOD DEAL OF WORK

Yet to Be Done Before Subway is Complete.

There is still a good deal of work to be done at the G.T.R. junction subway. The steel bridge has not yet arrived, the tracks being still supported by timber uprights. The roadways are also incomplete. One section of road is still unexcavated. The walls are also required on the roadside on the north side of the subway where the banks are so steep. The railway commission will require to make an additional order to include things omitted in the original plans and specifications.

Will Stay Late.

The Montreal Witness says Z. Prevost, Kingston, is one of the "Old Boys," who is eagerly renewing the old associations. He has come early and will stay late in the hope of meeting as many of his friends of the early days as possible. Mr. Prevost, a well-to-do merchant tailor, entered in to the business world on St. Lawrence Boulevard, and marvels at the wonderful improvements that have been made on the old street.

CORRIGAN'S.

REMINISCENCES OF 1837.

Concerning a Yarker Boat That Entered Kingston Harbor.

Mrs. F. M. Furner, of Flinton, writes again regarding the stirring times at Kingston during the rebellion of 1837-38. She says:

"The Yankees thought they were sharp tricksters, in those days and ever since then you would think to hear some of them talk that Canada was only a garden patch; that all they had to do was to come over and lay their hands down and Canada was theirs. But it is not yet, and we hope that annexation will never come. At those times all sorts of tricks were put up on the Canadians. I have heard grandfather and mother tell the harbor with full set of Stars and Stripes, having on board wooden buns, candles and nutmegs, all so perfectly designed, you could not tell them from the real thing. They burnt candles in those days. Grandfather, Argel Cook, worked in Kingston at the carpenter's trade. I have heard him tell what a nice coating of tallow they had on the outside. I believe the custom officials seized them and burnt them while the vessel had to leave the harbor mighty quick. All such tricks were out."

"At the time of the burning of the steamer Sir Robert Peel Old Bill Johnston was one of the principals in the affair. Grandfather said Johnston was a 'dare devil.' He at one time kept a tavern on the Bath road. When he wanted to replenish his table he well knew where to go for it—to the neighbors' hen roost. He had a brother, Benjamin, who lived to be 105 years old. When I saw him, he dried up, old little man, blind and hard of hearing, but of great memory. He was as hard a case in his day and as daring and as bold as his brother was, at the time of the rebellion."

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Rev. Mr. Macallan, the Agent to Retire.

The first meeting of the Children's Aid society was held Tuesday afternoon. There was a fair representation of the members present, which showed continued interest in the society. Although no meeting of the society was held for a couple of months yet its work has been going on all the time. This was shown by the length of the report which Rev. Mr. Macallan, the agent, had to present. Any action which was required by the society in the various items presented was considered. During the summer the work of the society in foster homes within our bounds were visited by the agent and were found in a very satisfactory condition, with two exceptions of boys who were giving some trouble. All the children are in excellent houses and are well cared for.

Mr. Macallan, after ten years and a half of service, intimated that at the close of the current year he would resign so that a successor would need to be appointed for this work and a committee was put in charge of the duty and it is hoped they may be successful in securing an agent to carry on the important work of the society as faithfully and diligently as has Mr. Macallan.

STEALING MILK TICKETS.

Considerable Petty Thieving in the City.

Considerable petty thieving has been going on in the city. Some time ago, complaints were made about little sealing milk tickets from doors, where they had been left for the milkman, and it appears that the old game is again being played, as several more complaints have been made about such thefts. It has been the custom, with some people, to leave money out for the milk, and in some cases the money has been taken also. The best course for citizens to take is to have no money or tickets out at the door, but have the milkman come right into the house.

"Anything left outside in this way, goes to tempt people who are so inclined, to steal, and if such action should be taken, it would go away with a large amount of the petty thieving from time to time."

An Abundance of Blood.

If you have only a little less energy than your duties require, life is a burden. If you have just a little excess of energy, life is a joy. Good, rich, red blood and an abundance of it will give you the excess of energy. Wade's Iron Tonic Pills (laxative) will provide the blood and vitality required. They are a great nerve strengthener and blood maker. In boxes, 25 cents, at J. B. McLeod's drug store, corner King and Brock streets (Wade's old stand), and corner Princess and Montreal streets.

Money back if not satisfactory.

Just arrived another shipment of Red Cross cough syrup, sold only at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.
