QUEEN'S DOORS OPEN

THE SIXTY-NINTH SESSION HAS BEGUN.

Fifty Nuns From Ontario Convents Will Be Registered—It is Expected That Queen's Will Have 1,500 Students.

Queen's College and University opened its sixty-ninth session on Wednesday morning, and students were gathered in force in the various faculties. The dashing young man of eighteen, the book worm, the gay fribbetto, the sedate fribbetto and the shy fribbetto were rubbing shoulders in making their bow to Registrar G. Y. Chown in his office, and handing over that medium that talks louder than a woman's tongue, viz., the precious dollar bill, for its costs, from $35 a session and up to receive an education at Queen's, but the fees are light as compared to some universities.

The students will struggle in for the next two weeks, and have until October 16th to register. At present probably not two-thirds of the students who are entering have yet arrived. Last session the total registration was 1,351. This session, a registration of close to 1,500 is predicted. The largest increase will likely be in the science department.

The university staff is complete, and is the largest in the history of Queen's, as half a dozen lecturers have been added in several subjects since last session. Classes in arts, science and medicine began this morning, and it's the wise student who attends the opening classes and begins study from the drop of the hat.

There is the usual hustle for boarding and lodging houses, but the students should have no great trouble this season in getting housed and fed. For the printed boarding house list issued at the registrar's office shows no less than 227 places where bed and board can be secured. The rates are about the same as a year ago. A single room can be secured for as low as $1 a week and as high as $3 a week. Table board is from $2.50 to $3.50 a week. Board and lodging combined can be got from $3.50 to $6 a week.

About fifty sisters from various Roman Catholic convents throughout Ontario will be registered as Queen's students this session. Most of them will be extramural students. This is an unusually large number of sisters to be registered. The extra-mural course of Queen's is greatly appreciated all over the country, and has been of decided advantage to teachers who could not otherwise get a university education. One year's attendance is required for a degree.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Ex-Ald. W. G. Strange Passed Away in New York.

WILLIAM G. STRANGE.
The death occurred in New York, on Tuesday morning, of ex-Alderman William Strange, of 326-Victoria avenue. Mr. Strange went to New York two weeks ago to undergo an operation for cancer, and was accompanied by his brother, T. J. Straine, of Dextor, N.Y. He had been ailing for about a year and a half, but during the past six months he had been quite seriously ill. He went to New York for the purpose of consulting a specialist, and the operation was decidedly successful, but owing to his weak condition he could not stand the strain. Deceased was over seventy years of age and had lived in Kingston for forty years. The news of his death was received with great sorrow by his many friends.

The late Mr. Straine was born in Hamilton, England, and came out to this country forty years ago, and apart from a short stay in Toronto had lived here all the time. He was a man who took keen interest in municipal affairs, and served as an alderman for two years, in 1895 and 1897, representing Cataract ward. He was engaged in the grocery business for many years conducted a store on Princess street, and later on Montreal street. He was a most successful business man. Deceased was a member of the A.O.U.W. In religion he was a Baptist, and a prominent member of the First Baptist church. In politics he was a strong liberal. He is survived by his wife, but no family, also one sister, Mrs. J. T. Triggerson, of Brantford, who is in the city, and the one brother, T. J. Straine, who accompanied him to New York. The remains will arrive from New York tonight.

To-day the flags on the city buildings were flying at half-mast out of respect to the memory of deceased.

THE SPORT REVIEW

THE ART OF PASSING IN RUGBY.

It is a Most Important Thing, and Teams Should Practise It Continually—Notes on Various Kinds of Sports.

Before a football team is picked, the individuals must practise passing and catching, kicking, tackling, falling on the ball, making and blocking holes, interference and how to break it, giving and blocking a straight arm.

Passing is important. The game depends as much upon good passing as upon kicking and running. Unless properly passed, the receiver can't handle the ball. The pass should be at or below the waist.

In the under-hand pass the end of the ball rests in the palm of the hand, fingers around point of ball, which is tossed and over end. The spiral pass, as necessary now, is made by holding the ball near the middle, resting lengthwise across the palm and swinging the arm forward across the waist. As the swing ends, the hand is pulled over the ball, giving the spin.

Passing by quarter-back cannot be practised too much. If the full-back, centre half or left is to go through the left side, the quarter must bring his right foot back behind his left, to give the ball a chance to go straight through. The ball must be placed in the pit of the ball's stomach.

Unless he gets the ball low the back cannot hit the line effectively. He must keep his hands at his sides until the ball is placed against his body.

When passing to a half-back for a line plunge, on his left, the quarter should turn, step to the left and simultaneously pass the ball on a line, a little lower than the waist. Successful plays outside wing or around end depend much upon the passing. Speed is necessary, and unless the pass is sure, no back can start quickly.

Pass the ball just ahead of the running back, at his outside hip. This makes him "keep coming." He immediately after passing the ball the quarter should get in behind the runner to help him along.

Sporting Notes.

Corryell, the former Varsity quarter-back, has finally decided to play with Toronto Argos.

Ottawa's back division will likely be composed of Dercher, Gerard, McCann and Williams.

Detroit has six more games to play and Philadelphia seven. The American League finish will be decidedly exciting with the teams so close now.

A post-season series of games between the Boston Americans and New York Nationals will be held directly after the close of the season on October 7th.

Toronto Mail-Empire: Sneath, an old Queen's man, is playing with Dundee this year. He looked after one of the half-back positions for the Kingston College some years ago.

Dr. Henry and H. C. Griffiths, of Toronto, will referee the Montreal-Ottawa rugby game at Ottawa on Saturday. This game marks the opening of the Interprovincial Union.

The averages of the Eastern Baseball League players only show four of the regulars hitting over the 300 mark. Euel Mitchell led the league, with 333, followed by Grimshaw, of Toronto, with 311, then comes Ganzel, of Rochester, with 306, and Osborne, of the same club, with 304.

George Kennedy made his first appearance of the season with the Ottawa Football Club, on Monday. He played centre scrumage, and will hold down that position during the balance of the season. Kennedy has been playing football for twenty years, but is still active and husky.

"Doc" Shirreff was a witness at the work-out, and may be induced to get in the game once more. "Nick" Bassell will likely play full-back.

BURNED BY BOILING TAR.
Miss Matheson Was Victim of Peculiar Accident.

Perth, Ont., Sept. 29.—A peculiar accident is reported from Smith's Falls road, a mile from this place, whereby Miss Matheson, an elderly lady, was severely burned. She was assisting her brother, who was boiling tar in an old building near their home. The tar was being prepared in cans, and had reached the boiling point when the solder of one gave way, the contents covering Miss Matheson's dress and hands and causing intense suffering. Hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Miss Matheson is a cousin of Hon. Mr. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer of Ontario.

Co-Education Frenched.
Paris, Sept. 29.—The French episcopate has issued a pastoral letter warning Catholic parents in France that the teaching in the public schools, jeopardizes the faith of their children. THE ELECTION TRIAL

MEN WHO SAY THEY GOT MONEY AT LIBERAL ROOMS

After They Had Voted—Made Affidavits Denying Their Statements.

Peterboro, Sept. 28.—More extraordinary evidence was offered, today, in the course of the hearing of the election petition by Justices McMahon and Magee to unseat J. R. Stratton, member for West Peterboro. Four men swore that on October 26th, election day, they received $25 in the back room of the liberal headquarters from H. Leary, a supporter of Mr. Stratton, practically without a word being passed between them. All had made affidavits denying their original statements. The curious part of their story was that all the men denied having sold their votes. Two declared that they had already voted when the money was paid over, while the third, William Ashley, protested that he had no knowledge why the money was given them. It also came out in the evidence that Ashley had offered to make an affidavit, and leave Ontario, denying that he had received any money, if Mr. Stratton paid him $200, while he implicated a man named Gates, who has yet to be called, by stating that he demanded four hundred dollars. The respondent declined to pay a cent, and so Ashley told his story, which was remarkable for its inconsistencies and contradictions. Yet another of the petitioner's witnesses swore that he had been called to a local hotel, piled with liquor, and then offered a roll of bills if he would make a charge of bribery and corruption, which he declined to do, against the liberal workers, with a view of unseating Mr. Stratton.

Attacking The Election.
Special to the Whig.
Peterboro, Sept. 29.—The third day of the West Peterboro election trial was opened with the usual crowd in the court room. Peterboro's "four hundred," for that is the number subpoenaed, nearly filled the hall. As on previous days, both J. H. Burnham, petitioner, and J. R. Stratton, respondent, were present and followed the proceedings closely. After Mr. Duvernet, K.C., had called Anthony Mongeur, Mr. Watson arose to protest at the mode of procedure. He wanted one charge dealt with at a time. Mr. Duvernet contended that what was charged against Mr. Leary was a wholesale system of bribery. This was what he desired to prove, not one specific charge. The witness was finally allowed to say he had been in the upper rooms of the liberal headquarters, and had seen a number of men there. Mr. Duvernet asked if he had been given anything, but the question was not allowed.

Sidney Pope said he had called at Stratton's headquarters both morning and afternoon of election day. He said he had got two dollars. "Bob Lear had the money. He put it under a box. I lifted the box and took the two dollars."

May Be Well Enough.
George Snowden, the Englishman who has been in the hospital for the last month, due to a fractured skull from a blow, in on the road to recovery. He is able to be up and walk around a little every day. In all possibility he will be able to appear in the police court on Saturday against McManus, who comes up on remand.

Gray Hair Restored.
The proper way to restore gray hair is not to dye it, but to restore healthy activity to the scalp and hair bulbs; natural color then returns. This will result from the use of Dr. Dawson's Hair Restorer. In bottles, 50c., at J. B. McLeod's Drug Store, corner King and Brock streets (Wade's old stand), and corner Princess and Montreal.

No More Tinselled Postcards.
London, Sept. 28.—The postmaster general draws attention to the fact that cards ornamented with tinsel, mica, powdered glass or similar substances may not be sent by post unless enclosed in covers. It has been found that the tinsel becomes detached in transit, and creates dust, which is injurious to the staff.

Refused A Wooden Leg.
London, Sept. 28.—In the course of a discussion, concerning a one-legged pauper, it was mentioned at the Lambeth guardians' meeting, yesterday, that the board once offered a man a wooden leg to assist him to get out of the workhouse, but he declined the offer.

Hairless Dogs.
London, Sept. 28.—Among the latest arrivals at the Zoological Gardens are two hairless dogs, the first the society has ever possessed. They come from Mexico, but owing to the uncertain weather they have not yet been shown to the public.
