WIFE REFUSES OFFER OF JUDGE PRICE TO FINE HER HUSBAND.

John Hickey, of Clarendon, Goes to Central Prison—He Assaulted His Wife and Threatened to Kill the Family.

John Hickey, Clarendon, appeared for trial before Judge Price, at a special sittings of the county court, at the court house, Thursday morning, at eleven o'clock, charged with aggravated assault and threatening to shoot his wife, and was sentenced to two years in Central prison. J. Rigney appeared for the prisoner. J. L. Whiting, K.C., prosecuting. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the first charge of assaulting his wife.

The evidence taken at the preliminary hearing was read by Mr. Whiting. The evidence of Edward Hickey, son of the prisoner, went to show that on the night of September 22nd the man came home drunk and began abusing his wife. He hit her, kicked her and finally shot off a rifle at her, the ball passing close to her head, and entering the wall beside the bed. It was not the first time such things had occurred. The evidence of the daughter also went to show that the wife and family were in danger of their lives.

Mrs. Hickey's evidence was read next and she said that when the rifle went off it was pressed against her head, and on the next morning when the man left home he told her and the rest to prepare for "to-night," as he was coming home to murder them all. That day the wife walked twelve miles to Clarendon to see the constable.

Mr. Rigney said things were in bad shape and it was difficult to say anything in justification of such action, but they were present to mete out punishment to stop such things. "It seemed that the prisoner has been a drinking man," said Mr. Rigney, "and if his character is as the evidence shows, he should have been brought up before." "He had been on a bad spree, and the question is whether the accused and his family will benefit by his being locked up or whether he has got enough." Mr. Whiting said that the family would get along better without him, and that if he were sent up for about a year it would get the whiskey out of him.

"I cannot understand you," said the judge to the prisoner. "Your wife and family are all respectable people. You are the only bad 'ome' I have made inquiries among people who have an interest in you, and I find you have broken your pledge given to the priest and to the magistrate, and have no respect for your wife and family of nine children. You go out drinking, come home and threaten your wife, driving the family out, and making home a perfect hell. The last thing you did when leaving the magistrate's office was to tell them to prepare for you when you came out, that you would settle them, but I do not intend to let you settle them yet for a while. Things have come to a very serious pass and the best people in your community think you should not be at large, and I am really afraid to let you go."

The judge then left the court room with the family to see what he would do about the prisoner, or if they wanted him back. One son and one daughter were willing to have him home, but the wife would not agree. "I have done everything to improve your condition, that I possibly could," said the judge in sentencing the prisoner. "I would like to see you leave the country and never come back, but that I cannot compel, and from the way you have been treating your family lately, I cannot see any use in delaying your sentence. I sentence you to two years less one day in Central Prison."

LEARY ELSEWHERE.

Than Where Conservatives Swore He Was.

Special to the Whig. Peterboro, Sept. 30.—James Harrison was the first witness called in the election trial, this morning. He had seen men going into a small room at liberal headquarters, had gone in himself, but had not received money nor seen a cardboard box so often referred to.

Arthur McLennan, the first witness, called in rebuttal by Mr. Watson, testified that he had been at the polling sub-division in Babb's lane, where Mr. Leary had come about ten minutes past three on election day.

George N. Gordon, inside scrutineer for Mr. Stratton, at May's school-house, North Monaghan, swore that Leary had called there at ten minutes past four and stayed ten or fifteen minutes. May's schoolhouse is two or three miles from the liberal headquarters. Gordon could not understand how Leary could be paying out money as four o'clock at the liberal headquarters, as sworn by witnesses, when he was speaking to him at the school-house only a few minutes after that hour.

R. R. Hall, acting with Mr. Watson for Mr. Stratton, was next placed in the box. On election day he had spent most of his time at the committee rooms and denied men lined up for entrance into a small room, and swore that Leary was not at the rooms between 4 and 5:30 o'clock. He saw no money passing, but heard that men were being sent to headquarters to ask for it. Gates and Ashley, he swore, had come around as the date of trial drew near and offered for $400 and $200 respectively, to make affidavit that they had received no money, otherwise they would swear they had been paid $2 each for their votes.

PREMIER OF ONTARIO. On Friday, October 1st, Sir James Pines Whitney, premier of the province of Ontario, will be sixty-six years of age.

GOING TO WINDSOR.

Mrs. A. McAdoo and Son Were Killed.

Special to the Whig. Windsor, Ont., Sept. 30.—While on their way to Windsor to visit Mr. and Mrs. James P. McEwen, who had arranged for a party this evening, in their honor, Mrs. Andrew McAdoo, sister of Mrs. McEwen, and prominent in Chicago society, and her son, E. McAdoo, were killed at Ypsilanti, Mich. They were caught while driving to the station by a train they could not see as they approached the crossing. Mr. McAdoo was hurled over a hundred feet and instantly killed. His mother lived fifteen minutes.

Mrs. McAdoo was intending to take the steam road to get to this city because she feared the electric cars. She was a passenger on the interurban line about a year ago when a collision occurred and several persons were killed.

Mrs. McAdoo is survived by three daughters, Mrs. W. P. Leese, wife of the president of Chicago-American newspaper; Mrs. Plewa, Montreal, and Mrs. Snell, Chicago. David Rogers, Kingston, and William, London, Ont., are brothers. Mrs. C. Downey, Port Stanley, is the other sister, besides Mrs. McEwen, here.

CORNERED OUTPUT.

The Trust Gets the Tobacco of the West.

Special to the Whig. Windsor, Ont., Sept. 30.—To corner the entire output in Essex and Kent counties, the Imperial Tobacco Company, otherwise known as the trust, has purchased every available pound in this district, paying record-breaking prices, running from ten to fifteen cents normal rate about eight cents. Over twenty buyers were equally scattered throughout the two counties and gobbled up the whole crop in two days.

The output in this county is estimated at four million pounds, while Kent grows between one and two million.

Mr. Gregory, manager, says his company found the crop short and was willing to pay liberal prices. He denied that the move is aimed at independent companies.

PRESIDENT RESIGNED.

He Will Retain His Place on Directorate.

Special to the Whig. Montreal, Sept. 30.—A. B. Mole, president of the Dominion Textile company, has resigned that office. He will retain his place upon the directorate. Ill-health and advancing age are the cause of the retirement.

Fell In Front Of Car.

A young lady named McGee, Paris-mouth, had a narrow escape on Thursday morning. The young lady was waiting for the street car coming down the asylum hill, and just as it was near her went to run across. She passed over the first rail in safety, but fell flat across the second. Motor-man Redmond saw the danger and immediately plugged his car, succeeding in bringing it to a stop just a few feet from the girl's body. Besides a bad fright the young lady was not injured.

LOCAL RUGBY CIRCLES

QUEEN'S SENIOR TEAM WILL BE STRONG.

It Has Three Coaches and Two Trainers—Collegiate Institute Team—Kingston Slow at Organizing.

Queen's football squad is rounding into shape, under the able coaching of E. O. Slicer, "Marty" Walsh and Norman Crothers. These three ex-stars are out at every practice and put the players through their paces. The team has two practices every day, gymnasium work in the morning and field practice on the lower campus every afternoon. "Marty" Walsh turns out in uniform, as field coach, while Mr. Slicer and Norman Crothers look after the men from the side lines. "Marty" has not forgotten any of the gridiron tricks and a great many who have seen him out wish he was back in the game again.

Among the new material that has put in an appearance this season, "Herb" Dickson is an easy winner. His work on the half line has made the old players and coaches sit up and take notice, and has made the rail birds cry out in delight. Dickson is a good successor to Macdonnell, and understands the game thoroughly. As a player there is certainly nothing wrong with him, in any way, and no improvement could be added. He is fast, sure and as hard as a nail. This is his first year in college and Queen's is fortunate indeed in securing him. Williams, the best punter in Canada, is as strong this year as he has ever been. He kicks better, if anything and has lost nothing of his speed. Leckie, the fast half-back, from Hamilton, is out against this season, and he also has improved with "age." This young man is as fast and tricky as the rest of them, and his playing last year, which was a joy to all, cannot equal his form this season.

There is plenty of new material to fill in the few vacant positions, left by players graduating, and when Queen's line up against Varsity on October 9th, the fourteen should be as strong as ever they were, and should give the blue and white a better fight than last year.

Collegiate Institute Rugby.

The Collegiate Institute team will be put this year, and if the boys decide to enter the junior intercollegiate series they will be in fine shape and will make some one step a good pace to beat them. In Williams, Slicer, Gooderle and Laird they have a good back division, while Kinnear Red will make a fine quarter back. In the scrimmage Ellis and McGowan will make good. Both men have played these before. McCannan and Hazlett cannot be improved upon, as inside wings, and Grimshaw will hold down the old position at outside wing. From this it seems that very few new men will have to be picked, and Coach May will not have a hard time to fill the vacancies from the material on hand. The boys work out every day and are keeping in good condition.

City Football Team.

It is indeed a pity that so few attend the meetings called to try and arrange for a city football team. There were men behind the scheme that would have seen it through had these boys, by attending and to the meetings, show that they desire it. All the other nearby towns and cities have their teams out at practice but the old Limestone City, that used to lead them all, and has turned out more noted athletes in proportion to their size than any other city in the province, is still waiting and to the present appearance desires to stay in that condition, as far as football is concerned.

The R.M.C. Sports.

The R.M.C. sports will be held at the college grounds on Saturday, morning and afternoon. The sports this year are looked forward to as being better than ever, and many will go over to see them. Only those holding tickets will be admitted to the grounds.

The Annual Sports.

The annual sports of the R.C.H.A., to be held at Lake Ontario Park, the first week in October, will be better than ever. A fine list of events has been arranged. A large squad of men practices at Barrfield every day, putting their horses through many drills and manoeuvres.

Manager McKay is Here.

George B. McKay, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, to be established here, arrived on Wednesday and is superintending the renovation of the building on Princess street for office purposes. Mr. McKay is a native of Kingston, and says he is glad to get back to his old home.

"I've been away fourteen years, and have been stationed in various cities in the west, but I tell you Kingston is good enough for me to live in." Mr. McKay expects to have his bank quarters ready for business next week.

Walker's Trial on Saturday.

William Walker, committed for trial a few weeks ago by Police Magistrate Farrell, on a charge of stealing from bouled cars on the Grand Trunk railroad, will come up before Judge Price for preliminary hearing on Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. Walker can elect on Saturday whether he will be tried by Judge Price or before judge and jury at the next sitting of the high court.

At Police Court.

There was a brief session of the police court on Thursday morning. A case against a member of the "prohibited list" was enlarged a day and another case was also allowed to stand over a day, that of a person accused of buying liquor for a member of the "prohibited list."

GRANT TO TEACHERS.

The Money Will Be Divided Among Them.

Two years ago the legislature voted $40,000 as an additional grant to the urban public schools for one year. This grant was allowed to augment the general grant to the schools. This year, however, it was made a separate grant to the school boards for the purpose of increasing the teachers' salaries. The grant amounts to $15 for city schools and $22.50 for towns. In most cities this grant has again been put in to reduce the school taxation, and now the public school teachers are finding it out, and want their money.

URGE THE EXTENSION

Of William Street to University Avenue.

One of the uptown streets, which some aldermen are asking to be extended is William from Division street to University avenue. Aberdeen street from Johnson to Earl, opening up that large block, a portion of the Mills property being presented to the city for a street in 1898. A piece of the Mills property is also laid out as an extension of William street, so far as it goes, but there is one property to be secured to get through to Division street, and another stretch to reach University avenue. It is claimed that if that street extension was made, it would be only a few years before Aberdeen and William street extended would all be built up, as the locality is central. This is a matter for the board of works sub-committee to consider.
